COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1939. 133d of the General Assembly.

Vol. 23 HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 5, 1939. No. 34.

SENATE

WEDNESDAY, April 5, 1939.

The Senate met at 12:30 o'clock, p. m.
The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, as we stand upon the threshold of another blessed Easter season, we are reminded of the millions of faithful hearts who likewise anxiously and expectantly await the dawn of Easter day. Hope, love, glorified suffering, forgiveness, life, victory, joy, all flow commingled down from Thee upon all Thy creatures alike across the span of ages.

Our hearts are exultant, our thoughts quickened and our entire beings keenly alert to that truth of how fullness displaced emptiness, joy supplanted sorrow, defeat being turned into victory, despair into hope and we perceive the blessings of God's greatest benefaction to the children of men.

And just as the hard, arid ground is softened and refreshed by the gentle falling rain so would our hearts be robbed of their hardness and refreshed by these showers of blessings.

May we fully realize, Thou Blessed Master, that the solving of our perplexing problems of state and the faithful discharge of our duties will be much easier when we "take time to be holy" and to "speak oft with Thy Lord." We pray in Thy Holy Name. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege, for a few moments.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I desire to read into the Journal of the Senate, first, a letter from the Right Reverend Hugh C. Boyle, Bishop of Pittsburgh, on behalf of the opening of the new Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium, reading as follows:

BISHOP'S CURIA
125 N. Craig Street
Pittsburgh, Pa.

Dear Mr. Sipe:

Will you, in whatever quarter you think it helpful, express my complete sympathy with the move you have made on behalf of the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium, and my profound conviction that very little money has been expended to better effect than this would be. I shall remember the enterprise in my Masses, and pray for your success in pressing the matter to a satisfactory issue.

Quite apart from politics, I like what I have seen of your efforts; and I wish we had more men less troubled about partisan issues and more troubled about the general good. I wish you success.

Very sincerely yours,
Hugh C. Boyle,
Bishop of Pittsburgh

Mr. C. Hale Sipe
Senate of Pennsylvania
Harrisburg, Pa.
March 28, 1939.

Also, Mr. President, I would like to read the following editorial from the Pittsburgh Press of March 31, 1939, on behalf of the opening of this Sanatorium.

The caption of the editorial is "Still Wrong." The editorial follows:

STILL WRONG

Despite arguments showing conclusively the need for additional facilities, Governor Arthur H. James has announced his intention of standing pat on his decision to let the Butler Tuberculosis Sanitarium stand idle for two years, as an economy measure.

In taking this attitude, Governor James ignores both the humane and the real economic factors of the situation. We feel he would have been wiser to have admitted he had been badly advised and reversed his position.

In stubbornly refusing to change his stand the Governor does not answer the argument that the State's death rate from this terrible disease is rising, and has been for two years. Surely, this fact alone is proof that more care is needed for sufferers, to stop the spread of the plague.

The Governor also fails to answer the figures submitted by Dr. S. Howard Marcy, secretary of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis League, on the needs for hospital care for tuberculars. Dr. Marcy estimates the need at 9800 beds, yet today the State, in public and private institutions, has only 4562 beds. Expansion of facilities at existing State institutions will add only 738 beds. Butler Hospital, if utilized to capacity, would provide adequate treatment to only 550 more patients.

Instead of answering these pertinent arguments, Governor James simply hides behind the recommendation of Health Secretary John J. Shaw and Welfare Secretary E. Arthur Sweeeny that the additions to present hospitals will provide beds for everyone on the existing waiting lists. This argument has been effectively blasted by Dr. Marcy, who points out that most tuberculosis hospitals long ago practically ceased adding names to waiting lists—because there was so little hope of ever being able to give them care. Only the most urgent cases are considered.

This is neither a humane condition, nor an economical one. The tubercular who should get urgent care is the one in the early stages of the malady; he is curable. He also is the one most dangerous to others and most likely to spread the disease.

Real economy and humanity demand adequate care for all tuberculars who need it and isolation of as many of them as possible to help them from contaminating others. Again we repeat the simple illustration that a State which was a leader in stamping out tuberculosis in its cattle, which spent thousands of dollars to insure that its milk supply was uncontaminated, can afford to do no less for the human victims, both for their sake and for the sake of those with whom they come into contact.

Governor James, as chief executive of the State, and his Health and Welfare directors, should be the first to admit this. We urge them to reconsider their untenable decision.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the purpose of clarifying the record and with the hope that we shall not have to listen to a discussion of the Butler Sanitarium every day, I would like at this time, with the permission of the Senate, to read an editorial from the Oil City Derrick dated yesterday, April 4th.

FACTS AS TO THE BUTLER SANATORIUM

Democratic newspapers are trying to make political capital out of the refusal of Governor James to open the new tuberculosis sanatorium in Butler until the state is in financial shape to do so.

In view of the fact that the state has got along for a good many years without this institution, no doubt Gov. James is of the opinion that it can get along for awhile longer until he makes sure the state's revenues will make its operation possible without increasing taxes and without adding to the burden of hard times. We agree with the governor.

According to a resolution of the Butler Chamber of Commerce, which asks the governor to reconsider his action and include in his budget a sum sufficient to open and operate this sanatorium, there are 44,000 cases of tuberculosis in the state with at least 12,000 in need of hospital treatment. As the Butler institution was planned for only 550 beds its contribution to the relief of this situation would be the proverbial drop in the bucket.

The state, of course, would have to pay for the care of the patients in the Butler sanatorium, but Grandview Institution in Venango county can take care of fifty patients more than it has. It would be glad to have them if the state would pay the bill. Grandview is open and operating.

The Butler sanatorium was built under the General State Authority, which is carrying out a $65,000,000 building program of state institutions. Twenty millions of this was obtained from the federal government in PWA grants. The rest was raised by the sale of bonds to the state employes' and the state teachers' retirement funds. Therefore, the money to build that institution did not come out of the state's general fund, although the resolution of the Butler Chamber states that the sanatorium is "costing the taxpayers of this commonwealth in excess of $2,500,000." In fact the institution has not yet been completed, so that it is doubtful if it could be used in case Gov. James provided for it in the budget.

Incidentally it is this $65,000,000 building program resulting in a perfect swarm of new buildings, many of which were built by Contractor McCloskey of Democratic fame, including hospitals, sanatoria, armories, State Teachers' and other colleges, which now threatens to bankrupt the Commonwealth when the cost of opening, equipping and maintaining them is concerned. There are five million dollars' worth of these new buildings at State College alone.

No doubt many of these new institutions were necessary, but this was not the spirit in which they were undertaken. It was a part of the great spending program of the Earle administration in Pennsylvania and the Roosevelt administration in Washington. These programs never took into consideration how their cost was to be defrayed.

A program which would take fifty years to finance by current revenue was rushed through in two years for the political power this spending would confer on the Guffey-Lawrence-Earle machine and for the army of job holders necessary to operate these buildings.

Gov. James is not interested in the creation of new jobs. He is interested in bringing Pennsylvania back to a state of tax sanity. He is interested in keeping industry in Pennsylvania instead of driving it out of the state, as the Earle administration was doing when it was interrupted.

He knows that if this excessive taxation is not stopped industrial operations will decline, and that with this decline unemployment will continue to grow. The present governor is no bootstrap lifter.

This is the tremendous task which confronts Gov. James. It is the heritage which four years of costly, wasteful and extravagant administration has left him. We hate to use a hackneyed phrase, but it is a legacy which simply "beggars description." What Gov. James is trying to do is to save the state from going bankrupt, and saving much of its industry also from going bankrupt or going elsewhere with its plants.

The individual who is raising the hue and cry about the Butler Sanatorium is Senator C. Hale Sipe of the Butler-Armstrong district, a Democratic holdover and a severe critic of the James administration. He was a strong supporter of much of the Democratic program in the 1937 session and the Earle extra session of last year. He is likely to keep chewing on the Butler Sanatorium rag for a long time. It is one of those arguments which will appeal to the emotions rather than to the common sense of the people.

So much for the partisan aspect of the Sipe attack. If he is so anxious to get this institution open and running he might wait until it is completed in the first place, and then he might sit down with the governor and help him figure out how he can take care of the Earle administration's financial commitments and keep the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from going into a receivership.

Now, Mr. President, the time has come when the people of this State, with the relief load that has been saddled on this State and with the other tremendous expenses, have got to realize that we have got to cut the cloth to fit the pattern. The time has come when the people of this State must realize that we have just so much revenue in this Commonwealth, and that we are now faced with the necessity of reenacting much of these burdensome taxes that have contributed to the driving out of industry in this State, because of the fact that we found, when this administration came in a $45,000,000 deficit, and that we found the relief rolls growing under the system we had here.

This is just another example of the fact that the people of this State must realize that we do not have the money to do much of this that is good in this State, and we will not have the money until we clean up the relief situation, get rid of the bills, and put this State on a sound basis.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, fortunately, I am perfectly familiar with the editorial in the Oil City Derrick which my friend from Tioga has just read for our humanitarian edification. I want to say to the Senate that one of the most influential members of the Republican party in Butler county is also perfectly familiar with that editorial, and that over the telephone about a half hour ago he told me that at his own expense he was going to insert as an ad in this same Oil City Derrick a copy of the letter of the Right Reverend Bishop Boyle, which I have just read into the Journal of this Senate, its purpose being, he said, that he might give the readers of the Oil City Derrick a little taste of humanitarianism instead of having dished out to them so much false economy.

I might say that if the editor of the Oil City Derrick does not know any more about the Sanatorium than he does about spelling the name correctly, he evidently knows very little. In each and every instance that the Sanatorium is referred to in that editorial it is referred to as a Sanitarium, which it is not. Someday I hope that Brother Owlett takes time enought to go up to Oil City and teach the editor how to spell and teach him also the distinction between a sanatorium and a sanitarium.

The institution for which I am pleading is a Sanatorium —look up the distinction.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, notwithstanding the suggestion of the Senator from Tioga that he hopes we will not hear from Butler county every day, I should like to say that I would like the privilege, as long as I have breath in my body to speak on the question of the Butler Sanitarium. I am using the word Senator Owlett used because I want to, for a purpose; but a "Sanitarium" means I tried a case against a gentleman in Philadelphia whose whole practice is the trial of negligence cases. The case I tried against him was a slander case in which the reputation of a reputable citizen was attacked by the defendant, who was represented by the negligence trial lawyer. He told the jury that there was not much damage done; and I think I give the jury the answer—which will become obvious in this matter, that, when you get to trying negligence cases you cannot appreciate any other damage except a broken leg or a fractured skull, damage to a reputation is a thing that that kind of lawyer cannot understand.

When you begin to deal in dollars and cents, the only kind of bankruptcy that you can understand is financial bankruptcy; but to me there is more than financial bankruptcy involved. Any State that does not take care of its tubercular—its sick—is not only financially but socially bankrupt, and it will stay that way until its citizens, who participate in the government of that State, realize the fact that there is something more than financial bankruptcy involved.

I have read a lot about the driving out of industry from Pennsylvania, and I am glad the name of that paper has got "Derrick" attached to it, because now I can understand where it got all the stuff contained in it that has nothing to do with the question involved.

What has the driving out of industry got to do with the question of whether a sanatorium shall be opened up there take care of, yes, "only five hundred" tubercular patients? Who of us would want to be among those "only five hundred" tubercular patients and who of us would want to have our children, friends, relatives among those "only five hundred" patients? That "only" seems to me the wrong term. That is a tremendous sum of suffering people—five hundred patients.

What has industry to do with that question? How is this administration prepared to bring back industry by the reenactment of these taxes which can now be called the Earle-Jones tax program, because that is what it is. The James administration has adopted every one of those taxes and now we have, not the Earle taxes, but they are now the Earle James taxes; and wherever you look through this budget you do not find any saving of money—this so-called economy.

The very first item in the budget reads "Governor's office, 1937-1939, $361,500." "Governor's office, 1939-1941, $361,500. I think the first place to begin saving is in your own home. Look at the comparison. Yes, there is a saving in the Welfare department. That is the department we are talking about, which would be concerned with this matter, and the saving in the Department of Health is $700,-

000. The saving, according to those in the Department of Public Utilities, is $1,100,000. That is not a saving to the Commonwealth. That comes from the Utilities, it is not a saving. The Department of Health is the real cut. The Department of Labor and Industry is cut $1,000,000, and that will not come from the payroll. The Department of Revenue is cut; and that will mean less collection of taxes. I venture to say any member of this Senate that will go into the Department of Revenue now will find that the receipts for February, March and April are less than the estimated receipts, because they do not have the force, if that is going to be carried out, with which to handle collection. But there is one real cut and that is the cut which will result, according to the budget, from the repeal of the Act of October 11, 1938, obliging the State to take over the care of insane patients, and as a result of that the Commonwealth will be saved from bankruptcy. It will collect from the counties $6,543,793. That is where the savings are.

This state is going to be kept financially sound but socially bankrupt, which is what is going to happen if you accept the attitude of this "Derrick" that digs up this filth from the ground.

I never before, in the history of this Senate, have heard that on a questioin like this a Senator was not able to express his own views and had to go to an editorial and accept a partisan editorial on a subject which should be non-political and non-partisan. Yes, it is too bad that we have been hearing about Butler County every day; but I am one of those who are willing to listen and will help until the Butler County problem is settled—not Butler County's but the whole problem of Pennsylvania.

You should hear of it, and there is one way of settling it. I suggested last week that you gentlemen on the other side should put through a resolution, appoint a committee, and make a proper and thorough study of this thing. Surely, if it was W. P. A. that was involved, then you could find something that was wrong—you would immediately want a resolution to investigate W. P. A.

We have spent time here. This is now April 5th. Think in your own minds what we have done; what have we accomplished? Four or five repeal bills repealing some vicious legislation of Governor Earle. That has helped those tuberculosis patients tremendously. Seven or eight transfer bills, transferring from the motor license fund to the relief fund money necessary to pay that relief; and now it is charged that Governor Earle has left this State with a $45,000,000 deficit, mixing up tubercular patients with the political situation is not going to solve the problem; and as long as a voice remains in me I am going to fight to bring that problem out in the open.

It may be that there may be a personal situation between the Governor of the Commonwealth and the Senator from Armstrong; but so far as I am concerned, whether there is a personal situation or not, the fact is that he is talking about rather important legislative fact, a fact for which we have a responsibility—and no newspaper has any responsibility for it. That same newspaper, if it listens to its own words, will find horror enough in the fact it itself admits, that there are 40,000 turbercular persons in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; it itself admits that there are 12,000 requiring hospitalization; it itself admits that out of those 12,000 five hundred of them would be treated if this sanitorium were completed.

Then it is our job to complete the sanitorium, see why it is not completed. Let's see it completed now—not wait for two years and preclude the possibility of taking care of five hundred patients.

It is a disgrace. It is one of the things worthwhile that we could have done instead of the things which we have done. We have twiddled our thumbs, and, as Senator Gelder remarked, we have made a lot of speeches. That is right. Because we have had nothing else to do. It would get tiresome sitting around here if we could not hear somebody's voice, hear somebody saying something funny. We would be subjects for an insane aslyum—if we did not have something to do to while away the time.

I come here with the hope that maybe someday something will be done to bring back industry into Pennsylvania and cut relief and decrease taxes; and all I do is sit here and wait patiently. I have been keeping myself in my seat thinking I would stop discussing those matters until the time comes. But, gentlemen, there is nothing else to do. We might well discuss this subject, because in my opinion it is a very important problem.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I regret very much the Senator from Tioga did not see fit to argue this thing himself from a personal opinion. I regret that he used an argument of remote control from an editorial written at a far distant point from the scene of the present activity. In that editorial it says that we should wait until civilization and developments and finances warrant the completion of this institution.

Might I say to the Senator from Tioga that in the ancient days men lived in trees and they were hunted, and as soon as they discovered their potentialities and powers they came out of the trees and became hunters instead of being hunted; and they did, in due progress of civilization, find it necessary, because of active commercial atachments and otherwise, to congregate in settlements.

Of course, in those early days with all this vast territory and tremendous space over this continent, we had no use for sanitoriums because there was sufficient sunlight and fresh air, and occupations were mostly agricultural, which did not tend to produce active tuberculosis patients. But as we gathered into settlements and became more congested it produced a fertile soil for the implanting of the tubercular bacillus and the development of the disease.

Now, the fact remains if the Senator wishes to acknowledge it from this editorial, if we are to withhold the wheels of progress and stand still and, like Micawber, stand around and wait for something to turn up, of course, we are never going to arrive at any degree of sufficient progress to warrant the establishment of sanatoria in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

The Senator will agree with me that there have been many developments in history, and invention has tried to keep abreast of the necessities of communities. For instance, I know that his ancestors, and probably my ancestors, wore celluloid collars; but we found out afterward that the thing was inflamable and might result in injury and we accepted the new form of linen attire. Then we ate our meals with our fingers, and after having discovered cutlery, and having learned not to cut our throats, we learned to eat that way and even learned to balance peas on our knives. So it is for years back—we have only been here—we have only had Democratic power for a period of four years. The progress of civilization instituted such betterments as it could, and the attitude of the previous Administration for years has been to turn down all these new developments, so far as sanitoria are concerned. We, in four years of administration, did make some innovations; we did progress in keeping with the times; and among those developments was the development of sanatoria sufficient to take care of the sick throughout the State.

The Senator from Tioga, coming from the territory which he does, with a great many wide open spaces and opportunities for plenty of fresh air, where the people do not suffer from such diseases because they can inhale sufficient oxygen to have a curative effect on pathological conditions—he must not forget that in other places where people live in conjested tenements, these people are deprived of the opportunities that are accorded to rural folk. It is these people we are pleading for; and the opportunity to take the fellows out of the little tenement shack and put him under conditions which will be productive in returning him to health.

We are talking about dollars and cents, and the economic problem. I ran across a very, very rich one the other day, and I know you will not resent this because the head of this department is a Democrat. I picked up the budget of the Department of Education and saw an item where they had expended ten thousand dollars for an autometer and four thousand dollars for other equipment. Then the budget I see taken out ten thousand dollars, which takes away from the school child in the State of Pennsylvania any test for his eyes, ears, nose, or throat; and in that same budget I saw an increase of one hundred thousand dollars to write the record of the achievement of that particular department.

If those really are economies, when you sacrifice the health of the individual of the State of Pennsylvania to write an obituary of the individual, then I fail to see that type of economy; and we are coming down now to a progressive age where every personal reaction, mental reaction or political reation—has got to be waved aside in the production of a healthy class of individuals who will carry on in the future.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not desire to prolong this, but I must add to some of the things that have been said. First, I would like to get the record straight on this question of "sanitarium" or "sanatorium." I examined the dictionary that was furnished to us the first day, and I find in this dictionary, "sanatorium, a health retreat;" and I find, "sanitarium, a health retreat." I don't know the difference myself. Perhaps the dictionary is wrong and Senator Sipe is correct.

Mr. President, I do not presume to discuss health matters with my good friend, the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy. I do, however, very strenously object to being, inferentially, at least, accused of not being interested in the health of the people of this Commonwealth, or of only being concerned with ecenomy when the vital health problems of our people are concerned.

As I understand this Butler Sanitarium situation the facts are as follows: An examination of the record, it appears, discloses that this Sanitarium cannot be completed, at least, until October of this year; that the other buildings in this State which are in the course of construction-buildings to take care of tubercular patients, will be completed prior to that time and completely equipped.

As I understand it, there is a certain waiting list of patients now seeking admission to State institutions for the care of tuberculosis patients; and that upon the completion of all of those other institutions, prior to the time that the Butler Sanitarium can be completed, every single one of the waiting patients can be provided for; and that there will be a capacity of some five hundred in excess.

Now, Mr. President, I appreciate there has been quoted, on the floor of this Senate, statistics as to the number of tubercular patients in this State. I submit to the members of this Senate that not every tubercular patient is seeking nor would accept hospitalization in a State institution. There are many private institutions in this State to take care of tuberculosis patients and many of those people would not go to State institutions, as we all well know. This State gives more money, and has for a great period of years, to the support of hospitals than any other state in the union in proportion to its income; and that was the policy established by the Republican Party in this State.

For my friends on the left to stand up here and try to tell the people of this Commonwealth that the Republican Party, as a party, is not interested in health and welfare is just not borne out by the facts.

Now, I take it, Mr. President, that these facts appear to be correct as I have outlined them; namely, that the institutions which will be completed prior to the time that the Butler sanitarium is completed, will take care of all the waiting patients and have a surplus besides; and it appears that the expenses of equipping this Butler sanitarium immediately is so great as to render it practically impossible, without new taxes, to equip that building if that building can be completed and preserved, and if we find, Mr. President, at the end of the present coming biennium that the institutions we have are not taking care of the tubercular patients, that building will be equipped promptly and provided for the use of those patients. But certainly it seems to me under the facts in this case—and I don't know that people are not applying for treatment in State institutions at the present time. I don't know that there is any evidence that this waiting list is not a complete list of those who want to get into a State institution; I know that there are any number of patients, people suffering with tuberculosis, but is there anybody on the floor of this Senate that can say how many of those people are going to seek admission to a State institution for the care of tubercular patients?

Now, let's face this thing once, and I hope finally and squarely, and recognize this fact, that this program is not a program to brush aside the well-being of our tubercular patients. It is a program that apparently has been adopted by an examination, in a practical way, of the facts of this situation, and as that editorial points out, there is a sanitarium in Venango County today—a tubercular sanitarium—that has room for fifty more patients.

I do not think there is a single Senator on the floor of this Senate that, if he could be satisfied that there are tubercular people in this State who will seek admission to a State institution and who cannot gain that admission when the present buildings are completed, outside of the Butler sanitarium, who would stand here and say that that building should be equipped immediately when it is going to lie idle and when we have other institutions sufficient to take care of that need.

That is the whole question here. It is not a question of our lack of concern for those people, nor is it a question of lack of feeling for those suffering with tuberculosis.

The reason I make this statement is because of the statement of my friend, Dr. Mundy, that he said he wished I would state my own feeling. I am stating my own feeling—namely, I bow to no one in my concern for these people; but, if I understand the facts correctly, they are being provided for promptly and are being provided for quicker than they could be if we completed this Butler sanitarium.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I hope that my friend from the other side will give me credit for not being actuated with political motives when I am pleading for the opening of this sanatorium, I thought I had made that pretty plain in former remarks here, when I even told of the suffering in my won family that almost broke my heart.

I want to assure them that if Franklin D. Roosevelt were Governor of Pennsylvania I would be fighting just as strenuously for the opening of this institution of mercy as I am now.

No feeling toward Governor James enters into my pleading at all, for I have no personal feeling toward Governor James.

Now, as to the dictionary which my friend has quoted, keep in mind that this small, incomplete, greatly abridged dictionary does give the two terms as synonymous. They are not synonymous. I am not going to tell my friend from Tioga what the distinction is between a sanatorium and a sanitarium—he ought to know that—and he is perfectly bright enough to look it up for himself; but I might call attention to the fact that this very much abridged little dictionary from which he quoted was copyrighted in 1930, So that the dictionary from which he quoted is, like his ideas on health and economy, about nine years behind the age—behind the times.

I do not wish to take up more time of the Senate, except to assure my friends that, while I do know they do not like my speeches—I know that, I took at them when I talk, and I can tell that they do not like them—but I wish to assure them that when I am pleading for humanity I am not very much concerned as to who may like or not like what I say, I further assure them that unless this sanatorium is provided for its opening provided for before the end of this session, that I will keep on annoying Brother Owlett and the rest of my friends with my speeches, pleading for the opening of the institution. I further assure them that if the session ends with my pleading here having been in vain, I intend to stump Pennsylvania for the same cause after the session ends, because I have plenty of friends—plenty of them.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Armstrong, Dr. Sipe.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Armstrong permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Doctor whether or not he has ever had a personal interview with the Governor concerning the sanatorium at Butler?

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I have not had a personal interview with the Governor, for two reasons, the first reason is that he very definitely and decidely stated in his budget message that he would keep this institution closed for two years. That is my first reason, and then my second reason is I very much doubt whether I could get in to see him. At least I did try it once and did not get in.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Doctor whether or not he read the letter from the Governor in which he said he would be glad to see any member of the Senate who came to see him on official business, and whether or not he, remembers that letter also stated that he had no knowledge of the fact that the Senator from Armstrong was trying to gain admission at that time?

Mr. SIPE. Well, Mr. President, I, of course, read the letter and also said here I was perfectly willing to accept the Governor's word; but I also realized that the secretary of the Governor is an agent of the Governor and not my agent; and I three times sent him in to the Governor with my message that I would like to come before him.

But I wish I had more assurance. If the Senator from Susquehanna could give me assurance that my going to the Governor will bring about a speedier opening of the Sanatorium I will leave the floor of the Senate now and go over, if he will let me in.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. Prisedent, I would like further to ask the Senator whether or not he feels he has taken on his full responsibility and has done all that he could to favor the afflicted in the western part of the State and get the Saratorium opened, when eventually it is completed, without going over to talk to the Governor, instead of simply indulging in, I believe, his twelfth talk here on the floor of the Senate?

Mr. SIPE. In reply, Mr. President, I will say I have been doing all that I could and I will continue to do all that I can to get the Sanatorium open.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, apparently the speeches are not bringing very much result—at least the Senator from Armstrong thinks so.

Perhaps a personal interview may bring more results. Anyway, I am very sure that the Senator in writing up the history of the borigines of Pennsylvania found that they had a theory that honey brought more flies than vinegar, and perhaps, he went over and had a heart to heart talk with the Governor, either he would convince the Governor or the Governor would convince him.

I want to substantiate what the Senator from Tioga has said, that that sanatorium at the present time is not finished. I have it from the word of Colonel Janeway, who is Executive Director of the State Authority Board, that work at the present time is going on; that it could not be completed until sometime this fall; and that nothing the Governor has done up to the present time has interferred with the sanatorium being opened, if it becomes necessary to have it opened.

There is absolutely no reason for simply throwing away money that comes out of the pockets of the people of Pennsylvania, if it is not necessary. On the other hand, I am entirely in accord with the Senator from Armstrong that those who suffer from tuberculosis should have attention.

I have had the same experience many other Senators have had on the floor of this Senate, of having people appeal to me and wanting me to use my influence to get somebody into a sanatorium. It has distressed me, knowing that if I did suceed by using influence in getting them there, perhaps I was signing a death warrant for somebody else whose case would be retarded.

But we have been informed, Mr. President, that the present institutions are being amplified inside so that they will take up the waiting list. I also had the very pleasant experience very recently of having somebody come to me to find out whether or not a patient could be admitted.

They had been told by a local nurse or somebody that it would be no use to send in the name, that they could not be admitted for a long time. I first called up and found the name was not there and was told if it were there the patient could be admitted in two weeks. I furnished them with that information and as far as I know the patient was admitted, or otherwise I think I would have heard from them.

We heard this afternoon—I believe it is still afternoon, I might just as well take a little time now to discuss in a more or less general way the expenditures of money by the State Authority.

First, I want the Senators to realize that, after all, it is Pennsylvania's money that is being spent, very largely. About fourteen or fifteen per cent the Federal Government. The rest we have been borrowing from the Teachers' Retirement Fund. All of it we are going to have to repay. Many of those projects, apparently, are not absolutly necessary. We were told yesterday that penitentiary at Mount Gretna is not necessary. We were told last night, in a hearing of the Judiciary General Committee, by some of the Judges of Pennsylvania who were here in the interests of the parole bill, that it is not necessary. They told us that two of the present penitentiaries are amply provided with facilities for safe guarding the most hardened criminal and yet I would not be suprised if Senator Pierson, and some of those whose districts are around that particular project, would like to see, as the Senator from Armstrong would, the completion of that project. None of the members of this Senate are out of sympathy with a Senator who is urging some patronage or appropriation for his particular district. We, all of us, have very often had occasion to be in the same position as the Senator from Armstrong in this matter, but there is absolutely no reason why the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should spend money like a drunken sailor if it is not necessary.

I want to say to you that if the State Autharity embarked upon a building project and has already spent three quarters of a million dollars for that prison over at Mount Gretna and it is not necessary we have either got to spend probably another a half millions dollars to satify the men who have contracts there or expend another millon and a half to complete an institution that is not necessary, then we have been proceeding in the last few years without proper consideration for the taxpayers money of Pennsylvania and that, too, should be given a little consideration.

Now, Mr. President, I do not want the Senator from Armstrong to think that I am not entirely in sympathy with him in having that sanatorium opened if it is necessary for the welfare of the tuberculosis patients throughout Pennsylvania. I have already discussed the matter with the Authority Board and that is where I got the information that nothing at the present time has been done that would interfere with that instituion being opened if and when it is completed; but I do not want to suggest to the Senator that I think he has not done his full duty, if he believes that institution is necessary, unless he goes over and talks with the Governor instead of eternally talking to us here on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate my friend, the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I would ask if the Senator is willing to accompany me today or any other day in the near future to the Governor's office, see that I get in, and join with me in making a plea to the Governor to open this sanatorium as soon as it is completed?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I am very sure that it is not necessary for me to accompany the Senator from Armstrong to get into the Governor's office; but I want to say that I will very gladly accompany him and use my good offices, if they are necessary. I repeat, I am sure that they are not necessary to get the Senator into the Governor's office.

If the sanatorium is necessary I should be glad to join with the Senator from Armstrong in urging the Governor to open the sanatorium; but I certainly would not stand here and assure the Senator that I would urge that the sanatorium be opened if it is not necessary.

In other words, Mr. President, I would like to have the information I suggested that he get from the Governor, from the Secretary of Health and from the Secretary of Welfare. They certainly ought to know more about the situation than either the Senator from Armstrong or myself.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I think I can illumine the so-called waiting list of these tubercular sanatoria, which are stated by the Department of Health as being not very numerous, about six hundred eleven. Now, keep in mind that, according to the rulings of the Health Department, no person will be admitted to a sanatorium—tuberculosis sanatorium—who is over fifty years of age. No aliens will be permitted, although an alien is just as fruitful a spreader of the deadly germs as a one hundred per cent American citizen is.

On account of the overcrowded conditions of these sanatoria it is practically impossible for anyone, even under fifty and not an alien, to get in without waiting for months.

Senator Eroe told the other day about his helping to bury one of his constituents who died of this dread disease and who had been trying for about six months to get in. Senator Dent read a similar letter. So that the vast numbers of those who are in a sense debarred are those thousands of tubercular people who on account of the cold, raw futility of the situation make no attempt to get in, but suffer and die in despair.

That is one reason why this so-called waiting list is small; but I rely on the figures given by the greatest specialist in Pennsylvania, Head of the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis League, who says that there are forty thousand people suffering from this disease in Pennsylvania, and that twelve thousand are in need of hospitalization; whereas, even if the Butler sanatorium were opened, there would still not be half enough beds for these sufferers who are not only themselves dying but spreading deadly germs to others.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I listened to the harangue last week and the week before about Senator Snipe —Sipe—having been refused admission to the Governor's office, and just thought the whole thing was a lot of ado about nothing. I thought John Cummings, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, covered the situation pretty well when he said the whole thing made gulping gold fish look dignified in comparison. However, I appointed myself a committee of one to investigate the situation and, by the way, Mr. Green is a friend of mine, I have known him for years and regard him as a very respectable and honorable gentleman.

I went around and investigated the situation and found that Senator Sipe had approached the deceptionist and the receptionist had gone in and handed the secretary, Secretary Green, a note stating that Senator Sipe was outside, and of course, he went out and then found out it was the Senator Sipe from Armstrong County, or Butler, I forget which—Armstrong and Butler. He went back to check the situation and found out the milk conference was being held and was arranged for by Senator Eroe, and, of course, all secretaries are under instructions, or they should know without being instructed, that it is highly improper to crash another man's conference.

Now, I was given to understand that was exactly why Senator Sipe was not permitted to enter the Governor's office, because it was a milk conference, that it true, but it was arranged for and attended by Senator Eroe of Lawrence County.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I wish to point out that the investigation that my friend has made was pretty much a one-sided investigation. He tells us he went to Brother Green. He never asked me for any details. I would have been glad to have subjected myself to his investigation.

There is no use in taking very much time rehashing my refusal to get into that conference. I simply repeat, I sent in my name, showed the telegram I had received from people of my district, my county of Butler—it was true there were farmers there from a number of counties, farmers from Erie County there were farmers from Senator Eroe's county, farmers from Allegheny County, farmers from Mercer County, farmers from Beaver County and from only one county in my district, Butler County. So that, to boil it all down, the fact remains, as I said before, that I easily, without any trouble, got into the conference with the Milk Control Board, but I could not get into the conference with the Governor. But I am very much interested in what I have been talking about here today, namely, the opening of that Sanatorium.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I took it upon myself to promote the entente cordiale, between the Governor and Senator Sipe. I was at the Governor's office the other day, and told him he ought to talk to Senator Sipe about the Butler Sanatorium. He said he would like to see Senator Sipe; he said he would like to come into the Senate and listen to Senator Sipe; and he wanted to know when he should come. I said, "It makes no difference when you come, you will hear him."

MOTION TO CONSIDER THE CALENDAR

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to consideration of the calendar.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I wish to interrogate the Senator from Delaware.

Mr. OWLETT. There is a motion before the Senate, Mr. President.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I said I would like to interrogate the Senator from Delaware.

The PRESIDENT. The chair did not recognize the Senator from Fayette.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will withdraw the motion to consider the calendar.

The PRESIDENT. If the Senator from Tioga withdraws his motion the Chair will recognize the Senator from Fayette.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. If the Senator from Tioga wishes to press his motion, Mr. President, he may do so.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I have withdrawn the motion, as the Senator from Fayette insists upon talking.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, did the Senator from Delaware investigate down at the Milk Control Board to see who spoke for the farmers who appeared before the Milk Board?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I did, yes.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, who spoke on behalf of the farmers?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I was told Senator Sipe was very much late in arriving, that the conference was practically over before he arrived. Senator Eroe had been there quite some time before.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I always do try to have the amount of courtesy that the occasion requires to be shown to any fellow-member of this Senate. I am satisfied. from the remarks made by the gentleman from Delaware, when he permitted his tongue to be tripped on the word "Sipe" and let out the insinuation of wanting to brand the gentleman from Armstrong as "Snipe,"—now I wish to say to the gentleman from Delaware that Christ would have stood very little chance at the hands of an investigation made by Judas himself.

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I should like to explain this hearing at the Governor's office once and for all and have it over with.

As you all know, the Senate adjourned on Wednesday afternoon. The representative of the producers of Lawrence County, Mr. John Shaw, who is a very close friend of mine, informed me they were coming down here to have a hearing before the Milk Control Board. So I met him at the Penn-Harris Hotel, together with other members from the various counties. I didn't know that Senator Sipe was in town and they asked me—they also said they would like to talk to the Governor—they asked me if I could arrange a conference with the Governor.

I went to the Governor's office Thursday morning. Evidently while I was in the Governor's office Senator Sipe went to the hearing before the Milk Control Board. I was delayed getting an appointment in the Governor's office so I was late getting to the Milk Control Board and Senator Sipe had left there before I arrived. When we went to the Governor's office unfortunately Senator Sipe was late coming there, and I still did not know Senator Sipe was in town. We were in the Governor's office—and, in fairness to the Governor, I must say the door to the Governor's office was never opened while we were there; so, therefore, the Governor did not know Senator Sipe was outside. What happened outside, I do not know; I was inside.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, the Senator from Lawrence said he did not know I was in town. I think he is telling absolutely the truth, because I did not know he was in town either until I saw him come out with a group of farmers. I do not wish to be understood as saying that I represent the farmers of his county. I represent the farmers from my county. They telegraphed me and asked me to join them; and I did not know from their telegram—I did not know until I met the group of farmers in the Penn-Harris Hotel—that there were to be any farmers from outside my own district; but I was glad to find farmers there from the Senator's county, and from Allegheny and Beaver Counties as well as my own.

SENATE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION RECALLING FROM THE GOVERNOR HOUSE BILL No. 199

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House requests concurrence in the resolution from the House as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 5, 1939.

Resolved (If the Senate concur) That House Bill No. 199, entitled:

An Act to confirm and validate past tax levies or assessments made by school districts of the first class and liens filed thereon.

be recalled from the Governor for the purpose of further consideration.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

MOTION TO CONCUR IN HOUSE RESOLUTION No. 199

Mr. OWLETT. I move that the Senate concur in resolution of the House.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on that resolution.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no" on that resolution.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks the proper thing to do would be to have a roll call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that there be a roll call. As I heard the number that was called, it was House Bill 199, and if my memory serves me right that was the bill recently passed by the Senate validating increased taxes in first class school districts which we passed in the Special Session of 1938.

Now it seems to me that we ought to be told the purpose of a recall of resolution in a matter of such importance before we vote on it.

The PRESIDENT. The roll will be called.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, before the roll is called I would suggest that somebody explain the purpose of this resolution.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like somebody to explain the purpose of the resolution.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, House Bill 199 validates taxes that were imposed in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh school districts of the first class under the terms of the Ruth Bill, which was passed at the Special Session of 1938. After the bill had passed, Pittsburgh raised a controversy with reference to the form of the validation with refernce to Pittsburgh on the ground that there were certain law suits pending that it would affect, and affect rather seriously.

Philadelphia considered the matter with a great deal of care and I have been advised that if the amendments that are proposed by Pittsburgh are put into the bill that they will not affect the Philadelphia situation in the slightest. The difficulty about it is, Philadelphia has imposed a tax of ten and a quarter mills and Pittsburgh has imposed a tax of twelve and a quarter mills and the Pittsburgh tax is under fire at the present time.

It is proposed to recall the bill from the Governor and to validate up to ten and a quarter or eleven and a quarter, or some figure in between, to leave the question free for litigation in Pittsburgh as to the remaining mill. That is the object of the recall at the present time and I night say that the school board—counsel for the school board has advised the Senate that there is no legal opposition from Philadelphia.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not fully understand this bill. I am advised that it will disturb the schools in Pittsburgh, so I am voting against it; because I do not know that it will help the situation in Pittsburgh. I have been advised it will very much disturb the situation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not agree with the change because I am afraid that when we come through with the validating bill if we are going to make exceptions for the Pittsburgh district, we might find that the validating bill, the constitutionality of the validating bill, will also be questioned.

However, I think it is fair, since this is a subject of controversy, that the bill be brought back and we discuss it. I do not object to it at all; and I, therefore, withdraw my motion for a roll call.

Mr. EALY. I also withdraw my motion for roll call, unless some other Senator wishes it.

Mr. President, I would like to hear from the Pittsburgh Senators in this subject.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, the explanation of the Senator from Montgomery is clear to us and entirely satisfactory. The Pittsburgh real estate owners have taken the school board into court under the present act. The case is now in court but if this validating bill goes thorugh and validates a tax of twelve and a quarter mills that case will be thrown out of court. These real estate owners wish to have this question of what the school board in Pittsburgh is doing tested in court.

It is difficult for us here in the Senate, or in committee, to decide those questions, and we feel that while we are not accusing the board of any wrong-doing—it is a matter of opinion—the real estate owners of Pittsburgh feel that the school board is wrong honestly wrong, and, therefore, would like to have this question tested thoroughly and fully in the courts of Allegheny county. For that reason we would like to have this bill recalled and a ceiling made of eleven and a quarter mills for both cities.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, if the Senators from Allegheny county wish this bill to be recalled, I withdraw my objection and do not press for a roll call.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of information.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, have we already passed the order of resolutions?

The PRESIDENT. We have not.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 111, (House Bill No. 92), entitled:

An Act to prohibit assessments and demands for contributions for political purposes and providing a penalty

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. President, I intend to vote "no" on this bill for the following reasons: first, because I believe that the whole principle is hypocritical. Everyone connected with the public life knows that from time immemorial assessments have been collected. It was called "assessment" until the Democratic Party got into power, then it was called "macing"—a new name invented, which, of course, is not in the old fashioned dictionary; but we know in prior administrations before the last the same thing occurred, and in some instances in my district the employees received notices to pay three per cent of their salary; and if they sent in checks for a lessor amount their checks were returned with the information that the full amount had to be sent "or else." Therefore, I believe that today the same thing is being done whether the Republican or Democratic Party is in power, and I believe it is going to be done if this bill becomes law.

The second reason is, I believe that any person who expects and looks for the support of any party ought to be expected to support that party. You will find in many instances, where people have been employed in a change of administration, that before they received their job from the party they were not earning half as much they earned on the job they got with the support of the party. Therefore, it is my honest opinion that any person working for any particular party and getting their support from that party owe something to that party. Some parties require ten cents a month dues before a member can even be rated a member of that party, and that is absolutely required; and when they get a position they pay their assessments too.

So I think the whole thing is hypocritical. I am not going to ask any of the Senators to vote against their convictions—some will vote as they believe and some will vote as they are told—I am going to vote "No."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to state that I, too, speak for myself. I am going to vote against this bill because I think it is, as Senator Ruth said, one of the most hypocritical bills I have ever listened to. I would like to be helpful, and often listening to the Senator from Tioga, and remembering the speeches of yesterday on the purposes of this bill, I am a little bit concerned that the party might get involved in collection—in the request for these collections. So I have prepared a form of letter that I suggest be substituted now by the Republican party in sending out for subscriptions. The letter reads as follows, and I offer it without any hope or expectation of compensation.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN

Dear Fellow Worker:

Under the Act of 1939 relating to campaign contributions we can no longer demand contributions from you for political purposes.

Fortunately we are still able to receive contributions. Therefore we respectfully—even earnestly—request that you send us your usual contribution.

We need not remind you of our oft repeated promises for lower taxes, higher relief, short hours, greater pay and better weather for the farmers. These are only a few of the promises you may look forward to.

If you can remember any other good promises we could use to keep the people sweet send them along. But don't forget the contributions.

Yours expectantly,

PATRICK Q. SCHMALTZ,
The Ward Leaders Friend.

P. S. This letter is sent under the authority of the Act of 1939 relating to political contributions and we insist it is not to be considered a demand. So if you feel you should not make a contribution just see your ward leader and tell him that.

P. Q. S.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Bartlett,	Frey,	Mallery,	Sipe,
Cavalcante,	Gelder,	McCreesh,	Snowden,
Chapman,	Geltz,	McGinnis,	Stevenson,
Crowe,	Gilson,	Miller,	Tallman,
Deitrick,	Haluska,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Ealy,	Heyburn,	Pierson,	Walker,
Edmonds,	Homsher,	Reed,	Wolfenden,
Eroe,	James,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Farrell,	Letzler,

NAYS—7

Dando,	Kilgallen,	Ruth,	Stiefel,
Jaspan,	Mundy,	Shapiro,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume consideration of Senate Bill No. 290, (House Bill No. 344), on page 2, of the Calendar.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 290, (House Bill No. 344), entitled:

An Act to amend section seventy-seven of the act, approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty (P. L. 427), entitled "An act to consolidate, revise and amend the laws of this Commonwealth relating to penal proceedings and pleadings," by permitting indictments against public officers and employees and their accomplices and confederates to be brought, or exhibited, within two years after such officer or employee shall have ceased to occupy such office or employment.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is another one of those bills which are intended to help solve the problems of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It is one of the important measures and it should take precedence over all tuberculosis institutions and all insane institutions. I think it is very important that the grand jury, which has been functioning now for almost four months and probably has not been able to find out whether there were any crimes committed by the outgoing officers—certainly this bill cannot refer to the present administration because it says the statute shall begin to run two years after the people leave office; it could not have been intended to mean anybody else but certain people who left office under the change of the present administration, because, as I remember yesterday, one of our colleagues attempted to amend it to include attorneys-at-law. It seems to me they have more reason to extend the statute of limitations there than they have in this Act, because everybody knows a lawyer can hide the facts and sometimes it takes four years to get an answer from him—to find out whether a lawyer has embezzled money; and so far as lawyers are concerned there is more sense in putting that in this bill.

But I want to say very frankly that there has been a sort of atmosphere created that if we do not vote for this bill or for that bill—what I call part of the system of governing by hatred or vengeance—if you don't vote for them somebody at home might misunderstand you.

I understand myself, and while I hope others understand me I first want to satisfy myself. To my mind this bill belongs in the past. These procedures should be forgotten. I sit and think sometimes that if the public officials, any one of the present public officials, would realize if I were arrested and charged with a crime, ordinarily I would be arrested, appear before a magistrate, and a return made to the Grand Jury, the Grand Jury would then hear the case, and within a month or two there would be either a true bill found or no bill, and I would know where I was and my neighbors would know whether I was this dishonest man I was said to be.

Now, there has passed alomst a year since charges were made against the retiring Governor of Pennsylvania. I do not have to decide the question of his guilt, whether he is guilty of those charges or not—the Grand Jury has that job. Now, in fairness to any man who has a reputation, a reputation that he values, it seems to me that by now that Grand Jury should have either said that there is a true bill to be found against him or there is not a true bill to be found against him, and the District Attorney of Dauphin County ought to know whether there is a true bill or not a true bill. The District Attorney of Dauphin County has put the government of the United States in a position and citizens of Pennsylvania in a position, which I consider extremely unfair. He made charges against a former officer, and he was called upon to prove those charges. It was even told to him that he could prove them in secret session, and he permitted the confirmation of a judge to go through without presenting those charges. Now, if he had evidence against that man, he owed it to me and everybody else who is going to be judged by that judge to prevent that confirmation. Instead of that we find this thing dragging on and the man who now sits in high office in the Federal Government cannot properly, in my opinion, administer the duties of his office without somebody saying—some criminal saying in his own mind, "it is not so nice to be sentenced by a man against whom some charges have been said to be made and those charges are still undisposed of." All of us know that if this man had any basis for his charges he would have or should have had them decided long ago by that jury.

Now, we are going to let that jury allow this matter to hang over for not over six years, but at least for two more years after they leave office, so that in every subsequent election there need not be any indictments found, the jury can still go on investigating; and in order that you do not get the jury unruly and that that jury will be willing to continue to sit, you follow it up by another bill, which you find on this calendar, giving the judge the right to increase the pay of those jurors to five dollars a day. That is what this Administration—pledged to reduce taxes, keep up relief, bring back industry into Pennsylvania—is concerned with today; and that is another one of those unnecessary, hypocritical, political bills for which I will not vote, even if I do not get a vote from any constituent in my district. I do not want to hold public office at the sacrifice of my self-respect, I want to retain my own consciousness of doing my duty, and I don't care what the consequences might be. I protest against this kind of legislation. I say it is high time that we get down to doing some real business.

Mind you, this bill is so important that it must be called up out of its turn—the Senator from Tioga must get up and say "I call this bill up ahead of other bills." Well, frankly, that does not make much difference, because there is nothing of any importance on this calendar. The whole flock of bills on the calendar does not mean a thing to the people of Pennsylvania. Most of them concern only the political administration of the party now in power in the State government; and I am going to vote "no" on this bill and every other kind of a bill like it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I desire to state that I called this bill up out-of-order for the reason that one of the Senators on this side is ill and wants to go home, and we are anxious to pass this bill today.

I want to explain what this bill provides. This bill provides that indictment for malfeasance, misfeasance or non-feasance in office, or for extortion or blackmail by color of office, or for embezzlement of public moneys, or property, or fraudulent conversion of public moneys, or property, or for any misdemeanor in office, or for any conspiracy to commit any of said offences heretofore or hereafter committed by any officer or employee of this Commonwealth, or of any agency thereof, or of any city, county, borough, township or school district, or of any agency theref, and their accomplices and confederates may be brought or exhibited at any time within two years from the time when said public officer or said employee shall have ceased to occupy such office, or such employment.

Now, Mr. President, under the present law if a public officer committed any of these crimes of embezzlement, blackmail, or extorition and happened to do so more than two years before he went out of office, he could plead the statute of limitations and could not be brought to trial.

This act extends the statute of limitations until two years from the date they go out of office, so that, since the gentleman from Philadelphia has mentioned it, if this Grand Jury investigating the past administration here in Harrisburg finds that a crime was committed by some official, say, on the tenth day of April or the twentieth day of April, 1937, and they do not complete their investigations by the tenth or twentieth day of April, 1939, that official may not be able to plead the statute of limitations and can be brought to trial for the crime they found he committed.

Now, Mr. President, I can understand the concern of the Senator from Philadelphia, that he does not want this bill passed because of this Grand Jury which is investigating crimes of extortion, blackmail and embezzlement of public funds; and I assume they are in hopes that before they get through this Grand Jury investigation the Statute of Limitations will have run. That is a very obvious position for the Senator to take; but I want the Senate to understand that this bill does not extend the Statute of Limitations for six years, it begins to run from the time the man goes out of office rather than from the time he commits the crime.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not concerned with the statement made by my friend from Tioga—that I am concerned with saving some friend from indictment; that remark does not bother me; but what does interest me is that the Senator has said the only reason he called up this important piece of legislation out of its turn was because he is in a hurry, in a hurry to pass this piece of legislation and he is afraid he will not have enough votes if the Senator, who is ill, has to go away. He is afraid he needs the Senator's vote. He need not be afraid of that—he will get enough votes.

I have not discussed the legal elements of this bill because I have not been concerned with that; but the Senator from Tioga knows—he is a lawyer and he knows as well as I do, that the bill as now written is not worth the paper it is written on because you cannot make an offense today of that which was not an offense yesterday and charge the man who committed that act yesterday as having been guilty of an offense. Every lawyer knows that.

You know that when the Statute of Limitations is two years for a crime, that two-year statute can only relate to the crime when committed. If I commit a crime today and the Statute of Limitations is two years and you want to change that to three years you cannot affect me by changing the Statute of Limitation—in that case the Statute of Limitations affects me with relation to my crime today, and the only statute that applies is the statute that was existing at the time I committed the crime; and he did not read all of the bill there; if you read all of the bill you will find it relates not only to offenses hereafter committed but also to offenses committed heretofore, and there are enough lawyers in this Hall to back me up, without citing authority, that this is unconstitutional.

Why should we restrict this bill to public officers? The Senator from Tioga knows that an indictment was found against one public official in the Erie gravel scandal, and the Senator from Tioga knows that from the facts published in the paper this man could never have committed the crime unless somebody in the department was involved. Now, he already has been indicted—the public official, but the gentleman, Mr. Temple, without whom the crime could never have been committed and the man who was supposed to have been in the conspiracy, has not been indicted. Why? If this is such a pure thing, to prevent crime and punish criminals, why pick out a few of those fellows and put yourselves in the position of indicting a few of them and at the same time prevent yourself from indicting the other fellow, the man who profited by the deal—who is said to have profited?

It was said Mr. Temple and the company that sold the material were guilty of unlawful conspiracy; yet neither the company nor Mr. Temple has been indicted; but somebody else, who happens to have been politically active and in whose future political activities they are interested, because they want to make it impossible for him to go before his fellow man with a clean slate—they want to hang this thing up for another two years because the November election and the Presidential election are approaching, and these things must be carried on for two years, and that man must be kept under a cloud.

I am not defending anybody. I say that if any of these people were guilty they should be tried and convicted—not two years from now; and you should not increase the salaries of jurors for months so that they will stay and be good boys and have good jobs at five dollars a day and stay as long as you want them to stay while you bring in all kinds of evidence—you should properly indict them and promptly try them and you should not make fish of one and flesh of the other. I am not going to pay attention to the charges against me that I am interested in protecting people; I have no relationship with them other than being a member of the some party that they are in; and I have just as much interest in justice as the Senator from Tioga. His handicap is that he is backing legislation which is here for political purposes. I have no such handicap. I owe no allegiance to anybody that stops me from saying if they are guilty of a crime they should be indicted and convicted. But the other side, rushing through this important legislation, is saddled with the proposition that it is a political matter and it is being given precedence over important State legislation.

The Governor of Pennsylvania and his whole administration are pledged to change conditions, lower the relief burden, take the taxes from industry; and yet nobody has suggested, on the other side, a single plan, nobody has considered a plan that will relieve industry from taxes, but wholesale and wholeheartedly they have adopted word for word the taxation program of Governor Earle; and now my friend says, "I am only calling this up out of order because I am in a hurry to get it through." That is exactly what I say—you are in a hurry to get these things through. You are in a hurry and impatient of the speeches of the Senator from Armstrong about tuberculosis, about persons who are suffering; you are annoyed by speeches that are made that may have some influence in getting something done, but when you have a political problem you want that thing done. Go ahead and do it, but not without my protest.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—27

Bartlett,	Farrell,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Gelder,	Miller,	Tallman,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT, Mr. President, I ask uanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 216, (House Bill No. 115), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section ten of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty (P. L. 427), entitled "An act to consolidate, revise and amend the laws of the Commonwealth relating to penal proceedings and pleadings" by providing further for the administration of oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before grand juries.

go over in its order.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this is one of the bills that I referred to before—this bill together with Bill No. 264. I am not going to say any more on these bills, I have expressed my opinion; but I want to reiterate that for reasons already stated I am going to vote against both of these bills. I think that they are politically sponsored and they serve no purpose; and two of them are unconstiutional, in my opinion.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. EALY, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Bartlett,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Walker,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. OWLETT, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 264, (House Bill No. 343), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend section one of the act approved the twenty-second day of May one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 851) entitled "An act fixing the pay and mileage of jurors and witnesses" by authorizing the court to direct additional compensation for jurors in certain cases.

go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. Prsident, I object. It is very important that this bill be disposed of now, and I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that this bill go over in its order.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will, gladly.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the gentleman from Tioga state his reasons for making that motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, my reason was because one of the Senators asked me to move to have the bill go over, that he has not been able to study the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is that Senator present?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, he is.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, it is not the same gentleman who has to go away?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, it is not the same gentleman who has to go away. The gentleman who desired to go home, for the information of the Senator, is Senator Bartlett.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is not the reason the Senator wants this bill to go over, is it?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to be clear about this and I would like to inquire whether the Senator from Philadelphia desires a roll call.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and Mr. EALY and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Bartlett,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,

Eroe,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Sipe,
Frey,	Kilgallen,	Reed,	Stiefel,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 288, (House Bill No. 474), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to further amend section three of the act approved the twenty-eighth day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-five (P. L. 452) entitled "An act to promote the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth creating a General State Authority as a body corporate and politic with power to conduct improve and operate projects and to lease the same and to fix and collect fees rentals and charges for the use thereof authorizing and regulating the issuance of bonds by said Authority and providing for the payment of such bonds and the rights of the holders thereof and to enter into agreements with Government of the United States or any Federal agency and authorizing the Department of Property and Supplies to grant assign convey or lease to the Authority lands of the Commonwealth and interests therein and to acquire lands therefor granting the right of eminent domain and providing that no debt of the Commonwealth shall be incurred in the exercise of any of the powers granted by this act" fixing terms for the appointed members of the General State Authority and terminating the terms of present members go over in its order.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Susquehanna permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what is the object of having this bill go over in order? It has been on the calendar for some days. It is one of the ripper bills and I am sure the Republicans have enough to pass this bill.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, a couple of days ago I promised that I would ask to have the bill go over in order at the request of one of the Senators who was interested in the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. A Republican Senator, Mr. President?

Mr. GELDER. A Republican Senator, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shan't ask the gentleman to break his promise but I suggest this is one of those bills that should be gotten through very quickly.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia feels that this is one of those bills that should be gotton through quickly I would like to ask him if he will vote for it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think it ought to be gotten through quickly, but since it can be gotten through without my help, that is not necessary; but if the Senator finds he cannot get enough votes on the other side—and if that is one of the reasons he is holding it up—at any time he is short of a vote I might be able to get a vote for him.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to thank the Senator from Philadelphia for respecting my promise.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. CAVALCANTE, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 310, (House Bill No. 610), entitled:

A Supplement to the act, approved the twenty-first day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (Appropriation Acts page 74), entitled "An act to provide for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative, and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth, interest on the public debt, and the support of the public schools for two years beginning June first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven; and for the payment of bills incurred and remaining unpaid at the close of the fiscal year ending May thirty-first, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven," by lapsing a portion of the unobligated balance of the appropriation made to the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives for the use of the Commission on Interstate Cooperation, and re-appropriating such lapsed moneys to the said Chief Clerk for the use of the Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS and Mr. GELDER.

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS and Mr. GELDER.

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of information.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, do I understand that we are about to act on the nominations for Notaries Public at the same time we act on nominations for the Indiana State Teachers College?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understands.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that the Notaries Public be not considered at this time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. If it so be desired the roll call will be called only on the nominations for the Indiana State Teachers College.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, will state his point of information.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, are we now about to vote on the nominations for the Indiana State Teachers College?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understands.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would suggest that we should vote on the nominations individually, vote for one and then vote for the other; not for the two of them together.

The PRESIDENT. The request of the Senator from Indiana will be granted.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I heard Senator Haluska say last night that he would like to have a little time to communicate with some of his constituents about confirmation of this appointee. Therefore, Mr. President, would it be asking too much to lay that one aside until the Senator from Cambria returns? This is a Cambria county appointment, is it not?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that it is an Indiana County appointment.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate I have communicated that information to my friend and colleague, Senator Wolfenden, as to the first, what action we have decided upon, and, as to the second, we wanted some more time; and the Senator from Indiana suggested to me that he wanted both of them acted on today.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I rise to a question of information.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Indiana will state his question of information.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, on which nomination are we now about to vote?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Senate is about to vote on the nomination of Cyrus Davis.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I consulted with the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, and when this nomination first came over the Senator from Cambria assured me he was in perfect accord with that nomination.

I consulted the minority floor leader a week ago and he asked me for the courtesy of putting the names over for a week. He said there was a holiday on Monday and he could not be here.

The reason I am asking action upon these matters at at the present is that the president of our college has resigned and we must take action in order to elect a new president. He must make their summer schedules; they have no head of the institution and I believe that the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska will bear me out—I asked him about this a week ago.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I happened to be out when the Senator made his remarks. It is true, however, that he asked me a week or two ago in connection with going along with the confirmation of Mr. Davis in my county. I told him that I would; that I had no objection to Mr. Davis, but that, however, I would like to have some time on this matter and I stated my reasons.

Mr. Davis, in Cambria County, is replacing Judge McCann from my county, who had been asked to resign. I think Judge McCann resigned in a graceful way. Judge McCann is a personal friend of mine and so is Mr. Davis. However, I would like to have his confirmation held up until Monday, if possible, until I have opportunity to consult Judge McCann and see whether or not he has any serious objections of the way in which he was asked to resign. Now, personally, I do not think he has; but I feel I owe that to him as a friend of mine back in Cambria County. If the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, does not have any objection I would like that this confirmation be held over until Monday or Tuesday, if possible.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President I am placed in the position that if the second nomination is voted upon favorably I will be very glad to accede to the request of the Senator from Cambria. If he is not voted upon favorably I will be forced to ask for a vote. I might say in explaination that this is not the first replacement in Cambria county. We had already approved a member from Cambria county but he refused to serve. I will temporarily waive voting on the first name, but I must insist that if the second nomination is not confirmed the other nomination will have to come up. It must either be confirmed or knocked down. We are in a position far above Judge McCann's feelings.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to inquire whether the Senator from Tioga can hold this confirmation over because some of us are put into a very peculiar position by this matter; and I think the matter could be ironed out, probably, by Monday.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, unfortunately I cannot accede to the request of the Senator from Luzerne, because they have had two weeks full notice. I spoke to the Democratic floor leader and I told him that we would have to have either an acceptance or rejection this week.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to be fair in this matter. It is true, as I said a moment ago, I did promise the Senator from Indiana I would go along. I would like to go along with him but I certainly wish to be fair to Judge McCann, to have respect for his feeling: and I do not think there is any doubt in my mind that if he were here he would ask me to go along with this confirmation. But I recall several weeks ago when a member of this Senate stressed the importance of the confirmation of Mr. Hamilton and I went along with that and up until this present time he has not been sworn in.

Now, if the Senator from Indiana insists upon putting me on the spot, I must say I will vote against the confirmation today. If the Senator from Indiana cannot wait until Monday then certainly I will change my attitude.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Cambria if there is any reason why he could not get in touch with Judge McCann on the telephone and ascertain his attitude, so that this matter can be settled today?

Mr. HALUSKA. I probably could, Mr. President, but I do not think the matter is so urgent. I would like to show him the courtesy of talking to him in person. As I stated before, I do not think he has any objection; but I think I owe that to him as a friend of mine and as a neighbor.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I regret prolonging this matter; but I must state that the Senator from Cambria is comparing someone else's feelings with the welfare of fourteen hundred students.

This is not a matter of politics. This is a matter of whether you want to further that institution. There are some more members on that board, three Democratic members, but we have got to get a working majority if we are going to do anything.

I am only interested in the matter because the folks at home think it is necessary—teachers must be hired for the summer session, supplies must be provided for. The head of the institution has resigned and his successor must be nominated. We have dilly dallied for two weeks on this matter and I am only asking that the Senator from Cambria be fair in the matter.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not worrying about the Indiana State Teachers College conducting its affairs. If the Department of Revenue with its thousands of employees and its millions and hundreds of million dollars that it handles can function without its head I am not going to worry about the school teachers in Indiana County. I know that that institution will go on and I think that we are entitled to investigate the situation.

Nobody resigned, everybody has been fired. This man did not resign, this Judge McCann, he was fired, and if he was fired under circumstances that are not proper I will not lend my vote to replace him.

I will vote no as a protest against that kind of firing. I do not agree with that kind of proceeding, I never did believe in it and I am not going to start changing my opinion on the matter now and I think this matter can wait until Monday, and if it cannot wait we can vote on it now.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I have now been battling here on this matter for two weeks. Do I understand that the Senator from Philadelphia says that this matter will definitely be voted on on Monday night?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the Senator from Indiana will get a definite answer on this Monday night.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, from the caucus?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, when I came in today I advised the Senator from Indiana that the caucus had definitely voted against one of those people, and because the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, wanted to get some information as to the manner in which Judge McCann was dismissed, we wanted to hold that open until next week.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I did not understand it in that way.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there may have been a misunderstanding.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, am I to understand that there will not be any more battling and that these nominations will be voted on Monday night?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to disclaim any vacillating in this matter. The Senator from Indiana submitted his nominations last week, and it was then past the time when the names could be submitted to our caucus; they did not go before the caucus; they were not considered last Monday because some of us were not present. There has been no vacillating. We have no hesitency in stating our opinion—there is no secret about that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, did the Democratic caucus agree to approve any nominations that are now being considered by the committee on executive nominations?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I can answer the inquiry of the Senator from Tioga by saying that I have not yet inquired what his caucus has done, and I suggest that he should not inquire as to what the Democratic caucus has done.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should further like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will, Mr. President?

Mr. OWLETT. Is it not a fact, Mr. President, that the Senator from Philadelphia advised me this morning that the Democratic Caucus had decided against any confirmations at the present time.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I told the Senator from Tioga that some confirmations had been referred to the caucus, a number of confirmations had been referred to the caucus by the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy; that we had taken some of them up and decided that we would not agree to confirm those we had taken up. We have not taken them all up, I may say that.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to inquire of the Senator from Philadelphia what is necessary to be done in order to have confirmation of nominations taken up by the Democratic Caucus.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, all that is necsesary is that this administration carry out its promise that relief will be taken out of politics.

The Democratic party, I understand, from the administration has put relief into politics by appointing Democrats—at least most Democrats. Now we understand that relief has been taken out of politics, so I am prepared and we state our position and we feel that as soon as the administration takes relief out of politics and stops appointing, in some instances, seven Republicans, active members of a political party, on relief, then we will give some consideration to those nominations, but we think that wherever resignations or vacancies have occurred as a result of political practices only we will not give our stamp of approval to that kind of conduct, on nominations of that kind. That ought to be perfectly clear.

In some of the cases we considered last night—in one instance seven men were appointed, seven registered Republicans, seven active in political matters, and we will not give our stamp of approval to that. At least that is one of the things I will say frankly, I have no hesitancy in saying the caucus decided last night.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the reason of the Democratic caucus had in not confirming the appointment of Mrs. Edna Carroll on the Board of Censors; that is a vacancy that had occurred and she has been appointed to the Broad of Censors, and the board is not functioning.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I understand that the Board of Censors —everyone of whom called me on the telephone and told me they had been told by the administration that they must get out of office; that they were discharged that they would not get paid for that day. Those are the very words used, to be brief. They did not know what to do and they called me for advice on the matter and I told them to communicate with the Governor. They said they felt they had been shabbily treated, that they were respectable citizens and they should not be fired that way.

I do not know anything except what I have been told. It is for that reason we are not in a hurry, we did not feel inclined to confirm the appointment of any member of that Board made by this administration.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, are there any nominations now before the Committee of Executive Nominations, other than for notaries public, that the Democratic Caucus has decided to confirm?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the question of answering interrogations is a matter for the discretion of the person who is being questioned.

The PRESIDENT. That is the understanding of the Chair.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think this questioning has gone beyond what is right and proper and I decline to answer; that is a matter for the Caucus.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro does not care to answer, that is satisfactory with me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I do not care to answer for the Caucus in this matter.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, with regard to the Board of Censors the Senator from Philadelphia knows that they are under the Department of Public Instruction. The head of that department is a gentleman appointed by Governor Earle. As I understand it, a certain number of the Board of Censors were asked to resign because of the extreme amount of money spent in that department, so that it would not have been possible to have kept within the budget had not the Board of Censors been curtailed for the time being.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the Board of Censors is a self-sustaining body, and whatever appropriations they get is only for the purpose of a revolving fund. Everyone knows that the Board of Censors charges for all services that it renders. The reason they were dismissed is because they were Democrats. I know that and I don't quarrel with that.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, it is not a revolving fund.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I move that the nominations for Trustees of the Indiana State Teacher's College be laid on the table.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. Until the Chair states the motion the Senator from Fayette is out of order.

The Senator from Indiana moves and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro seconds the motion, that nominations for Trustees of the Indiana State Teacher's be laid on the table.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I object and rise to a point of order. This body is now in a Committee of the Whole and the bill is not in its possession. I desire that a ruling be made on my point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Fayette is not well taken.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion to vote on Notaries Public?

BILLS SIGNED

House Bill No. 92, entitled:

An Act to prohibit assessments and demands for contributions for political purposes; and providing a penalty.

House Bill No. 344, entitled:

An Act to amend section seventy-seven of the act, approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand eight hundred and sixty (P. L. 427), entitled "Criminal Procedure Act of 1860," by permitting indictments against public officers and employees and their accomplices and confederates to be brought, or exhibited, within two years after such officer or employee shall have ceased to occupy such office or employment.

Whereupon,

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the presence of the Senate signed the same.

RESOLUTION REQUESTING INVESTIGATION OF PERSONS APPOINTED TO COUNTY BOARDS

Mr. REED offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 5, 1939.

Whereas, Unemployment relief is generally acknowledged as the most vital problem affecting the welfare of the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Public Assistance laws have been enacted in Pennsylvania for the purpose of creating an efficient and impartial system of administration; and

Whereas, Boards in every County of the Commonwealth are appointed as a part of the administrative machinery; and

Whereas, In the selection of persons for said Boards, it is of vital importance that politics of every nature and degree be barred in order that faithful and impartial service be rendered the public as contemplated by law; and

Whereas, Due to the power and authority now vested, and to be vested, in said Boards hardship and injury will result if politically interested persons be appointed thereto.

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved, that, to the end competent and public-spirited persons be appointed to the various Boards in the several Counties of the Commonwealth to best promote faithful and impartial administration, a Committee of five Senators be appointed by the President Pro Tempore of this Senate to investigate all persons appointed to the several county Boards and determine whether they meet the requirements contemplated by the Public Assistance law and are free from political interest and bias, and report to and advise the Senate promptly of its findings.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Welfare, Assistance and Pensions.

RESOLUTION URGING IMPROPRIETY OF PROPOSED CONGRESSIONAL LEGISLATION RELATIVE TO PROPOSED FREIGHT RATES AFFECTING PENNSYLVANIA

Mr. CAVALCANTE, offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered, and agreed to:

In the Senate, April 5, 1939.

Whereas, It is harmful to labor, agriculture and industry in Pennsylvania to compel by legislative action the establishment and maintenance of freight rates from one rate territory to another on the rate per mile that applies within the destination territory which in turn would provide a substantially higher rate in one direction than in another over the same rails and between the same points; and

Whereas, The United States has been naturally divided into several rate territories because of differing costs of transportation caused primarily from the fact of differing volumes of tonnage produced and available for transportation in the various sections of the country; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania is located in what is designated Official Territory and being that territory lying east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers, and recognized as one of the greatest industrial sections, not only of the United States but of the entire world, and because of this fact it provides the greatest number of tons per mile of transportation and consequently the lowest cost of operation for the railroads in that territry of any territory in the United States; and

Whereas, Legislative action of this character would require the Interstate Commerce Commission, regardless of the facts, evidence, equity, their better judgment or otherwise, to disregard differing costs which form the basis for these different rate territories, and arbitrarily make from Official Territory to all other territories rates which would be materially higher than would be charged shippers in these other territories for shipping the same or similar articles, the same or similiar distances into Pennsylvania, to the serious disadvantage of, and discrimination against Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, Such a prejudice to Pennsylvania and preference of these other territories would not only seriously restrict the marketing and consequently the production of articles of commerce in Pennsylvania to the substantial and grave loss to its labor, argriculture and industry, but, even more seriously, would induce substantial removal of manufacturing operations from Pennsylvania to these more favored localities to the disadvantage of all its citizens:

Therefore Be It Resolved, By the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, The House of Rprosentatives Concurring, that Pennsylvania Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States be earnestly requested and urged to use their efforts to convince their colleagues in both houses of Congress of the unfairness and impropriety of such legislative action; and

Be It Further Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Seventy-sixth Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

MOTION TO READ BILLS THE FIRST TIME

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

O Lord, Thou God of Israel, we gratefully pause before Thy presence for a silent moment of prayer. Thou who hast shared Thy infinite nature with man and hast so marvelously endowed him, may we not fail Thee, in the use of our every God given talent.

Show us how the humblest service becomes the loftiest when inspired by the purest motives.

Forgive us when we are selfish, recall us when we go astray.

Give us charity for all, malice toward none.

Lay Thy hand of blessing upon our state and nation and may the power of the right, inspired by the spirit of God, prevail

May all Thy people feel the directive power of the Lord of Host, and thus may be preserved the righteousness and sanctity of all lawful democratic institutions.

Hear our prayers in behalf of those people who have lost, under the iron hand of tyranny and despotism, their liberties of thought and deed, and cause all of us to so fall in love with our own democracy that we will be glad to protect it, even with our lives against the alien isms that are boring from within.

May Easter usher in the dawn of new love, new forbearance and new tolerance that shall weld into one Godly family all classes, creeds, and conditions of man kind.

We ask it all in the name of Him who prayed that we all be one. Amen.

THE SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) IN THE CHAIR

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Jefferson, Mr. Wilson, for presiding.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar, by Mr. WOODSIDE.

The House resumed the consideration on second reading of House Bill No. 668, (Senate Bill No. 13), entitled:

An Act regulating the issuance of marriage licenses; prohibiting the issuance thereof to persons infected with syphilis in certain stages; requiring each applicant to produce certain evidence of freedom from such disease; imposing duties upon the Department of Health and the clerk of the orphans' court of the various counties; and imposing penalties.

The first and second sections were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 1 No license to marry shall be issued until there shall be in the possession of the clerk of the orphans' court a statement or statements signed by a duly licensed physician of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that each applicant within thirty days of the issuance of the marriage license has submitted to an examination to determine the existence or non-existence of syphilis which examination has included a standard serological test or tests for syphilis and that in the opinion of the examing physician the applicant is not infected with syphilis or if so infected is not in a stage of that disease which is likely to become communicable The physician's statement shall be accompanied by a statement from the person in charge of the laboratory making the test or from some other person authorized to make such statement setting forth the name of the test the date it was made the name and address of the physician to whom a report was sent and the exact name and address of the person whose blood was tested but not setting forth the result of the test

Section 2 For the purpose of this act a standard serological test for syphilis shall be a test approved by the State Department of Health and shall be made at a laboratory approved to make such tests by the State Department of Health Such laboratory tests as are required to be made by this act shall on request of the physician submitting the sample and on his certificate that the applicant is unable to pay be made without charge by the State Department of Health

The third section was read as follows:

Section 3 Any applicant for a marriage license having been denied a physician's statement as required by this act shall have the right of appeal to the Department of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for a review of the case and the said Department shall after appropriate investigation issue or refuse to issue a statement of lieu of the physician's statement required by section one of this act

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 3, line 2, page 3, by inserting after the word "act" the following: "In case the Department of Health shall refuse to issue such statement. the said department is hereby required to immediately quarantine the person for whom it has refused to issue such statement, either upon the premises where such person has his or her residence or in a place designated in this State for the isolation, control and treatment of communicable disease, until such time as he or she is no longer likely to communicate such disease, in the manner provided by law and the rules and regulations of the Department of Health."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, this is a very important measure, and the amendments raise a very important principle of public procedure. Senate Bill No. 13 relates to the issuance of marriage licenses. Senate Bill No. 13 is concerned only with those who are applying for a license to wed. The bill as it comes from the Senate provides that persons who desire a license to marry must secure from any reputable physician, any licensed physician, a certificate setting forth that they are free from syphilis in a contagious or infectious stage. If the person applying for the marriage license is unable to obtain a certificate from a physician, the person unable to obtain a certificate can appeal to the State Board of Health, to the State Department of Health. If the State Department of Health upon reviewing the case finds that the applicant for a license to marry is afflicted with syphilis in a contagious or infectious stage, the license to marry is refused, and under this bill there the proceedings end.

I am submitting to this House and I am submitting to the physicians of this House, the contention that when the State Department of Health is placed upon official notice an applicant for a license to marry who is afflicted with syphilis in a contagious or communicable stage that it is up to somebody to do something more than saying to the afflicted applicant, "You cannot marry this girl. You cannot have a license to marry this particular girl. We won't issue a license to marry but you may marry some other girl. You can journey in some other state and you can marry her. You can continue in general circulation in the community and continue the practice which resulted in your affliction with the disease in the first instance". Now, there are, as I understand from a layman's viewpoint, only about two ways that syphilis can be acquired, one by inheritance, and also by personal endeavor. I contend that those who acquire syphilis as a result of personal endeavor should not be given an official permit by the State Department of Health to continue wandering around loose.

Mr. Speaker, I do not find among the great body of medical profession in this state a disposition to handle this question of syphilis in an effective manner. There is still a pronounced disposition to treat syphilis as a private matter. Now, I am contending that by the terms of this bill syphilis is not a private matter, and I am contending that the State Department of Health is obligated to do something when it rules than an applicant for a marriage license is unfit to be married. So what do I propose? I propose that when the State Department rules that a particular applicant for a marriage license, being afflicted with syphilis, is not qualified to marry under the terms of this statute, that the State Department of Health under such rules and regulations as the Department itself may prescribe shall quarantine that person during that period when the disease is communicable. Quarantine does not necessarily mean a sign on the house and the terms of the amendment provide that the quarantine can be in the person's own residence or it can be in a hospital mutually agreed upon, or it can be in a state institution in the state. Under the terms of this amendent, if the patient submits to treatment he need not be physically confined.

Mr. Speaker, to take the position that we do not want spyhilitics to marry but we are not interested in curing them, is a strangely singular position. Therefore, I offer these amndments as being in line with the spirit of the times, as being in line with the very purpose of this bill, and I might say if an amendment of this kind is adopted, if this bill be passed, it will go to the Senate, where the House amendment will be considered, and where in case of disagreement between the two Houses, it will be possible for this House to recede and restore the bill to its original status.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the position that the gentleman from Cambria has taken, I believe is sound, insofar as it does provide for the ultimate protection of everyone in relation to this disease. The gentleman said it is not a private matter, and neither is it. However, it is a social subject that has been approached slowly. The medical profession, in all its reports, has an interest due to aroused public opinion, because of the nature of this disease. Public opinion thoroughly aroused then is always back of every move that is made on the part of the legislature in reference to social legislation. Frankly we believe that this amendment does go at this time farther afield than has been attempted in any legislative enactment on the part of any other state, and the Department of Health of Pennsylvania has provided through its study the substance of this act as it is now before us. There should be a friendly approach in the application of the law and its enforcement to those unfortunate ones who are under this affliction.

Therefore, the bill as it is before us is an approach to the subject and a sufficient one, as has been made by other states in other parts of the nation and those immediately adjoining us, New York and New Jersey. The Medical Department of Pennsylvania under Dr. Shaw studied it. It has the approval of the Pennsylvania Medical Society, the endorsement of Dr. Palmer and of the United States Government Medical Society, and their endorsements of the movement as it progressed through the laws that have been enacted in the various states of the union, I feel are sufficient, and the ultimate can be obtained when public opinion is aroused to a full knowledge and a full understanding of this subject. A proper approach has been made in this sort of legislation and without such amendments as have been offered today, will be sufficient. This minute, I believe, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that the bill as it is before us is sufficient and I ask that you vote down this amendment.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I assure you that there seems to have been a wrong impression given here when the statement was read indicating that the medical profession of the state has been apathetic regarding this matter of syphilis. I assure you, members of this House, that the medical profession for many many years has been very active along this line. The medical profession welcomes such a measure as is now before us in this House. I feel that the bill, while it may not be perfect, is a step in the right direction and I believe if enacted into law will do a great deal to eradicate this lothesome disease with which mankind has been infected during all ages.

On behalf of the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation, and also the Medical Profession of Pennsylvania, I wish it to be made part of the record of this House that the bills for pre-natal and pre-martial tests for syphilis as reported from this Committee were the result of careful research work and are based upon the latest approved methods for the cure and eradication of syphilis. I wish it further to be recorded that the Pennsylvania Medical Society through its legislative committee of which Dr. C. L. Palmer is Chairman and its State Commission on Veneral Diseases of which Dr. Roy Gilman is Chairman, have specifically endorsed these two measures and requested their passage.

Furthermore the State Department of Health, of which Dr. John J. Shaw is Chairman has likewise examined and specifically approved these two pieces of legislation.

I submit to the members of this House, while this bill may not be perfect, it has approval of the best men in the state of Pennsylvania, the best men that the medical profession has to offer in the state, and I say, ladies and gentlemen, that we should consider this bill carefully and pass it as is.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hindman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HINDMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what are the duties and the responsibilities at the present time under the law of a duly licensed physician who has personal knowledge that one of his patients is afflicted with syphilis, which is in an infectious stage.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, I would say that the medical profession is required to report those cases.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am now raising a question which I submit to the candor of the gentleman from Bucks, that if a physician is now required by law to report these cases, that somewhere a beginning should be made as to the manner of treating them and treating them under compulsion. We cannot go on forever allowing this syphilitic scourge to be a private secret between the physician, his patient and somebody who has filed a report somewhere with the State Health Authorities. As a father, and to those of you who are fathers I appeal on behalf of this amendment, which I repeat simply stipulates that those who apply for a marriage license and who are refused and carry their cases to the State Department of Health, and who are there again refused, should be given compulsory treatment. Only a portion of the population applies for marriage certificates and only a very small portion would possibly have the infection. It would not affect an enormously large group.

Mr. Speaker, I am quite confident that if the Committee on Health and Sanitation opposes this amendment and if able men like the gentleman from Bucks oppose this amendment, we have small chance of putting this amendment through, but I am tired and sick of the practice of treating syphilis as a private matter, I am tired and sick of heart seeing the dilatory methods of handling this greatest of modern sourges, and I say to this House, that if you are ever going to handle this problem of syphilis, somebody, somewhere, sometime, must get hold of it and in manlike fashion, bring it out into the open; quit talking about the poor unfortunates who have acquired syphilis as a result of personal endeavor. My heart goes out to those who are afflicted with syphilis as a result of inheritance and, of course, I want to lessen the number of those who are so afflicted. I have offered this amendment to do something in the case of those who apply for a license to wed and who are refused because of their physical condition.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, realizing the sincerity of the gentleman from Cambria in this particular amendment, I feel that his sincerity has allowed him to run into somewhat of a dilemma. Had he thoroughly investigated the situation he would have found the problem of forced treatment of a syphilitic condition has resulted in just the opposite, namely, the subject will not acquiesce to forced treatment. There are any number of records that could easily become available to the gentleman to prove that in the case of either congenital or acquired syphilis, called to the attention of a physician and reported to the department of Health, while the subject may receive treatment in the clinics of hospitals, he can only become exposed to treatment by handling him in a very delicate manner. Attempting to force attendance at a clinic will probably drive him away from the clinic, with the result that he will not expose himself to treatment.

The amendment that the gentleman has submitted brings about just that condition, only applied a step further, namely, that where the Department of Health has knowledge of a syphilitic condition in a subject, this bill attempts by legal enactment to make more certain such treatment. Forced treatment has never been the least bit beneficial. The same situation arose in the treatment of tuberculosis and only through the highly developed application of educational means has the problem presented by tuberculosis been solved.

So it is in the treatment of those afflicted with syphilis; only by handling it by proper educational means, can the delicate situation of exposing the patient to forced treatment be overcome, and the subject exposed to the proper type of clinical treatment. I believe that this particular amendment would defeat the entire purpose that the gentleman from Cambria seeks to secure. It would mean that an individual, feeling that he might be afflicted with a syphilitic condition, rather than presenting himself to a local physician in case he wanted to apply for a marriage would go to another jurisdiction in order to secure a marriage license. This act I understand, and I have so learned since yesterday, has been exposed to the very things that I felt it should have been exposed to when I had it placed upon the postponed calendar. I find that this act has been drawn in order to meet the situations that have developed in other jurisdictions where they have similar enactments. I feel, relying on the experience acquired in other jurisdictions and the vast experience that the medical profession has had relative to forced treatment of individuals afflicted with syphilis, that this amendment should not prevail.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am in accord with the amendment inserted by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and I am perfectly in accord with the provisions of the bill, but I raise this question with the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews: Whether or not we can use the power of quarantine in special legislation of this kind. Now, the right of quarantine is an extraordinary power, the utilization of certain police powers in municipalities and in the Commonwealth. As I understand this amendment it simply gives the right of quarantine where there is a syphilitic condition that arises by virtue of an application for marriage. It does seem to me that the bill may fall if we insert this amendment. I would be in hearty agreement with the gentleman from Cambria if he can in some way put in a separate bill or amend it so that all persons suffering with syphilis could be quarantined. It does seem to me that it may weaken a good piece of legislation by putting in this special provision which gives the right to quarantine only those people who make an application for marriage, where the condition of syphilis is found to exist.

I merely raise that question with the gentleman from Cambria, so that we may not weaken the bill with what may be a bad legal amendment.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hindman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HINDMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOLLAND. Will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hindman, advise the House if the test that is listed on page two of this bill cannot be faked?

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland, I would say that that would be possible.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Washington, Mr. Hindman, advise this House if a person who knows he is suffering from syphilis and wishes to pass this test can by means of taking iodine or an excessive amount of alcohol before he goes to take the test have the test show negative?

Mr. HINDMAN. Would you repeat that question again, please?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, if a person knows he has syphilis and he wants to take the test can he not by means of taking iodine or by the excessive amount of alcohol before the test is taken, have that test show negative?

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman's question, I would say that that would be possible.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would just like to point out to this House that I believe that what we are doing in this bill is closing the stable door after the horse has been stolen. I am heartily in accord with the bill, as well as the amendment offered by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, but I do think that a companion bill should be introduced in this House by which treatment can be given to people without cost. One of the greatest obstacles in curing syphilis is the high cost of treating syphilis, and if the state, and particularly this medical association that we have heard so much about, would afford some means of treating these poor unfortunates free of charge, I believe that it would be no time until this disease would be wiped out.

However, I do want to say to this House that this test as given can be faked, and any of you who were members of the A.E.F., who saw some of the large venereal camps in the United States and in France during the war know that in numerous cases the soldiers who wanted to be discharged from these camps did fake these tests. I speak as one who was the commanding officer at one of the largest camps outside of Bordeaux, and I know that on numerous occasions soldiers did take different ingredients that were sent to them from the outside, faked the test and were discharged before they were cured.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I beg the indulgence of the House for not more than three minutes.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the subject before the House is of sufficient importance to permit the greatest amount of time for debate and discussion in order that the bill may be in proper form.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, unfortunately the gentleman from York, I do not believe handled his statistics properly. I know, as a matter of general knowledge, that the Scandinavian countries have moved very aggressively on this syphilis problem, and by forced treatment have practically wiped out syphilis in the Scandinavian countries.

Now I recognize the validity of the objection filed by the gentleman from Allegheny. There has been in the past a more or less unofficial opinion by an Attorney General as to what the State Department of Health could or could not do in the case of this very private personal matter, syphilis, and I would agree that if this amendment that I am proposing should by unexpected good fortune pass this House, if the weight of legal opinion was, after the bill was returned to the Senate, that the proposed amendment weakened the bill, no one would be more eager than myself to drop the proposed amendment and recede from any action that this House might take, but I would like to have the question raised, the very legal question that the gentleman from Allegheny presents. I would not go the length of passing a questionable bill and then obtaining an opinion from the Attorney General. I would insert this amendment and then consult the weight of legal opinion in this House and in the Senate, and if they said that the proposed amendment vitiated Senate Bill No. 13, as I stated, I would be very glad and eager to recede from my position. So, Mr. Speaker, when we reach the point of voting, I would ask for a roll call.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is always with the utmost reluctance that I oppose any amendments offered by my very affable and constructive friend from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and I think in this case his amendment would actually improve the bill. However, Mr. Speaker, there are some things which we must remember. It has only been in recent months, due to the activities of the Surgeon General of the United States and the Women's Clubs that this subject has even been considered as one which could be talked about freely, and the fact that we have so freely talked about the subject indicates what progress has been made.

The people who have brought this subject to light and have progressed thus far have presented these bills, and they consider they are in proper form. If Senator Wolfenden had not presented these bills in the Senate, Mr. Speaker, I would have done so in the House.

An old friend of mine who was one time Governor of the State used to say to me, "It is one question to have a great abstract and beautiful idea but quite another thing to reduce it to a practical legislative program which can be enacted and which will hold up in court." There are many things which would be improvements on this bill, Mr. Speaker, but would they stand in court? This bill is a bill which has been presented in other states, and which has been upheld in other states, and it would make the law of Pennsylvania the same as the law of other states, so that if amendments are needed later, the same amendments could be enacted in the different states to prevent people from hitch-hiking from one state to another to obtain licenses in the more liberal states, you might say, the same as they now go Nevada for divorce.

The Scandinavian people, it has been stated, made great progress in this matter. That is true, and they had a good reason, for the armies of Scandinavia brought back from Europe, after the Thirty Years' War, the ravages of syphilis which affected their people ever since until they took the method they did.

However, as a person who has made a study to some extent of Scandinavian affairs, because the people in my county are largely Scandinavians, I want to pay them the greatest credit for the things that they have done by the method which we now advocate.

Gentlemen, there is a difference between a radical and a progressive, and this is the difference: A radical favors a wild departure at one stroke; a progressive favors going step by step, so that the final structure will stand.

We have had, Mr. Speaker, a discussion about quarantining these people. I think that is a good idea. If they can not get married when they have syphilis, they should not be allowed to go out and give it to other people.

Mr. Speaker, we also have this question of cost brought out by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland. We have heard a very learned discussion in the last few days to the effect that the great Butler Sanitorium perhaps may have to be kept closed for lack of money. Surely the establishment of the principle that we should take care of people at public cost who have tuberculosis is a much older established principle than that we should take care of their marriage engagements; on account of disease they have at the time they propose to marry.

Gentlemen of the House, this bill has been carefully prepared, it has been drawn up by the people who are back of the bill, the Women's Clubs of Pennsylvania; it has been approved by the Medical Association; it likewise has the approval of the Surgeon General of the United States. Gentlemen, while the bill is not perfect, it is a step in the right direction. If we find that this bill will hold then there will be other sessions of the Assembly which will have men at least as able as we have; they will have a chance to further consider this matter and discuss it fairly, and I suggest, members of the House, that we vote down the amendment and put through the bill as a step in the right direction and one that we know is right.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would like to interrogate the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from McKean permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KANE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that if the proposed amendment, instead of being offered as an amendment to section three, be offered as a new section and adopted, that in the event of the amendments offered as a sparate section are unconstitutional, or in any way invalid, that the new section could be declared invalid without effecting the validity of the statute as a whole?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to that question, on a quick glance at the bill, I did not happen to study the latter portion of the bill to see whether it contained the customary clause that if one portion of the bill were held unconstitutional it would not invalidate the whole bill, but I would say in general that that is the case, that a separate section could be offered, as the gentleman has suggested, and if that section were held invalid it would not necessarily invalidate the whole bill; that is true.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from McKean as a lawyer knows that even though the bill does not carry a section that specifically states that if one section is invalid the whole law would not be invalidated, the court has held that one section may be declared invalid without affecting the law as a whole.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is correct except for one thing—it has been something over six years since I have actively practiced law and I am not familiar with the latest procedure in courts. However, I would say to the gentleman from Cambria that there are matters on which we should exercise our own judgement and not pass it to the courts, because the courts do some very surprising things, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, what I am asking the gentleman from McKean and the gentleman from Bucks is, whether they would have the same objection, would take the same position, if instead of amending section three the amendment were offered as a new section to the bill, and then the constitutional authorities on that side of the House could get together and decide whether or not the new section, if invalidated, would in any way affect the integrity of the statute as a whole. I am asking that first of the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Bucks is not under interrogation and if he will permit me I will answer that myself. I am not one of the constitutional authorities on this side of the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, desires to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham. Will the gentleman from Cambria accept as a substitute the gentleman from McKean?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker. The gentleman from Bucks is already familiar with the interrogation.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question of the gentleman from Cambria, I believe that the position taken by the gentleman from York is sufficient, and that whether this be an amendment to a clause in this bill, or whether it be a separate clause, it still results in the same condition as set forth by the gentleman from York. Therefore, I oppose it and ask the members of the House to vote it down because these bills are based on the practical experience of a number of states who have already enacted a similar bill. New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island, New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Oregon have similar legislation now on their statute books. West Virginia has just passed this legislation, and Maryland has it before its legislature and so does Ohio. Now, I feel that in view of the enactment of this law by other states, and its enforcement and in view of the care with which this bill has been drawn by the health departments of the various states, that the bill as presently drawn, for the time being at least, is sufficient.

In answer to the position taken by the gentleman from Allegheny relative to the cost, I believe that in this act there is on page two a reference providing for the care of those afflicted who are unable to pay. In addition to that there are clinics in various centers which constantly care for all sorts of diseases, all kinds of cases where those afflicted are unable to pay. I ask, therefore, Mr. Speaker, that we vote down this amendment and that we proceed to a vote on the bill and enact it into law.

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker, these bills were thoroughly thrashed out in the Senate and present during that process were some of the outstanding syphilologists in this country, one Doctor Clark of New York City; another one, Doctor Stokes of the University of Pennsylvania who has recently written a very illuminating article, I am told, on this very subject. These bills may not be perfect, nor is any other law that has ever been passed by man. As Mr. Kane has stated they are a step in the right direction. The only way that this difficulty can be overcome and brought to the place where it is a protection to the general public is by means of a definite educational program. These bills if passed in this Legislature will be the beginning of a definite educational program not only among the adult population of our State, but extending right down into the public schools. Every person is subject to contamination from some cause or other, and certainly our entire population should be instructed as to the dangers of this disease, and as to what is necessary to overcome it, if they should be so unfortunate as to become infected.

These bills go as far as it is advisable at the present time. The amendment which has been offered will place a person so inflicted, innocently or otherwise, in the position where this infection would become a matter of public record and public knowledge, and would therefore cause him to be held up in his particular community as someone to be avoided so long as he should live, even though he may be an innocent victim.

I am advised by good authority that the opinions of the attorneys general in the past have held that so far as syphilis is concerned, to let it become public knowledge, would tend to lower the standing of the individual in his community, would tend to throw him out of employment even though he was very careful not to endanger others, and it would forever keep him from maintaining any adequate social standing. That would be a great hardship upon a person, especially if he had been innocently afflicted.

I feel that any amendment which might be attempted at this time would only serve to weaken these bills and ruin the very effort which is being made to protect our population. Therefore I ask the members of this House to vote no on this amendment.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, this debate has covered the subject pretty well, but I desire to make one or two observations.

In the first place, I feel that it is not good policy for any legislation to go too far in one step. We must proceed, progress, and advance, but we must do it very carefully and considerately. We must educate the people to approve legislation as we go along, and until the people are educated and are ready for legislation, it is useless and foolish for us to put it on the statute books, as has developed very often in the past concerning legislation which we have enacted.

In connection with this particular bill in its present form, I desire to call the attention of the members of this House to the fact that this matter has been very carefully considered by the people who have been most interested in it and by the people who are advocating its passage. The Pennsylvania Federation of Women's Clubs have given this matter very careful consideration, the Medical profession has given it very careful consideration, and I think we ought to take every suggestion as to what is the best step to take and just how far we can go at the present time.

I want to call your attention particularly to the names of the men who attended the meeting in Dr. Shaw's office in connection with this legislation, and who feel that the bills which are now before us in their present form are advisable, and are in the best form that we could hope to have them at the present time.

Dr. Shaw, Secretary of Health of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Dr. Stewart, Deputy Secretary of Health
Dr. Campbell, Director of Bureau of Health Conservation.
Dr. Everhart, Director of Division of Syphilis and Genitoinfectious diseases
Dr. Clarke, New York City, American Social Hygiene Association
Dr. Palmer, Pittsburgh, Legislative Chairman, Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania
Dr. Gilman, Philadelphia, Chairman of the Commission on Venereal diseases, Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania

Dr. Perry, Harrisburg, Secretary of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania

Dr. Stokes, Philadelphia, Professor, University of Pennsylvania

Dr. Stengel, Philadelphia, Vice-President in Charge of Medical Affairs, University of Pennsylvania

Dr. Klauder, Philadelphia, syphilologist, Post Graduate Medical School and Woman's College of University of Pennsylvania

Dr. Knowles, Philadelphia, syphilologist, Clinic of Pennsylvania Hospital (oldest hospital in Pennsylvania)

Dr. Krumbar, Philadelphia

Dr. Hess, Erie

Dr. Jacobs, Pittsburgh

Dr. Price

Dr. Anderson

All of whom are recognized as outstanding men on the subject before us in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and in fact in the eastern part of the United States.

These men gave this matter careful consideration. In view of the consideration and the study that was given to this subject by these men, as well as by the associations that have been called to your attention by the previous members, who took part in this debate, I think that the amendments should be voted down and that we should pass these bills in their present form.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate my colleague from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Cambria whether this proposed quarantine would apply only in the case of an individual who has taken an appeal to the Department of Health as provided for in the first part of section 3 which is sought to be amended.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my understanding of the amendment is that it would apply only in the case of those who have taken an appeal to the Department of Health, and whose physical status has therefore become a matter of official knowledge in the Department of Health.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I find myself in sympathy with the passing of this amendment, I find myself in sympathy with the purpose of this amendment and I would like to see a provision to effectuate this purpose put in the bill. However, I can not bring myself to vote for an amendment which is so limited in its scope as to apply only to a person who has taken an appeal to the Department of Health and loses that appeal. Therefore, reluctantly I express my intention to vote against the amendment.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I was going to vote for this amendment because I believe that the subject is of such importance that certain compulsions should be necessary.

However, with the greatest respect for my colleague from Westmoreland County, Mr. Denman, the point raised by his tact has changed my mind, and I am now going to vote against the amendment.

I do want to add one thing in furtherance of this bill. I am speaking now from a different point than has been raised so far, and that is from the viewpoint of juvenile delinquency. Senate Bill No. 12 provides for pre-marital and pre-natal examination. If that bill is passed, to my mind, from the study which I have made and from the experience I have had in working with boys and girls in my own county in the prevention of juvenile blindness and the prevention of feeble minded children who go out of our schools and become potential criminals, I believe we are striking at the very root of this great problem of juvenile delinquency by passing these two bills. I want to bring to the attention of the House the fact that Senate Bill No. 12 does provide for such remedies that will greatly, to my mind, cure juvenile delinquency, by providing for pre-marital and pre-natal examination.

I intend to vote for both bills, but I intend to vote against the amendment because I believe at this time, from the arguments given by Mr. Denman, that it is going a little bit too far, and will probably cause more harm than it will do good.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Andrews and Mr. Achterman and were as follows:

STATEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair again desires to compliment the members of the House upon the high plane on which the debate on this amendment was kept, in spite of the fact that there has been a lot of publicity given to the subject and the fact that it is a delicate subject to handle.

The Chair congratulates the members on the manner in which the arguments were handled in the debate, and the manner in which the subject was approached. It is a source of great satisfaction to the Chair, and I know it must be to the members, when a debate is kept on the plane on which this debate was kept on a subject of as great vital importance to the public as this subject is.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 353, entitled:

A Joint Resolution Proposing an amendment to article one of the Constitution of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by adding thereto section six A

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with great reluctance that I address the House so many times in the one day. However, this bill by Mr. McKinney contains a very vital point which is of great importance.

You are probably all familiar with the fact that the Constitution requires certain things to be done under the law by juries. The interpretation of Constitution and the correct one, I believe, is that the decisions of those juries must be unanimous because that is the ancient law.

However, Mr. Speaker, in civil cases, which is what this resolution covers, where only right of property and other things of that sort are covered by the decision, it seems only right and reasonable that a five-sixths vote which is proposed by this Resolution should be sufficient. In other words, if ten jurors out of the twelve are convinced, that should be sufficient.

Members of the House, let me call your attention to the fact that the Constitution of the United States, for example, can be amended by a three-fourths vote, even the most important decisions in the State Courts are often reached by a two-thirds vote, and the laws themselves on which these decisions are based are passed by only a majority vote of the Assembly, it is only reasonable that in civil cases at least ten out of twelve men should be able to reach a decision. It would speed up the courts of justice tremendously. You all know from practical experience that as a matter of fact it is impossible for twelve men to reach a unanimous decision on all parts of any question. The only result is when one or two men are obstinate and unreasonable in their views, ten or eleven men must give way to the one or two who are unreasonable or obstinate. Surely this resolution does not go too far in requiring five-sixths of those on a jury to agree. It is more than reasonable and it will accomplish a great deal in the general cause of speeding up justice, and give the people economic decisions in their disputes if we pass this resolution and the Senate will do so, and it becomes a part of the Constitution.

I think Mr. McKinney has done a very constructive thing and I urge the members to vote "aye" on this Resolution.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

The SPEAKER. The Chair will return to page 6 of the calendar, House Bill No. 276, which was passed over at the request of the sponsor.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 276, entitled:

An Act to further amend sections four and twenty-two of the act, approved the twenty-seventh day of June, one thousand nine hundred twenty-three (Pamphlet Laws, eight hundred fifty-eight), entitled "An act establishing a State employes' retirement system, and creating a retirement board for the administration thereof; establishing certain funds from contributions by the Commonwealth and contributing State employes, defining the uses and purposes thereof and the manner of payments therefrom, and providing for the guaranty by the Commonwealth of certain of said funds; imposing powers and duties upon the heads of departments in which State employes serve; excepting annuities, allowances, returns, benefits, and rights from taxation and judicial process; and providing penalties", by transferring the State Employes' Retirement Board from the Treasury Department to the Department of State; and transferring certain appropriations.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Habbyshaw, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FURMAN. Will the gentleman from Dauphin tell the members of the House why he is proposing to transfer the State Employees Retirement Board from the Treasury Department to the Department of State?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Greene, it is simply because that is where the Retirement Board was prior to 1937, in the Department of State.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, is that the only reason the gentleman has to offer to the members of the House for making this transfer—the fact that it was once in that department.

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, it has always been in the Department of State, and for that reason alone it has been transferred back to the Department of State.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, has the operation of this Board while under the Treasury Department not been efficient, or have they not been able to handle this particular Department?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I don't believe it has been any more efficient than it was under the Department of State.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the duties of this Board are more in line with the duties of the office of the Department of State than they are under one of the fiscal offices of the state?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, for what reason?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, for the reason that they have personnel records and have had experience over a period of many years in the handling of the duties of the Retirement Board.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, have not those same records been transferred to the Treasury Department?

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, if they have, they can be returned again to the Department of State where they originally came from.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Dauphin tell the members of the House whether or not it is the practice in other states to have this particular work in the Department of State or whether it is done under the fiscal officers of the State.

Mr. HABBYSHAW. Mr. Speaker, I do not know anything about what the other states are doing.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me that there is no particular purpose to be accomplished in making this transfer. I feel that the real reason for the transfer is in order to get control of patronage. I know that this department originally was under the Department of State. When the Democratic party was in control of that department, the state chairman of that party was at that time the Secretary of State. It was felt by the administration in power that the duties of this office could be better handled by transferring it to the Treasury Department, that those duties were more in line with the work of that Department. There was nothing political involved at that time in making the transfer.

For the information of the members of the House, this work in other states is under the fiscal officers of the state. In the state of Ohio, the Treasury Department handles the retirement work. In the state of New York it is under the Controller General. Making this transfer, if it is made, is nothing but a political move and is what I have heard termed "peanut politics."

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the State Employes Retirement Board was under the Department of State from the time it was founded, until the 1937 ripper session of the Legislature, when along with numerous other ripper bills it was taken out of the Department of State, when they saw the hand writing on the wall, and put in the Treasury Department.

The Department of State has had the experience and the back ground; they have the personnel records, and under our present administrative code, and the manner of set-up of the government that is where it belongs and it ought to be returned to that Deparment. It was not taken away from there for any sound, legitimate reason and it should be returned to the Department of State where it belongs.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin as to the functions Employes Retirement Fund was founded.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, my recollection is that it was passed in the 1923 session, and became effective January 1, 1924.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin as to the functions of the Department of State at the time of the passage of the State Employes Retirement Bill in 1923.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Is the gentleman asking what all the functions of the Department of State were in 1923?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I am.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if that is so, I would refer the gentleman to the 1923 Legislative Hand Book which I will procure for him and let him look it up.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, notwithstanding the facetious reply of the gentleman from Dauphin, I desire to interrogate him as to whether or not it is not a fact that the Department of State in 1923 was the Department of State and Finance.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, prior to the session of 1923, I think that is probably true. In the 1923 session, if my recollection is correct, the Administrative Code reorganized it and it became effective at the same time that the law creating the Retirement Board became effective.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin whether the legislation reorganizing the Department of State in 1923, or thereabouts, in which they transferred the functions of the Department of State and Finance to the Department of State was ripper legislation.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, not at that time, no.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Dauphin has felt inclined to term the transfer of the State Employees' Retirement Board from the Department of State to the Treasury Department, as affectuated in the 1937 session, ripper legislation. As the gentleman from Dauphin has indicated, at one time the Department of State also had financial duties. Apparently in 1923, realizing the necessity of a change in functions of the various departments, the financial duties of the Department of State were foregone and concentrated in other departments of the Commonwealth.

The point that I wish to make, and the point which I wish to impress upon the membership of the House, is the fact that the only function which the Department of of State performed relative to any so-called financial duties was the administration of the State Employees' Retirement Fund. Now, all this tommyrot about the personnel records, and all this tommyrot about the conduct of that bureau in the Department of State is of no avail, because it will not tend in any manner to delude the people of the Commonwealth in believing that the sole and solitary purpose of this bill is to effect ripper legislation, and to get for the starving hungry Republicans a few more jobs, irrespective of how it affects—

(Laughter)

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that under no circumstances during a debate, no matter what the conditions may be, should there be any outburst of that kind.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I appreciate the Speaker's attitude on the matter and I realize the mention of the word "jobs" to the Republicans will cause them to roar like an angry lion. Nevertheless it is picayune, or as the gentleman from Greene has stated, it is "peanutty" in the acquisition of jobs. Let me call your attention to the fact that the State Retirement Fund has very few jobs; not more than possibly five, six, or seven in number. The payroll is very small, the work is very difficult and the work to a very great extent is of such a nature that when you establish the State Employees' Retirement Fund in the Department of State, you will have to take the trained, efficient Democratic personnel of the Treasury Department and put them in the Department of State, so these jobs, gentlemen, that you think you are going to get are not going to be there, and you are still going to give them to the efficient Democrats.

Now, I would like to know what financial authority there is in the Department of State as it is presently constituted. I would like to know whether the Secretary of the Commonwealth realizes the importance of this particular bureau. I would like to know whether the esteemed lady who holds that office is fully acquainted with the valuation of bonds, with the financial problems with which the investments of State funds for the protection of state employees is surrounded. I would like to know where in the Department of State, as it is now constituted, or ever has been constituted since the State Employee's Retirement Act was passed has there been the financial knowledge necessary to maintain a proper retirement fund. A superficial analysis of the work leads one to the fair conclusion that the proper place in the management of the affairs of the Commonwealth to put a financial board is in a financial department. There is absolutely no similarity between the functions of the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the functions of the State Employees' Retirement Board, and of necessity our intelligence leads us to the conclusion that it should be placed in the Treasury Department, and that is where is was placed in 1937.

Let me call the attention of the membership of this House to the fact that at that time both the Secretary of the Commonwealth and the State Treasurer were members of the Democratic party, and hence any attempt to intimate that this particular legislation passed in the 1937 session was ripper legislation, is an incorrect statement of fact. I say to the job-hungry Republicans, who expect to be appeased by the few paltry jobs in this very small and highly efficient bureau, that even though you are going to continue to allow the employes to make their donations to your party, even though you have refused to protect the future employes of the Commonwealth from solicitation for campaign contributions, you at least should protect their retirement fund; keep it in the Department that is properly constituted and able to maintain its investments so that when the time comes for retirement, the funds will be available.

Members of the House, I see no logical reason for the passage of this act. Only on rare occasions—and we just had an instance this afternoon—is a member's vote changed by anything that is said on the floor, I don't think for one minute that any of the members of the majority party are going to change their votes. I know they won't, but I want the record to show, and I think it is conclusively shown, that what the majority is attempting to do is to sabotage efficient state government for the benefit of a few paltry jobs. No better terminology has ever been applied to such action than was applied by the gentleman from Greene when he said that is "peanut politics" applied by "peanut politicians."

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, with all the experience that the gentleman from York has had with rippers, I think he ought to know a little bit more about rippers. This is not ripper legislation, we are just sewing up what was ripped in 1937. This fund was in the hands of the Department of State before it was in the hands of the Treasury Department and this fund in their hands was well managed up until 1937. Every care was taken of it. It was a good fund, well operated. I think the gentleman will admit that it was a good fund and well operated up until 1937.

I can realize why the gentleman wanted to take it out of the Department of State in 1937. I can see two very good reasons. In the first place, for two and a half years more the Treasury Department would be Democratic and they, I think, saw the handwriting on the wall in reference to the Department of State.

I think there may be another sound reason why the gentleman wanted to take it out of the Department of State, and that is because that Department ceased to function as a Department of this government, because the head of that Department neglected his duties, permitting sixty-seven thousand pages of records to pile up in his office without ever having them recorded. When the present Secretary of State went into that office there were found checks nearly a year old from lawyers and corporations of this State, to pay for pages of various documents which were supposed to be recorded in that office. No wonder, that the gentlemen on that side were conscientious in their desire to take it out of the Department of State.

I wish to say to the members of this House at this time that we have an efficient Secretary of State who is interested in the job of Secretary of State and not running a political party; who is there to do a good job and who will make every effort to see that this fund is handled so that the funds of the employes of this Commonwealth will be protected and that the work will be carried on in a most efficient and effective manner.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I realize that the most effective attack against any proposition is to barrage the situation with so-called half truths.

The exigency that existed in the Department of State, to which the gentleman from Dauphin has very vociferously and dramatically referred, was a situation that arose and had its inception not under the Democratic administration, but which had its inception in 1933 under the Republican administration, when we passed the new corporation code for profit and non-profit corporations. With the passage of that corporation code under the previous Republican administration, new duties were imposed upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth who never performed those duties, and in the 1933 session no appropriation was made for it. Those duties were performed under the Democratic administration as adequately as possible. So the question of these unfiled documents, about which the gentleman from Dauphin complains, was an ill that arose under the previous Republican administration. The only thing that we have handed over to the lady who is now holding the position of Secretary of the Commonwealth are the unfiled documents that were existent under the Republican administration.

The SPEAKER. The Chair recognizes the fact that the barrage is pretty heavy.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. What I am concerned about is the record, Mr. Speaker.

I know you men are going to pass this bill. You had your orders to pass the bill. The steam roller is all oiled up and the gas is in the tank, and "bang" it is going through. All that is required is the rubber stamp of approval by the Legislature, a Legislature that is supposed to be independent of administrative influence. Anything that I may say isn't going to affect one single solitary vote that demarks the line that exists in this House between good government on one side and peanut politics on the other.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the majority floor leader.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, did the gentleman from Dauphin state that in the passage of this bill the majority in this House were not passing ripper legislation, but were just sewing up a rip?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, would that not also apply to the bill placing the State Athletic Commission under the Department of Military Affairs and taking it out of the Department of Revenue?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not recall of its having been transferred. I don't know; it may have been passed. I apologize for my lack of knowledge concerning the Athletic Commission.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, for the information of the gentleman from Dauphin, the State Athletic Commission was formerly under the Department of Military Affairs and was placed in the Department or Revenue. I would like to know whether the majority floor leader has made any attempt to sew up that rip.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I did not know there was a hole there. Maybe we can get some of the W. P. A. sewing schools to help us out a little.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, apparently the reason that the majority floor leader did not know about this rip is the fact that that department, the Department of Revenue, is under the control of the administration and there are no more jobs to sieze by sewing up that rip.

The SPEAKER. On the "hole" it seems to be a good argument.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside, how he voted in 1937 when the question of transferring this retirement fund to the State Treasurer was up.

Mr. WOODSIDE. I think I voted "no," Mr. Speaker.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, may I refresh the memory of the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside?

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Northampton desire to further interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I did not intend to rise at all to speak on this measure one way or the other. However, when I heard the various speeches on the question of rippers back and forth, I heard the gentleman from Dauphin say that he was just attempting to mend or sew some of the rips that had been made by the majority in 1937, and when I look at the record of that session I see that the very bill which we are discussing today to take it from the hands of the State Treasurer and place in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, passed the House by a vote of two hundred and three to nothing. Every Republican, when the question of placing that particular fund in the hands of the State Treasurer came up for a vote, voted in favor of it with the Democratic majority of the House.

I can hardly bring myself to believe that a matter of several months can change the minds and opinions of various men of this Assembly as it did in this particular case. In the Senate, if I might quote this bill passed by a vote of thirty-nine to one and not a single Republican voted against the bill. It was a Democrat who voted against it. Not a single Republican in the Senate saw fit to voice any opposition. The same condition existed as existed in the House. Not a single member of the House, of the then minority party, saw fit to vote in opposition, and now they come here just as the minority floor leader has stated, because there is a question of some jobs involved and because of orders given to them, they throw aside all of their own ideas on the bill and say that what we did in 1937 was wrong. When I say "we," I refer to the minority party in 1937——they want to rectify that mistake by voting another way.

If you are going to change departments from year to year, I don't know what is going to happen to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, because, ladies and gentlemen, if that type of legislation is allowed to be carried on from time to time, no department at any time will be safe, because if the head of a department should get in wrong with the executive and the executive should have more power with the legislature than the head of that particular department would have, he could take from him whatever authority he might have. So you can readily see if you are going to pass from time to time measures such as this particular act, you are going to tear aside the entire principle of government in Pennsylvania. Therefore, I would say that everyone of you Republicans that voted in 1937 should vote his conscience in the same way as you did in 1937, and say to his political boss, "We have not changed our views because a change of administration has taken place, and we are still of the same mind today as we were in 1937".

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I just want to say to the gentleman that in the 1937 session we remember the Secretary of State coming through those doors, walking in the hall, sitting up there and watching around at the then majority, and maybe going up the aisle and calling them one by one, so that we realized it was rather useless to voice objection to a lot of this legislation. I think the gentleman on the other side might take a page out of our books to that extent at least, and give us a little cooperation in doing what is for the best interests of the Commonwealth instead of objecting to many of the pieces of legislation which they deep down in their hearts know are all right and in to which they desire only to throw a monkey wrench, as one of the newspapers stated today.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to refute the implication that has been thrown out to this House by the gentleman from Dauphin, relative to activities of our Secretary of the Commonwealth, who at that time was also the Democratic State Chairman. I say to the membership of this House that during the 1935 and 1937 sessions, the deliberations of this body came purely as the result of the highest ideals, the administrative ideals of the Democratic party and of all the members who made up that party.

I would say to the gentleman from Dauphin that it would not be a bad idea for the Republican majority to bring up to Capitol Hill their State Chairman. There might be some direction in this Legislation; we might know where we are going instead of floundering around like men lost in a fog; we might know what the problems of government are rather than having a three-weeks vacation to school the innocent Republicans as to what should be done in the state government. You cannot bring your State Chairman up here on Capitol Hill, because he could not make up his mind, he would have to contact the Mellons, he would have to contact the Cooks, he would have to contact the Grundys, he would have to contact the Pews and the Annenbergs; he might even have to contact Colonel Estes before he could say what should be done as part of the Republican party's platform. When the Democratic party was in control of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that party was run under the dome of this Capitol and the government of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania was under the dome of this capitol. Today you go down to smoke filled hotel rooms to get your instructions as to what should be done. Today your committees are meeting in secret sessions with only Republican members secretly evolving legislation, secretly bringing to this House——

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. McKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the bill before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the bill before the House.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. I will, Mr. Speaker. The bill before the House was developed by the Democrats without consulting with any extraneous influences and I defy the membership of the Republican party to tell us who evolved the idea of grabbing these few picayune jobs. Did it come from the oil barons of Delaware county? Did it come from the Mellon interests of Allegheny county? Did it come from the industrial interests of Bucks County? I want to know where it came from. It surely didn't come from the Republicans of this House, because they all voted for it in 1937.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. WOODSIDE. I would like to call up, Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 496, Printers No. 142 on page 14 of today's Calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Yesterday's calendar showed this bill on final passage postponed. I believe, however, that was an error. I would like the chair to state whether or not the bill is properly on the third reading postponed calendar.

The SPEAKER. The bill is on the third reading postponed calendar.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. WOODSIDE.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 496, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of July one thousand nine hundred thirteen (Pamphlet Laws one thousand twenty-four) entitled "An act to protect the public health and welfare by regulating the employment of females in certain establishments with respect to their hours of labor and the conditions of their employment by establishing certain sanitary regulations in the establishments in which they work by requiring certain abstracts and notices to be posted by providing for the enforcement of this act by the Commissioners of Labor and Industry and others by prescribing penalties for violations thereof by defining the procedure in prosecutions and by repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions thereof" by extending the night restrictions on employment in manufacturing establishments in certain cases.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODSIDE, Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION No. 57

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 57, Printer's No. 204.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1939.

Whereas, A bill is pending in the Congress of the United States, providing for the construction of the "Lake Erie to the Ohio River Barge" Canal; and

Whereas, The construction of such a canal would seriously affect transportation on and over the railroads operating in that section of the Nation, of goods and material now transported thereon; and

Whereas, Such curtailment of transportation on and over such railroads would cause gradual disintegration of such railroads, deprive them of the larger portion of their income, and necessitate the dismissal of thousands of employes; and

Whereas, The loss to the railroad industry would likewise affect the coal operators and coal miners, and would mean the dismissal of thousands of miners now gainfully occupied, thereby adding greatly to unemployment; and

Whereas, The injury to the railroads would be reflected in the business of the small steel mills which rely upon the prosperity of railroads for their existence; and

Whereas, In addition to this destruction that would be wrought by reason of the construction and operation of such canal, it is morally and financially unsound to build, by expenditure of public money, such an enterprise when a great part of that money is being contributed by the railroads, mine operators and the steel manufacturers, whose existence it threatens; and

Whereas, A public hearing is to be held on this bill at the National Capitol on March 28, 1939; therefore be it

Resolved, (If the Senate concur), That the General Assembly memorialize the Congress of the United States to oppose the passage of this bill and to refuse to make any appropriation of public moneys for the construction of the proposed canal; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded by the Chief Clerk of the House of Representatives to the presiding officer of the Senate and Speaker of the House of Representatives of the United States.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

RESOLUTION RECOMMITTED

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this resolution be recommitted to the Committee on Rules for the purpose of further study.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION No. 59

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 59, which was reported from committee earlier in the session.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 28, 1939.

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association conducts each year sectional and regional elimination tournaments in order to determine the Pennsylvania State Championship High School basket ball team, and

Whereas, The basket ball team of Homestead High School of Homestead, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania, was the winner of District VII of the Western Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association and later became the W. P. I. A. A. champion and subsequently by its victories over Conemaugh Boswell and Erie Academy fought its way to the final game with Lower Merion High School, and

Whereas, on Saturday evening, March 25, 1939, the Homestead High School coached by Paul Birch, assisted by Walter Miller, met the Lower Merion Township quintet at the Palestra in Philadelphia, where Homestead through its fine team work and great offensive playing won the Pennsylvania State I. A. A. championship title by the score of 29-24, and

Whereas, In forging to the front when the championship seemed lost because its opponent was ahead by a substantial score, the players on the Homstead Team, not only displayed hearts of courage, but also bodies with the strength of steel for which Homestead is famous, and

Whereas, Such interscholastic rivalry and competition is an integral part of our American system of education tending to break down sectionalism and promoting those ideals of fair play, clean, decent sportsmanship, of unfailing courage, loyalty and devotion to community, school, state and nation, all of which are basic attributes of Americanism, and which train the youth of our high schools in this State for the high type of citizenship demanded of them by the problems confronting them today, and

Whereas, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, recognizing the value of such interscholastic competition and being aware of the high honor which has come to the Homestead Community, by reason of the success of the Homestead High School in winning the 1939 P. I. A. A. tournament, and being desirous of congratulating and complimenting the said High School team; Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Members of the House of Representatives do hereby express their congratulations to the Board of Education of the School District of Homestead to Head Coach, Paul Birch, and Assistant Coach Walter Miller, to Pat Logan, Bill Vojtko, Jim Furnival, Bill Coggin, Joe Penzelik, Jim Borgen, Steve Mock, Ed Spartz, Jim Feeney, John Huber, Bernard Rousher, and Andrew Kita, members of the Championship Team, to Port Eckles, Superintendent of Schools, D. H. Conner and William V. Campbell, Principals, and Robert C. Schenk, faculty manager, John Urban and Edward Mattis, student managers, and to Homestead High School student body and its cheerleaders upon the occasion of the winning of the P. I. A. A. championship by Homestead High; and be it further

Resolved, That the House of Representatives urge the members of the Championship Homestead basket ball team, as well as the Homestead High student body, to keep alive forever the spirit of Americanism and of love of Pennsylvania which such championship tournaments inspire; and which the said Homestead High basket ball team, its loyal student body its cheerleaders and its fans have shown throughout this tournament; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this Resolution be sent by the Chief Clerk to each member of the championship team, to Coaches Paul Birch and Walter Miller, and that a copy engrossed on parchment be sent by the Chief Clerk to the Secretary of the Homestead School Board, such copy to be suitable for framing and for hanging in the trophy room.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

ADDRESS BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the members of this House have received a report prepared by the Department of Internal Affairs showing the valuation of Public Utility Real Estate exempt from taxation, and the amount of taxes which would have accrued to all political sub-divisions in Pennsylvania for the year 1937.

Through no fault of the Secretary of Internal Affairs this report is not correct. For the figures shown although they may seem high to some of the members — any person acquainted with the vast holdings of the electric light companies, the gas companies, the telephone companies, the water companies, the railroads, the street railways, the Western Union, the Postal Telegraph Company and motor transportation knows that $230,641,066.00 is a mere drop in the bucket to the values carried on the Utilities' books for rate making purposes. The Internal Affairs Department found, in trying to get the assessed valuations from the County assessing units—that due to the fact that these properties were not subject to taxation, records, if any, were kept loosely, and in numerous cases no values were ever estimated on properties by the different assessing units. Or, to put it in the words as expressed by the assessors "since no taxes were collected, we did not worry about their values."

In the 1937 session public utilities of Pennsylvania gave a release to the Press showing that some counties in the State would benefit from local taxations of utilities properties more than others. I want to use as a comparison the utility figures given at that time and the figures shown on this report. On your report Bedford County has no record of the utility holding. The utilities claim they would be subject to a tax on 5,760,000, Wayne County shows 414,000, the utility company shows 11,000,000, Lancaster County shows 2,298,000, the utility shows 16,000,000, York County shows 648,557.00, the utility shows 14,000,000, Delaware County shows 123,660.00 while the utility states that they have 9,000,000. Comparing these counties, the Internal Affairs Department shows on their reports from the respective assessors of these counties that the utility holdings to be taxed are assessed at 7,406,926.00. According to the utilities own report printed in a Philadelphia newspaper, on March 30, 1937 the taxable properties in these counties had an assessed valuation of 64,760,000.00, and I want to particularly draw to the attention of the gentlemen from Wayne County, Mr. Dix that his problem of underpaid school teachers would be solved if the utilities of his county paid their just share of school taxes. I believe these few comparisons will convince the members of this House that when I state this report is only about one-fifth of the real value of the exempt real estate properties of the utilities, I am not making any exaggeration.

Right here I want to point out to the members of this House one of the fallacies of Governor James' economy policy when he curtailed the operating expenses of the Public Utility Commission. If the Public Utility Commission was permitted to continue its exhaustive surveys, I am certain that it would have learned that real estate properties of the utilities were carried on the utility books at inflated values so that rates could be made at higher figures than the utilities would be entitled.

I am not going to point out to you the numerous discrepancies existing, but I am going to ask every member of this House to take this report back home with you over the week-end, and ask that you personally check up the value of the assessed real estate as shown on this report with the book value carried by the utilities serving your district.

The exemption from local taxation of the real estate of the utilities is not an exemption passed by any Act of this House — as this exemption is by a court opinion established by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania in 1825. The reason given for the exempting of such properties is that —

> "The power to tax includes the power to sell for non-payment of taxes, and thus the property of a public corporation, without which it could not perform its duties to the public, could be sold piece-meal and a corporate purpose be defeated by divesting the title to certain portions of the real estate which tax liens were filed."

This can be verified in the decision rendered in Conoy Township vs York Haven Co., 222 Pa. 319 and 321.

In 1934, Dr. Edward B. Logan made a complete survey which resulted in his writing a book entitled "Taxation of Real Property in Pennsylvania." Since Dr. Logan is the Budget Secretary for Governor James, I know that you Repubilcan members of the House, who followed his lead and recommendation for the reenactment of the Earle bills will again follow his suggestions for taxing the real estate of the utilities. For—on page 16 of Dr. Logan's book — he can be quoted as follows:

> "the exemption of the real estate of public utilities from local taxation shifts a heavy burden of taxation to other taxpayers."

On this same page he can be quoted as stating:

> "Utilities receive the same police, fire, sewerage, highway, sanitary and other protection and services as other real estate in the same community. These local districts which render greater service to the utilities than the State receive no contributions toward the maintenance of these services."

On page 17, Dr. Logan is very definite in pointing out that Pennsylvania is the only state where the utilities do not share their burden of local taxation, and he can be quoted as follows:

> "The States included in the study have taken steps to reduce the burden of exemption. All these States tax the real property of public utilities for the defraying of local governmental expenses. Such actual practice on the part of other states refutes the ruling of the Courts of Pennsylvania and the contention of the utilities that to allow such properties to be assessed and taxed for local benefit would be opening the door to destruction of public service through tax sales by local governments for unpaid utilities taxes."

I could go on indefinitely quoting Dr. Logan from his book written in 1934. Dr. Logan appeared, in 1937, before the House Committee, then considering a bill introduced by me to tax the real estate of the utilities, and urged the passage of the bill. And on March 11, 1937, he wrote me as follows:

> "I believe it would be possible to show how taxes on utility corporations and on other corporations compare, and I am inclined to think the comparisons would be unfavorable to the utilities and would desaroy any arguments the utilities can raise."

I believe that Dr. Logan can be considered as an authority for I do not know any other man in Pennsylvania who has made more of a study of taxation than Dr. Logan. He was Pinchot's right hand man and now he is James,' and I have the greatest respect and regard for Dr. Logan.

When one compares utilties and manufacturers, I would like to show to this House just what is happening in Allegheny County and when it happens in Allegheny County the comparison can be made in the other sixty-six counties in the state for the same conditions exist. In Allegheny County, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company pay in local taxes $418,720.00. All of the water companies, all the electric companies, all of the gas companies combined pay $111,805.72. In other words the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company is paying four times the taxes paid by these monopolies who are given a guaranteed income and who hold more property than Jones & Laughlin's. The utilities use the streets of Pittsburgh without paying a cent for a Franchise Tax — as they do in every other state in the United States. If ever an injustice exists, this is an injustice—and then the Governor of this state states he is going to encourage Pennsylvania industries who are competing in world markets and at the same time "Mr. Utility James" handicaps our Pennsylvania manufacturers and coal companies and, yes — our coal mines that this "breaker boy" worked in, by forcing them not only to pay their share of the local government, but also to pay the share that the utilities, by all laws of decency, should be paying. And I might add, that Jones & Laughlin's investments are held right here in Pennsylvania, while the utilities of Allegheny County send their money to the H. A. Byllbesby Company of Chicago, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, Columbia Gas & Electric (J. P. Morgan) and others.

I wish that I could take the time of this House to explain this chart to you showing how utilities are taxed in other cities and states and also to compare the average monthly electric bill paid in these cities compared to what we pay in Pennsylvania. But it would take too much time of the House. However, this chart is available to every member of this House for his perusal.

I don't think it is necessary to continue to talk further and to ask your support for the immediate enactment of legislation. These bills have been introduced and should be speedily acted upon by this House. House Bill No. 78 — taxing the real estate of the utilities — is in the Committee of Public Utilities, as well as House Bill No. 428 — creating a State Utility Tax Commission which will place a value on the special franchise and certify it back to the community served by the utility. House Bill No. 427 is an enabling act giving the Utilities Tax Commission this power.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, your action on these bills will determine your stand as to whom you are serving — the poor oppressed real estate owner back home or the utility lobby maintained in Harrisburg.

I invite interrogations on the floor of this House — from any member who takes exception to any statement that I have made.

ADDRESS BY MR. BONEY

Mr. BONEY asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker first of all I want to thank you for granting me permission to speak. I know that all of you are probably tired this late in the afternoon but I would like to point out one thing, Mr. Speaker and members of the House, which I think is very vital and which has occupied a vital spot in my mind ever since I became a member of this House.

Being a new member I was sort of reluctant to take the floor, but as I said before this question has occupied a vital spot in my mind. I believe it is not only essential but it is necessary, Mr. Speaker, in this particular situation. We heard a number of arguments or speeches with reference to our educational system on the floor and from the records. I know that each and every one of you is heartily in sympathy with the school question. I do not stand here today to retaliate in any manner with any of the members. I do not stand here as a Democrat, neither would I stand here as a Republican if I were one, but I stand here as an American citizen.

I feel that the public school system of this state and the entire United States is the most essential institution for the good of democracy. In my opinion it is the life blood of democracy that is being sapped away by idelogoists. I want to inform the members here that if our educational system falls our democracy falls. In the debate on House Bill No. 276, the speakers debated the bill vociferously and vigorously. Some of the gentlemen referred to ripper legislation. Our honorable Speaker mentioned the fact that there was a hole and a Republican member mentioned the fact that it should be sewed up, but I want to call your attention to this fact, members that there is quite a rip in our educational system and we should do something to mend it. We should do something to mend it by legislation that will be of great benefit to all of us.

Reference was made to "peanut" government. I want to inform you that if our educational system falls, we will have nothing but a "peanut" government. You know that our forefathers recognized the importance of education when in the Constitution they guaranteed us the right of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness. Those words would have been just an empty gesture if they did not devise some means by which we could pursue happiness, some means by which we could develop initiative to realize and distinguish realities in the future of the nation. Now, gentlemen, as I said before, even while I stand here, the most essential institution for democracy is our public educational system. What do we find? We find it is breaking down, we find that many schools are financially embarrased and cannot pay their teachers. If they cannot pay their teachers, they cannot buy the materials for their children to work with. For your children's sake, I ask you to do something for this very important institution in our state. We hear that the teachers are ready to go on strike. All of this must have a bad effect on the pupils. What do you find? The most important institution in the United States is breaking down. We should do something about it.

In conclusion I wish to cite a quotation from one of the newspapers on the educational system, one of the most important institutions in the United States. "It is more important than the army and the navy and the health service combined". It causes a situation that is much worse than any situation that is going on in Europe today. There is something that can be done about it. There is something much easier that we can do about it. I thank you.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 10, 1939.

The Senate met at 9:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, as we come in prayer tonight we are exceedingly apprehensive of the immediate future of the world.

Turning from the beauty of yesterday with its message of victory, peace and triumph we again are startled by the aggression of the most dangerous dictators of the earth. Trampling asunder the liberty and sovereignty of weaker, defenseless nations and the direct threatening of others we grimly note the march of political conquest in Europe.

Are the ghosts of Napoleon and Caesar marching again? Must the clock of time again be turned back to 1914 and 1917? If so, O God of all nations, suffer the ominous shadows of Waterloo and the fateful daggers of conspirators to fall full across their ambitious pathways e'er the nations of the earth become embroiled in another cataclysmic struggle leaving so much suffering, misery, destruction and death in its wake.

We know not what a day may bring forth, neither can we read aright the signs of the times but we can and do continue to repose our faith in Thee. Thus far Thou hast directed us safely; we will fervently believe in our national motto—"In God we trust" and mean it.

We turn now to our own problems of State. As we strive to solve them give us Divine guidance throughout our labors. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. SCARLETT, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate: The personal privilege rule has been much abused in this Senate and I must plead guilty to some violations. But like Edmund Burke I have often hoped that the good nature of the Chair would incline him to some indulgence toward human frailty.

But tonight I ask no indulgence and offer no apologies. I speak on behalf of millions of citizens of my city and State.

For many years the City of Philadelphia has been labeled as 'corrupt and contented,' and during all that time the financial and political affairs of the City have been controlled by the Republican party and Republican officeholders. In the last few years the stranglehold has been loosened and the usual landslide by which the Republican party was repeatedly swept into office has been reduced to a mere majority. In spite of that and in spite of the fact that in 1935 the Democratic party polled more than 45 per cent of the votes cast not a single Democratic Councilman was elected.

In the State the situation is the same. Republican controlled for more than forty years, when it was swept out of power in Pennsylvania it lost every contested office by a comparatively small majority.

With such results the so-called 'two party system' becomes a high sounding phrase and minority representation a figment of the imagination. The one party either absorbs or destroys the other at least during the period of supremacy. Party pledges and principles are forgotten. The elected public officials become the representatives of the party.

Under Republican rule for nearly half a century in both City and State the citizens have witnessed and accepted this practice without audible protest. In 1934 economic conditions brought about a change and a new party was placed in power, pledged to a platform of liberal legislations. Opinions may differ on the guilt or innocence of those State officers against whom charges have been made, whether they are politically born or true. But upon this fact no one can honestly disagree: In 1935 and 1937 the Democratic party enacted into law every plank in its platform.

Now we have a new administration. It was elected to office on the basis of charges of corruption and destructive business taxation. It promised to prove its charges by convicting the guilty, and to relieve business by repealing the 'burdensome' taxes. It has done neither. Almost a year has passed since the charges were made and no one has been even tried. A former Governor, coming from a family whose name has gained eminence in Philadelphia for integrity and philanthropy has not been accorded the courtesy, decency and sportmanship that would be given any ordinary citizen accused of the most heinous crime.

Our State budget is not balanced and to prevent its complete destruction the James Administration is moving to get appellate court assistance to keep alive these very taxes which it was pledged to destroy. What hypocrisy! What a spectacle! Mr. President, on this subject I shall have more to say at another time.

The situation in the city of Philadelphia is even worse and more imminent. Fifty years of misrule, of waste, extravagance and corruption have reduced the third largest city of the nation to financial and social ruin. In my memory not a single bona fide improvement of any value to the citizens has been suggested or made, but hundreds of millions of dollars have been thrown away on Sesqui-centennials staged in out of the way spots; on subways that begin nowhere and end nowhere; on holes in the ground; on Parkways and on schems to beautify the city that were never finished, all of which carried with them the seed of corruption and scandal.

Bonded indebtedness has arisen from $110,000,000 to $540.000,000 in a few short years. Deficits of over $40,-000,000 in current expense budgets have been created. But with starvation and dependence on charity all around them; with attempts of the political leaders to make them pay for the extravagances of the politicians; with a world gone mad and a shaking civilization, the people of our city are aroused to a fury. Philadelphia is still corrupt. It is no longer contented.

Its people have reached the conclusion that we must have capable and honest and efficient public officers and that the only way to get such men of high standing and ability to accept even nominations for public office is to set up a new governmental framework which will make possible the election of such men without political obligation.

This is the thought and the purpose back of the new City Charter. It was drawn up by a group of representative and responsible citizens. It is sponsored and backed by a majority of the people. It is supported by most of our intelligent and public spirited citizens.

This Senate has heard from the public pro and con and the time has come to act. Frankly this proposed Charter spells the death knell of politically controlled city government. It will bring about the birth of a new kind and far better kind of politics in the City and a new kind of City in Pennsylvania.

It will prevent a recurrence of the waste, mismanagement and corruption of the past by granting proper minority representation in the future.

The people of Philadelphia want an opportunity to vote on this Charter. No back room conferees, even if they do meet in the Union League, can arrogate to themselves the right to decide this question for two million people of our city. That right belongs to the people themselves to decide this vital question.

It is the right of the people alone to decide whether the proposed Charter is good or bad. It is their right, and theirs alone, to decide whether they want that form of government.

We in the Senate have no right to deny them that privilege. No political party that is honest has any right to deny this privilege. No party that is wise will frustrate that right of the people of Philadelphia.

I call upon the Committee on Municipal Government and the Republican members of this Senate to act, and to act promptly. This week should allow ample time for the committee to complete the hearings and act.

f it does not I will feel it my duty to move to discharge the Committee for further consideration of Senate Bills Nos. 1, 2 and 3.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga did not vote with the majority; he voted with the minority.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair decides that the point of order raised by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is not well taken, and as authority for that he reads Rule 16 of the Rules of the Senate:

"Reconsideration. When a question has been once made and carried in the affirmative or negative, it shall be in order for any two members of the majority to move the reconsideration thereof. When the Senate has been equally divided on a question, or a bill shall have failed to pass, by reason of not having a constitutional majority, it shall be in order for any two who voted in the negative to move the reconsideration thereof."

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, does the Chair have in mind that the latter part of this rule quoted by the Chair refers to bills where the majority is in the negative, less than 26?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that that would refer to any vote.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry before the roll is called.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, based on the same reasoning applied by the Chair in overruling my point of order previously made, will it require two-thirds of those present to sustain a reconsideration?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that it will not.

CONSIDERATION OF JOHN W. HOWELL AS MEMBER OF BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I now call up for action the nominations for appointment as members of the State Board of Public Assistance; and ask that they all be voted on together.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, in order to conserve the time of the Senate and avoid confusion, I would like to suggest that the name of John Howell be voted upon individually; and if it is the desire of the Chair and the members of the Senate, the remainder of the Board may be voted on as a group.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that, from the request of the Senator from Lackawanna, the name of John W. Howell be not considered at this time and that the others only be voted upon.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I suggest that we take up the name of Senator Howell first.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Chairman of the Committee of Executive Nominations, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. COLEMAN. Mr. President, I understand it is agreeable to the Senator from Somerset that the nomination of Senator Howell be voted upon first, individually.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, either way, as I understand it, Mr. President, the Senator from Lackawanna wishes the name of John W. Howell voted upon first. I have no objection.

CONSIDERATION OF NOMINATION OF HOWARD L. RUSSELL AS A MEMBER OF BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I think the other members of this Committee should be accorded the same courtesy that was accorded Mr. Howell; and they should be voted upon individually.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that that is the desire of the Senators on the other side.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I am requesting that they be voted upon separately.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of ordinary curiosity. If Ex-Senator Howell is the only member of the board, will he function as a one-man board in the absence of the vote of the Democrats? Can one man function as the board—as the central board?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will hold that in obeyance for the time being.

The question is on the confirmation of the other appointees of the same board.

The clerk will call the roll.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Indiana requested that the other names be voted upon, in order, separately, and the first name is that of Mr. Russell.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, we will proceed to the reading of the first name.

The clerk proceeded with the calling of the roll.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "Aye" to "No."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

CONSIDERATION OF NOMINATION OF MRS. HARRIET B. PHILLIPS AS MEMBER OF BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

The PRESIDENT. We will now consider the nomination of Mrs. Harriet B. Phillips.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny if this is the Mrs. John M. Phillips, who is a great civic leader in Allegheny County?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, this is Mrs. Phillips of Allegheny County; That is as far as I can answer.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to further ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, if he does not know that this Mrs. John M. Phillips is a civic leader?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, no, I do not know her as such.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I understand the Senator said he did not know. Do I understand, Mr. President, that the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, does not know who this party is?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana please restate that question?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I understand the Senator from Allegheny does not know who this is.

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I know her to be Mrs. John M. Phillips.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Frey, know of any reason, from her experience as a civic leader, why she is not qualified to hold this office?

Mr. FREY. Mr. President, I am not familiar with her civic experience.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McGINNIS. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, if this is not Mrs. John M. Phillips, a great civic leader of Allegheny County?

Mr. McGINNIS, yes, I know she is a civic leader.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to further ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, if he knows of any reason why she is not fitted to carry out this office ably.

Mr. McGINNIS. No, Mr. President, I do not.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I think I had the floor first, and I would like to interrogate the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair understands that the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, has the floor.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, if this is not Mrs. John M. Phillips, a great civic leader.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, Mrs. Phillips, is a splendid woman.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, is not Mrs. Phillips a great civic leader?

Mr. KILGALLEN. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would further like to ask the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, if he knows of any reason why she is not ably fitted to fill the office for which the Governor has nominated her.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana, Mr. Wolfenden, permit himself to be interrogated?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, after the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen, has answered my question, I will.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, I think that Mrs. John M. Phillips is very well capable of handling the position.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I shall now be very glad to yield the floor to the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Kilgallen.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana state who Mrs. Phillips displaces on the board?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I have no way of knowing, and I do not think the Senator from Allegheny has any way of knowing whom Mrs. Phillips displaced—seven members went off the board and seven went on.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, will the Senator from Indiana state whether or not any of the old members of the board are not capable of handling their duties?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I do not know that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the questions that were in my mind, that I intended to ask the Senator, have been answered. I have no hesitancy in saying to the Senator that the reasons prompting the vote against these nominations are equal—there is no particular objection to Mrs. Phillips, and there is no particular objection to some of the others, but there is objection to the wholesale removal of boards for political purposes; and I shall vote against every one of these nominations so long as these nominations are borne of political design. Every person on that board was a decent, respectable citizen and had proved himself such in the performance of his duties. There was no reason other than political for their removal, and I do not intend to put my stamp of approval by confirming these new nominees.

It is not fair to one person to stand up and say, "Do you know anything against Mrs. Phillips?" I should like the Senator to know that I do not know a thing against Mrs. Phillips; and neither does he against the character, reputation and ability of those people who were displaced by these nominees.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Senator Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, am I to understand from the remarks of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, that the blocking of these fine people is purely political?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Indiana can understand from my remarks that the appointment of these people is purely political, and I do not propose to join in it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I think it is not necessary to look at it in this light. We have all been greatly concerned with the administration of relief. It has not been a success. We find ourselves lacking probably forty-five or more millions of dollars to carry us out to the end of this biennium.

Personally, I am not in favor of the present system of administering relief; but the Senator from Philadelphia and all the other Senators, and the people of Pennsylvania, will remember that the last administration ripped out not only the members of the Assistance Board but all boards of every character and kind whatsoever throughout the Commonwealth.

Now, having done that, they made a failure of relief as they made a failure of a great many other things; and it is only fair and right that this Administration be given a chance to try its plan, to see if it can do any better; and if there is any politics in this the members on the other side are the ones who have injected it.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President. I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, if he knows what resignation caused the vacancy to which Mrs. Edna Carroll was appointed, whose confirmation he just voted against.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I know the Governor of Pennsylvania called up three members of the Motion Picture Licensing Board and told them to either resign or be fired, and I do not propose to condone that kind of conduct.

I know that in connection with these nominations—I have known Mr. Staples, President of the Bell Telephone Company, for many years; I have also known Mrs. Elsie L. Pfaelzer, for twenty-five years, as a woman of high standing in the community, a person who has devoted her whole life to civic service—Mothers' Assistance, Pensions for the Blind and Relief; yet she was dismissed, and I say she was every bit as high-type as any person appointed.

While it may be true that these removals occurred in previous administrations I certainly know that Mr. Staples was no Democrat, and I certainly know that the percentage of Republicans on the board were much higher than the Democrats are now. I never heard of a single board where seven registered Republicans were appointed to a board when the law says they should not all be of the same political complexion. I know my conscience is clear, and I do not see how you can expect anything better from relief if this kind of conduct is continued by the Governor of Pennsylvania. It does not help to say that it was done before by the Democrats—that is not correcting the situation

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, further.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would like the Senator from Philadelphia to answer my question, instead of making a political speech.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think I have answered two questions, as well as making a political speech.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I asked the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro if he knew that the vacancy on the Moving Picture was caused by the resignation—voluntary resignation—of Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer; and that she was not asked to resign.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, Mrs. A. Mitchell Palmer and two other members of the board called me on the telephone and told me they had been told to resign or they would be fired. Two of them called me a second time and told me that they were not even to be paid for the day on which they were fired; and I was again called by Mr. Palmer and asked what she should do with the pictures, because they were fired before some of the pictures could be reviewed.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the fact is that the vacancy to which Mrs. Carroll was appointed was caused by the voluntary resignation of Mrs. Palmer, Senator Shapiro to the contrary notwithstanding. She resigned without being requested to resign and a vacancy was thus created in this board; and the Governor has appointed Mrs. Edna Carrol of Philadelphia. Now, Mr. President, I can understand—and I have heard it rumored here—that Senator Shapiro is going to get even for some testimony that Mrs. Carroll gave.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The Senator from Erie will state his point of order.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, the name of Mrs. Carroll is not now before the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in arguing with reference to the present nomination before this Senate, stated that they voted against these nominations because of the fact that they were asked to resign, and I submit that the Senator from Philadelphia, who raised that question, has just voted against the nomination of a woman who was appointed to fill a vacancy caused by voluntary resignation, and I want to point that out to this Senate.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there are some things that are not usually done by people who have some respect for the decency and integrity of others.

I want to say publicly that I resent the statement of the Senator from Tioga that I voted against Mrs. Carroll for any personal reason. Mrs. Carroll does not amount to that much in my life; I do not think she is of sufficient importance for me to do it, and I think the Senator from Tioga knows me better than to say that I would vote against this woman because of anything between the two of us.

I do not know the woman except that I have seen her once. I had no quarrel with her and she had no quarrel with me. I have not spoken to the woman in two years or three years, except maybe two years ago at one meeting, which was a public meeting. I do not know the lady and I have no interest in her. As far as I know she is a respectable person and nothing I am going to say here will reflect upon her and I would not undertake to reflect upon her.

The remarks made by the Senator from Tioga reflect upon her. I think it is high time that there be a halt called to charges of indecency and double dealing. The time may come when the Senator from Tioga will regret that attitude that he takes—it is time it was stopped.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I came to the Senate of Pennsylvania at the same time as my friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and I think I know whereof I speak.

Mr. President, I would like to further interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to answer questions so long as they are within the bounds of decency.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I want to ask how the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, voted on the bill to rip out the Municipal Court in Philadelphia last year.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, if the Senator from Philadelphia does not want to answer that question, it is all right with me.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should be very glad to answer that question because the Senator from Tioga does not want an answer and I am going to give him an answer.

I helped to prepare the bill, which was known as the "Family Court Bill." I believed in that bill; but I did not agree with some of the things done subsequently in connection with the bill.

I voted for that bill because I believed it would help Philadelphia. I voted for the bill even though two of the members of the Court, who would have been removed, were not only personal friends of mine but one of them was my partner.

I do not see what this has to do with the present situation; but any time the Senator from Tioga wants to attempt to match wits with me on that kind of method, I am ready to answer any question he puts.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, a member of this Board came from my county, and I am advised that a letter was sent to Mrs. Palmer requesting her resignation, and sent personally by the Governor. She did send in her resignation to avoid unpleasant complications.

And the question recurring will the Senate agree to the nomination?

The Clerk proceeded to the calling of the roll.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "No."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "No."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

CONSIDERATION OF NOMINATION OF MR. FRANK A. ROBBINS, JR., AS MEMBER OF BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

The PRESIDENT. We will now proceed with the consideration of the nomination of Mr. Frank A. Robbins, Jr., of Dauphin County.

On the question, will the Senate agree to the nomination?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of the Senate to the fact that this gentleman was the one who was Chairman of the Dauphin County Relief Board under Governor Earle, and that this is just a promotion to the General State Relief Board because of his faithful services.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will proceed with the calling of the roll.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER NOMINATION

Mr. OWLEETT. Mr. President, I now move that the vote by which the nominations just presented to the Senate and rejected be reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted No.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I voted No.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the gentleman who made the motion to reconsider did not vote with the majority, as provided by both Rule 16 and Rule 38 of the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to the point of order raised by the Senator from Fayette, I desire to state that in construing a majority, a majority is the side which wins; and in the case of the two-thirds vote the majority is the side which prevented the obtaining of the two-thirds majority.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The chair asks for the indulgence of the Senate for a moment, please.

The Senate will be at ease for a moment.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair will defer ruling on the point of order raised by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, do I understand, then, that the motion I made to reconsider this will not be voted upon at this time?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understands.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in view of the fact that the Chair has deferred his ruling on the point of order raised by the Senator from Fayette, I move you that the action of the Senate in the rejection of the nominations be laid upon the table, pending a vote on the motion to reconsider.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this Senate has just witnessed an arbitrary rejection on the part of the minority of this Senate of the members of the Relief Board of this State. They have witnessed like action on the nominations by the Governor to the Public Utility Commission, to a position made vacant at the time when the present Governor took office. We have witnessed the rejection, in the same manner, of an appointment to the Moving Picture Censorship Board.

Now, Mr. President, regardless of how these vacancies occurred, regardless of whether any of those people were asked to resign, the fact remains that they did resign; the fact remains that the people on relief—thousands and thousands of our people on relief in this State—are looking to this State Government to take care of them today, and this minority has arbitrarily and without reason—with nobody serving in these places at all—seen fit to vote down good citizens of this Commonwealth who have been nominated by this Administration to these offices.

I hope that the people of Pennsylvania will take note of the action by this minority tonight in arbitrarily rejecting these nominees and in attempting to hamper this State government in its orderly functioning.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. I move you, Mr. President, that the Senate do now recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I—

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, a motion to recess is not debatable.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, there was no seconder. I asked for the privilege of the floor.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understands.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga made certain statements on this floor which personally I might resent. He said, including all, that the minority voted with one specific purpose in mind.

I say to you, Mr. President, that if the Senator from Tioga was so deeply concerned about the people on relief in Pennsylvania being cared for, then he should have comunicated this to the Governor of Pennsylvania so that the removals might be made in such an order that there would always be members remaining on these boards so as to function.

It is no fault of the Senate here if the Governor removed, in its entirely, every board in Pennsylvania and left Pennsylvania without a board to function.

May I say, I always advocated the confirmation of Mr. Hamilton, as Secretary of Revenue; from the very first I was for Mr. Hamilton being confirmed because I believed, as I was told by the majority, that we were hampering the functions of government by not doing so, but, much to my surprise, after I advocated this and did vote for this—and I carried the fight, as some of our members know, into our caucus to have it done—the Secretary of Revenue has not yet taken his seat.

Might I say, Mr. President, to the Senator from Tioga that the Governor saw fit to take out the Board of Censors in Philadelphia and for days there was no person in power to function, to censor those pictures.

What I want to impress the Senator with, Mr. President, is that this dismissal is not the action of the Senate—that some foresight might have been used in permitting sufficient members to remain, until sufficient members were confirmed, so that there would be no interruption in the functions of the Government.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the Senator from Tioga is always concerned about the efficiency with which he wants the State Government to function.

It might be well at this time to call attention of the Senator from Tioga to the fact that the public assistance law requires that the County Boards of Assistance be appointed from residents of the county in which the board functions; but apparently the Governor of this State—even though he has served as a Superior Court judge for many years—either does not know the law or he does not want to read it, because out in my county he has summarily dismissed the County Board of Assistance and has sent into my county two gentlemen who are not residents of Fayette County, and who are now administering the functions of the County Board of Assistance.

The Senator from Tioga, of course, has heard me on the floor of this Senate objecting to a nomination of Mr. Hamilton to the office of Secretary of Revenue. Now, the Senator from Tioga, as well as his Excellency the Governor, no doubt ought to know that the Secretary of Revenue is not a constitutional officer but a legislative officer.

We confirmed Mr. Hamilton, as the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, has stated, more than two months ago; and every time we pick up the telephone and call the Secretary of Revenue they answer "Mr. Hamilton's office," but when we go over to the Secretary of the Commonwealth to find out whether Mr. Hamilton has taken the oath of office—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the question of Mr. Hamilton taking his oath of office is not now before the Senate. I have made a motion that we recess for fifteen minutes.

The PRESIDENT. As the Chair understands it the motion of the Senator from Tioga was not seconded.

Mr. OWLETT. For the information of the Chair, the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, got up.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair saw Senator Mundy stand up. The Chair did not see or hear the Senator from Susquehanna, Mr. Gelder, second the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. The Secretary of Revenue is not a constitutional officer and the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth shows he has not taken his oath of office as prescribed by Article 7 of the Constitution.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to know upon what subject the Senator from Fayette is now speaking.

The PRESIDENT. Upon a question of personal privilege, I understand.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, no. Before we went into Executive Session we were on the order of resolutions, and unanimous consent was given to go into Executive Session; and I take it that we are still on the order of resolutions, and while I am speaking about—if the Senator from Tioga will be kind enough to sit down and let me finish—will be on resolutions.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair must differ with the Senator from Fayette. When we went into Executive Session we had left the order of business of resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my recollection is very distinct, and it is that the Senator from Washington got up with a resolution afterwards.

MOTION TO RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move you that the Senate recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second that motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have the floor.

The PRESIDENT. For what purpose does the Senator from Fayette rise.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF SENATE RESOLUTION SERIAL NUMBER 25

Mr. CAVALCATE. Mr. President, I move that the Committee on State Government of this Senate be now discharged from further consideration of Senate resolution, Serial No. 25, see Legislative Journal page 1006.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is already a motion before the Senate to recess for fifteen minutes.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order of the Senator from Tioga is well taken.

The motion was carried.

RECESS

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for fifteen minutes.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. WOODWARD from the Committee on State Government reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 375, entitled:

Mr. SNOWDEN. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the first reading of all bills reported from committees for the first time at today's session.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

It was agreed to.

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn until Tuesday, April 11, 1939 at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rose to a question of personal privilege before that motion to adjourn was seconded.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am not going to detain the members of this Senate very long, but it seems to me it is rather an unfair method for the Senator from Tioga to get up and make a statement in the form of a tirade against the members of this Senate, in effect saying that we are all a lot of nobodies, and then we adjourn. It sounded like a hit and run play to me. I want to suggest to the gentleman from Tioga that what we have done tonight does not stop the functioning of the departments at all.

Under an opinion in 1905 of Attorney-General Brown the Governor of the Commonwealth can appoint anybody he pleases during a session and there is nothing to prevent these men from functioning. As a matter of fact, these men have all been functioning, even though they have not been appointed.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

The Senate adjourned at 11:59 o'clock, p. m., until Tuesday, April 11, 1939, at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

MONDAY, April 10, 1939

The House met at 8 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

With souls refreshed by the Ecclesiastical Holy Days through which we have just passed, we again approach Thee, O Lord, in prayer.

We magnify Thy name; we adore Thy personality; we worship before Thy throne. We plead for the forgiveness of all our sins; we crave a renewal of our child-like simplicity of faith in Thee as our Father, our Guide, our Protector, our Friend, our Benefactor, our God.

Our righteous wrath is stirred to the point of frenzy by the cruel, barbarous, and inhuman atrocities of those totalitarian states of the Old World.

O Spirit of the Living God, so possess our hearts and minds that we will be able to overcome, as a people, every inroad that foreign "isms" are attempting to foster in America.

Amid turbulent conditions and mental disquietude, unfold to us the deep things of God.

God of nations, protect, bless, and preserve the soul of our Republic. Direct the citizens of our fair land, and convince them that a high splendid national life finds its noblest spring of excellence in that divine impulse to trust God, and to believe in the righteous destiny of man.

By calm and fortified understanding, may we be faithful in the service of our country, and help our fellowman the world around. Consider, O Lord, and let the light of thy wisdom fall upon the pathways of our duty. Amen.

SENATE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced presented an extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows:

In the Senate, April 5, 1939.

Whereas, it is harmful to labor, agriculture and industry in Pennsylvania to compel by legislative action the establishment and maintenance of freight rates from one rate territory to another on the rate per mile that applies within the destination territory which in turn would provide a substantially higher rate in one direction than in another over the same rails and between the same points; and

Whereas, The United States has been naturally divided into several rate territories because of differing costs of transportation caused primarily from the fact of differing volumes of tonnage produced and available for transportation in the various sections of the country; and

Whereas, Pennsylvania is located in what is designated Official Territory and being that territory lying east of the Mississippi River and north of the Ohio and Potomac Rivers, and recognized as one of the greatest industrial sections, not only of the United States but of the entire world, and because of this fact it provides the greatest number of tons per mile of transportation and consequently the lowest cost of operation for the railroads in that territory of any territory in the United States; and

Whereas, legislative action of this character would require the Interstate Commerce Commission, regardless of the facts, evidence, equity, their better judgment or otherwise, to disregard differing costs which form the basis for these different rate territories, and arbitrarily make from Official Territory to all other territories rates which would be materially higher than would be charged shippers in these other territories from shipping the same or similar articles, the same or similar distances into Pennsylvania, to the serious disadvantage of, and discrimination against Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, such a prejudice to Pennsylvania and preference of these other territories would not only seriously restrict the marketing and consequently the production of articles of commerce in Pennsylvania to the substantial and grave loss to its labor, agriculture and industry, but, even more seriously, would induce substantial removal of manufacturing operations from Pennsylvania to these more favored localities to the disadvantage of all its citizens; therefore be it

Resolved, by the Senate of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, The House of Representatives Concurring, that Pennsylvania Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States be earnestly requested and urged to use their efforts to convince their colleagues in both houses of Congress of the unfairness and impropriety of such legislative action; and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be forwarded to each member of the Seventy-sixth Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for its concurrence.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Mr. Stewart asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. HEWITT for the week on account of illness.

Mr. VanBelle asked and obtained leave of absence for Mr. SWEENEY for the week.

BILL PASSED OVER

There being no objection House Bill No. 605, Printer's No. 224, was passed over at the request of Mr. ECKELS.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 423, entitled:

An Act to amend section five (a) as added to, and section nine as amended, of the act, approved the seventeenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and seventeen (P. L. 224), entitled "An act preventing the manufacture, sale, or transportation within the Commonwealth of adulterated or misbranded paris greens, lead arsenates, lime-sulphur compounds, and other insecticides and fungicides, and regulating traffic therein; providing for inspection of such materials, and imposing penalties;" by providing for the registration of insecticides and fungicides by manufacturers outside of the Commonwealth; and changing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Cooper.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COOPER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Allegheny the exact purpose of the amendments.

Mr. COOPER. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the amendments to this bill is to permit outside manufacturers of insecticides and fungicides to register their articles. Under the present law only manufacturers within the state and importers are allowed to register. This amendment will permit outside manufacturers to register their articles, and if they refuse or neglect to do so the importer may do so.

HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the present act requires registration by domestic manufacturers of these insecticides?

Mr. COOPER. That is right, sir.

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, and this would extend the requirements of registration to manufacturers outside of the Commonwealth?

Mr. COOPER. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 668, (Senate Bill No. 13), entitled:

An Act regulating the issuance of marriage licenses prohibiting the issuance thereof to persons infected with syphilis in certain stages requiring each applicant to produce certain evidence of freedom from such disease imposing duties upon the Department of Health and the clerk of the orphans' court of the various counties and imposing penalties.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SEIF. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Public Health and Sanitation.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SEIF. Mr. Speaker, there was read for the first time in the Senate on April 5th, Senate Bill No. 129. That bill was introduced by Senator Walker and codifies all of the laws which have been passed heretofore relating to marriage. The recent three-day notification act with the original acts pertaining to marriage, as well as the provisions contained in the bill now before us for discussion, are contained in that code.

In that codification also is included the following provision:

"Section 5 (d)—No application shall be filed and entered of record until there shall be in the custody of the clerk to whom application is made, a certificate for each applicant by a licensed physician finding:

"(1) That the applicant is free from any mental defect or mental derangement to a degree that he would be incapable of entering into a contract of marriage.

"(2) That the applicant is free from tuberculosis in a communicable form as determined by the absence of tubercule bacilli in the sputum.

"(3- That the applicant has submitted to a standard laboratory blood test made not more than ten days preceding the application for a marriage license, and is not infected with syphilis in a communicable form.

"(4) The physician's certification shall be accompanied by a record of the standard laboratory blood test, which shall contain the name of the person tested, signed by the laboratory director.

"Standard laboratory blood test" as defined by the Act means a laboratory test for syphilis approved by the Department of Health of the State of Pennsylvania and performed by said department or by a laboratory approved by it, on request of a licensed physician."

Mr. Speaker, I want to say and I want it thoroughly understood, that I am one hundred percent back of legislation of this kind. I know it is necessary. My only purpose in moving to recommit the bill at this time is to give this codification a chance to come out and be passed in the Senate and come over here. The Judges of the Orphans' Courts in the various counties of the State have worked on this marriage codification and among the members of the profession and the members of the bench it seems to be a necessary thing. For that reason I ask that it be recommitted.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in view of the debate that was had on this bill last week when it was on second reading, in which it was pointed out by numerous members of the House that this matter was thoroughly considered from all possible angles, and in view of the fact that this bill is a Senate bill on third reading, while the other bill is on first reading in the Senate, this motion should be voted down and the bill should be voted upon at this time.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 667, (Senate Bill No. 12), entitled:

An Act for the prevention of congenital syphilis; providing for and regulating the taking of serological tests of women pregnant with child; and requiring notation thereof on the birth and stillbirth certificates of their children; imposing duties upon the Department of Health and upon physicians and other persons attending women pregnant with child.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in passing this bill, I think the House should realize just the sort of twaddle in which it is indulging. You might as well bombard alligators with cream puffs as to attempt to fight syphilis with this kind of legislation. The penalties of the act have been, Mr. Speaker, very carefully taken out of it. Nobody is penalized if they don't comply with the provisions of this measure. I presume that this provision is the result of careful thought upon the part of the medical profession. Nobody is responsible for the enforcement of this act. This is a measure, Mr. Speaker, which this House is passing for the purpose of kidding somebody and making the public believe that something is actually being done to combat syphilis. If this House wants to indulge itself in this kind of make-believe, then that is the sort of thing the House wants to do.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was debated at length the other day on second reading. I think the facts which were brought out were quite pertinent, and that the approach to this whole subject is that of a sympathic approach with the desire and purpose to secure cooperation on the part of those so afflicted. It is similar in effect to much of the legislation that led up to the tuberculosis effective legislation that is in force today. I think this measure of itself is a right and proper step, and I ask that we vote for this legislation this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Bucks, Mr. Stockham.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Bucks permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. STOCKHAM. I will Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS When was this measure debated on second reading? We debated Senate Bill 13, but I was not conscious of any debate on Senate Bill 12.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I beg to be corrected. The debate was on the amendments to the other bill. Nevertheless, I feel that debate applies with equal force to the bill now under discussion.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Bucks tell the House why he wants to be so sympathic with syphilis.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I do not know that that question is at all pertinent to my position relative to these measures. I believe that this legislation is constructive and helpful in the eradication of this disease.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Bucks inform this Housce why the penalty clause has been deleted from the bill.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker, I cannot. It was taken out in the Senate and passed with those deletions, I believe, unanimously.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Bucks believe that a law which makes no one responsible for enforcing it and that carries no penalty for disobeying it is likely to get very far.

Mr. STOCKHAM. I believe that it will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I had not intended to indulge in a general debate on this matter, but in view of the extremely novel theory of government that has just been expounded, I must say a word. When I hear such a leader, such a pillar, such a wise man as the gentleman from Bucks say that he is quite convinced that the way to legislate is to pass laws which contain no penalty clauses, which makes nobody responsible for their enforcement, I wonder whether all my conceptions of government have been wrong. I have been taught that a law to mean anything should carry a penalty clause and that some specific department of the state government should be responsible for enforcing it. Mr. Speaker, I have no objection if the House wants to pass this form of legislation. It won't do any good, it won't hurt anybody, it won't help anybody, and all that it has done has been to make a contribution to a printing company.

Mr. DENMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman from Cambria has said this legislation will not help anybody. On the basis of the 1938 figures of marriages in Pennsylvania we find approximately seventy-five thousand marriages. There would be approximately one hundred fifty thousand examinations. At this rate there would be discovered approximately two thousand two hundred fifty cases of syphilis every year. In Pennsylvania there are born approximately one hundred and forty thousand babies each year, and if we take the basis of one and one-half per cent, as given to us by the Medical profession, as the number of cases which we could save of the number of babies which are born, this legislation, instead of being of no benefit, would save two thousand one hundred babies from death or disease from syphilis each year. Certainly that alone is ample reason to pass this legislation.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, these bills are medically and scientifically sound.

Following two years of educational work by speeches, newspapers, radio and public meetings, these bills were drafted after six months of research on syphilis legislation in other states. They were reviewed and approved by the Pennsylvania Legislative Reference Bureau, by the Hon. John H. Fertig and by the American Social Hygiene Association whose suggestions on model legislation were closely followed. They have been specifically endorsed by the Medical Society of the state of Pennsylvania and the State Department of Health as well as by various local and civic groups throughout the state of Pennsylvania, by the Pennsylvania Federation of Womens Clubs, an organization of over 80,000 women, by resolutions passed at county and district meetings in each of the sixty-seven counties of the state. The bills are based on the practical experience of the states which already have similar legislation, to wit, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island,

New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Oregon. At this moment similar legislation is before the legislatures of thirty-three other states and the District of Columbia. This year West Virginia passed such legislation and it is well on its way to passage in Ohio and is before the legislature of Maryland. Unless this legislation is also adopted in Pennsylvania our state will be surrounded in such a way as to become the Gretna Green for the unfit of all neighbors. These bills go as far as is advisable at this time.

Based on the practical experience resulting from such legislation in other states, these bills can be safely adopted by Pennsylvania. Compulsory treatment, although commendable, would provide a feature as yet untried. Such drastic provisions would forfeit the cooperation of the general public which is necessary for the success of all public health efforts. These bills are definitely a big step in the right direction and the millenium must be achieved by degrees. These bills will become effective one year after enactment.

2. The effective date has been postponed for a year to permit the Department of Health, physicians, laboratories, and all individuals concerned, time to prepare so that the maximum in efficiency will prevail when the bills go into effect.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, something has been said about these bills being approved by the medical profession, and since these bills refer to the very worst disease known to man, I don't know of any group more qualified to prepare them or to discuss them than the medical profession. Something has been said also about the fact that there is no way of enforcing this legislation. I believe that we can rely upon the integrity of the medical authorities to enforce it. Mr. Speaker, I doubt whether any of us desire to question the integrity of the medical profession. There certainly is no ulterior motive in their desire to have such a bill passed. They are for the protection of mankind yet unborn.

Mr. Speaker. I ask the members of this House to vote "yes" on this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

RESOLUTION NO. 27.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 27, Printer's No. 227, on page 11, of today's calendar.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 7, 1939.

The American farmer, upon whose prosperity depends the prosperity of the Nation, is being deprived of his opportunity to earn a living by means of not being able to compete with the cheap imports from other countries.

Crops can be grown and cattle raised abroad at much lower cost than can be done here where the standard of living to which the American farmer is accustomed demands a larger compensation for labor.

The importation of cheaply grown grains, foodstuffs, cattle and meat products from abroad has done much to deny to our farmers the prosperity their efforts deserve, therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this House of Representatives of the General Asembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that action should be taken by the Federal Government to prevent the importation of such grains and foodstuffs, cattle and meat products, the sale of which in the American markets contributes so largely to the economic plight of the American farmer, either by the imposition of a high tariff on such importation or the closing of our ports of entry to such articles, and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted by the Chief Clerk of this House to the officers of the Congress of the United States and to the members of the Senate and House of Representatives in that Congress from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this resolution?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Union permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REAGAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the sponsor of this resolution the annual production of corn in the United States.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, if the gentleman would ask me something that I know, I would answer him. I cannot answer that question.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the sponsor of this resolution give me the value of the corn imported?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I can give him the total importation for the year 1937, which was some eighty-six billion bushels.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman give us the production of wheat?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I cannot.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman furnish us with the importation of wheat?

Mr. REAGAN. I cannot at this time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman give us the value of the annual production of hogs.

Mr. REAGAN. I cannot, Mr. Speaker, but I can give the gentleman the information for 1937 if he so desires.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, that might be helpful.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, 16,586,218 pounds in 1937. That does not include meat products.

Mr. ANDREWS. I thank the gentleman.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is a poor corn crop in the United States that does not reach one and a half billion bushels, and if you happen to have a bumper crop you can run it up to two billion bushels. The gentleman who sponsored this resolution is greatly excited because while we are raising corn in the billion bushels we are importing a few million bushels.

He does not call your attention to the fact that when they bring a cargo of corn from the Argentine, all vessels returning to the Argentine are loaded with machinery manufactured in this country. He does not call your attention to the fact that wheat comes into the United States only as ballast cargo in ships that come here for the purpose of taking away the products of our factories. He talks about sixteen or seventeen or twenty-seven million pounds of meat imported in the course of a year, when we are producing meat products in this country in terms of billions of pounds. The principle upon which the gentleman is operating is unsound economically. Such a penny-wise and pound-foolish policy is one of the steps that if carried to its logical conclusion would absolutely and eventually preclude this country from having any exports. The way we sell our machinery is to make it profitable for foreign ships to come to our ports, and I repeat, a country like the Argentine cannot send a vessel up here empty, they must have something for ballast. The small amount of corn, wheat and grain that comes into this country is consumed in the seaboard cities of the nation, and does not come in in sufficient quantities to affect the price of grain in the world market. This is a highly reprehensible resolution economically.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry to present a very reprehensible resolution to this House. Nevertheless, Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Cambria says in return for every cargo of corn that comes into this country from Argentine, we ship a corresponding amount of machinery. Well, that does not help the farming situation that I can see, because the prices are so low for our farm products that even if we do get rid of a little machinery it does not assist the farmers at all.

The tariff would be of great assistance. The other year I had a considerable amount of corn to sell. The price was rising and I thought I was going to get a good price for it. All of a sudden the price started to go down, and I inquired of the man who was buying it what had caused this drop in price. He said Argentine corn was coming in. It does not require a great quantity of imports to break the price here in the United States. Just the fact that a small amount of a certain commodity is sold under price is sufficient to affect the price here in this country. We certainly want to assist in getting a better price for our farm crops, and I think this resolution should be passed. Whether or not it will have any affect upon the government in Washington, I cannot say. They have tried so many fantastic things that perhaps if this were suggested to them they might be willing to try something that has some truth and sense to it.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Union permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REAGAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Union again the amount of importation of corn for 1937 or for any other year.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, eighty-six million bushels. I cannot give the gentleman the exact figures.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, that is close enough; that is all right.

I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Union whether he has figures on the exportation of corn from the United States to foreign countries.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not have the figure at the present time, but I understand that they are misleading because of the fact that we are subsidizing exports of both wheat and corn. I saw in the papers only the other day that we were selling a shipload of wheat to Germany at thirty cents a bushel, which costs seventy cents here in America.

Mr. SCHROPE. I am not concerned about the price, but I am concerned about the quantity.

Does the gentleman from Union have the figures on any other farm product that is exported in comparison to that which is imported?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I do not.

Mr. SCHROPE. I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Union if it is not a fact that we export many times more in amount than we import.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, we do, I believe. I cannot give you the figures but what we import was the effect of lowering the price.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to inquire of the gentleman from Union what in his opinion would be the effect if all of the nations would take the same stand as this resolution intends us to take, in other words, boycott American farm products? What would be the effect on the price of farm products in this country?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, in the past a high tariff had the tendency to improve business in this country to a remarkable degree. I would say that such would be the case again if we were to continue that tariff.

Mr. SCHROPE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am possibly as much interested in the price of farm products as is the gentleman from Union. However, personally I think that this resolution is ridiculous in view of the fact that it is admitted that this country exports many times more farm products than we import. If other nations would take the same attitude, which means a boycott, it would spell complete disaster to the American farmer. So I do not think that we should do anything different from what we expect other countries to do and I ask the members of the House to vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Union, Mr. Reagan.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Union permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REAGAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Union what he means by fantastic ideas at Washington.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, for one thing, limiting the production of wheat, corn and oats, and while I do not like to say anything against the principle that the government is now putting into effect, I have the same opinion as to reciprocal trade agreements.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has not answered my question. I simply asked him what he means by fantastic ideas.

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, I think I answered that when I spoke of the attempt upon the part of the national government to limit the production of our natural crops, a thing that has never been attempted before in this country. That should be sufficient for one.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, then do I understand that the gentleman favors the Hoover tariff?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, we were prosperous under the tariff for so many years that I think it would be worth while to try it gain.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, in what way were we prosperous?

Mr. REAGAN. Mr. Speaker, everybody had money at that time, everybody had work, there were few failures, everybody paid their bills.

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, young as I am I remmber that same Hoover talking about two chickens in every pot and two cars in every garage, but it did not happen to be.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Fayette has perhaps forgotten that he is interrogating the gentleman from Union

Mr. MATTHEW J. WELSH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say there is so much time taken up here with formality that it would be better to shorten the time by just going ahead and talking. There is too much time lost here on what we call "formalities."

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Ominsky and Mr. Harkins and were as follows:

ADDRESS BY MR. HOYT

Mr. HOYT asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, last week I offered this House a resolution charging that the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association which was organized to safeguard the health of our school athletes and keep athletics on an ethical and amateur basis, has veered to such gross commercialism itself as to no longer deserve the respect of our boys or our school authorities.

I also charged that the Secretary of the P. I. A. A. has shown gross arrogance and a disposition to punish any who oppose his high-handed decrees.

But the lowest offense I did not mention—an offense of which my home town of Berwick has recently been the victim. I mean nothing more nor less than the crime of making my town a scape goat to cover up their own questionable methods.

I here disclaim any purpose to press for this investigation, however much the condition cries for it. For the present, I simply want to focus public attention on this cancer, then leave it to the P. I. A. A. Board of Controls to apply the necessary radium.

Since the introduction of this Resolution, it has been both interesting and illuminating for me to sit back and watch the reaction. Much speculation has been rampant as to whether I realized that the course I suggested would sink sports knee-deep in politics, as to who I was that I should question the management of the P. I. A. A., as to who was behind me and as to what low motive impelled my action.

Now to all these critics, I feel that I owe this explanation: I am simply the elected Representative of the people of Columbia County; I am speaking and acting entirely in that capacity; I do not speak for the school authorities of Berwick nor are they responsible in the least for what I have done or what I am saying; I am simply voicing the protest of the people of my home town against whom a grievous wrong has been committed by the P. I. A. A. I am sory to have to say this, but I am forced to the conclusion that the school authorities of Berwick have been pinioned on the cross of public opinion, there to hang suspended till May 26th, not because they have done any wrong, but because they have been made the scape-goat to cover up the questionable actions of the P. I. A. A. management in the recent basketball play-off. To those sports writers, who have pictured Berwick as "just one more disgruntled town," let me say that we are an outraged town—not a disgruntled one, as I think I can prove by the record. But since Berwick has been pictured as typical of the disgruntled towns, let us examine her case to see how such towns get disgruntled. Here are the facts, as I have ascertained them after careful study:

The Berwick basketball team, coached by the always gentlemanly Mr. C. C. Bream, Jr., came to the end of their season in the Wyoming Valley League in a tie with Nanticoke, necessitating a play-off, which Berwick won. Then began a series of play-off games leading up to the semi-finals. In this play-off, counting the last two games in their league, the Berwick team was obliged to play 6 games within a period of 12 days. The last 4 of these games were regional play-offs scheduled by the secretary of the P. I. A. A. to be played within 7 days—from Saturday evening to Saturday evening inclusive. At the conclusion of the last of these games—the Williamsport-Berwick game, Coach Bream found his team so spent and injured that four out of the first five men, were under the care of a physician, and—a semi-final game scheduled against Lower Merion for Tuesday evening. As for playing the game with such a team, the Berwick School Authorities decided, and I think wisely so, that it constituted too great a risk to the health of the boys and they were mindful of the fact that one of the most laudable planks in the by-laws of the P. I. A. A. calls for the safeguarding of the health of the athletes involved. As for playing the game with their substitutes, Berwick well knew that that would not be a contest, but an execution with the splendid Lower Merion team in the role of the executioners. Furthermore, they felt that it would be panning off a colossal fraud on the loyal Berwick fans, who were already badly enough hit by being obliged to travel all the way to Philadelphia at a per capita cost of around four dollars each, as against one dollar for the Lower Merion fans, to witness the playing of the game in Lower Merion's back yard. The only other alternative was to ask for an extension of time for our boys to recuperate. This they decided to do, so they formally asked for a transfer of the game from Tuesday to Wednesday evening.

Right here, let me interject an explanation; Berwick believed the game was scheduled for Tuesday night. However, in a conversation with the secretary of Mr. Wicht over the phone, our principal, Mr. Shuman, understood her to say it was to be played on Wednesday; being dubious of that he asked her to repeat and again heard her the same way. As if to confirm this, two Philadelphia papers had carried the news that the game would be played Wednesday. Thereupon, Dr. R. S. Wear proceeded to administer a boil serum to one of the boys, the bad effect of which lingers for a couple days. Notwithstanding all this, the Berwick officials felt dubious and tried repeatedly all day Sunday and during Monday afternoon to contact Mr. Wicht's office, but without avail. Finally they got him and made their request. It is fair here to say that he evinced a disposition to make the change, if the Lower Merion officials would consent, and he arranged for a three way telephone conversation between himself, Coach Bream and Coach Anderson of Lower Merion; Mr. Anderson refused to accede to the change, so Mr. Wicht scheduled a substitute for Berwick in the form of Williamsport. It is not clear to us whether the arrangement to substitute Williamsport was made known to Mr. Anderson before or after he had refused Berwick's request. If he was aware that Williamsport would be substituted, you can readily see how his decision to refuse might have been strengthened by the knowledge that his team would suffer no financial loss and would be pitted against a weaker team, making it easier to reach the finals.

In all this, we want it to be known that the people of Berwick have no word of censure for the citizens, or the School officials, of either Lower Merion or Williamsport, Furthermore, they have filed no formal complaint against the P.I.A.A. nor any of it's actions, although almost to a man, they felt that Mr. Wicht showed a mercenary spirit in substituting Williamsport, instead of forfeiting the game to Lower Merion.

But right here is where Berwick's patience was shattered and where I came into the picture; Along with the announcement of the substitution in the papers of Tuesday March 21st, came the hint that Berwick was liable to expulsion for a time for her part in the matter; I don't mind telling you that that incensed me and I immediately called Mr. Wicht from the House phone booth. He denied having given out any interview that could have been so construed by the newsmen and he promised to send to me one of them, who would confirm his word. He has not yet put in an appearance. My last words to him were to the effect that when I got home, I would investigate Berwick's side of the case and that I would report back to him. The conversation lead me to believe that he planned to relieve my town from the unfavorable light, in which she had been placed. I did come home and investigated the facts in the case; Finding them as I have just outlined, and seeing in all this no valid grounds at all for punishing Berwick, I wrote Mr. Wicht and requested that he take immediate steps to clear up our good name in the sports world.

Instead of receiving any such assurance, I was astounded to pick up the Bloomsburg Morning Press on the Monday following the playing of the Lower Merion-Williamsport game, which was on Sat., and these headlines met my eyes: "Berwick High Called to Explain Game Forfeiture." The article said, "The board of controls made public a Resolution adopted at a meeting here yesterday commending Wicht for making the substitution and summoning the Berwick Principal to a meeting at State College May 26th for the purpose of explaining his action." Now, what do you think of that Mr. Speaker? Here was evidence that in the midst of this game, Mr. Wicht had gotten his Board of Controls, or at least part of them, together with just one piece of business to transact. And that piece of business was not one of merely approving the action of their Secretary in substituting Williamsport; It went to the extreme of "commending" it. Mr. Wicht had kept the money rolling in and that, in the eyes of his Board of Control, was sufficient to gain their commendation; And then, as if to forestall any comeback, they decided to apply an additional coat of tar to Berwick. Examine these facts a little more carefully, if you will; Here in solemn conclave assembled, with no one accusing them, or no representative of the opposition present, this Board had gone to the ludicrous extreme of commending their Secretary; and as for Berwick, without even according them the benefit of counsel, they had seen fit to crucify her Principal on the cross of public opinion for two months with the dagger of suspension poised over his head. And at the end of that time, he was to submit to trial before this same biased tribunal that already found his oppressor lily white. This tragical farce I don't mind telling you, we object to. We somehow can't escape the suspicion that the cards are stacked against us.

Personally, I am doubtful whether the Board of Controls have been apprised of all the facts in the case or that they have here-to-fore realized the significance of their action. I note that they are all, or nearly all school men and I know that practically all school men are eminently fair. I wonder whether they realize the injustice of their action as it applies to the Berwick school system. It is to call attention to this travesty on justice, and to suggest if I may, some way to correct the abuses that have cropped up, within the P.I.A.A., that I speak. I am hopeful that it need not be torn down; I feel it is fully capable of doing the work for which it was formed, true to the spirit of service and in a commendably ethical way. If there is a solitary thing that Berwick is punishable for, it is the forfeiting of a game. This they did only after their request for an additional day of rest for their boys had been denied; Their only other alternative was to play disabled boys or fake their fans to a game to see their substitutes murdered. If that be criminal, I suppose someone in Berwick should hang after the formality of leaving the whole community under a cloud till May 26th, has run it's course.

But instead of leaving judgment rest there, let us examine the Penna. Interscholastic Athletic Association's side of the case. I think I can best illustrate the change that has come over the Association by contrasting the way matters were handled in 1935, when Berwick entered the semi-final against Allentown, with the way they were handled this spring when they were qualified to meet Lower Merion.

In 1935, the Berwick-Allentown game was played on the Pottsville floor, which was neutral and was midway between the two cities; And, although there were no disputes or difficulties involved, Mr. Wicht was right on the job and came to Berwick to make all arrangements.

This spring, the Lower Merion-Berwick game was scheduled to be played on the Penn Palestra floor in Lower Merion's back yard, where her team had played three previous games and Berwick had played none. And, although four of Berwick's first string men were under the care of a physician, Mr. Wicht never came near the town. It was the Berwick officials, not the P.I.A.A. Secretary, who took all the initiative to adjust matters.

We might mention here, the unfairness of scheduling Homestead on the same Palestra floor, where Lower Merion had then played four games, and compelling Homestead fans to bear all the cost of travel. Why should that game not have been played at State College or at Hershey?

If Berwick is to be censured for not playing boys, who were not in condition, what is to be said for the official or officials who will schedule boys to play four hard contests within seven days? I have noted that a news release eminating from somewhere, attempts to justify this hurried schedule, and the selection of the play-off locations on the specious argument that both are set nearly a year in advance and that Berwick had her chance to object to one or both of them. Let us examine this, as a feasible and workable plan for doing things. If it is true, it must mean that a location selected, when not objected to a year in advance, must remain so even though it turns out to be the home floor of one of the contestants; and it assumes that some 850 schools are all going to be so cocky that they will figure themselves in the play-off to the extent that they will file objections to the plans a year in advance. Such calculations are absolutely absurd and the plan itself is absurd, if that is the way it is worked.

It would appear that the three destructive termites—laziness, indifference and commercialism, have pretty well ruined the P.I.A.A. and that their board of controls, becoming panic stricken, fell into the grievous mistake of smearing an innocent town in order to create a scape goat and went to the ridiculous extreme of commending their Secretary, when the less ostentatious course of merely approving it, would have aroused far less suspicion.

From a casual observation of the matter, it would appear that the main trouble with this organization is that it has veered too far to the extreme of commercialism. The system just naturally leads that way and it is possible that the greater number of us humans would be induced to follow the path that leads to the rich pay dirt, if we were in Mr. Wicht's shoes. But I warn the P.I.A.A. that the rich vein, on which their eyes are riveted, will eventually be worked out, if they aren't wise enough to continue to prospect in the field of public confidence and good-will.

The cure would seem to be to remove the temptation to commercialize—from the Secretary and from his organization. Why could this not be done by assessing an additional charge of, say five or ten dollars against each school that is served, to carry the administrative costs of the set-up? Then the eliminations could be played off with an eye to sports and clean service, and any profit made could be charged back on a pro rata basis against this additional charge. It looks to me as though this might constitute a starting point, at least, in an attempt to save the organization against self destruction.

In conclusion, I want to repeat that I do not propose to press my Resolution at this time simply because I believe that the P.I.A.A. setup appears to be the best one in sight to do the job. I have focused attention on the faults in that organization and am giving them an opportunity to clean house. If they don't do so, I shall press such a resolution in two years from now, if my people see fit to send me back to this House.

And now, since Mr. Wicht has made known his perfect willingness to cooperate in any investigation, and since some may take that to mean that his skirts are clean, I invite him to take the public into his confidence to this extent:

That he tell us:

I. With what offense against the P.I.A.A the town of Berwick charged?

11. Is the fault all Berwick's or does the Secretary of the P.I.A.A. feel partly at fault?

III. What extenuating circumstances, if any, has Berwick to off-set this offense?

IV. Why was Berwick held in suspense till May 26th? Why was her case not passed on at the meeting in Philadelphia, which brought out a verdict of "Commendation" for the secretary's part in the affair?

V. Why did your Board call a special meeting for the sole purpose of approving your action in substituting Williamsport?

VI. Why was your Board not satisfied with merely approving your action? Why did they go to the extreme of commending it?

VII. What good excuse do you have Mr. Wicht, for scheduling Berwick to play in the semi-finals on a floor where Lower Merion had previously played three games, and Homestead to play in the final game on a floor where Lower Merion had played four previous games?

VIII. Do you consider it was fair to run Homestead all the way to Philadelphia? Why was that game not scheduled for State College or Hershey?

IX. Since you scheduled Berwick's team to play four elimination games within a space of but one hour over seven days, do you not feel some responsibility for their physical breakdown?

X. Why did you not go to Berwick to help iron out their difficulties, as you did do in 1935, when there were no serious difficulties to adjust?

XI. Are you willing, and will you make public a financial statement to show that necessity drove you to the money grabbing exhibition we have just witnessed?

XII. Why did you depart from your former policy of scheduling elimination games on neutral floors midway between the competing towns?

XIII. In view of the fact that your Board of Control has already found your side of the case worthy of commendation, do you consider that they are now justified or qualified to sit in judgment on Principal David Shuman of Berwick on next May 26th?

SENATE

TUESDAY, APRIL 11, 1939

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

O God, this is Thy world. In it Thou hast placed Thine own handiwork. It is for our own using yet how often we sadly mar and misuse it even to the point of not recognizing our Creator.

Thy silver and gold we prostitute so often to our own selfish ends and manipulate the products of the soil for our own aggrandizement, yet is Thy purpose that we share these things with our fellow-man.

Thou art pleased to cause the earth to yield her increase so that every living thing may be satisfied. The evidences of an awakening nature from its long sleep of the winter months reminds us again of the immortality of the soul. How thankful we are for all these blessings wisely provided from Thy bounty.

And, Dear Father, may we see Thy strengthening hand in all things. For Thy glory through the Master's name we pray. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have listened very attentively and I did not hear the Committee on State Government make any reports. They have held Senate Resolution, Serial Number 25 for over two months now without any action on it. That resolution was a resolution that asked the Governor of this Commonwealth to have Mr. Hamilton take his oath of office and assume the duties of Secretary of Revenue or else this Senate would resolve to reconsider the confirmation, since that Committee will not act and has not acted up to this time.

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE OF STATE GOVERNMENT FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move you that the Committee on State Government of this Senate be now discharged from further consideration of Senate Resolution Serial Number 25, and that the same be returned to this Senate for immediate consideration.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Clerk will read the resolution as follows:

In the Senate, March 29, 1939.

Whereas, On the 6th day of February, 1939, this Senate confirmed the appointment of one certain William J. Hamilton, Jr., to the office of Secretary of the Department of Revenue of this Commonwealth, and

Whereas, The Senate Journal definitely indicates that said confirmation was given by this Senate as a mark of courtesy to his Excellency the Governor and also on the theory that failure to give the same would interfere with the orderly administration of the Department of Revenue to the great embarrassment of His Excellency the Governor, and

Whereas, One month and upwards has elapsed since the confirmation and the said Hamilton has failed to assume the oath and duties of said office, and

Whereas, The failure of said Hamilton to assume the oath and duties of said office within a reasonable time is a mark of discourtesy both to his Excellency the Governor and to this Senate, and

Whereas, Senate Bill No. 192 introduced by the gentleman from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, and the economy policy of his Excellency the Governor, and the administration of said Department without the said Hamilton all indicate that the office of Secretary of the Department of Revenue is surplusage and unnecessary, and

Whereas, The said Hamilton has shown no disposition to assume the oath and duties of said office

Now be it Resolved, That his Excellency the Governor be immediately advised that if it pleases his Excellency it is the resolve of this Senate to recall said confirmation unless the said Hamilton assumes the oath and duties of said office on or before the first day of April, 1939.

The PRESIDENT. The motion is that the Senate Committee on State Government be now discharged from consideration of above resolution.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the resolution just presented be laid upon the table.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The roll call was required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. SHAPIRO.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege, for a few moments.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, after the discussion on the floor of this Senate last week relative to the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium, the newspapers reported that the Governor told a press conference that the Sanatorium would be opened, if it is needed.

Mr. President, the Governor of Pennsylvania well knows that this Sanatorium is needed. He well knows that if it were opened immediately upon its completion it would be needed; that if we had half a dozen more they would still be needed. So, the Governor chooses to give dodging and evasive answers, to make dodging and evasive statements. He relies on the figures of Arthur Sweeney, Secretary of Welfare, and on the figures of Dr. John J. Shaw, Secretary of Public Health.

Well, Arthur Sweeney is blindly partisan. He runs a little political newspaper back in Westmoreland County. What does Arthur Sweeney know about the tuberculosis situation in Pennsylvania? What study has he made of it? Even if Pennsylvania, Mr. President, needed fifty sanatoria like the Butler Sanatorium, and Arthur Sweeney knew it, he would not admit it if he thought that the Governor did not want him to admit it.

Dr. Shaw, who runs the State Department of Health, well knows—if he is an alert medical man—that this institution is badly needed and will continue to be badly needed even after the so-called additions are made to the present tubercular sanatoria in Pennsylvania.

He well knows that; but he does not have the courage to state it. I say to Dr. Shaw that the people of Pennsylvania, especially the people of Western Pennsylvania, know that he knows that the institution is needed and will be needed after all additions are made to the present sanatoria.

Well does he know; and the people of the State know that he knows it; and that he, too, does not have the courage to say it.

I say to Dr. Shaw that the people of Pennsylvania want the State Department of Health to remain the Department of Health and not become a Department of Death.

I repeat, the Governor knows that institution is needed. Therefore, I call upon him to cease hiding behind the figures of a political doctor and a political editor. I call upon him to be specific and courageously and manfully say that he will open this institution as soon as it is completed.

Last week the editor of the Oil City Derrick published an editorial, which reaches almost an all-time low on this sanatorium, in which the statement was made that I would likely keep on chewing the "sanatorium rag," and Brother Owlett, with a great deal of gusto and zeal, read this editorial for your edification.

I say to the editor of the Oil City Derrick and Senator Owlett, who read the editorial with so much zeal, that I would rather keep chewing the "sanatorium rag" for the rest of my natural life than to march for ten minutes in the ranks of the battalion of death, under the banner of the white plague.

I say to them, Mr. President, that Pennsylvania is taking much better care of convicts in our penitentiaries than she is of the tubercular sufferers in the old, dilapidated, wooden shacks at Mont Alto and elsewhere. I say she has provided convicts in her penitentaries with modern conveniences, while the tuberculosis sufferers in the State, the needy tuberculosis sufferers, keep pleading in vain for months to get into a tuberculosis sanatorium.

I say, behold the shame of the situation.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, coming from that section of Pennsylvania that lies west of the Alleghenies, commonly known as the Tomahawk Territory, I also am deeply interested in this sanatorium at Butler.

I read with a great deal of interest the figures given in this case by the Senator from Somerset, Senator Ealy, as coming from the head of the Department of Health, Dr. Shaw.

When I returned to Pittsburgh, I took the liberty of calling upon Dr. Marcy, who has been cited by the gentleman from Armstrong, Senator Sipe, as an authority on tuberculosis.

Quoting Dr. Marcy's theory, Dr. Shaw figures that the number of beds which should be available should be predicated upon the number of those who are on the waiting list and that number, as I recall the figures on it, was something like 611.

Dr. Marcy predicates his conclusion of the number of beds needed by taking the number of deaths from tuberculosis and multiplying that figures by two, and that figure, according to Dr. Marcy, is the figure of the number of beds that should be available.

Dr. Marcy told me Dr. Shaw's conclusions were entirely correct if they were predicated upon that type of figuring. Dr. Marcy told me that if they used the measuring rod used by Dr. Shaw those figures were correct.

Dr. Marcy told me that many people figured it that way. He further told me that the United States Department of Health used this method of figuring, by multiplying the number of deaths by two, in order to determine the number of beds needed; and he said, if Dr. Shaw's figures were correct, there would be enough available beds, as suggested by the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

I have listened with a great deal of interest to the statements made by the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, as defining the tuberculosis situation in Western Pennsylvania; and I agree with him entirely that tuberculosis people or sufferers should be taken care of.

I think that the Senator from Armstrong should realize that the Governor of Pennsylvania is just as deeply interested in those unfortunate people as any man in this Senate; and those people who have come in contact with him cannot deny he lacks courage, and has the courage of his convictions. He is entitled to respect for the courage of his convictions, just as is the Senator from Armstrong.

I have heard the Governor referred to as the number one shovel-leaner of Pennsylvania. I recall during the campaign that there were quite a number of other employees in this Commonwealth campaigning at that time; and I do not recall any of those gentlemen resigning their offices while they were conducting their campaign.

I sympathize with the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Sipe, in his desire to see the sufferers taken care of; but I say to you, Mr. President, that Governor James as Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, never said and never will say that he will turn his back on those sufferers. If this hospital is needed, and it is completed, he will open and operate it; but, according to the figures given by a reliable physician at the head of the Department of Health, we do not need this hospital and it would be a waste of money to operate it. This is an economy administration.

Mr. President, just in conclusion I wish to take the liberty of reading a quotation from Albert Hubbard's Scrap Book, which I think would be of value to the members of this Senate, in relation to the number of speeches which we have heard in this Senate. The quotation from Albert Hubbard's is as follows:

"Nothing is easier than fault finding; no talent, no self-denial, no brain, no character are required to set up in the grumbling business."

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President I would like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, certainly.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I would like to know how the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Walker, would feel if he had someboy seriously ill in his home and called a physician and the physician said that he would be around to see him in about two years from now.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I can very easily answer that by saying I would feel the doctor was either very busy and needed additional assistants or he was derelict in his responsibilities to the people.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I say in this situation that I feel that the Governor of Pennsylvania is placed in the position of the physician, that these patients are calling upon him for help; and if the Senator from Allegheny makes the interpretation in one case, I cannot see, by any sense of logical reasoning, why it should not apply in this particular case.

Might I say to you this, that this quotation truly is, and probably means that it does not take very much brains to criticize; that is, destructive criticism. I take it the Senator referred to destructive criticism; but certainly our elective prerogatives, [the prerogatives] handed us by election, at the mandate of our people, who sent us here to the Senate, is that we shall stand upon the floor of this Senate and voice our opinion, our honest opinion, on things which we do not believe are based on sound and sane reasoning. When the Senate loses those prerogatives, then I say to you, Mr. President, it would be far better for us to remain home and allow some of those who have not the courage and mental stability to stand on the floor and voice their opinions, to run the affairs of the state.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne if he had somebody in his house sick, and he had asked the doctor to come, and the doctor said he would come around in two years, and he had then gone out and gotten another doctor, what would he do with the doctor who came around two years after?

Mr. MUNDY. Why, Mr. President, I would probably do as I am doing on the floor now. I would, at least, voice the powers of an individual American citizen and offer him, at least, a mild protest against his action.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would further like to interrogate the Senator from Luzerne.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. I will. Mr. President.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would further like to ask the Senator just how the Sanatorium in Butler county can help the situation at the present time, for the present sufferers, if it is not yet finished; and if, before it is finished, there will be ample resources in the other institutions, whether or not in his judgment then it will be necessary to have it—whether or not it will be needed?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I shall answer the Senator from Susquehanna by saying I have taken a stand and I believe on good, sound reasoning.

I have practiced medicine for some thirty years, and know upon what basis these statistical facts are drawn, that the inference, as I stated in previous speeches, is that any man at the head of any department who wants statistics produced can certainly go to an assistant who will produce those figures.

When the Senator from Allegheny speaks about the waiting list for sanatoria I do not believe—and I want to be fair about this thing—I do not believe he really understands the problem as it presents itself.

The listing of tubercular cases is simply the listing of the desire upon the part of the patient for treatment; but that does not comprehend or take into consideraion the tremendous number of individuals who are tuberculous and who, if they had the proper advantages offered to them for treatment in sanatoria, would be on that list.

You have heard Senators on the floor here—and I believe there are many members on the Republican side, who have said they have taken an unselfish stand and no longer will they ask the State of Pennsylvania to place any individual's name on the sanatoria waiting list, because those Senators believe and know from past experience that they would not presume to take one individual and put him on the list and take advantage of some other sufferer who was waiting. There are thousands and thousands applying to all of you men in Pennsylvania for sanatoria treatment. The Senators of Pennsylvania and the members of the House of Representatives, knowing the situation as it is, have long since ceased to interest themselves in trying to get patients into those institutions which do not exist; and I want to say this too, Senator, that I have visited the institutions in the past, have gone all through them, and have had probably a better advantage to visit them than some of the other Senators; and I am sorry to say that under existing conditions, in the past, if I were treating a poor person with the lack of facilities for treatment I would rather treat the patient in the home surroundings and environment where they could at least be given air space and proper treatment. But with additional space and additional care these patients can be given in a sanatorium a standard of proper treatment for the disease from which they suffer.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Mundy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Luzerne permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, we have been assured that these institutions are being increased in their capacity. I would like to ask the Senator from Luzerne whether or not he knows for a fact that is not true and whether or not he has endeavored to find out?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I have taken the trouble and I have endeavored to find out and have found out that in some cases they are using crisis extension tents to provide those additional facilities.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Luzerne whether he knows they are building permanent quarters?

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I know, and from the fact that several of the institutions—I went up and saw at Mont Alto that they did dedicate that new part; and they are putting on at Hamburg an additional part. But what the Senator wants to know is that at several of those institutions new parts are built and devoted entirely to the new development of the surgical end of tuberculosis.

For instance, they are developing out the lung inflation and lung deflation system and the resertion of ribs and things of that type; and they are, further, putting in up to date surgical units, which are very badly needed; and a great deal of this additional space will be devoted not to the medical end but to the surgical end of the treatment of tuberculosis, which is a fact which I think is very, very fine.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to suggest that the Senator from Armstrong and the Senator from Luzerne consult with the Departments of Health and Welfare; and, if they have information that the Secretaries of those departments do not know, that they give them that information so that we can get from those department heads an intelligent answer to what the solution is. It will be far more effective for the afflicted of Pennsylvania to do that than it will be to simply try the case in the newspapers and on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, may I answer that my experience is this: when a subject is opened frankly to discussion that that subject should be presented at its incipiency and its beginning. But to discuss it now as a Senator—and I would be happy to discuss it with anybody—but to discuss it now with somebody who has already definitely, in writing, told us that their minds are absolutely closed on this subject, and they have given to us, the members of the Senate, and in writing, what they feel about it, I cannot understand why in the beginning, Mr. President, some of us, who may know a little something about the subject, were not called upon then to give some ideas on the subject before the matter was a closed issue and presented to the Senate on the floor.

The only place we have to discuss these things, after they come to the Senate as a fixed principle, is on the floor of the Senate; and if the Senator from Susquehanna thinks I am making an appeal to the newspapers, I want to say he is badly informed or that he has his ideas a little befogged. I am making no appeal to the newspapers or any periodical. I am up here making appeals for those individuals in Pennsylvania who are suffering from tuberculosis. I am making an appeal to try to cut the death rate from tuberculosis in the State of Pennsylvania; and I think, too, Mr. President, that all of us, including the Governor of Pennsylvania, should be just as vitally interested in this subject as I am.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I am not in the least deterred by the remarks of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Walker. I will not follow his lead in lining up under the banner of the White Plague. If he wants to do that, that is his business.

I know that the people of my district overwhelmingly, I know that the people of Western Pennsylvania overwhelmingly want the institution opened as soon as it is built, so that there may be another manned fortress—not an unmanned fortress—in Pennsylvania's line of defense against the onward march of the White Plague.

So I intend to keep on pleading for the opening of the sanatorium until this session ends; and I already have scores of engagements to address groups in Western Pennsylvania, after the session ends, if my pleas here are of no avail. I say that you do not need to be a medical doctor in order to know that the facilities for taking care of tuberculosis patients in Pennsylvania—that is the needy ones, who have no money to pay for treatment—that the facilities are woefully inadequate.

I spent an hour on Saturday with a decent American citizen of Armstrong County, whom two doctors pronounced to be afflicted with tuberculosis some months ago. He has been pleading ever since to get into a tuberculosis sanatorium and cannot—the reply coming back that they cannot take care of him and cannot even tell him when the day will arrive when they can take care of him. So the chances are that that decent American citizen will have to go down to the darkness of the grave rather than into a sanatorium which would cure him and which would keep him from spreading the deadly germ to others.

I have seen the shacks at Mont Alto; I have seen the thirty-two year old shacks in which they house tuberculosis patients; shacks that have no toilets; and if that were a penal institution I feel that a number of Senators on this floor would be out on the floor saying "For God's sake, let us not be so raw with our convicts."

I say to the gentlemen on the other side, that there are a lot of you that do not have the courage of your convictions; that there are a lot of you that are simply rubber stamps for the Governor of Pennsylvania, afraid to express your honest convictions on this question.

I say that at least one of you, a medical doctor, came to me more than two weeks ago and said to me that you were one hundred per cent for me in my pleas for the opening of the sanatorium; yet such a rubber stamp is he for the Governor of Pennsylvania that he is afraid to come out on the floor of this Senate and say that he favors the opening of this institution as soon as it is completed, and I am informed that, notwithstanding this statement, the statement that he made to me as a medical doctor, that he is in hearty sympathy with the opening of the institution, that he is one hundred per cent for me in the pleas I have made and the others have made—notwithstanding that fact, I say I am informed he is the Senator who brought down to this Senate that editorial of the "Oil City Derrick" which reached a new low in its raw expressions as to my interest in this institution. So I say, "Cease to be rubber stamps; come out and express your honest convictions. The Governor of Pennsylvania is not a demagogue—or should not be one—before whom you bow and scrape; you are still free men; why don't you come out and express your honest opinions? You used to ride us Democrats for being rubber stamps—I say you are all rubber stamps!"

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as one of the "rubber stamps" I wish to point out that there are certain assets in being rubber stamps, and one is that the operation is soon over. That compares favorably with the Democratic process of iteration and reiteration.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I know that all political parties make mistakes; and I want to announce here on this floor that the worst mistake that this Administration has made is its attitude toward the Butler Sanatorium, toward Polk and toward the mental hospitals of Pennsylvania.

That is in such contrast with the past Administration, and with our National Administration. Criticise us as you will; criticise the Democratic party—nationally or in State government or locally—there is one thing that we have done: we have been concerned about every unfortunate soul. You know a party that will neglect or not to do its duty to the unfortunate, to the weak-minded, to the consumptives—yes, let us say the unlucky, the feeble-minded children—as I get the story this Administration is laying down on the opening of Polk. They did lie down on Butler but I am glad to know that they are changing their minds. By the way, that is one of the things about this Administration, or at least about our Governor—that he can change his mind.

He changed his mind on the Earle Tax Program, on Flood Control, on the Turnpike commission, and, apparently, on Civil Service; and so, if he is changing his mind on the Butler Hospital I am sure he will change his mind and take over the mental hospitals of Pennsylvania and in finishing the work at Polk.

If our Administration, with all its worries, with all its troubles, taking hold of a State and Nation when she was down in the dumps, when values had disappeared and hope gone—if with all those troubles we built the Butler Hospital, we enlarged Polk, we took over Byberry, we provided for the taking over of all the mental hospitals of Pennsylvania—there were forty States in this Union who have done that—and after we have done this, after we have built those buildings, then to have an Administration come in and say that they cannot run them, that they cannot take care of these unfortunates, of these unlucky souls, I think that is the worst blunder, the most frightful blunder that any party ever made, and it will come back, unless corrected, to plague and haunt you.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, up to the present time I have refrained from speaking on this most important subject. However, this afternoon, I wish briefly to give my colleagues some important information pertaining to sanatoria. I don't know whether my colleagues to the right or even my colleagues here know that at the present time we are having some trouble with the Cresson Sanatorium, which is located in the County of Cambria, where I come from. Several months ago it had been proposed that possibly you might make a new addition to the Cresson Sanatorium. After going through the procedure we found out that the coal has been so undermined now under the Cresson Sanatorium that the place has been condemned for any further structures; and I would not be surprised, Mr. President, to find any day that that Sanatorium has been closed.

I do not know whether our Governor has knowledge of this information or not. I should be very glad to give it to him; I should be very glad to give it to my colleagues on the right—to give them the benefit of my experience. I have made a survey and certainly I think you should know this.

Unless steps are taken immediately to stop further mining of coal the present sanatorium at Cresson must close.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am amused—if it were not for the fact that the situation is so tragic I would say I am amused at the statistical figures that are used in the face of the experience that we have had in Philadelphia, where every private, semi-private, sanatorium is overcrowded and has a waiting list. In Philadelphia we cannot get any patients into Eaglesville without at least ten or twelve weeks' wait. They have ward beds. Some patients are sent to Brownville, and they have a waiting list, and some go out to Denver because we have a waiting list here; yet I hear we have plenty of room.

I should like to cite a concrete instance which indicates that the necessity is here. I go into a certain store in Philadelphia occasionally, and I went in last week, and somebody said, "Did you hear what happened to George?" I said, "No." Well, George, five years ago, had a hemorrhage from the lungs; he tried to get into institutions known as tuberculosis hospitals but he has been living at home for five years because he could not afford to pay and he could not get in. Last week George had another hemorrhage and he wrote a note in which he testified that since there was nothing he could do about it, nothing he could do, he did not see why he should suffer for five years more, and he committed suicide.

It seems to me that those figures do not mean anything, as the Senator from Luzerne says. You can get a lot of figures. I have often heard it said that figures do not lie but liars will figure. I have heard quotations today; and I know you can give quotations on almost anything. I know that in the same Dr. Hubbard's books—I have, I think, every one of the books Dr. Hubbard wrote—in every one of them he refers to some quotation, and I remember of seeing one which reads "He who hestitates is lost"; and then, when you turn the page, you find another quotation which says "Look before you leap."

Now, I can give a quotation: I think it is said, "The Devil quotes scripture to suit his own purposes."

I think it is time we stopped talking about these fanciful figures and get down to facts.

I recall a conversation I had with a gentleman on the other side last week, when he told me he proposed to introduce a resolution, right before I made the suggestion that such a resolution should be introduced, and I have been waiting patiently for that resolution which that gentleman was going to introduce, which I think would stop some of this talk; and that is on the appointment of a committee to obtain, for the benefit of this Senate, information and statistics. Let us find out. That is the only thing to do.

It certainly is not fair for the Administration to send us a report on the twenty-fifth or twenty-sixth of January, or the first of February, I don't recall which, in which we are told without any question, or consideration for us, first, that Butler is going to be closed; and, secondly, that the Act of 1938, which provided for the taking over by the State of the insane, was to be repealed; and, in doing the one—the former—he said the State will probably save three or four hundred thousand dollars (and lost many lives), and in doing the latter the State will receive six million dollars; but what will it do to the rest of the citizens of the State, to those potentially insane, and to those communities which have passed their budget on the fact that we passed a law in which we told them that after May 31—not later than May 31—we would take over those institutions?

I am sure that many of the communities have already arranged their budgets to meet that situation, and I think it is not fair, and I certainly do not think it is business-like, to first decide a problem and then ask the Senators to put it through without consideration of the facts.

I suggest to a gentleman on the other side—who knows very well to whom I am referring—that he carry out his good intentions. I am sure the resolution coming from the other side will not be considered as political, and I am sure it will not be considered for the purpose of plaguing the Governor of adding to his already overburdened problems.

I am sure if the gentleman introduces that resolution a lot of speeches you do not like to listen to will be stopped.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I hold in my hand a resolution which is entirely non-partisan, and which I would like to have the privilege of offering; and I ask for its immediate consideration. Also, I would like to say to the Senator from Armstrong that I am not aiming at him—I really admire him for his persistence in a good cause, because he reminds me of the "noblest Roman of them all," Cato, who said the same thing so often that Carthage fell; so I hope that you will believe me when I say I admire him in this matter and therefore I am sure he will not object to this resolution.

RESOLUTION LIMITING USE OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD offered the following resolution which was twice read,

In the Senate, April 11, 1939.

Whereas, Consideration of the calendar is of first importance,

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Senate that members desiring to use the Question of Personal Privilege, shall defer such request until consideration of 3rd reading bills on the calendar has been completed.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would be delighted.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Will the Senator from Philadelphia point to what third reading bills on the calendar are of importance today?

Mr. WOODWARD. Oh, yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I suggest that the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, refer to them by number. I have looked them over and I have not found any that means anything to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, may I say that I discussed this with one of the Democratic Senators and he said he would vote for this resolution if I put in third reading bills.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I agree with the gentleman that it might be well to have such a resolution, but I do not think that the time has arrived. In other words, I am getting bored here, and if it were not for Butler and mental patients I would not know what to do. When the time arrives when we have some important legislation I think it would be a good thing to eliminate questions of personal privilege, but most of us will go crazy if we do not have anything to do, and then we will not have any sanatorium to go to. I think this is silly at this time—there is not a single bill on the calendar that could not be passed up for fourteen days and nobody would suffer.

There is not a piece of constructive legislation on the calendar—I have looked the bills over. One of them is to change the Registration Commission in Philadelphia from five members to three; another gives the Orphans Court the right to issue some kind of subpoena during interims, and the third gives the Common Pleas Judges the right to issue subpoenas in divorce. I am not interested in divorce; I expect to live with my wife for a long time. The only divorces I am interested in is in getting divorces for clients who come to my office, and if it is more difficult for them to get a divorce I will get a higher fee.

Why all the excitement about the calendar? I have looked it over and I do not see a single bill on it that is important; I see a ripper bill that provides that now, instead of as the constitution—which the gentlemen on the other side have been complaining so much about—that we have been interfering with—the constitution provides for appointments with the consent of two-thirds of the Senate and that is being changed to a majority of the Senate. Another bill provides that the Public Utility Commissioners cannot be engaged in politics; so they will have to stop sending over these appointments—because that is politics—and yet they cannot get anybody appointed in the Public Utility Commission without getting the approval of the Personnel Department. You certainly do not want to pass those bills in a hurry. What is important about the calendar?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the only difference between this session and the 1935 session is that during this session we have had continuous committee meetings and the members of this Senate—at least I know I can speak for the members on this side of the Senate—have seriously worked on the major problems before this State. Committee meetings have been held almost constantly since this Senate convened.

Two years ago when we were here we had but very few committee meetings and only such bills were passed as David Lawrence put his O. K. on. Bills were all drawn, and it is a matter of common knowledge in the departments, that the Senators and Representatives never had an opportunity to exercise the functions of their office and pass on the bills.

We went to committee meetings and we were told this was "must" legislation, "the C. I. O. has prepared this and this has got to go through." David Lawrence went up and down the floor of this Senate giving his cohorts instructions as to what to do.

I, for one, am getting tired of hearing this talk about inconsequential legislation on this calendar. We have got mighty problems before this State, problems involving taxes, problems involving the welfare of our people, and we are all conscientiously and seriously working on those problems.

We came into this session and found that we had a deficit of $45,000,000 facing us, left by the last Administration. We now just learned that they passed another unconstitutional bill that has taken away some $21,000,000 of funds that were collected by the last Administration, and we have got to find the money to pay that back if that decision is sustained by the Courts. They passed, under that method, two years ago in this Senate and House, two great big volumes of legislation and now almost half of this has been declared unconstitutional.

Now, I say to you, Mr. President, that if this Legislature is to function as a Legislative body should, and as it is now really pursuing exact, proper, legal procedure, we must study legislation so that we do not also pass a lot of unconstitutional bills.

We are trying to assure, when our tax legislation goes through, that it will stand up in the courts, and I resent, and resent seriously and strenuously, the charge that this session has not done anything. I say, Mr. President, it has—and when the question is raised by the Senator from Philadelphia, it is a facetious interrogation when he asks the Senator from Philadelphia where the important legislation today is.

We have had committee meetings here all this morning and we have had them every day we have been here, and we have been here, for the first time in my memory—and this is the seventh year I have served in this Senate of Pennsylvania—for the first time in my memory we have worked on Thursdays the first three months of the session—and I resent that statement and I think it comes with very poor grace from the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, who knows, as I do, that what I am saying is true.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, these last remarks from the Senator from Tioga convince me the Republicans must have been negligent too, because if this is the first time since he has been here that we have held meetings on Thursdays—I was here in 1933 when the Republicans controlled the Legislature—why maybe this is an improvement. I am not going to answer the speech about the deficit of $50,000,000—that is not incurred yet, we have not spent the $50,000,000. A deficit is something that is left, when bills have been contracted for, but this has not been contracted.

I remember David Lawrence running around on the floor and talking to us about legislation, but I see very little difference between that and Grundy and Pew meeting with important Republicans in the Penn-Harris Hotel and telling them what to do. I saw that happen many times. I also was a member of the Republican caucus and I also say we did not pass any legislation except what certain people wanted, and whenever I spoke up I was told the organization wanted it. I wanted to know who Mr. Organization was, I did not know Mr. Organization, but Mr. Organization did not show up—I did not see Mr. Organization, whoever he was—so what is the use of fooling ourselves?

I am not talking about politics in the picture—I am admitting politics are played in the Republican departments and in the Democratic departments—but I still say that I attended those meetings that the gentleman from Tioga speaks of, I have attended most of the meetings of J. G., and there has not been a single bill come out of J. G. that is of any importance—that is not the fault of the chairman—there is nothing on the calendar in J. G. to come out.

I have been in the Municipal Government Committee today and we have had some very important legislation, but that has been postponed for two weeks. In a few more weeks we will not have to pass that bill because it will be too late.

I am not at all disturbed about the gentleman's charge that I am not serious or that he resents what I said. There are a lot of things he said that I resent, but I do not say anything about it when I get up on the floor—my conscience is clear—but when he gets up on the floor he says he resents it. The difference between the Senator from Tioga and myself is that he knows it is true and resents it publicly and tries to hide it from his own conscience.

I know some of the things are true and I admit them and I am not afraid to admit them but I am not interested in the hard work that is going on, because maybe it is not hard work; maybe they are just going around in circles, and I am not interested in his statement we passed unconstitutional law—a law which has just been declared unconsitutional—when the Governor and the Attorney General rush to the Supreme Court to try to get them to declare that law constitutional. That is a strange thing, and if that is not hypocrisy I do not know what is.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, in order to get back to the only matter that is now before the Senate, I desire to make a non-partisan objection to immediate consideration of the non-partisan resolution offered by Mr. Woodward, and in view of the fact that the subject matter of that resolution is within the particular province of the Rules Commitee, I shall move that it be referred to that commitee.

MOTION TO REFER TO COMMITTEE ON RULES

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I move that the resolution offered by the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, be referred to the Commitee on Rules.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I differ with the Senator from Tioga in what he calls the difference between the 1935 session and this session. The only difference that I can see between the 1935 session and this session is that in 1935 I was in the House and in the minority. In 1939 I am here in the Senate and you are in the majority.

The only difference is this: you now have to listen to the same speeches that we had to listen to in 1935. I also want to call attention to the fact that when you castigize the Democratic party for having decided things in committee meetings that he wants to look into his own committee meetings.

I attended a committee meeting this morning on Mines and Mining and the man most influential in that meeting, and the man who did the most to outline legislation in that committee was the Secretary of Mines and Mining. There is no difference between your secretary and ours—you are passing the legislation the department heads want.

I introduced a piece of legislation that went to the Judiciary General Committee, and a sub-committee was named, and the sub-committee was given specific instructions to see the Commissioner of Insurance and see how he felt about this legislation. Why don't you call a spade a spade? You are working for the same thing we worked for—your administration.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Westmoreland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I happened to be in the committee meeting to which the Senator refers and I would like to ask him what Senator it was that amended the bill in committee.

Mr. DENT. I did, Mr. President. I struck a blow for the good of the people of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Westmoreland whether or not he did not get exactly the same consideration in that committee that he would have gotten two years ago.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think that is right. I did not call attention except to the fact that the Secretary of Mines was in there, the same as when the Democrats were in control.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to call the attention of members of this Senate to the fact that this Senate is again to be operated as it always did operate—except for the past four years—so that every member of the Senate got equal consideration in committee—at least in discussing bills and in making motions on them. I attended several meetings this morning in which almost all of the activities came from gentlemen who represented the minority, and I want to say that while I was in the particular committee to which the Senator is referring that that department head had very little to say, but the gentleman from Westmoreland was certainly dominating the committee.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I think that calls for an answer. I was Chairman of the Labor and Industry Committee for two years in this Senate.

I don't think any person in Pennsylvania ever asked for any consideration that they did not get; and to exclude the past four years from those years of giving consideration to the Senators is particularly unfair. At no time while I was Chairman was any member of the minority gagged, nor was he told he could not say anything.

If you do not think the Secretary of Mines had anything to say this morning, I might say to you it was his bill we were discussing in this Committee. I raised an objection and I was overruled by his arguments, which I thought were sound. There is nothing wrong with that—with him coming into committee meetings. The only thing that is wrong is for the floor leader—the Republican floor leader—to get up and say we passed legislation that our party leaders wanted when you are doing the same thing.

I have introduced a raft of bills here and I don't think any of them have even been considered. I have asked some of the chairmen to consider them and I have not seen any of them on the calendar yet. They cannot all be bad, some of them may be good.

I still represent three hundred and some odd thousand people in Westmoreland County and I am the only voice they have here. When I introduced legislation to take care of conditions pertaining to that community I think those bills should be considered.

One particular bill that I introduced takes over the streets in a city that was once a borough; and by going to a third-class form of government they lost maintenance of their streets. That bill has not been considered. That borough—city—is not Republican or Democratic. They are tax-payers and deserve the consideration of this Senate; and just because they have Democratic labels on them does not mean the bills are bad. They deserve consideration. They deserve consideration and I want to say to the members of this Senate that we put out of my committee as many Republican bills as we did Democratic bills. The only difference is the Democrats are still offering bills and two years ago you laid down and did not introduce any bills.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Lieutenant-Governor.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will proceed.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am most anxious to have a meeting of the Committee on Appropriations to study constructive legislation. Can you not arrange a meeting in the little room to the left for a committee meeting and not take a recess, so that the other members of the Senate and yourself can remain to hear the speeches?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair cannot do that, as it is against the rules of the Senate.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I move that we take a recess.

The PRESIDENT. There is a motion before the Senate to refer the resolution of the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, to the Committee on Rules.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to rise to a point of Parliamentary Inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, will state his question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Since there is a change in the rules, Mr. President, would it require a two-thirds vote to pass?

The PRESIDENT. This is just to refer the resolution to the Committee on Rules.

The Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, introduced a resolution and the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Kunkel, moved that it be referred to the Committee on Rules.

And the question recurring.

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire at this time to definitely establish how serious the gentleman from Tioga, the gentleman from Susquehanna and the gentleman from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, might be in their statement that they are interested in things that are serious to this state-serious matters.

CONSIDERATION OF RESOLUTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE ON STATE GOVERNMENT

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now call up for consideration at this time the motion I made to discharge the Committee on State Government, so that something of seriousness may be considered.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, calls up his motion to discharge the Committee on State Government.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the resolution mentioned in this motion is the resolution I introduced asking the Governor of this Commonwealth to call—in effect—to call on Mr. Hamilton to take his oath of office as Secretary of Revenue of this Commonwealth, or else have his confirmation come back to this Senate for further consideration.

Now, I think this is a very serious matter. The people of this State have a right to know who their Secretary of Revenue might be or whether we can continue to run the affairs of this state, in the Revenue Department, by a man who is also the Sheriff of Philadelphia County; and who is up in the Department of Revenue occupying the office—the room there provided for the Secretary of Revenue—and takes part in the discussion of the financial affairs of this Commonwealth, but yet will not, like a decent citizen, take his oath of office; and collects his salary from the County of Philadelphia as the Sheriff of Philadelphia County.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask that the Senate vote "no" on this motion.

The PRESIDENT. The question before the Senate is the motion of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Will the Senator from Tioga state his reasons for voting "no" on this particular resolution?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would be very glad to. I have not voted as yet on the resolution, but I intend to vote "no" on the resolution to discharge the Committee, because I think the Committee on State Government is thoroughly competent to consider the resolution and pass on it.

I don't know whether it has been brought up before the Committee. This Senate is not in the habit of discharging Committees from consideration of Legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion.

The Clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. CROWE. Mr. President, I desire to change my vote from "aye" to "no."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

Mr. KUNKEL. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "aye."

The PRESIDENT. It will be so recorded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. SHAPIRO and Mr. CAVALCANTE.

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Farrell.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Farrell, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I have some difficulty in understanding the purpose of this bill, which, as I read it, is to reduce the present registration commissioners from five to three at the expiration of their present terms; is that the purpose?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understand that the present terms of these commissioners do not expire until 1941; is that correct?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, that is correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Then, Mr. President, what is the purpose of introducing this bill now?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, the purpose is in order to reduce the number of the board from five members to three.

Mr. SHAPIRO. For what purpose, Mr. President?

Mr. FARRELL. Mr. President, at the last election there were forty thousand people deprived of their vote, and with a commission of five it was difficult to put the blame on anybody. It was thought that by having a smaller commission it would be possible to put the blame on somebody if that ever happened again; and, in addition, Philadelphia would save ten thousand dollars in salaries.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there are some places where economy should stop. What happened in Philadelphia last year was that we decreased the commission from seven members to five—when this commission was created—and then those five commissioners attempted to hear strike-off petitions and take care of registration commission matters—and where there are close to a million people registered—eight or nine hundred thousand people registered—they could not attend to those matters within the time allotted.

As a matter of fact, on election day the courts found it necessary, because there was not sufficient time or sufficient members, to use the police stations and send Judges of the Common Pleas Courts to police stations in every district for the purpose of doing the work the registration commissioners did not do. It was true that there was a great deal of confusion, and I think the confusion was due not because there was not enough responsibility but because there were not enough people in responsible positions to take care of that work.

Now, you are going to reduce that commission to three people, and you are not going to reduce that number until 1941, and it seems to me a strange kind of economy to talk about at the present time; I think it will cost more and cause more confusion than before. I ask my colleagues to vote this bill down.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I call attention to the fact that their terms expire on the first Monday of January, 1941.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. EDMONDS. I think if any change is to take place it should be done now.

Mr. SHAPIRO. I think, Mr. President, we are going to be back long before the first Monday of January, 1941; if not we will be here long enough—we are here from now on, and it would seem to me that there is no present demand or any necessity for this proposition. We are not going to adjourn so quickly. We have got to wait until we find out how the Supreme Court decides the foreign corporation tax case before we can adjourn.

I see no way to save money this year—I see no point in this bill. The budget is not made up in Philadelphia; it will not save any money this year and not in 1940. We have all agreed, even if we went home now, we will have to come back and handle the relief problem in a special session, because we only have allocated enough money for relief to carry relief for ten or eleven months.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILLS ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole, being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 129, entitled:

An Act regulating marriages and the issuance of licenses to marry imposing duties upon the clerks of the orphans' courts and persons who perform marraige ceremonies providing for the annulment of marriage for certain violations of this act and fixing other penalties

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to call the attention of the members of the Senate to this bill for certain reasons. This bill as I read it, regulates marriages, marriage licenses—the issuance of them, fixes the period of waiting, the waiting period, regulates the health of certain applicants and limits the age to eighteen years.

In the first place the questsion of health—which includes venereal diseases—in my opinion conflicts with Senate Bills Nos. 12 and 13, the waiting period, I think, is covered by the Brancato Act; and the question whether we should limit this to eighteen years or not is a very serious question. I would like to suggest to the sponsors of the bill that this bill be allowed to go over so that we may give it some further consideration.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Philadelphia—I know the Senator from Philadelphia is very busy reading the bill—the bill has already been amended and the health features stricken from the bill, so that there is no absolutely no pre-marital examination necessary in the bill.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the question of the age is another matter which, in my opinion, is very serious. I can imagine that there would be even more desire, on the part of the people, from what we have been reading in the newspapers, to limit the so-called child marriages; but I think, according to this bill, there would be situations arising which might make it very inadvisable that the marrage should not take place. However, if the amendment has taken care of the age limit, then my argument falls of its own weight.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I trust I am not violating any of the rules of the Senate in discussing a bill on second reading. The question of the age being raised to eighteen years was in order to permit the Orphans Court to have the right to issue licenses between the ages of 16 and 18. Under the present Act, as explained to me by the Court, the marriage age is 16, and the Court has the right to issue licenses, on special petition, in certain cases. The age limit has been raised to 18 at the suggestion of the Orphans Courts of the various counties. I have been advised by the present judge of the Orphans Court of Allegheny County that this bill, with the age limit of 18, was approved by the Orphans Court of Philadelphia County.

I have at this time, Mr. President, some amendments that I would like to present. However I would like to say to the Senator from Philadelphia that the question of the age limit of 18 is not involved in the bill. The age limit was set at 18 years in order to give the Orphans Court the right to supervise licenses between the ages of 16 and 18, which would be the group encompassed by this present increase in the age to 18 years of age. Between 18 and 21 the applicant would only be required to have his or her parents' permission. The purpose of that, as the Senator from Philadelphia suggests, is to control in some degree the so-called child marriages. Personally, I think it is an excellent provision, and it has the approval of the Judges of the Orphans Court of Allegheny County, who are deeply interested in this bill and who are, by the way, responsible for the modification of this Act.

This is not a new law, it is merely clarification of the law existing on the statute books at the present time. There is nothing new or startling with the exception of two changes, which I might point out to the Senate at this time. One change is the change brought to our attention by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, and that increases the age limit from 16 to 18 years. The other change is in regard to the prevention of the marriage of divorcees who are divorced on the ground of adultery. And I am advised by lawyers that under the present law a respondent cannot marry a co-respondent in an adultery divorce proceeding. Under the proposed Act they will be permitted to marry after a year has elapsed after the time of the divorce. That suggestion comes from the members of the Court of Common Pleas as well as the Orphans Court in Allegheny County.

I would like at this time to offer the amendments to the bill.

The first, second and third sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Marriage License Act"

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

O Jehovah, the Shepherd of Israel and the Father of all mankind, we turn to Thee as our God and give to Thee the grateful praises of our hearts. Grant us the conviction that we are in Thy holy presence; and that the chief end of man is to so glorify God as to enjoy Him throughout eternity. To us may life have a definite purpose and always be full of meaning.

May we abide so near Thee as to make us calm in the presence of difficulty, patient in the face of opposition, and possessed with a compelling strength when honor is at stake.

O God! revisit with the plagues of Egypt those that persecute Thy people. Call from some Midian desert some stammering Moses why by the hand of the Lord, shall bring all Thy people up out of the house of bondage of oppressive taxation; out of the wilderness of doubt and despair; across the insurmountable Red Sea of difficulty, into the promised land of liberty, equality, justice, and equal opportunity for all.

Be unto us a pillar of cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night to lead us in Thy way of righteousness.

In all things help us to yield to Jehovah the right of sovereignty and to accept the Divine law as the norm of our conduct.

In the name of the only perfect One, we make our prayer. Amen.

Whereas, The new sanatorium in Butler County was planned for 550 beds and new accommodations at Mount Alto and Hamburg are to provide 738 additional sanatorium beds, or a total of 1,288 beds, which represents only one-third of the 3,800 additional beds Pennsylvania needs; and

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 2, by striking out the word: "declared" and inserting in lieu thereof: "filed an application declaring."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Northampton permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. JIROLANIO. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Northampton please explain to the House the purpose of this amendment.

Mr. JIROLANIO. I will, Mr. Speaker, with pleasure. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as this bill is now written it states on page two, line two, "has not declared his or her intention to become an American citizen."

I do not know whether many of the members of this House know the actual procedure that is necessary, and I will therefore explain the procedure for the benefit of the members of the House. When you want to become an American citizen, after you have passed the qualifications, the first thing that you must do is to file an application of intention. The application of intention is merely an application, which is the same form or type of application used in the filing of an intention. In other words, you have an application of intention and an intention. The way the bill reads now it says, "has not declared his or her intention," and that means the first papers.

My amendment would just mean that those persons who have already signified their intention to become American citizens by filing their declaration of application—that is all that it is, and the reason for that is this, Mr. Speaker—I do not want to burden the House, but I have examples, names and addresses of various persons who have been trying to become American citizens for the past seven years, some at least five years, on the very list which I have before me, which any member can look at. These men are persons who have filed their applications of intention. Due to various facts which are not under their control, nor in the possession of the Department of Labor, their applications of intention have been held up and therefore they cannot get their declarations of intention through until they have gotten over their first hurdle.

Let me give you a concrete example, if you will bear with me for just a moment. I have before me an application of intention of one Rocco Bacchilini of the city of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania. Mr. Bacchilini came into this country in 1890. In 1900 he came to the city of Bethlehem and for the past twenty-five years he has been working on the Lehigh Valley Railroad. In 1933 Mr. Bacchilini came into my office and asked me whether or not I would assist him in becoming an American citizen. I said that I would. We then filed an application and sent that application, together with the required fees, and picture to the Department of Labor, the Naturalization Bureau, in the city of Philadelphia. We mentioned in the application that Mr. Bacchilini had been married. The Department wrote back and asked Mr. Bacchilini if he would be kind enough to return to that Department his marriage certificate. Mr. Bacchilini had been married for over thirty years; he still had the certificate but it had been used pretty hard so it practically fell apart upon opening it. We sent the certificate to Philadelphia and the Department of Naturalization sent it back, stating that it appeared to them it was mutilated, and therefore we should get a verified copy of the same.

Mr. Bacchilini had been married in New York by a clerk of some court. We could make out the name of the court, and therefore we wrote to the Bureau of Vital Statistics of New York and they wrote back and said, as of that particular date, they did not have the record. We then wrote to the city of New York, and the city of New York answered us by saying that they did not have the record of the gentleman whose name appeared upon the certificate. We then wrote to the family of the man whose name appeared on it to see whether or not he had left any records, and they did not have any records. We then wrote to the Department and told them just exactly what we had done. They said that we should pursue the matter further and see what we could do about it. I then sent him to New York but he could not accomplish much. I then went myself to New York. Finally after three years of going back and forth, the Department wrote me and said they wanted to know if I was still interested in having this man naturalized. I wrote them and said I certainly was. They then said I should get a certificate from two witnessess who had come across with Mr. Bacchilini about thirty-seven years ago. Of course, Mr. Bacchilini could not remember who those witnesses were, and I had to take an affidavit to that effect. Fortunately after seven months the Department again wrote me and said we should send them a certificate of the child of Mr. Bacchilini, and also an affidavit from the child that she was alive and a daughter, as far as she knew, of her father, Mr. Bacchilini. Just about the time we received that letter his daughter died upon the operating table while in labor. Therefore we could not comply with that particular request which the government made upon us. We wrote to the Department and told them exactly what had happened. They said they had discovered somehow or other that a mistake appeared on the application, that the name instead of being Bacchilini, they found it spelled with a "P". I sent an affidavit to them telling them that Mr. Bacchilini had never attended school in Europe; he was not a learned man and probably upon his entrance into this country, in his humble way, he had made that mistake innocently. They wrote back that they would give the application serious consideration. This was after five and one-half years.

In September of this year Mr. Bacchilini came into my office and said.

"Jerry, I would like to become a citizen, what can you do for me?"

"I will try everything humanly possible," I said.

He said, "I have been working for the Lehigh Valley Railroad for about twenty-five years, I have never been arrested, I own my own property, but if I cannot show to them in the next year or so that I have secured first papers they are going to lay me off."

"I will do anything humanly possible for you," I said.

In September of 1938 he broke his leg on the Lehigh Valley Railroad and was confined to St. Luke's hospital for about six months.

Here we have the case of a man whose heart and soul are interested in the United States government, and it is in his behalf that I rise and plead to the members of this House. I know that I am talking out of order and I want to thank the gentleman from Dauphin who has given me this opportunity to explain what my amendment really means.

My amendments are really intended to carry out the purposes of the United States Constitution. All this amendment will do is give to that man, who has good intentions and a good heart, to become an American citizen, and we will say to him, "You are protected, we believe in your intentions, you have filed your application and that is sufficient."

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not think it is the desire of any member of the House to penalize any alien or foreign born citizen who shows a good intention by making an application for citizenship and, therefore, Mr. Speaker, I have no objection to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Northampton, and I ask the members of the House to vote in favor of it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, line 16, by inserting after the word "direct" the following: "Provided, however, That any alien who has resided within the United States for thirty years or more and has, within such period, resided within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for twenty years or more, and who has paid taxes to this Commonwealth and who has never been convicted of any offense involving moral turpitude, shall not be required to register under the provisions of this act, nor shall any of the provisions of this act disqualify him in any manner to the same rights and privileges heretofore granted to such alien persons."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask the members of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. Jirolanio stated in his previous remarks that the man he had in mind had been in the United States for over twenty-five years and decided to become a citizen. We are in the position today where we must bring out of the corners those individuals, those aliens who are creating subversive influences in our country. When a man waits for twenty or twenty-five years before he finally decides to become a citizen, I think it is time to have him register, or send him back to the country from which he came. We should have no patience with that type of individual. We do not object to any aliens coming to this country and making an application for citizenship, and we do not think there ought to be any objection on the part of any alien to register under this bill. After all, we are only asking him to register, and if he is not spreading subversive doctrines he has nothing to fear. If he is a member of a subversive group, than we want to know where he is so that we can put a finger on him when we want him.

I ask the members of the House to vote down this amendment.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to correct one statement made by the gentleman who just preceded me, the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor. I do not think he misquoted me purposely, but the case to which I had referred as an example before this body in my speech took place in 1933 and not within the last several months.

The amendment which the gentleman from Dauphin desires this House to vote down, if you will read it, you will find it says, "Any alien who has resided within the United States for thirty years" first, and second, "and has, within such periods, resided within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for twenty years," and third, "who has never been convicted of any offense involving moral turpitude." It is needless for me to say that there are many attorneys on the opposite side of this House, more intelligent than I am, versed in the law, who know that "moral turpitude" covers a multitude of sins. The courts have construed that term practically to mean anything, so that under the construction of our courts, if you at any time have been charged with a crime involving a breach of the peace, it would be sufficient to stop you from coming in under this act.

Let us bear in mind, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that a man who comes into this country with a mind set to destroy our principles of American government, is not a man who has been here for thirty years, nor is he a man who has been in the state of Pennsylvania for twenty years, nor is he a man of good character. The first thing that that gentleman does, if I may call him such—I don't think that term applies to him—is to take advantage of being protected by our laws and immediately takes out his papers and becomes naturalized. Then when he is duly protected by the laws of Pennsylvania and the Federal Government he starts saying his piece; he starts tearing our government asunder and when we attempt to do something to him he pleads that he is an American because he has been naturalized.

Let me say to the members of the House, that one of the things necessary in order to become an American citizen is to be able to read and write, under the latest rule and regulation of the Department of Labor. Let us again bear in mind that many people come to our shores in order to seek liberty and come from lands where they were deprived of the opportunity of learning how to read or write. They came here and settled here; they raised families after they entered our shores and they never went back to school. The result is they have been one hundred per cent American in the spirit of the word "American" but because of the fact that they are unable to read and write they are not qualified for American citizenship, because in the application of intention and under the certificate of arrival you must write your name on the application, and you must also signify before an examiner that you are duly qualified to write. If you cannot write you cannot become an American citizen, although in spirit and in mind you are heart and soul an American. Bear in mind, members of the House, that the so-called aliens who have been here for a period of over thirty years have been married and have reared families. Their children have gone into all walks of life. Some of them are probably members of the House of Representatives. I do not know that, but I do know that we have a Congressman who would come under that category, and I know in body and soul the parents of those representatives are one hundred per cent Americans and that they would die for this United States of America. Some of them have sent their children to the battlefields of France and I can give you the name of one of them. His mother and father never could read or write, yet those same parents gave to these United States three sons, one was gassed, one never came back to this land, and another lives in the city of New York. That humble family has been here for over thirty years. They saw fit to rear children who fought our so-called battle for democracy. Are we of the present Legislature going to say, "You must be registered."

I do not think there is in the mind or the soul of a single member of this House that much malicious hatred to deprive those parents of the right to say before God and the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that they want to be American citizens, regardless of the fact that they do not have the qualifications. I do not think there is a single civic or patriotic organization under the Stars and Stripes that can raise any argument against the amendment which I am suggesting and offering to this House, and for which I ask every lady and gentlemen of this Assembly to vote. I know that the gentleman from Dauphin does not have any malice in his heart; I know he would not want to hurt anybody who has seen fit to raise a family and whose children have fought in our wars, some of them never coming back. We are not going to deprive those people because they cannot read or write of the protection of the American government, and therefore I ask the members of the House to search their hearts and souls and vote for this amendment.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think our good friend from Northampton has gotten away from the subject. We have every sympathy in the world for the men and women who came into this country twenty or thirty years ago, who raised families and sent their boys to France. We have every sympathy for those individuals; we have nothing under the sun against them. All that is required for that particular individual to do, to come under this proposed act, is to go and register. That is all we are asking him to do. Certainly as good fathers and mothers who raised sons and gave them to this country of ours they will have no objection to registering so that we may have their names of record in this Commonwealth. I ask that you vote this amendment down.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I understood a few moments ago that the gentleman from Dauphin made the following statement, he said that aliens that come into the country have nothing whatsoever to fear from this bill, if they do not wish to join any society that is contrary to American principles. Is that correct, Mr. Speaker?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, it is.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, is it true or is is not true that Senate Bill No. 134 provides that the local police and the State Police would have the authority at all times to seize suspected aliens and hold them until they furnished written proof that they were citizens and had registered with the state?

Mr. TAYLOR. That is correct, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I must very strongly object to the statement made by the gentleman from Dauphin, because I for one do not believe that a person coming into the country who does not wish to join these alien societies has nothing to fear. The proof of the fact is in the bill itself. A bona fide American citizen, you and I, men and women who have been born in this country, have a lot to fear for the following reasons: The bill does not restrict the State Police nor the local police from suspecting anyone at all. The bill says that if upon the slightest provocation these police officers suspect that an individual is an alien he may apprehend him as such and hold him in his custody until the suspected person proves his identity and his citizenship.

Members of the House, this bill is a very dangerous one. If the gentleman from Dauphin is attempting to define his position, or the position of the gentlemen on the other side of this chamber—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin will state his point of order.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not talking on the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the amendment.

Mr. LEVY. I will, Mr. Speaker. The amendments sponsered by the gentleman from Northampton are directly in point. The argument I wish to make is this: If this bill must be passed, which I only hope it will not be, that certain amendments be placed in the bill in order not to permit the full force of this act to be practiced in Pennsylvania.

I say to the gentleman from Dauphin, and I say to the gentlemen on the other side of the General Assembly, if this were a sincere measure, if they were attempting by this measure to keep a check on aliens, they should come into this House with definite proof that an alien who has been living here for years is crumbling democracy, that he is not a one hundred percent American, as they have been asserting themselves to be.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SCANLON. Mr. Speaker, due to the fact that this is a very controversial bill, and I as a member of the Committee on Labor have had numerous requests for a public hearing, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Labor for the purpose of a public hearing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I object to this motion and ask the members of the House to vote it down.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think we should point out some features of this bill, and some of the things that it tends to do, in order that the members of the House may know why we want to recommit this bill for the purpose of a public hearing, and to make it a workable bill, if it can be so made.

When this bill first reached this House and when I first read it, the terms of the bill seemed to me to have no answer in words, because I think what it attempts or aims to do is unspeakable. It was not until I received in the mail this morning a copy of an editorial that appeared in the Pittsburgh "Press" recently that I was able to find any sort of language that would tell us in some way what this bill will do. I don't doubt that all the members of the House received a copy of that editorial. However, should it have found itself consigned to the wastebasket, as many of us frequently do with mail that we get, I would like to point out a few excerpts in that editorial which indicate to my mind reasons why the bill should be recommitted.

The editorial in part reads as follows:

> "Aliens have abused this country's hospitality all too frequently in recent years. It is only natural, therefore, that there should be widespread demands at the present time for restrictive legislation against aliens.
> "Perhaps some form of restriction is advisable and necessary for this nation's own welfare. We feel, for example—"

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TAYLOR. I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin will state his point of order.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman must confine his remarks to the motion before the House which is to recommit the bill.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, as I previously stated, I am pointing out certain matters which are certainly good cause to support a motion to recommit, because the matters which I am speaking about are those matters which should be brought to the attention of the House.

The SPEAKER. Proceed.

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the editorial discussing certain features of the bill states:

> "We feel, for example that alien criminals, having violated both this nation's hospitality and its laws, are entitled to no sympathy or protection.
> "But we cannot afford to let patriotic sentiments run away with our own good judgment and forget that a line must be drawn between reasonable restriction and persecution. As a democracy, this country cannot afford to legalize the persecution of any minority group, even aliens. For persecution, once legalized, never stops with minorities.

"We feel the alien registration bill now pending before the House at Harrisburg is an example of legislation that goes entirely too far. If enacted into law, it could easily be used as an instrument for vicious persecution, not of aliens but of citizens.

"This bill, which already has passed the Senate, requires that all aliens 18 years or over who have not declared their intentions of becoming citizens must register with the State Department of Labor and Industry. Registration must be made annually and for each a fee of $5 must be paid.

"All registered aliens must carry an identification card and any alien failing to have it on his person, even though registered, can be fined or imprisoned or both. The police would have the right at all times to seize suspected aliens, and hold them until furnished legal proof that they were citizens or had registered with the state.

"This latter feature of the bill alone is sufficient to justify its defeat. For it gives the police the blanket power to arrest any resident of the Commonwealth on the grounds that he or she is a suspected unregistered alien, and hold them in jail until such time as they are able to establish their identity. In other words, it gives the police a power they have never had in this democracy, that of arresting persons not for crimes but simply for lack of identification.

"To say that the law is aimed only at aliens and that citizens, therefore, will not be molested is not true.

"For how, until a person is taken into custody and his credentials checked, can his citizenship status be ascertained. By appearance? That, obviously, is ridiculous. By name? There are hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians with foreign names. As a matter of fact, except for Indian names, we don't have any native ones. By accent? Plenty of naturalized Americans still speak with an accent while there are aliens from English-speaking countries whose fluency in English equals our own.

"How then? There is only one method, as we see it. That is by permitting the police to challenge any persons they want to at any time they see fit and hold them in jail until they can show that they are either citizens or registered aliens. That means, practically, that every citizen must carry a birth certificate in his possession at all times if he wants to escape arrest. And even then, the police can jail him, if they so desire, in order to check the certificate's legality.

"The right to arrest at will without cause is specifically denied police in this country under the Constitution. It is a vicious weapon that every European dictatorship uses at will. Far-fetched as it may sound, the pending bill actually legalizes this weapon of the very alienism we are trying to combat in Pennsylvania.

"Thus, this alien registration bill, designed ostensibly to uncover alien criminals actually jeopardizes the rights of the millions of native-born and naturalized citizens in Pennsylvania.

"At the very least, it will force them to carry birth certificates at all times to prove their right to walk the streets as free men in this 'land of the free.' At the most, it will subject them to a vicious system of police interference, similar to that which our forefathers left Europe to escape generations ago.

"If this measure merely had provided for registration, without the vicious 'arrest at will' clause, and if it had established a reasonable fee, there would be few objections to such a statute. For although it probably would be better to require alien registration on a national rather than a state basis, we think the principle is sound. This bill, however, goes far beyond that principle. It actually hits not at aliens, but at citizens.

"We don't know how the registration bill, which was introduced by Senator James Geltz of Allegheny County, managed to pass the Senate by a vote of 32 to 5. Even though it bears the indorsement of the Federation of Patriotic Societies of Pittsburgh and such groups, it should have been scrutinized more closely.

"If it had been, we feel certain that it would have been decisively defeated—as we hope it will be in the House. For those interested in promoting patriotism and democracy should be the last to support such an undemocratic and unpatriotic bill as this measure in reality is."

I might say, Mr. Speaker, aside from the fact that I have serious doubt as to the constitutionality of the measure as it now stands, since the Constitution of this great country of ours does provide that all persons within the confines of the nation shall have equal protection under the law, and our own State Constitution provides against any special or class legislation. I want to only say this thing: The point has been raised in defense of this measure, why not make German aliens register because in Germany aliens must register; why not make Italians register because in Italy they must register; why not make Russians register because in Russia they must register, and so on, even including England, where they must register. It seems to me that when we in America have been beating our breasts and shouting from the hilltops that we do not want anything of Europe or any of the "isms" that are prevalent there, why we as Americans should have anything to do with the devices that are used in Europe is beyond my comprehension. I say that to pass a bill of this sort in this Legislature will go down as a black mark and an ineradicable black mark which we will never be able to explain in future years.

Mr. Speaker, I have received, although I am not a member of the Committee on Labor, numerous requests that this matter be aired in public, and permit by invitation the foreign speaking groups, and there are numerous foreign speaking groups throughout this Commonwealth, to come before this body, if it is comprised of this Committee on Labor, or before the entire body if they so wish, to present their views, to let us hear from them alone, and not from the mouth of the members of this House as to why any such bill would be good or bad.

Mr. Speaker, I think it is only fair, since we have several weeks to go before the session closes, to have this bill sent back to the Committee on Labor and arrange for a public hearing, which I am certain will take not more than one day, and let the members of this House know the view point of the citizens of this state on this measure.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill did not originate in this body. It originated in the Senate where it passed by an overwhelming vote. All of these objections were raised in the Senate, and there was no hearing asked for over there. All of the objections that were raised in the Senate have been corrected in the committee on Labor and Industry.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I yield to my colleague the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Homer S. Brown.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. TAYLOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, specifically why he objects to the bills being recommitted for a public hearing?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I object to its being recommitted for a public hearing because the opportunity for such a hearing could have been asked for in the Senate. This bill has been well aired, the Committee has discussed it fully, they have made amendments to the bill, and the bill should be passed by the House finally.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman to say that if a bill passes the Senate and no hearing is asked for there, when the bill comes to the House and a hearing is asked for, that because no request was made in the Senate for a hearing, the House should not ask for a hearing?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, not necessarily.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is it necessarily so in this case?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, yes, because I think our Committee on Labor and Industry has studied this bill, and as I said before the amendments that were suggested in the Senate were made.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Dauphin recognize the fact that this bill perhaps has more constitutional implications involved in it than any other bill that has come before this House during this session?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I am unable to answer that.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman know that this bill has in it many things which might be unconstitutional.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I am not able to answer that question.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if there is anybody familiar with the bill that can answer it?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman who is now interrogating me on this matter?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Allegheny answer the question he has asked me?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I can to my own satisfaction. I would be very glad if the gentleman would ask me, but I was interrogating him. I shall be very glad to yield, if the gentleman so desires, if he knows what I had in my mind, I would be very happy to answer him.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny if he is such a constitutional authority that he can express an opinion on the question raised by him?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, out of courtesy to the gentleman, I am not a constitutional authority, but I will say this, that I believe any bill that passes through this House, it is our duty to at least look into the bill and give the best knowledge that we have to it. That is all that we can do in the matter of constitutionality but I think that is our duty.

Mr. TAYLOR. How is it that during the past four years many bills were passed by this House that were later declared unconstitutional—

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that that question is irrelevant.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I withdraw the question.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Dauphin another question please?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, is the gentleman from Dauphin familiar with the Sedition Act of 1919?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, not thoroughly.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I think in all fairness, representing a minority as I do, this bill would not affect me because they would look at members of my race and pass us by. I think in all fairness to those who have asked for a hearing on a bill so far reaching as this is, no harm could come to this Commonwealth because of that hearing.

I asked the gentleman from Dauphin whether he was familiar with the Sedition Act of 1919. I asked that question for this reason: The gentleman from Dauphin undoubtedly is under the impression that some harm will come to the Commonwealth, but I would like to tell the gentleman from Dauphin that under the law of Pennsylvania, the Sedition Act of 1919, which is broader in its scope than the law of any other state in the Union, the mere uttering of seditious remarks is sufficient to have that person brought before a magistrate and convicted in a proper court of jurisdiction. So that there is no harm that can come to this Commonwealth immediately in the purpose which this act attempts to achieve. If I understood the gentleman from Dauphin, he said there were people within our ranks who were seeking to overthrow the government. I think we all recognize that this act, in the provision which prohibits the employment of aliens who have not registered, may violate the contract laws of the Commonwealth. Furthermore, I think we all recognize, and I am sure the gentleman from Dauphin does, that the XIVth amendmentof the Constitution of the United States will strike this provision down unless it is carefully considered. For those reasons and because no harm can come to anybody out of courtesy to the people who might be affected by this bill, they ought to be given the right to have a public hearing, and I ask the members of this House, without fear or favor or party label, to vote at least to give these people the right to a public hearing.

Mr. TAHL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not intend to prolong this discussion, but I must join with my colleague, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, in asking for a public hearing. I feel that this bill having passed the Senate, no harm can be done, and I feel certain if this bill goes over until next week nobody will be harmed by it. I therefore ask the members to vote to recommit the bill for a public hearing.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is not very often that I get up on the floor of this House to take up your time. As the representative of a district which embraces a group which is supposed to be detrimentally affected by this legislation, I want to protest most vehemently against the passage of this bill because I believe it is un-American, pernicious and vicious, and is against the best interests of our country. I ask the members of the House to vote against this bill.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin will state his point of order.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is speaking on the bill and not on the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the motion to recommit.

Mr. WALSH. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I stand corrected. I am going to ask all my friends and members of the House to vote for Mr. Scanlon's motion to recommit this bill for a public hearing.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in some way there has been placed before this House the idea that all of the veteran organizations are one hundred percent for this bill. I am a member of the American Legion, a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and am also a member of the National Committee on Americanization for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. I feel that in justice to everybody the members of this House should at least be courteous enough to permit a public hearing. I do not see any reason why we should railroad this bill through and take the word of the Senate. The Senate has made a lot of mistakes and so have we in this House. If we want to use a unicameral system I submit that we should have one, but as a member of this House, I think we should be given the privilege of hearing both the pro and con.

I have on my desk a request from Rev. Father Rice, pastor of St. Agnes' Roman Catholic Church of Pittsburgh, asking for a public hearing on this bill. I do not think any one can accuse Father Rice of being a member of the Communistic party because he has led every movement in Allegheny County against Communistic activities. I do believe that in a bill so far reaching as this one is, there are some points that should be brought out in a public hearing.

I wonder if the gentleman from Dauphin County knows the average age of the aliens born in Pennsylvania; I wonder if the gentleman from Dauphin County knows that women constitute sixty-three percent of the aliens in Pennsylvania. These are things I think we should consider.

We should also consider another point. When we speak of thirty or forty years ago, does the gentleman from Dauphin County know that those who brought these aliens into Pennsylvania, who paid their way into Pennsylvania, kept them in foreign settlements so they could not learn the American ways. I believe a public hearing will be a good thing for this bill, and when I say this I cannot be accused of being un-American because I will put up my war record against the record of the gentleman from Dauphin any time.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia state where the editorial was from that he just read to the members of the House?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the editorial is from the Pittsburgh "Press."

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, do you know of any other groups that are interested in a public hearing?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I received numerous individual requests. I have not received any group requests as yet.

Mr. FREED. Mr. Speaker, are they American citizens or aliens?

Mr. REUBEN E. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I believe them to be American citizens.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TAYLOR. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin as to whether the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars are interested in this bill.

Mr. TAYLOR. They most certainly are, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, what information he has in hand to prove as to whether or not the American Legion or the Veterans of Foreign Wars are interested in this bill?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I attended the American Legion Convention held last year at which a resolution was passed unanimously, asking for the very thing that we are presenting to this House.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I might say to the gentleman from Dauphin that ten years ago the Veterans of Foreign Wars went on record for a Negro Regiment in Pennsylvania and they never got it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the gentleman is out of order, and is as irrelevant as the gentleman from Dauphin was a few moments ago. He should confine himself to the interrogation.

Mr. EDWIN F. THOMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to say that I have at hand, for the benefit of my friend and colleague from Dauphin, Mr. Taylor, the information that the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars have informed me that they are against the bill because it is un-American.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, am I being interrogated?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin is not being interrogated. The gentleman from Philadelphia is making an address to the House.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I happen to be the State Chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Joint Veterans' Groups of this state. That group, together with the Pennsylvania Veterans' Commission Group, met in Harrisburg about a week ago, and this matter was talked about and discussed thoroughly and a resolution was passed.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria state his point of order?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not discussing the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I still ask this House to vote down this motion.

Mr. SKALE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise in support of this motion. I represent the first legislative district in Philadelphia, where there are a number of persons who are naturalized, as well as American born citizens of naturalized persons. The population is approximately 160,000 to 175,000, and I feel, in view of the debate on the floor in support of and in opposition to the motion, that there are several organizations who favor this bill that we ought at least give an opportunity to those persons and organizations who are opposed to the bill.

Therefore, I will ask the members of the House to support the motion to recommit for the purpose of a public hearing.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Scanlon and Mr. Reuben E. Cohen.

So the question was determined in the negative and the motion was not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his constitutional point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I make the point of order that just as the power to naturalize and admit to this country is a federal function, that registration is a federal function and that it is outside of the power of the Commonwealth to compel residents who have not applied for naturalization to register, and I therefore hold that this section is unconstitutional.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, raises the constitutional point of order as to the amendment offered by the gentleman from Northampton, Mr. Jirolanio.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I raise the constitutional point of order as to the constitutionality of the section.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER WITHDRAWN

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order that the House may clear the pending amendments on this section, I withdraw my point of order regarding the constitutionality of the section, until such a time as the pending amendments have been cleared.

The SPEAKER. The Chair thanks the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I have before me an application for declaration of intention on my desk, and in that you will find a line which says: "Signature of applicant." Going back to what I said at first, if a person cannot write, no matter what else or how good he may be, he could never become a naturalized citizen. There are times, although he may have every other characteristic that we in the United States would want him to have, that he could not become a citizen.

I would say further if any member of this House cares to look at this paper which I have in my hand you can determine for yourself that it is absolutely necessary that the signature appear before he can file an application of intention. I say in due fairness to these people and in defense of my previous argument, we should give some consideration to these men who have made the United States what it actually is. Therefore, I would ask everyone, regardless of faith or political affiliation, to vote for this amendment and Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Jirolanio and Mr. Walsh.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Tronzo, Jirolanio and Powers.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

So the question was determined in the negative and the amendments were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend Sec. 1, page 2, by inserting between lines 16 and 17, the following paragraph: "No attorney-at-law or other person, representing or assisting any alien in connection with his declaration of intention to become an American citizen, or his proceedings to become such citizen, shall charge or receive for such services any fee or compensation in excess of ten dollars ($10). Any person violating this provision shall, upon summary conviction, be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100) or undergo imprisonment for not more than thirty (30) days, or both."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, you are about to vote on an amendment that will put a stop to the biggest racket as well as tear down a barrier to the naturalization of aliens in Penna. One of the reasons given by aliens who desire to become American citizens is the cost of securing their papers. We know that the fees charged by the Federal Government have been reduced to a minimum. However, many of the questions that have to be answered by prospective Americans are bewildering to the foreigner. The data he must furnish in numerous cases he does not have, and he consults an attorney to assist him in preparing his papers. In most cases ship lists must be examined. The attorney will merely use the three cent stamp in writing to the port of entrance and the charges in a number of cases that were brought to my attention were as high as $150 for his work in preparing the papers. Most of these aliens work at labor wages, and it is out of the question for them to raise the sum. Personally although I am presenting this amendment I oppose this bill in its entirety but I am afraid that with the flag wavers and these so called 100% Americans many are going to be misled on the real intent of the bill and will vote for it thinking it is a good bill.

I might add also that the former Governor of this Commonwealth, George H. Earle, and the present Governor were around the same age. But Earle proved his Americanism by enlisting, but I hear no followers of James boasting about his War record. If ever the American public is being faked on false issues of Americanism they are certainly being faked today by the special interests in control of the Republican party.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Blair will state his point of order.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not speaking on the amendment.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will confine his remarks to the amendment.

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say that our Mr. James did not enlist, and I ask the members of this House not to be a party to an Americanization racket by at least giving future Americans protection from the shyster lawyer by passing this amendment, and, Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ANDREWS. How, under Rule 72, should the Chair instruct the membership regarding their vote upon this amendment?

Mr. SPEAKER. The Chair feels that the determination of Rule 72 is a matter for the conscience of the members on a question of this kind. The Chair after fourteen year's experience does not feel that he can dabble in the consciences of the members of the House.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his constitutional point of order.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, the amendment is unconstitutional and I therefore raise the question that attorneys practicing before the Federal Court is a question for the Federal Court and not for the Legislature. The amendment is unconstitutional.

POINT OF ORDER

The SPEAKER. The gentleman raises a constitutional question—

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I raise a point of order concerning the point of order raised by the gentleman from Allegheny.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his point of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, my point of order is that the gentleman is not in a position to raise this point of order unless he shall declare to this House whether or not he has any personal interest in this bill. Rule 72 makes it obligatory for the members to declare whether they have a personal interest.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the point of order made by the gentleman from Cambria is not well taken. Any member of the House whether he has a personal interest or not has the right to raise a constitutional question. The question of his personal interest under Rule 72 is not involved in the constitutional question.

The gentleman from Allegheny has raised the constitutional question that the amendment submitted is unconstitutional because it refers to the right to practice on the part of an attorney before the Federal Courts, over which Legislature would have no jurisdiction. Has the Chair stated the question as the gentleman desires it?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. That it correct, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. The Chair under Rule 40, is required to submit questions affecting constitutionality to the House for decision, which it now does.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his question of information.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, can the question be laid on the table and the matter of the amendments be taken up by the House first?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would inform the gentleman that the question cannot be laid upon the table. The constitutional question must first be decided, having been submitted to the House.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this amendment is foreign to the bill proposed. It has to do with fees, and not the bill. I ask the members of the House to vote the amendment down—

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is out of order. The question is on the constitutional point of order raised by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, by way of introduction, I desire to discuss the constitutionality of the amendment proposed by the gentleman from Allegheny.

We have at various times in this House passed fair trade bills, which tell the merchants what they can charge; we have gone into the florist and undertaking business and we have decided that you can use the chairs over again but you cannot use wire baskets; we have passed rules and regulations governing the professional conduct of doctors; we have fixed the working hours of working girls and have tried to fix their wages. We rambled all over the lot with regulatory legislation. There has not been a single lawyer in this House in all that range of regulatory legislation that has raised the constitutional point of order.

This bill places a certain responsibility in the hands of the legal profession. It is by way of being a business-making measure. Now, if we are handing lawyers' jobs the Legislature of the State of Pennsylvania certainly has the right to say how much the lawyers shall be paid for handling the business that we give them. I am not speaking facetiously. I am always very conscious of the constitutional weight of anything that the gentleman from Allegheny may say, but nevertheless I say if we can legislate prices for everybody else it is just about time that we brought the lawyers under a regulatory measure.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, just one question, the constitutional point of order is on the amendment and the amendment alone?

The SPEAKER. The constitutional point of order was raised by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, as to the constitutionality of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Holland. The question therefore is upon the constitutional point of order raised by the gentleman from Allegheny.

On the question recurring,

Will the House sustain the Constitutional point of order?

REQUEST TO STRIKE NAMES FROM ROLL

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. Speaker, under Rule 72 I ask that all attorneys' names be stricken from the roll.

The SPEAKER. The Chair rules that the gentleman is out of order.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 1, by inserting after the word "who" the following: "(who entered the United States after July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four)"

Amend sec. 1, page 2, line 6, by inserting after the word "Commonwealth" the following: "(who entered the United States after July first, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-four)"

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. FINNERTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, my purpose in offering this amendment to this bill is to protect the pioneers who came to this state in the early days and who helped to make it the great state it is. Many of those who left their native lands were denied education. Most of them could neither read nor write, and many unscrupulous politicians of that time, who were in control, told them it was unnecessary to procure papers and they voted them. They voted them for years and years until the personal registration act came into effect, and then they were compelled to show their papers. Many members in this House, I dare say know some people of that kind in every district who were ashamed to let their neighbors know that they had been voting illegally. They raised their families and the families gave their sons to protect this country in the war.

I am asking the members of this House to support this amendment so that those people, those good old folks, will not have to go and register just like a criminal does.

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as I said before we are not trying to penalize anyone. Those who came here as a pioneer should be interested in registering, and I ask that you vote this amendment down.

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a constitutional point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his constitutional point of order.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, this amendment is not constitutional. This Legislature can pass no legislation predicated upon when a person enters this country. That is a question solely for the federal authorities.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, raises the constitutional point of order that the amendment offered by the gentleman from Philadelphia is unconstitutional because it seeks to place a restriction upon those who entered before a certain time.

The Chair submits the constitutional question to the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the constitutional point of order.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tronzo and Mr. Rosenfeld and were as follows:

So the question was determined in the affirmative and the constitutional point of order was sustained.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

CONSTITUTIONAL POINT OF ORDER

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I renew the point of order regarding the constitutionality of this section.

My point of order is that the federal power alone standardized citizenship as to admission, and that the implication of the Constitution is that the power to compel registration of aliens lies with the Federal government.

I make the further point of order, Mr. Speaker, that this House has already declared unconstitutional amendments to this section which did not violate the spirit of the section, and that therefore, Mr. Speaker, this House having declared unconstitutional the amendments which changed the verbiage but did not change the spirit of the sections has already by its own action declared the section unconstitutional.

The Chair submits the constitutional question to the House.

On the question,

Will the House sustain the constitutional point of order?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is the question now before the House?

The SPEAKER. The question is now before the House.

Mr. ANDREWS. I would prefer, Mr. Speaker, that this issue should have been argued before the House Judiciary General Committee, which is the proper forum to take initial jurisdiction on constitutional points. The House is however of a different mind, and we are forced to discuss the constitutionality of the bill in this particular forum. I yield to the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, in the discussion of the constitutionality of section one, is it permissible to discuss the constitutionality of the other sections which are so tied together?

The SPEAKER. The only question raised was on section one; the Chair feels that the gentleman would be out of order.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in order to conserve the time of the House, and with the Speaker's permission, since I also intend to question the constitutionality of section six, I would be very glad if the Chair and the House would permit the gentleman to discuss both sections at the same time. However, if the House prefers to have section one discussed and then section six, that is for the Chair and for the House to decide, but I do intend to raise the question of constitutionality as to section six.

The SPEAKER. The discussion of both the sections at this time can only be done with the unanimous consent of the House.

The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, asks unanimous consent of the House to discuss the constitutionality of all sections. Are there objections? The Chair hears none. The gentleman will proceed.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, certainly I appreciate the fact that the gentleman from Cambria was kind enough to yield on this very important question. I consider it one of the most pressing issues raised in this House during this session. I want to thank the gentleman from Cambria and I want to thank every member of the House. I assure them that it certainly is to our advantage to discuss the constitutionality of this bill in its entirety rather than by sections.

I shall be as brief as I possibly can. It was my understanding that this bill would not be called up today, and for that reason I must discuss the bill without having prepared a written argument, which is always bad. However, in the position we are in, the best thing that we can do is to throw out certain challenges and ask the House to consider them very seriously.

Ladies and gentlemen of the House, as we all know there are no documents known to man that are more sacred to us than the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States. I would call to your attention the fact that these two documents go together; they are documents that were written by men of vision, and by men who perhaps saw further into the future than we see. That is no condemnation of our lack of foresight, but we must recognize the inevitable truth.

The Constitution of the United States is very definite in certain provisions which speak of citizenship. It states in its provisions that the States cannot abridge the rights of citizens; that citizens have this right, that right, and the other right; among which are the right to hold office and to vote. However, they were conscious also of another class of people that might be within our borders, and then the Constitution, after enumerating certain specific instances of the rights and privileges accruing to citizens, goes on in its great humanitarian pronouncements and says in the XIVth Amendment which I think is important enough to quote verbatum:

> "All persons born or naturalized in the United States, and subject to the jurisdiction thereof, are citizens of the United States and of the state wherein they reside. No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States:—"

That is a part of the paragraph of the XIVth Amendment which has to do with citizenship. Now, the Fathers separated the clause that has to do with other people, and it goes on to say:

> "—nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law; nor; deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the law."

Now, I raise this question: How can a man have equal protection of the law if he must register, if he must tell where he came from, who his children are. There may perhaps be some who have fallen by the wayside, and may have been committed to some penal institution. He must tell his age, he must have his picture, he must do all those things. How can he compete in the field of employment with other people? This bill seems to deny him the protection of the law and hence would be unconstitutional. There may be those who will say if this act does deny them that right it is a good thing, but I tell you my friends if we take the Constitution to intimidate and to persecute certain classes of people, we cannot complain when the same classes of people take the other part of the Constitution to persecute us.

May I quote from the Senate "Journal," from the very learned statement of the honorable Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. In his remarks on this matter in the Senate he gave to the Senate the opinion of Mr. Justice Hughes in the very famous case of Truax vs. Raich, 239 U. S. 33, found on page 701 of the Legislative Journal of March 20, 1939. I should just like to read briefly this very pertinent paragraph from this decision of Mr. Justice Hughes.

> "The authority to control immigration—to admit or exclude aliens—is vested solely in the Federal Government. The assertion of an authority to deny to aliens the opportunity of earning a livelihood when lawfully admitted to the state would be tantamount to the assertion of the right to deny them entrance and abode, for in ordinary cases they cannot live where they cannot work. And if such policy were permissible, the practical result would be that those lawfully admitted to the country under the authority of the Acts of Congress instead of enjoying in a substantial sense and in their full scope the privileges conferred by the admission, would be segregated in such of the states as chose to offer hospitality."

I think the Chief Justice is on sound ground there. Our Constitution absolutely tells us, ladies and gentlemen of the House, that when we seek to deny to persons, whether because of citizenship or the lack of citizenship, or because of race, or creed, or color, equal protection under the law, we are performing an act which will redound to our disdain.

I would like to call the attention to the members, the paragraph in this bill which to my mind would shock our conscience to such an extent that we would revolt and defeat this piece of legislation.

I say that, Mr. Speaker, not because I am unworthy of the rights of citizenship. I myself, like the gentleman from Dauphin, and the rest of you, believe in patriotism, but not blind patriotism. I have been in the World War myself, but that does not give me the right to set myself up as a custodian of all the rights and privileges of every citizen located legally within this country. Therefore, I call to your attention the provision on page 4 of the bill beginning with line 3,

> "Every alien required to be registered who shall fail to carry his or her alien identification card or has failed or refused to exhibit the same when properly required to do so shall upon summary conviction thereof be sentenced to pay a fine of not more than ten dollars or to undergo imprisonment for not more than ten days or both."

"When properly required by whom?" Are we passing a piece of legislation here that anybody can walk up and say to a man, "Have you a registration card?" Any police officer, any constable, or anybody can walk up and say, "Do you have a card? If not, I will throw you in jail." How long will he be kept there? Take for example a man arrested in the northern part of the state, who inadvertantly leaves his card at home. He is arrested and he hasn't his card with him, or perhaps his card has been lost. That man under this bill will be thrown into jail without any warrant, without any information, and be compelled to stay there till he produces some kind of proof satisfactory to that officer that he is legally within the confines of Pennsylvania without registration.

We have a clause in the Constitution which to me is one of the fundamental landmarks of our Constitution.

Section 8 of the Bill of Rights of the State Constitution, which is the same as Article four of the Bill of Rights of the United States' Constitution, says:

> "The people"—not aliens and citizens. It says, "people." That means everybody, "shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions from unreasonable searches and seizures—"

Can anything be more obnoxious, can anything be more revolting than to pass a law here that gives the right to any petty officer, without any warrant, without any information, without anything to stop anybody in this Commonwealth, if you cannot produce to his satisfaction the necessary papers—and those of us of the minority know that sometimes when these officers stop us, we cannot convince them in any way, shape or form—can we think of anything more revolting than to pass an act that would give that officer of the Commonwealth, or of a subdivision of the Commonwealth, however small, the right to stop any of us and throw us into jail without any information, without any warrant to seize us, to search us and to hold us?

I think we ought to stop, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and consider well this measure. No harm will come to us from that.

I asked the gentleman from Dauphin whether he was familiar with the Sedition Act of 1919. The Sedition Act of 1919, passed June 20, P. L. 639, as amended by the Act of 1921, passed May 10, P. L. 45, defines sedition as any writing, utterance or conduct, the intent of which is to cause a demonstration of violence against the State or the United States. Doesn't that go far enough? We have a law, as I stated in my interrogation of the gentleman from Dauphin, that is satisfactory and is perhaps one of the most far-reaching of any statutes on this subject of any state of the Union. Those of us who know something of the common law know that this even changes the common law, because there had to be an overt act. The most famous case in the United States Supreme Court decided that under the act of Congress an overt act was necessary. The state of Pennsylvania has gone further than that and said "mere utterance," no overt act is necessary. An act which would contemplate the overthrowing of our government is punishable under our criminal law, and that seems to me to be going far enough. If those who are wont to preach patriotism were to stop and consider these measures which seek to undermine the very fundamentals upon which this government rests, it would be more beneficial; we would be in a better position to have good law. I cannot conceive of anything more revolting than to have petty officers of the law marching up and down our Commonwealth, seizing people, regimenting them, sending them into these little prisons and these little jails at the time of labor disputes and the like, simply because they want to vent on them their spleen under the guise of constitutional authority. It does seem to me that we ought to hesitate in the passage of this act; we ought to consider it very seriously; we ought to be able to say that we are positively sure that this act comes within the purview both of the Constitution of Pennsylvania and the Constitution of the United States.

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker, do I understand since we are discussing the constitutionality of the bill, we can discuss the various sections at the same time, as to their constitutionality?

The SPEAKER. The House consented to the discussion of all the sections, but the question before the House is on the constitutionality of Section 1.

Mr. JIROLANIO. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I again raise the question of the constitutionality of this bill. At the present time we are on the first section.

If the members of the House will turn to page 2 on line 3, beginning with the third word, "shall register with the Department of Labor and Industry." Let us stop there. Nowhere in that section is it mentioned what Department of Labor and Industry. Certainly it is necessary where a provision like this is mentioned in a bill that it must be clear and indubitable for everyone reading the act. Does it refer to the Department of Labor in the United States at Washington, or does it refer to the Department of Labor and Industry in a particular county? Does it refer to a Department of Labor and Industry in any state of the Union? I just bring that up for the consideration of the members. I say it defeats the purpose of the bill. I am only questioning these various phases of the act which in my humble opinion are unconstitutional.

Then, if you turn to section 3 of this bill, you will find a provision as follows:

> "No motor vehicle shall be registered in the name of any alien."

Let us again turn to the Title of the Act. No place in the title of the bill will you see anything relative to the question of who shall operate or own a motor vehicle. It does not require a lawyer to know that an act of Assembly in order to be constitutional, must mention in the title of the bill, as required by article III, section 3, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania "No bill, except general appropriation bills, shall be passed containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in its title." If you read the title of this particular bill nowhere is there anything said about motor vehicles. Certainly I don't think there is a lawyer in this House today who can honestly say that section 3 of this act is constitutional.

Now, then let us go to section 4 and that is on the question of employment. This act does not take up in its title the question of employment. It only takes up the question of registration of aliens who have not signified or declared their intention of becoming naturalized citizens, and does not go into the question of who or how or what qualifications you must have before you can get a job. Certainly that section is unconstitutional.

I happen to be on the Judiciary Special sub-committee studying the Criminal Code of procedure, that particular body which is composed of my learned colleagues on the other side who have the Criminal Code before it. We are attempting to revise the Criminal Code so that the entire State of Pennsylvania shall have something before it, and in the very provisions of this act, it makes this a summary conviction without any right of appeal whatsoever. I do not think there is any lawyer in this House who can point out where there is a right of appeal from a summary conviction, where the provisions of an act do not give that right. Every act that has ever been enacted by this Legislature, says before a conviction is made final, an appeal shall be allowed as provided by law. That provision is missing in this particular bill, together with those provisions that are missing concerning which the Honorable Mr. Brown hasn't told you.

There are four provisions that are very obviously unconstitutional. I ask the members of the House to consider all that I have just said, and if they think there is any merit to my argument, will not someone rise and try to perfect this bill in order that it may amount to something?

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, Mr. Jirolanio has said that there is nothing in the title with reference to motor vehicles; nothing in the title as to registration. May I refer the gentleman to line 3 which states: "Prohibiting the issuing of certain registrations and licenses to or the employment of aliens under certain circumstances and prescribing penalties."

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in answer to the argument of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Brown, in his reference to Article XIV of the Constitution of the United States, where he quoted the words "equal protection of the law," I cannot see where this particular bill will take away from any person any right or any protection that they now have. We passed in this House a law known as the Firearms Act, making it illegal for any alien to have firearms. That act certainly has not been declared unconstitutional. The bill before us now does not deny to any person within the boundaries of this Commonwealth equal protection of the law. It simply makes certain regulations that must be complied with by persons who are not citizens of the Commonwealth.

To my mind it is high time that such rules and regulations and such a bill be passed. As the gentleman from Dauphin has stated this act was designed to smoke out certain aliens who are harboring and promoting subversive activities not only to the Constitution of the United States but also of our own State. Aliens registering under this law have nothing to fear, no protection to lose whatsoever.

I ask the membership of this House to vote "No" on the point of order raised.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentlemen indulge me for just a moment to answer him? The gentleman from Blair well knows that we have certain provisions, such as the one prohibiting aliens from carrying firearms, which provision comes within the police power of the state, and of course, he knows very well that in that case we are dealing with the police power, which is the power to protect the public health, welfare and the morals of the community, and to do that we pass certain acts such as the act just spoken about.

I would like to ask the gentleman from Blair whether he attempts to justify this bill on the proper exercise of the police power of the state.

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Allegheny wish to interrogate me?

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. AUKER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. HOMER S. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman from Blair attempt to justify this act on the proper exercise of the police power of the State?

Mr. AUKER. Mr. Speaker, knowing what is back of this act and knowing what it is designed to accomplish I most certainly do.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Tronzo and Mr. Harkins.

A verification of the roll was requested by Messrs. Tronzo and Harkins.

So the question was determined in the negative and the Constitutional point of order was not sustained.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The second section was read as follows:

Section 2 For each original registration and for each annual registration thereafter the person registered shall pay to the department a registration fee of One Dollar ($1.00), and shall receive an alien identification card which he or she shall carry at all times and shall exhibit upon demand by any police officer or agent of the Department of Labor and Industry displaying evidence of his authority

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend bill, page 2, by inserting between lines 16 and 17, the following section: "Section 2. An alien shall be defined under the provisions of this act as one who is a national or subject of any country which shall be deemed or declared as being in a state of war or beligerency under the declaration of the Department of State or any Federal agency authorized to make such declarations."

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 17, by striking out the figure "2" and insert in lieu thereof "3"

Amend sec. 2, page 2, line 24, by inserting after the word "authority" the following "Provided, however, That any person who fails to exhibit an alien identification card or proof of his citizenship shall not be subject to arrest until the expiration of ten days from the time he shall receive notice to appear and produce an alien identification card or to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of violating the provisions of this act."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am wondering whether the entire membership heard the amendments as I offered them. Before I argue them or at least give reasons for the amendments, I would ask the Speaker to please have the Clerk read the amendments again.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I still wonder whether the membership of this House heard the amendments as I offered them.

The amendments were read by the Clerk.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is seemingly harmless and is not objectionable on its face. To me it seems to strike at the very roots of American democracy, at least as some of us know it.

I want to ask this question: How many of you would vote for a bill requiring every one at all times to have in his possession some identification, some proof of his citizenship?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman yield?

Mr. ROSENFELD. I yield, Mr. Speaker.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Judiciary General for the purpose of considering the remainder of the amendments and for further amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the appropriation which will eventually be sought for this Department of Commerce is provided for in the budget?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there is no item in the budget submitted by the Governor directly for the Department of Commerce because the Department of Commerce is not in the budget. There is however listed in the budget an item for the Planning Board of $112,500 which the Governor suggests should be transferred to the Department of Commerce.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, would this result in increasing the amount of the budget?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is a matter that is determined at the time the budget is passed. This particular bill, as I understand it, increases the budget by the salary of the Secretary. In other words, twenty thousand dollars for the biennium, but it is a matter for the general appropriation bill as to how much, if any, this amount increases the budget. I might point out that is a matter for determination at the time the appropriation bill is passed.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, does the present budget contemplate an expenditure for the Department of Commerce?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, this is really a suggestion of the Governor. The suggestion was that $300,000 be appropriated from the General Fund for the purpose of carrying on the work of the Department, and also an appropriation of $400,000 from the Motor License Fund, to be transferred to this Department to carry on the work which formerly carried by the Publicity Commission—I don't know the exact name of it, in the Highway Department.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming that this Commerce Department would increase the budget by $300,000?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, if that amount is contained in the General Appropriation Bill, in accordance with the suggestion made by the Governor, it would, yes.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in saying that of this four hundred thousand dollars from the Motor License Fund, the sum $312,500 has already been earmarked for the World's Fair publicity?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that is correct. This is only a suggestion by the Governor that four hundred thousand dollars be appropriated from the Motor License Fund instead of the five hundred thousand dollars which was previously appropriated from the Motor License Fund for publicity. There has been no amount earmarked by any law. This four hundred thousand dollars is not earmarked, and as a matter of fact there has been no bill as yet introduced to make that appropriation. It is simply a suggestion.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether the total granted to this Department runs around eight hundred thousand dollars?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is a question and a problem which will have to be decided by the Legislature at the time the general appropriation bill, or the special appropriation from the Motor License Fund is before us. The Governor suggested a reasonable amount to operate the department in the manner he suggested. There was three hundred thousand dollars from the General Fund, four hundred thousand dollars from the Motor License Fund, and $112,500 transferred from the Planning Board. As I say, that includes the taking over of all of the functions formerly handled by the Publicity Commission in the Department of Highways of this state, and it would be out of the Motor Fund.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, not wishing to be obstructive in any manner I was wondering whether this would not in general necessitate increased taxes because of the Department of Commerce. Am I wrong or am I right?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, in my opinion the gentleman is wrong. There is no increase in taxes.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman would rather have the Department of Commerce than decreased taxes?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that is the issue at all. I think the Department is worth three hundred thousand dollars. I do not want taxes any more than you do.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know whether business in general wants this department? I haven't heard a lot of agitation about the thing. I would like to know whether business in general wants this department? Has these been any active agitation therefor on the part of business?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think that business in general is very much in favor of some agency, such as a Department of Commerce in the government, to help carry on certain types of work as set forth in this bill.

Mr. ALSPACH. Mr. Speaker, I have no further interrogation or no further statement. I wish to state that I am merely seeking the answers to these questions as a matter of information, not wishing to obstruct, as I intend to vote for this bill when it comes up for passage. I simply want this as a matter of information for my own purposes and for the record.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, the rising Son of York, the minority leader, is unfortunately not with us this afternoon. Hs very much desired to address the House on this particular measure. He had prepared himself at great length and I am quite sure had he been here he would have said words which undoubtedly would have caused this House, at least the majority side, to abide by some of his opinions and change its course. However, since the leader is not here the hired help will have to say a few words about this particular measure.

Now, Mr. Speaker, in line with the standards that have so far been set, the line of action to which this House is committed, the pending measure is the sort of measure that the House will have to pass. It creates some jobs, and it is particularly attractive in view of the fact that the number of jobs it creates is a bit mysterious. There are enough jobs involved, however, to attract the interest of a job-hungry party. It is in line with the policy instituted to which this House is committed. We talk of reduction of taxes. We reenact the Earle emergency taxes, which is a little bit of substitution. We talk about doing something for real estate and then we veer off in the opposite direction, fighting for real estate with all the valor of an enraged titmouse, perhaps fighting for real estate with all the valor of three titmouses, I don't know. Then we promised to do something for business. Mr. Businessman comes down to the Capital and says, "How is the program for the relief of business coming along?" and this House proposes to say to the business man, "Why, John, haven't you heard that we have decided to substitute the Department of Commerce for a reduction in the load that business is carrying?" Mr. Businessman says, "The Dickens you say." They say, "Yes, the Department of Commerce, but we cannot give you any reduction in taxes, we cannot do anything for you at all except the Department of Commerce. Isn't it a pretty thing; isn't it about the nicest gadget that we have yet devised? You don't know how we can parade. Goodness knows, if we cannot do anything else for you, at least we can try this publicity department, and you ought to just read the publicity if you want to know what this Department of Commerce is going to do."

It is a clever idea. It means that there is an expenditure of one million three hundred thousand dollars under the cloak of economy. That is a bright idea that has been developed this session,—talk economy and spend money. Now, we haven't had anybody pointing out the reason why we need the Department of Commerce. We have been chided from the other side of the House, and I have chided these people here myself, because they were constantly injecting the State government into business affairs.

Gentlemen if you want to keep up your record, if you want to maintain the standards that you have set, you will have to pass this bill as something which will help business and being just as good as the things you promised during the campaign.

Mr. CALVIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do not care to prolong this debate any great length of time. Most of the members of the House are now more hungry for food than they are for jobs, but I do want to answer the facetious remarks of the gentleman from Cambria.

This Department of Commerce is the brain-child of the Administration. It is proposed to be created by the Governor. It is proposed to be created for the purpose of doing something for business and industry and commerce in this Commonwealth. It is proposed with the idea that we encourage business and industry to take over some of the unemployment problems that are facing this Commonwealth at the present time.

Mr. Speaker, this is an important measure at this time and it is sound. It is not founded on any political idea of creating jobs. This bill takes over the assets of the Publicity Commission and it takes over the assets of the Planning Board, which already exist. In fact, there were few jobs over there and no new jobs created here. It does not provide for any appropriation of any kind except the salary of the Secretary of Commerce, which amounts to ten thousand dollars a year and the transfer of the money left by the State Planning Board and the transfer of the money left by the Publicity Commission for the use of this Department, when taken over into the Department of Commerce.

Someone has asked who created this Department of Commerce. We know and practically everybody knows that during the past six years industry in Pennsylvania has been subjected to the most terrible radical taxation that has ever been known in this country. For one hundred and fifty years industry in this country was conducted as a private enterprise, where men were allowed to engage in business and to conduct it only under superficial regulations of the government. During the past six years we have built up a system whereby government has tried to tell business that they know how to run everything in the world, that business was doing everything that was wrong. In 1936 we suspended that for a little while. The President of the United States issued a proclamation whereby he declared that business was going to have a "breathing spell." Business immediately increased and continued to increase until the President changed his mind.

You all know what happened in the spring 1937, what a crushing blow was dealt to business conditions in this country. Four million men lost their jobs during the first seven months of 1937 through a change of heart of the administration. We are now undertaking a similar system, propaganda put out by the federal government at the present time. They are encouraging business and industry and commerce, both big and small.

This Department of Commerce was proposed by the Governor to do something for business in Pennsylvania, to let them know, these business men, that we are interested in them and their work. Sometime ago I attended a banquet of some four hundred industrialists in Pennsylvania, and in our county of Beaver they were very much encouraged, knowing that we would do something to alleviate their tax burden, and that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania had changed its attitude towards business and industry. They had a spirit of cooperation and hope from this department. I have talked with a great many industralists in my county. They are interested in the Department of Commerce because they feel with that kind of encouragement labor and industry will be brought together for their mutual interest. It is the purpose of this department to encourage industrial cooperation so that private employment will absorb a great many of these men who are now unemployed.

The national income of the United States has fallen now to sixty billion dollars, but under normal conditions it ought to be eighty billion dollars. There are now unemployed in the United States about ten million men, with three million men on WPA. If this Legislature hopes to do anything for this unemployment problem we must encourage industry to absorb those men who are unemployed and take them into private factories, and Republicans in this House who have been talking and campaigning for some time as to what they intended to do for industry have something to do and should support this measure.

We have found a great deal of encouragement in industry from business men along this line of work. Much can be done, much can be hoped for by mere psychological encouragement, if we are unable to do anything else. Mr. Brown, who is interested in this work, has interviewed Mr. Alfred Sloan of the General Motors Corporation and several other business concerns who are contemplating coming to Pennsylvania. Some of you people back in your old home counties are perhaps in the same condition as we are. I live in a fifth class county which once stood third industrially in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and now we are down to seventh place. I have watched industry leaving my home town of Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, dwindling away one after another, until now there is left only a mere handful. When I first moved to the city of Beaver Falls we had a great many industries and I have watched them depart one by one.

I have watched the Howard Stove Works disappear; I have watched the Rossman Corporation disappear; I have watched the Grasselli Chemical Company disappear; I have watched the Penn Bridge Company disappear; I have watched the Standard Scale and Supply Company disappear; I have watched a branch of the Winchester Arms Company disappear; I have watched the Myers Shovel Works disappear; I have watched the Standard Gauge Steel Company disappear and most of their activities transferred from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; I have seen just this week an order to transfer the Ideal Foundry and Machine Company to Newton Falls, Ohio.

I think these problems are the most important that confront the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. By supporting this measure you will do something to encourage business and industry to take up this work of absorbing these great numbers of people unemployed, and you will be doing something to cure permanently this relief problem in Pennsylvania. If you do not support legislation of this kind, if you do not do something to relieve unemployment conditions, in the next two years when the next legislature meets you will be confronted with the same taxation program again. I ask the members to support this measure.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just want to say in behalf of this bill that a lot of the members perhaps have overlooked the fact that the Department of Labor and Industry of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has greatly developed into a Department of Labor. I have no objection to that because we have a Department of Labor in the Federal Government. In the Federal Government we also have a Department of Commerce which performs a great many useful functions. This bill would set up in the state of Pennsylvania a Department of Commerce. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that there are a great many business people in Pennsylvania, particularly the small business people, who after all employ better then eighty per cent, I believe, of all the people that are employed, who need somebody in the government, whose principal occupation is not to harass and annoy and bedevil industry, but some one to whom they can come when they have trouble with the government and whom they may rely upon to take up their cause and try to straighten out their difficulties.

I might call to the attention of the members of the House the fact that the Governor has been very active in trying to promote industry here and there. For example, one of the House members who sat back in one of the rear rows during the last session and who operates a factory up in the northern tier, received a letter from the Tennessee Valley Authority, inviting him to remove his factory from Pennsylvania down into the Tennessee valley, because of the great changes which the Federal Government was installing there. They pointed out to him also the disadvantages in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. It seems to me, Mr. Speaker, that we might very well establish a Department of Commerce whose sole function would be to encourage business and to encourage employment.

Mr. Speaker, while I think it is true we have not been able to accomplish all the things we wished, at the same time it seems to me there is a benefit, Mr. Speaker, in a gesture, especially when that gesture consists in holding out an open hand of welcome to business in Pennsylvania rather than threatening business with a clenched fist.

Mr. Speaker, I may point out further to the gentleman of the opposition, that the Philadelphia "Record" a day or so ago had an article to the effect that over ten thousand people had been taken off the relief rolls in a single week by reason of a return to private employment. The passage of this bill, members of the House, will go a great ways toward informing business people that Pennsylvania is really on the way to business recovery, and that we are establishing a Department to help business instead of hindering it.

I urge the members to support this bill wholeheartedly.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to add just a few remarks to those made by the gentleman from Beaver. He was speaking of things that he had observed disappearing. I think that I could perhaps add some more to the things that he observed disappearing. I recall the promise of reduction of taxes to business, and that promise has disappeared. Also the promise of economy, and of course that promise has disappeared. With this million dollar bill, I also recall more promises as to an effort to take care of Pennsylvania generally and make us prosperous, and of course that promise is rapidly disappearing.

I can understand, Mr. Speaker, the great concern to at least hand out some false promises, some haven where all these individuals who have been disappointed may meet. I agree with the majority party that certainly promises have a habit of disappearing.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to inquire of the gentleman from Dauphin as to how the creation of this Department of Commerce is going to entice business people who have fled from Pennsylvania to return to the soil of the Commonwealth and build up industry once more?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there are many industries that might come to Pennsylvania from other states if they were given proper cooperation and an incentive, and I want to call to the attention of the members of the House that through the efforts of this department there was a single industry that would employ five hundred men or women that would come into this Commonwealth, and it would be possible to save three hundred and sixty thousand dollars in relief alone.

Mr. LEVY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I recall very distinctly, and I have in my hand a full text of Governor James' addresses throughout the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania prior to the last general election. In reviewing this book I fail to find at any one time that he ever mentioned anything concerning a Department of Commerce without also stating that one thing must go along with another, and that other thing is a reduction of taxes in Pennsylvania. I say to the majority leader of this House he knows as well as every other Republican member that you cannot induce business to come back into Pennsylvania, if such is the case, by proclaiming to the country at large that we have a Department of Commerce that is going to advertise the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, without giving them something concrete to come back and rely upon. We know that Mr. James has not fulfilled his promise in regard to reduction of taxes. In fact only today the very Republican newspapers that screamed aloud for a probable reduction in taxes are now apologizing for Mr. James and telling the people of the Commonwealth it cannot be done now, but it may be done two years from now.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Dauphin permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODSIDE. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman from Dauphin to say that a part of the funds to operate this new department would come from revenue out of the Motor License Fund?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there is nothing in either of these bills that relates to that subject. I say a suggestion has been made that the appropriation which was formerly made for advertising the Commonwealth by the Commission, aimed to get the tourists into this State, should be made to the Department of Commerce, and that the Department of Commerce would handle that advertising rather than the Commission. It was only a suggestion. It is not in the bill. It is entirely a separate matter which will come before the House at another time.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Ackermann.

Mr. ACKERMANN. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Woodside.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman how many jobs the department will create?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, very few, Mr. Speaker. There are no jobs created in the bill outside of the Secretary of Commerce, therefore so far as this bill is concerned there will be only one.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, by reason of the appropriation to this department how many jobs will be created?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, there has been no appropriation made to the department. That is a matter that will come before the House at another time.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the gentleman what inducement will be offered to industry outside of the state to come into the state?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, that is the exact purpose of the Department of Commerce to do that.

I might say in the little home town in which I live there was a special effort made some years ago and an industry was brought into the town which employed as high as seven or eight hundred people. If the Department of Commerce with all the force of the state back of it, with a Secretary who was qualified and well-versed and well-known throughout the country, we might bring any number of industrial plants into Pennsylvania which might employ many men and take many people off relief, saving the Commonwealth many times the amount of the appropriation to this Department.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman feel that the tag called the Department of Commerce will bring industry back into the state instead of the tag called the Publicity Commission?

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I think possibly that publicity would help a little bit. If we tore down all the signs with the name of Governor Earle upon them, by reason of the fact that he is no longer Governor of Pennsylvania, it might help to bring industry back into Pennsylvania.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. Speaker, I do not feel sure that the name of Mr. James would bring industry back into the state.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 436, entitled:

An Act relating to, and providing for, the promotion and development of business, industry and commerce in the Commonwealth; conferring powers and duties upon the Department of Commerce and other agencies of the Commonwealth; abolishing the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission, terminating the terms of its members and conferring its powers upon, and transferring and appropriating the balance of its current appropriation to, the Department of Commerce; and repealing certain laws.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the terms of this bill the appropriation that was set up for the Pennsylvania Publicity Commission, this money will be transferred to the Department of Commerce. The money for the State Publicity Commission is money out of the Motor License Funds, and by the terms of this bill we abolish the Publicity Commission. I believe when we abolish this Commission this money should go back to the Highway Fund. I think we are treading on dangerous ground by appropriating unexpended balances to another department for other purposes. I think this is a violation of the Federal law known as the Hayden-Cartwright Act, which provides for Federal money to various states of this nation for the purpose of maintaining and building roads.

I believe that the Federal government will classify this as a diversion of a motor license funds and Pennsylvania will not then be in a position to receive her proper share of funds allocated to this state from the Federal government. For that reason I think we should defeat this bill.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, under the terms of this bill the money which is in the fund can be spent for exactly the same purposes as it would be if it were spent for the Pennsylvania State Publicity Commission. I understand that it is the intention, to spend that money for exactly the same purpose, and being expended for that purpose it is for the benefit of the motorists as a whole. Therefore, I think the objection is not well founded.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

SENATE

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

We give Thee our deepest thanks, O Gracious God, this day for Thy Revelation of divine truth unto us in the Holy Bible. Living characters have moved and played upon the stage of life personifying the greatest and best philosophy of living. Vital principles of human endeavor postulating the highest life possible to be lived, are enunciated. Words of sublime beauty and holy magnificence proceed from Thy Holy Word. And withal it speaks unmistakenly to each one of us.

We would suffer it to be a "lamp unto our feet and a light unto our path."

This day may Thy truth, therefore, guide us aright and keep us in the faithful way of perfect liberty, freedom and independence even though other nations may trample it asunder and deny its priceless value. May this nation, and we especially, never be guilty of this awful deed. In Thy holy name, we pray. Amen.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, over a month ago Senator Cavalcante and myself introduced, or sponsored, a resolution which would call upon the Senators to obey the Constitution of Pennsylvania and disclose whether they owned stock in milk companies, or are on the payroll of milk companies.

The Republican Senators, with the exception of Senator Heyburn, sent this resolution to a committee where it has been reposing ever since; and where it is likly intended to repose forevermore.

I wish to serve notice, Mr. President, that if this resolution is not soon brought out upon the floor, Senator Cavalcante and myself will move for the discharge of the committee.

We have heard a great many speeches in this Senate about the sacredness of the Constitution—speeches coming principally from the other side of this chamber. Gentlemen on the other side of this chamber have wrapped themselves in the American flag, have put halos around their heads and wings on their backs, and told us of their undying love for the Constitution.

We want to see, and the farmers of Western Pennsylvania want to see—especially the farmers of my district want to see—whether these gentlemen mean what they say when they tell us of their great love for the Constitution. Every Senator who will vote to pickle this resolution will thereby stand himself up before the gaze of the farmers, the farmers of Western Pennsylvania, especially from my district, to take a look at them; and, of course, they want to take a look at them.

Mr. President, I have just come from the offices of the Milk Control Board where I was advised that yesterday, the farmers of Western Pennsylvania filed a petition for a rehearing to try and get a modification or revocation of the outrageous order of the Milk Control Board, approved by the Governor several months ago, which is compelling the farmers of my district, and the rest of the Pittsburgh district, to sell milk at a loss—the more they sell the more they lose.

I was told by the Milk Control Board, by a member of the said board—specifically, I was told by Mr. Patterson of the Milk Control Board, about an hour ago, in the office—that the trouble with the farmers is that they are unable to go up against the high-powered, high-salaried lawyers and lobbyists of the milk companies.

I might say that as I was going into the office of the Milk Control Board I met a well known, pretty powerful, milk monopoly lobbyist and lawyer coming out, one who was born in Crawford county, and I asked him whether he had taken charge.

Just another word, Mr. President, in order to clear up what sounded to me, coming from the lips of Senator Walker yesterday, as a sort of distortion of the views of Dr. C. Howard Marcy, Secretary and Director of the Tuberculosis League of Pennsylvania, as to the need for the Butler Tuberculosis Sanatorium. In order to correct any misapprehension, any erroneous impression the Senators might have gained from the eloquent lips of Brother Walker, I wish to read Dr. Marcy's own words. I wish to read two paragraphs of his letter, dated April 1, 1939 to Dr. A. O. Hindman, member of the General Assembly, House of Representatives, from Washington County, and read into the Legislative Journal by Dr. Hindman, Page 1108 of the Journal, as follows:

"The proposal of the Governor not to operate the new institution at Butler came as a shock to Pennsylvania agencies and individuals, professional and others, who have been striving for years to secure provision on the part of the State of more adequate hospital facilities for the tuberculous. As a justification for this decision, it is stated in the Budget Message:

" 'The entire present waiting list of sufferers from tuberculosis can be amply accommodated at the present sanatoria. To occupy the Butler institution would be unjustifiable expense.'

"It has been our understanding that approximately 738 new beds are being provided for patients at the Mont

Alto and Hamburg Hospitals. We have been informed by the Secretary of Health that the waiting list stood at 611 on March first.

"The question occurs—is the size of the waiting list of applicants for admission to State sanatoria an accurate or even safe measure for the need of hospital beds? We believe most emphatically that it is not and that it should not be so accepted. The number of deaths occurring annually is the guide used by competent public health authorities in determining tuberculosis hospital needs. At least two beds per annual death is regarded as the minimum requirement.

"There were 4,906 deaths from tuberculosis in Pennsylvania in 1937, and there are today approximately 4,562 beds available in the state for the civilian population. With 738 new beds provided at Mont Alto and Hamburg, Pennsylvania will still need something over 3,000 additional beds to meet the standard requirements of two beds for each annual death. On this basis alone, there can be no question as to Pennsylvania's need for the 550 beds that would be available in the Butler Hospital.

"There is no doubt that the institution would be filled to capacity in a very short time. While in itself, it would not solve our tuberculosis hospital problem, it would accomplish a great deal in providing more adequate care for residents of Western Pennsylvania. At the present time the nearest hospital for the western part of the state is at Cresson. Even after a patient is accepted for admission, it means that he must be sent a long distance from home and friends for treatment. The institution in Butler County would help very much toward correcting this unfortunate situation.

Very sincerely yours,

C. HOWARD MARCY, M.D."

Mr. President, before I sit down, another word.

In this morning's Pittsburgh Post Gazette, there is an article from the pen of the Honorable Mr. Dressler in which he makes the astounding statement that my pleas on the floor of this Senate for the opening of this institution of mercy have unified the Republican members of this Senate, and in which he also makes the statement that my rebukes on the floor of this Senate on shovel-leaning and loafing in high places have unified you Republicans.

Well, what does this mean? It means that my rebukes of loafing and shovel-leaning in high places have caused you gentlemen on the other side to gird your loins in defense of loafing and shovel-leaning. It means that my pleas to you for humanity and the opening of the Sanatorium have made you more inhumane than ever.

Well, gentlemen of the other side, I did not think you were quite that bad; but I am willing to admit that brother Dressler knows you better than I do, and probably he is right about it after all.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise for the purpose of adding a few words to what my friend from Armstrong has said. My few remarks are directed especially to that part of the remarks made by the Senator from Armstrong that referred to the resolution introduced by that gentleman and myself, requiring the members of the General Assembly to disclose their interest in the production, distribution and control of milk in this State.

I want to pointedly add to the remraks of the Senator rom Armstrong that, if we are forced to the expedient of moving to discharge the committee in order to get some action on that resolution, we may have to preface our motion in such a way that we will have to disclose some documentary evidence that may be very embarrassing to some of the gentlemen of the General Assembly, both in the House and in the Senate.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Blair will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I have always considered the office of State Senator one of honor. In fact, I know of no office in the State of Pennsylvania to which anyone might aspire which, in my opinion, is more honorable; and while we may disagree one with the other, I have never yet questioned the motives that actuated any of my colleagues on the right or on the left. I think every member of this Senate is motivated by just as high ideals as I am.

I think my friends on the left are in every respect just as honorable and fine gentlemen as I am; and I do not believe there is any member of this body who would take any improper activity on behalf of any legislation—we are all intelligent people, we all know what we ought to do and ought not to do, and I do not believe there is any member of this body who would do anything which, under the Constitution, or under the ethics of this body, which he should not do.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS and Mr. OWLETT. That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting on the foregoing nominations.

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. EDMONDS and Mr. OWLETT.

That the Senate do advise and consent to said nominations.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

Two-thirds of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Governor be informed accordingly.

RULING ON POINT OF ORDER

The PRESIDENT. In connection with the point of order raised by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, on Monday, April 10, 1939, the Chair makes the following ruling:

"That under Rule 38 of the Senate which requires two members who voted with majority to make the motion to reconsider a vote on confirmation of Executive Nominations, the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, having voted in the negotive could not make the motion."

The Chair rules the point of order not well taken; and at this time desires to state his reasons in support of the ruling.

In this case there were 26 votes for confirmation and 20 votes against confirmation which was 8 votes less than the constitutional majority required.

The question to be determined is:

"What construction is to be given to the word 'majority' as used in rule 38?

Jefferson's Manual, edition of the 76th Congress, page 374, Section 813, says:

"The provision of the rule that the motion may be made 'by any member of the majority,' is construed to mean any member of the prevailing side either in the case of a tie vote or in the case of a two-thirds vote."

In Hind's Precedents, Vol. 11, page 1133, paragraph 1650, there appears the following:

"Where a two-thirds vote is required, a member on the prevailing side may move to reconsider, even though he may be one of an actual minority. A majority is required to reconsider a vote taken under conditions requiring two-thirds for an affirmative action."

Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure, page 111 Sec. 87 reads:

"The general parliamentary law requires that a motion to reconsider is made only by a member who voted on the prevailing side of the question."

Reading further; this authority says:

"In practice, the motion to reconsider is often made by a member who at first voted upon the losing side but who changed his vote to the prevailing side before the announcement of the vote, in order to qualify to move to reconsider."

It is clear to the Chair, after a careful examination of the question, that the motion to reconsider must be made by two members who were on the prevailing side—which is the majority within the meaning of the rule.

"Rule 38 does not say a majority of the votes cast—it requires any two Senators voting with the majority."

It is plain that those who voted in the negative defeated the confirmations, and were in the majority on the question. This has been the interpretation in the Congress of the United States (which rules are identical in this respect with ours) and in all Legislative bodies; therefore the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, and the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, were qualified to make the motion to reconsider both having voted in the negative.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in view of this ruling, I now call up for action the motion which I made, and which was seconded by Mr. Mallery, the Senator from Blair, that the vote by which Mr. Pederson, for nomination to the Farview Hospital, and Mr. Russell, nominated to the Board of Public Assistance, upon both of which nominations both the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery, and myself voted "no", be now acted upon by the Senate.

It was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now move that the Senate do now reconsider the vote by which Mr. James Know, nominated to the Board of Public Assistance, and Mr. Frank A. Robbins, Jr., nominated to the same board, as well as the nominations of Mrs. Harriet B. Phillips, to the same board, and the nomination of Mr. John Stevenson, nominated to the same board; and the nomination of Mrs. Edna R. Carroll to the State Board of Moving Pictures Censors, be now reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I voted "no".

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which confirmation of the nomination of Mr. John Schropp, nominated to the Board of Public Assistance, was defeated, be now reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. EROE. Mr. President, I voted "no".

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. President, I voted "no".

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I now rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to know whether these nominations are now on the table, since they have been reconsidered.

The PRESIDENT. I would say that they are and the Chair so rules.

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move you that the nominations be recommitted to the Committee on Executive Nominations.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER CONFIRMATION

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now move that the vote by which the nomination of Mr. John W. Howell as a member of the Board of Public Assistance, was confirmed, be now reconsidered.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I submit that the approval of Mr. Howell, as a member of the Board of Public Assistance, is no longer in the control of the Senate; the Governor having been notified of his approval, the Senate has no control over this nomination.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order of the Senator from Tioga is well taken; the nomination is out of the custody of this Senate.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which Notaries Publics were just confirmed be reconsidered.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator voted in favor of the nominations just confirmed, and therefore he is not in a position to reconsider.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair cannot sustain that point. The point of order of the Senator from Tioga is not well taken.

The Senator from Fayette moved, seconded by the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Dent, that the vote by which Notaries Publics were just confirmed be reconsidered.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, with the greatest of pleasure.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator the purpose of his motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the purpose of the motion is to show the fallacy of the ruling of the Chair on the previous point, in which he pulled a Houdini act, by proving by his remarks that a majority is actually a minority.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the motion made by the Senator from Fayette be laid upon the table.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I move that the Executive Session do now rise.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

RESOLUTION TO INCLUDE SPEECHES OF UNITED STATES SENATORS DAVIS AND GUFFEY IN LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

Mr. DENT offered the following resolution which was twice read as follows:

In the Senate, April 12, 1939.

Whereas, The House of Representatives by resolution invited the two United States Senators, James J. Davis and Joseph F. Guffey, to appear before the General Assembly to report on the state of the nation; and

Whereas, The gentlemen of the United States Senate did appear in reply to the resolution gave their version on conditions in the nation and matters of interest to Pennsylvania in general; and

Whereas, Copies of their speeches have not been printed in the Legislative Journal; and

Whereas, It is important that the remarks of the gentlemen of the Senate be made a matter of record for the future edification and enlightenment of Pennsylvanians in general.

Whereas, Therefore Be It Resolved, That copies of said speeches be obtained and same be printed in the Legislative Journal to be made a permanent record of this General Assembly and Further Be It Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the gentlemen of the United States, James J. Davis and Joseph F. Guffey.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceed to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I object.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to inquire on what the Senator from Montgomery bases his objection.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I base my objection on the vote I had to give yesterday for a Deficiency Appropriations for Printing.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire permission to make a short statement.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland will proceed.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, and members of this Senate, I think you carry your economy a little bit too far when you object to the printing of the remarks of United States Senators in the Journal, when you consider a few dollars a matter of such importance that you establish a precedent.

I think further that you invited the two United States Senators to come here from Washington, at their own expense, to give their version of the state of the nation and in matters of interest to Pennsylvania in general, and then you arbitrarily refuse to print the subject matter of their speeches and their remarks in the Journal so that the people of Pennsylvania, who are interested, may know just what the conditions are in the state and nation at this time.

I think that is carrying your economy a little too far when you refuse to print those speeches in the Journal.

You have printed a lot of speeches in this Journal, and in every Journal, since the beginning of this State that were of far less importance than those two speeches. I think it is a direct reflection upon the two gentlemen who came from Washington to this State to give their version of conditions; and if this General Assembly now refuses to make a record of the remarks they made, that is certainly assinine.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, for the purpose of edification and education of the new generation, I move that we dispense with expending any money on this part because I do not believe the speeches would serve any purpose—either one of the speeches—except to confuse the minds of the younger generation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, there is another reason why I should not like to see this speech printed in the Senate Journal, because I remember listening to Senator Davis and he said in his speech that he was going to vote for the $150,000,000 Appropriation Bill when it came up in Washington; and I read the newspapers yesterday and I found he did not vote for it. He voted against it; he voted against amendments increasing the appropriation from $100,000,000 to $150,000,000.

I don't want my children to read a record which says Senators from Washington came into Harrisburg and made promises which they violated, in matters of such great importance to the world and nation.

I say, that speech should not be printed. I have nothing against Senator Davis; but I would not like my children to learn anything like that about him; I would like to go home and tell them he is a fine Senator—and I do not want them to find that out.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I appreciate the remarks my friend from Philadelphia has made about a United States Senator breaking his promises. We must not be too hard on them. It occurs to me, and a good many millions of others, that the precedent for breaking promises was established right here in Pennsylvania.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I take a different idea of this matter. I do not think it is a laughing matter, I think it is a serious proposition. Those gentlemen come here and then there is a general condemnation of the Democratic party and New Deal policies.

To have the United States Senators come here and express their views and then say, in order to save $1.99, we are not going to print their remarks.

I think the question of whether the children read it and become enlightened or not is a matter for one Senator, who may be a little biased in his own mind regarding the views of the Senator, and should not have any bearing on the proposition whatsoever.

I submit, Mr. President, that these men came here in good faith and we are acting like a group of heels by not spreading what they said upon the record of the Journal of the Senate of the State of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I now see that we are not going to save any money by the suggestion of the Senator from Montgomery; but I would like to call attention of the Senator from Westmoreland to the fact that it was not the Senate but the House of Representatives that invited the Senators from Washington to come here. I feel, as a matter of courtesy, we, perhaps, ought to allow the House to move to have the speeches included in the Legislative Journal, of the House if they so desire.

However, I want to say it appears as though the Senator from Westmoreland simply wants to have those remarks embalmed, because he has asked that they be put into the Senate's Journal, which will not be printed until along toward the end of the year—until long after this Session of the Legislature is over; and at that time, perhaps, only a few people will be interested in searching through the Journal to find those remarks.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I believe the Journal is printed weekly, and contains all speeches, in the Senate Section of the Legislative Journal.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Westmoreland, the Legislative Journal is printed weekly, but the Senate Journal is printed at the end of the Session, in bounded volumes.

The PRESIDENT. That is correct.

MOTION TO AMEND RESOLUTION

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I ask leave to amend my resolution, in order to have the remarks of the United States Senators spread on the Legislative Journal of this Senate.

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection the amendment suggested by the Senator from Westmoreland will be accepted.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Montgomery withdraw his objections if I promise not to make any more speeches on the matter, because I assure him if he does not withdraw his objection I am going to talk; and it will cost just as much and maybe more.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, the temptation is very great, but this is a question of principle. Our Legislative Journal is devoted to State affairs. The addresses made by those two gentlemen from Washington dealt with National affairs and if they so desire they may have them printed in the Journal of Congress, "The Congressional Record." No doubt they have already done so.

As a matter of fact our Journal is limited to State affairs, and I do not believe we ought to encumber it unduly; and in addition to that we have on the calendar now an item of $380,000 for printing during the Legislative session, and I think even a few pennies might be gratefully saved.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to further interrogate the Senator from Montgomery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Montgomery permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Montgomery know what his answer to my question just cost the State of Pennsylvania?

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I imagine it cost less than the question of the Senator from Westmoreland.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I am serious in this matter.

Last Session, Senator Lewis, I believe from Illinois, was invited here and his remarks are contained in the Journal of the Senate.

Can the Senator from Montgomery tell me, without a record—can the Senator from Montgomery, standing here, tell me that they spoke only on National affairs?

If I am not mistaken, Senator Guffey covered the budgetary message of the Governor of Pennsylvania. If I am not mistaken Senator Lewis also covered affairs of the State of Pennsylvania, concerning WPA; and how would you know that if you did not have a record?

I think it is imperative that we do have a record because we must know what is in those speeches.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I am prepared to leave it without knowing what is in the record.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it is my honest opinion the speeches were intended to be printed in the Journal.

A member of the House of Representatives, from my district, introduced a resolution which was acceptable to the Speaker of the House of Representatives. He gave him permission to introduce the resolution, as a privileged resolution; but after the reading of the resolution the Republican floor leader objected on the grounds that it would cost too much; and, just as we are going here they also did in the House—they spent more money printing the remarks made relative to the resolution than the cost would have been if they had printed the original speeches.

I think we are being, as I said before, rather small.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution will be referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

RESOLUTION URGING CONSIDERATION OF PENNSYLVANIA COAL PROBLEM

Mr. THOMAS offered the following resolution which was twice read:

In the Senate, April 12, 1939.

The Mines and Mining Committee of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania in joint session do hereby resolve:

1. To declare to the Assembly our united determination to carefully consider and fully support a reasonable program of legislation aimed to cure the troubles of the coal mining industry of this Commonwealth.

2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry.

3. That we urge all members of the House and Senate of Pennsylvania and all Pennsylvanians who are members of the United States Congress to unite in a determined effort to put the full power of our great Commonwealth behind a determined drive to secure justice and restored prosperity for Pennsylvania's coal industry, and to that end we urge that all party differences be laid aside and our ten million people unite in demanding an end to discrimination by the Interstate Commerce Commission against Pennsylvania coal.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions be referred to an appropriate committee, be dispensed with and the Senate proceeded to the consideration of the foregoing resolution.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The resolution is referred to the Committee on Mines and Mining.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. OWLETT, from the Committee on Finances, reported as committed, Senate Bill No. 339, entitled:

An Act to further amend subparagraph two of subsection (a) of section five hundred five of the act, approved the ninth day of April, one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. BILLS INTRODUCED

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce (bills) at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection. The Chair hears none.

Mr. GELDER read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 513, entitled:

An Act to amend the act, approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred thirty-three (P. L. 289), entitled "An act relating to nonprofit corporations; defining and provdiing for the organization, merger, consolidation, and dissolution of such corporations; conferring certain rights, powers, duties, and immunities upon them and their officers and members; prescribing the conditions on which such corporations may exercise their powers; providing for the inclusion of certain existing corporations of the first class within the provisions of this act; prescribing the terms and conditions upon which foreign nonprofit corporations may be admitted or may continue to do business within the Commonwealth; conferring powers and imposing duties on the courts of common pleas, prothonotaries of such courts, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; authorizing certain local public officers and State departments to collect fees for services required to be rendered by this act; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to corporations," as amended, by modifying, changing and clarifying the provisions of the act relating to the corporate name.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 138, entitled:

An Act authorizing counties cities boroughs townships of the first and second class and school districts to issue and sell bonds for certain purposes and for a certain period of time providing for a trust fund and a sinking fund for the payment thereof and defining the duties of the officers and governing bodies of the said municipalities or quasi municipalities in relation to said funds and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Senator Homsher.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher, permit himself to be interrigated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, if the bill should become a law, would it be necessary to levy additional taxes in order to permit the utilization of it by a municipality?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, this bill provides that a municipality may borrow up to 80% of its delinquent taxes. If sufficient money is not collected from delinquent taxes to pay the borrowed amount, it would be necessary to levy additional taxes to take care of the loan.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Lancaster.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Lancaster permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, referring to Section 2, line 26, on page 2 of the bill, I would like the Senator from Lancaster to explain this clause:

"Levy and collect in addition to the other taxes a tax sufficient to pay the interest and principal of said indebtedness."

Mr. HOMSHER. That is construed to mean, Mr. President, that if the tax collection itself, the delinquent tax, is insufficient, they must levy taxes to pay the loan.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this is a very important bill and I trust that the members of this Senate will not vote strictly on party lines in this matter.

The bill authorizes the municipalities to borrow on delinquent taxes. Now, we must bear in mind that it is probable that in many of these municipalities bonds have already been issued and other indebtedness incurred on the strength of those taxes, yet this bill permits more borrowing on that same tax duplicate—those taxes in arrears.

In other words, this bill will circumvent or get around the constitutional limitation on the borrowing by municipalities. There is also a more serious objection to this bill. Most of us, or nearly all of us here in this Senate, have, in one way or another, expressed a desire to give these property owners who are greatly in arrears on their taxes an opportunity to redeem themselves.

We have discussed here on numerous occasions our desire to wipe the record clean of these taxes in arrears. Now, I say to you, Mr. President and members of this Senate, that if this Assembly proposes to give the distressed home owners an equitable abatement, adjustment or compromise of all the accumulated taxes of the past years, this bill should be deferred until such time as the legislative program or this subject has been definitely determined.

Unless this is done any equitable program of abatement, adjustment, or compromise will be seriously endangered by the passage of this bill. If, as authorized in this bill, a municipality issues bonds predicated upon the delinquent taxes, it then follows that the lien of such bonds will not only cover the delinquent tax but may also cover the penalties and interest due on such taxes, and the issue of bonds, as authorized by the bill, will necessarily render invalid any subsequent legislative action intended to give the home owners an equitable abatement, adjustment or compromise of these delinquent taxes, to which they are rightly and conscientiously entitled.

This latter proposition follows because I feel that no Court in this Commonwealth will sustain an Act which will materially affect and diminish the lien of such bonds to the serious loss of the bondholders.

Now, I trust that we weigh that situation clearly; and, merely in a summary way, I think it ought to be plain to all of us that if we take these delinquent taxes and impress upon these delinquent taxes the issue of these bonds and then say that the lien of these bonds attached to those delinquent taxes must primarily be paid out of delinquent taxes, you can readily see the jam we are going to get into when we attempt to pass legislation aimed at giving the relief that we have been giving in the last few sessions. I doubt very seriously, if this bill is passed, whether we can in the future in any way give an abatement on those delinquent taxes.

I say that we can at this time defer action on this bill until we are in some way clear as to a definite program that we are going to adopt toward the owners of these properties that are so heavily burdened with delinquent taxes.

I say that, after we have arrived at some definite program on that problem, I will have no reluctancy whatsoever to give this bill due consideration and give it approval and vote in favor of this bill, if we come to the conclusion that this General Assembly is not going to give these home owners and farm owners, burdened with these delinquent taxes, and relief whatsoever.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I believe that the motives back of this bill are good—I understand that this bill is here for the purpose of assisting distressed municipalities; but, irrespective of the explanation the Senator from Lancaster has made, I still maintain that this bill, if passed, will add additional burdens on the tax payers.

The bill provides that the money to be borrowed is to be borrowed against uncollected taxes. Now, you know the nature of uncollected taxes today—the collections are very slow; and in order to obviate that danger Section 2 was evidently put in the bill.

Now, what will happen if a loan is made under this bill, should it pass, is this: taxes will be pledged for the payment of the loan; those taxes will not come in, and then the municipality will be compelled to levy additional taxes, and those taxes will be levied primarily against real estate. If there is any time when we should take a firm stand against levying additional taxes on real estate it is now.

The time has come—it is here today—when we should stand up like men and tell our officials in the various municipalities that they must now commence a program of economy, and if we keep on passing bills like this they will still believe they have our sanction to keep on adding burdensome taxes to the citizens and taxpayers of the various municipalities of this state.

I think this is a bad bill and it ought to be defeated.

Mr. KILGALLEN. Mr. President, there is another element in this matter which has me somewhat disturbed. At the last session I remember that we went into the question of allowing compromising of delinquent taxes, and I think that that matter is going to be discussed during this session. In fact, right at this moment I think we have a committee working on that proposition, and it seems to me that if we pass this bill we take away our right to compromise delinquent taxes, because certainly if we compromise delinquent taxes we lessen the sum total of the delinquency, and I think that is a matter to be considered. I do not see how we can compromise taxes which are delinquent and which have been pledged for a loan.

MOTION TO PLACE BILL ON POSTPONED CALENDAR

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I have no other interest in this bill except that I introduced it—we do not need this bill in Lancaster County—I introduced it by request. I have no objection at all to having the bill placed on the postponed calendar at the present time and I so move.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, this bill has been on the postponed calendar and I should like to have this matter settled definitely. I do not think that this bill ought to be put on the postponed calendar; I think this bill ought to be put back into committee.

In 1937 we passed the Dent Bill, which with the consent of the court, gives tax collectors the right to compromise the tax, in fact, give away the whole tax if the assessed value, the real value of the property is not equal to the mortgage plus taxes, and that we forgive anything over and above the real value of the property.

Today the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, reported out from the Appropriations Committee a bill for one million dollars to distressed school districts. Senate Bill 34, by Mr. Mallery, gives the right to cities to temporary borrowing which include uncollected taxes for a period of five years.

This bill does not provide that taxes shall be levied in the event there is not sufficient to pay the bonds issued as against the security of these taxes, delinquent taxes, but it provides that when the money is borrowed and the bonds are issued, the moment this is done there must be levied—not there may be, but there must be levied, according to section 2, a tax which will be sufficient to pay the debt, the sinking fund and interest over a period of ten years, for the total amount borrowed.

Now, it seems to me that there has got to be a halt somewhere in these proceedings. We are getting into confusion; we are allowing on the one hand borrowing for five years, a temporary borrowing for five years, upon delinquent taxes. We are now permitting the issuing of city bond against delinquent taxes and compelling an increase in real estate taxes.

Now, let me give you our experience in Philadelphia. In 1936-1937 the mayor included in the budget as anticipated cash $9,000,000 from delinquent taxes. We have taxes delinquent for over a period of twenty years, which we never hope to be able to collect, and those taxes would come under the provisions of this bill.

Now, when we put the $9,000,000 in the budget and then put in on the other side anticipated disbursements, what happens? What happened was that no single banker or person would loan on that $9,000,000. The result was that the budget was overbalanced, short changed, with $9,- 000,000; it is in there yet, and today we are carrying it as part of a $40,000,000 deficit.

If this bill were in effect at that time, instead of putting it in the budget, they would have borrowed the money, they would have had the money, and today we would be paying additional taxes.

I think a halt must be called somewhere. In Philadelphia today the school system costs us $32,000,000 a year, almost as much as it costs to run the City of Philadelphia, without the debt service. In other words our budget is somewhere around $68,000,000 or $73,000,000—depending on who is making the figures. If the Democrats are making the figures it is $73,000,000, and if the Republicans are making the figures then it is $68,000,000. Our debt service is $31,000,000, so it costs $37,000,000 a year to run the government of Philadelphia, yet the school district has spent $32,000,000, not counting the amount of money they get from the State of Pennsylvania towards the Edmonds salary, if we got any, I don't think we well get very much.

I think the time has come to treat this scientifically and properly. The whole thing needs revision. I do not think we should clutter up the books with enabling taxes which do only one thing in solving the problem and that is to give them the right to borrow and continue borrowing. It is like taking a bankrupt concern and saying we are sorry you are in that condition, I will tell you what we will do—borrow some more money.

Why don't you send this back to committee for further study and settle the matter once and for all.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is a motion to place this bill on the postponed calendar. May we have a vote on that?

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I understood the Senator from Washington to say that this bill would permit borrowing up to eighty per cent of delinquent taxes, notwithstanding the loans which have already been made on delinquent taxes; is that correct?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Somerset, I made no reference to that at all—I think that was referred to by the Senator from Fayette.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the way the bill is drawn, I am not sure but what it would permit that very thing now.

Mr. PRESIDENT, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Fayette.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I should like the Senator from Fayette to advise if that is the view he takes on this bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Yes, Mr. President. I made the statement that I think there are many municipalities which have already borrowed against the tax duplicates represented by these delinquent taxes, and this bill would permit further borrowing against the same taxes. That is my view on it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I quite agree with much that has been said by the members on the other side. I desire to clear up that question because the bill is drawn in such a way it might permit municipalities and school districts to borrow without regard to their form of borrowing.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the bill is even worse in that respect, because it first provided borrowing shall be only eighty percent of the total taxes; and then in the new amendment it now provides that there must be twenty-five percent more of taxes pledged than bonds issued. I do not understand that, if you can only borrow up to eighty percent and then issue twenty-five percent more taxes, more than the bonds. I think that is confusing.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I want to state that if the gentleman from Lancaster, who made the motion, would amend it so that the bill be placed on the postponed calendar and the Committee on Education be given the power to conduct a public hearing on it, if the Committee should deem it necessary, that that would be the best thing to do.

The PRESIDENT. If the bill goes on the postponed calendar then it goes out of the possession of the Committee.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that is why we are making the motion here in the body of the Senate, in order to give the Committee power to hold a public hearing if it desires.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I believe it is worthwhile to clear up a few of the misunderstandings that have occurred with reference to this bill. This bill is in the same form as the Mansfield Act enacted in 1933, for a period of five years.

The Department of Public Instructions stated that that Act, having expired in 1938, there was a very general desire to have it renewed for a period of five or six years, assuming that the depression might last that long.

This subject of the disposition of delinquent taxes is one that is before many communities. There are many states which allow public sales of delinquent taxes, and perhaps in many resepcts that is the best way. That brings in current income and puts it back into the budget and then places the taxes in the hands of a third party to collect.

We in Pennsylvania have never approved of that practice, but in this State we have authorized by the Mallery Bill the borrowing of money from banks on delinquent taxes, and now, by this proposed act the issuance of bonds.

The Senator from Fayette raises the point that in one of the committees there is pending at the present time this question as to adjustments that may be made in the future. If there should be a bill reported on this subject unquestionably this bill ought to be in harmony with it and therefore I agree with the motion of the Senator from Lancaster, Mr. Homsher, that this bill should be placed on the postponed calendar.

This whole question is distressing, and I do not think we have as yet exhausted all the possibilities of this subject, but I do want to say that the Mansfield Act was on the statute books for five years, and utilized by a great many school districts in particular, and as far as I know there has been no complaint of its terms.

In the first part of this bill it allows borrowing up to eighty percent on delinquent taxes, but then in the next paragraph, section 3, it refers to the fact that the amount of the borrowing, this eighty percent of delinquent taxes, provides for an excess of twenty-five percent more than the amount of the borrowing. Those two figures are in agreement.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Then, Mr. President, I can see where a hundred thousand dollars of delinquent taxes would allow you to borrow eighty thousand dollars, but you would have to put up $105,000 as security—twenty-five percent more than the bond.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, twenty-five percent of the $80,000—that is correct, may I say to the Senator from Philadelphia, the mathematics are correct.

The PRESIDENT. The question is to place Senate Bill 138 on the postponed calendar.

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I desire to rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, my attention has been called to an editorial in the Pittsburgh Press headed "'Loot' Packages," reading as follows:

'LOOT' PACKAGES

At a time when Pennsylvania faces the most desperate financial crisis in its history, members of the Legislature revived a petty graft which had been carried on until eight years ago.

Members of both houses presented themselves with what has come to be known as "loot packages," containing such articles as a Bible, billfold, pocketbook, key case, engagement book, dictionary, fountain pen, etc. Total cost of these presents for the Legislature is $3981, or an average of $13.68 for each senator and $12.49 for each representative.

Of course there is no more reason why the taxpayers of Pennsylvania should present legislators with fountain pens, Bibles, dictionaries and similar articles than there is for them to buy personal belongings for every other employe of the State. The only reason the legislators are thus singled out is, of course, the fact that they have it in their own power to vote themselves this petty loot.

The amount, of course, is not large, but the principle is. For this was done under an administration which had pledged itself to economy and a reduction of taxes—a pledge, incidentally, which it is unable to carry out. Perhaps one of the reasons it cannot do so is that the will to economise is weak. At least, the revival of "loot packages" would so indicate.

Mr. President, I have been told that another Democratic paper in this State published a similar article—here in Harrisburg—in which it was represented that this Administration and the present majority of the House and Senate provided these "loot packages." Everybody in this Senate knows that those who got those pacakages—and I don't know how many got them—knows they were bought by the last Administration. There were many of them, I am told, passed out before the first of the year. They were furnished by Mr. Morlock, as far as the Senate was concerned, purchased by him, the Democratic Secretary of the Senate, and I know that great surprise was expressed by many of the Republicans that that expenditure had been made without the knowledge of any of us.

I think, for the purpose of this record, of this Journal, that the fact ought to be before the public as an evidence of the extent to which the opposition is going on matters concerning which this Administration has absolutely nothing to do. That was an expenditure made by the Earle administration and those in control of the Earle administration, and the Republican majority had nothing whatsoever to do with it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did the Senator from Tioga give back his package?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did the Senator from Tioga know how many Republican senators gave back their packages?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I do not know of anybody that gave back his package.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I would like to suggest that we all return our packages to Mr. F. Claire Ross, State Treasurer. I am in favor of returning these packages for two reasons, and the first reason is that the dictionary is deficient, according to the Senator from Armstrong—I think that the Senator from Armstrong finds the dictionary defective as to the distinction between "sanatorium" and "sanitarium"; and the Bibles are printed in such fine print that I am unable to read mine, and therefore I would like to send them both back to the Treasurer.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the good doctor from Philadelphia.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, did I understand the doctor correctly in saying that he would be perfectly willing to return his package to the State Treasurer.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, yes, sir.

Mr. SIPE. Mr. President, is the Senator from Philadelphia willing, as a matter of economy, that the Governor return to the State Treasurer the $15,000 that he drew from the taxpayers for ten months in which he did no work in the Superior Court?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I do not wish to express myself for fear of embarrassing my colleague from Luzerne, Dr. Mundy, who seems to be in the same boat.

I would also like to say I also am opposed to these "loot packages"—they were very inferior to what we got under the Republican administration. I used to receive hair brushes—I still have two of them—and they were excellent.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I also wish to place my remarks on the record alongside the remarks made by the Senator from Tioga—that he has unduly become exercised and sheds himself too easily of the responsibility. Up until and including 1933, under the Republican control of this State for, I think, thirty years, every session when the members of this Senate convened and they opened their desks they found a very nice package, some of them containing even brief cases— not very good brief cases, but brief cases.

Now, I remember in 1933, when I came here, I was agreeably surprised to find that I was so well provided for. I thought it was customary, part of the large salary that we got, and I thought nothing of it until a Republican reform Governor named Pinchot—I think you still remember him—got worked up and said we should have no packages; and it was just like the old story, "Yes, we have no bananas." I remember that with a great deal of confusion, consternation and chagrin we felt as though we had suffered a great loss—until we began to use some of those things; the brief case fell apart, the fountain pen would not work; the Bible we could not read; and the dictionary did not help. At this time I want to say, however, that the fountain pen I got this year was the best fountain pen I ever had, under Republicans or Democrats. The dictionary does not concern me because I know the meaning of most of the words—at least those that are used here. As far as the Bible is concerned, every night when I go back to my hotel—the Gideon Society supplies us with a very fine Bible, and we do not have to worry about that. The scratch pads are practically useless and do not amount to very much because we have very little to write—we do more listening. Paper and stamps have nothing to do with it—they come from another source. The pens we do not need because we have fountain pens, and I suggest that in the future the pens be eliminated; and the paper clips—if they were a little wider—could be used for the mouths of some of the Senators.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Very reluctantly, Mr. President.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, am I correct in my assumption that the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, in view of the absolute necessity for the use of an eraser because of mistakes mades, did not return that particular thing in that package?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I tried to use the eraser to correct the mistakes of the Democrats, but I found all I could do was to erase what they did, I could not get them to do any correcting; and the same thing applies to the Republicans.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I do not know who gave the packages, but I wish to acknowledge my thanks to whoever is responsible; and to the Senator from Philadelphia I want to say that is the first time I have been absolved without my consent.

I ask unanimous consent at this time, without taking p time in answering the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. dmonds, if he will just waive a bit of economy, I would ke to have read into the record an editorial under Strictly Politics," written by John M. Cummings, in the 'hiladelphia Inquirer. I will not take up the time of ie Senate to read this editorial—if it is desired, the clerk an read it—but I would like to have it included in the ecord.

STRICTLY POLITICS
UFFEY AND MELCHIORRE 'BATTLE OF CENTURY' LOOMS

outh Philadelphian's Plans Pose Dilemma for the Voters
By John M. Cummings

Since there appears to be no doubt that Senator Joseph '. Guffey will be a candidate for Democratic renomina-ion at the primary election next spring, it is interesting o note he is assured of a foeman worthy of his steel. Charley Melchoirre, a Democratic Representative from South Philadelphia district, has proclaimed to the world e will aspire to the Guffey seat. His candidacy, if car-ied into the primary election, would place Democratic lectors in a very ticklish situation. They would be up gainst the proposition of choosing between two men of qual capability. Under such circumstances it is always ifficult to make a choice.

Physically the two gentlemen have nothing in common. lelchoirre is short, thin and wiry. Senator Guffey is of verage height and inclined to be stoutish. Melchoirre veighs about nine stone or about six stone less than Guffey in fighting trim.

Fortunately for the welfare of the Nation Senators re not chosen by the pound. We like to think our Sen-tors are selected for their intellectual capacity and their eneral fitness to grapple with the problems which con-inually confront a free-born people.

Rep. Melchoirre has had his name in the papers on requent occasions. Last year, when the Seven Decent Dukes were doing business at Harrisburg, former At-orney General Margiotti accused the lawmaker of per-orming his duty to the public on a cash basis. This was irogously and emphatically denied by Mr. Melchoirre nd his constituents had such faith in his integrity they ent him back to Harrisburg for a new term.

Having given himself a clean bill of health, Mr. Mel-hoirre, naturally, felt no moral restraint when he de-ided to go after Brother Joe. He directed at the noble rother divers and sundry charges which demonstrated, mong other things, that not all Democrats of the Com-ionwealth have forgotten the bitterness of the 1939 pri-iary fracas.

"The diabolical scheming that unquestionably defeated ur ticket last November I cannot overlook," said the outh Philadelphia purist in a letter to Senator Guffey. The tactics were degrading," he continued in an author-ative vein, "and of such low ebb that I must take a firm and against certain factions that brought about these nditions."

Mr. Melchoirre accused the Senator of "sabotaging the ntire Democratic ticket."

The faction with which Brother Joe was associated, i will be recalled, was dominated by no less a gentleman an John L. Lewis, the big chief of CIO. It is assumed erefore that in challenging Guffey Melchoirre also de-ded to take on Lewis, Tom Kennedy, Phil Murray and ther CIO leaders who rallied to the support of the Guffey ng of the party.

It's too early to forecast the result of next year's Dem-cratic primary election. Still, it is consoling to be in-rmed that a brace of intellectual giants will lock horns r the Senatorship. We hope, for the sake of posterity, t Mr. Melchoirre will not change his mind. Just as fervently we hope the Senator will not flee the field on the approach of the pee-wee from the downtown bull-rushes.

Lofty and exalted are the political, moral and ethical standards of the prospective contestants. Their battle, unless we are badly mistaken in our estimate of the gladiators, should be fought on a plane so elevated it will be necessary to call out the ladder trucks of the fire department so that ringsiders may get to their seats.

From a tailor's bench to the Hall of the House has been the meteoric rise of Melchoirre. Up from the dismal swamps of factional and partisan politics to a seat in the Senate, Guffey has come.

Democrats of Pennsylvania are to be felicitated, congratulated and complimented on having within their party a Senator and a challenger so competent to go before the public and discuss intelligently the outstanding issues of the dav.

They have in fact, put the Republicans on their mettle. They have established a precedent which the Republicans cannot ignore. If the leaders of the Republican Party are in a mood for advice we suggest that they look at the maneuvering in the ranks of their political foe.

Times have changed in politics. Gone is the day of the political hack. Candidates in this new and better era must be of proven worth. They must be of high calibre. They must be Guffeys and Melchoirres.

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I wish to offer amendments to this bill, but before I offer these amendments, I would like to explain what they contain. Senate Bill No. 168 was known as the Miner's Certificate Bill. I would like to acquaint my colleagues with this bill, which became law in the Session of 1937, and a number of my colleagues recall how we agreed on this bill. We had a public hearing at which both the coal operators and the coal miners were present and they agreed with the contents of this bill. This is one of the few bills that has brought in revenue for this Commonwealth. I think that it is necessary to explain what has happened so that my colleagues may know the importance of these amendments.

We have a Miner's Certificate Board functioning in the bituminous mines—we have three boards with three men on each board. These men have served for the last two years, and according to the record released by the present Secretary of Mines, March 14th, they have certified 108,459 miners at the rate of one dollar each and they have certified 12,555 miners at the rate of two dollars per man.

In other words, they have brought in revenue to this Commonwealth $133,559. In return we have appropriated —the Department of Mines—when the bill was first enacted, the sum of $70,000. We have expended the sum of $55,000 to administer this act. Therefore, we have cleared, over and above all expenses, some $80,000.

And now, Mr. President, for some unknown, reason it is the intention of someone to amend this act. And the miners of the bituminous pay the bill. They certainly have the right to have their own representatives on this board. I think my colleagues to the right, Senator Ealy, Senator Wolfenden, Senator Geltz and Senator Walker and others that reside in the coal fields certainly will agree with me that this is an important piece of legislation.

I am offering amendments that will not affect the contents of the bill to any great extent. I am seeking to provide that the Secretary of Mines will have under his discretion at all times power to cut down these boards when he deems it necessary, if he thinks three boards are too many, under my amendments he may cut them down to one; if he feels that five days a week are not necessary he may, if he so cares, cut down the number of days to one. At all times these boards will be under his discretion.

Certainly I feel that this is a fair amendment and the miners and the operators are fully agreed that that bill in this form will be satisfactory to both, but under the bill as it is drawn now, Mr. President, it will take away the board entirely from the miners; they will be subject to an examination by a mine inspector, if he cares to approve the examination he may; if he cares not to, he will not; the miner has no appeal—and certainly this is their bill. I feel they have the right to maintain these boards in the future as they have in the past, but I also realize up until now we have had sufficient work for three boards, but I must agree with the Secretary of Mines in the future there will be less work—he may cut down the boards from three to one if he cares and he can cut down the number of days' work.

I am offering the amendments and ask that they be read and I ask my colleagues to approve them.

Mr. THOMAS. Mr. President, I think, since this is an economy measure we ought not to have this amendment —practically all the coal miners are registered, and we are going to save some money by not having it amended.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I would like to give the view of the Secretary of Mines on this matter before action is taken on this amendment. He said:

"This bill is an amendment to Act No. 135, approved April 29, 1937, which provided for the certification of bituminous coal miners. An appropriation of $70,000 was made.

Three Boards, consisting of three members each, were appointed by the Secretary of Mines to carry out the provisions of this Act. Each member received $10 per day and expenses. Full time of five days per week was the practice.

Until April 1, 1938, Service Certificates were issued to the applicants upon proof of their mining experience and age. Applicants were not required to appear personally for examination. A fee of $1 was charged for the issuance of this Service Certificate. The mining companies submitted the information required from payroll records. 108,459 Service Certificates were granted.

Since April 1, 1938, until February 27, 1939, when the activities of these Boards were suspended, all persons desiring certificates were required to appear personally before the Boards for an oral examination. A fee of $2 was charged for issuance of a certificate.

The Three Boards during this period examined 12,255 miners, thus making a grand total of Miners' Certificates issued of 120,714. This number of miners will amply supply the needs of the butuminous coal mines, and I feel the work of these Boards has practically been completed as outlined in the Act. Those persons who still desire certificates may be classed as miners who work intermittently at the mining trade; young miners working out their apprenticeship of two years; and also those migratory miners who have been negligent in appearing for examination. The number of these three classes probably will not be more than 3,000 during the coming year.

These three Boards are costing the state approximately $4,000 per month. The last full month in which they worked, but 741 miners were examined. The appropriation is exhausted with the exception of $15,000.

Additional miners can be examined and certified by the district Mine Inspectors without any cost to the Commonwealth and the records of examinations and the issuance of certificates can be taken care of by the Department at Harrisburg without any additions to the present force. The Mine Inspectors at the present time examine applicants for mine foreman, assistant mine foreman, fire boss, machine runner, shot firer, and mine electrician; and the additional added duties of examining the miners will not in any way impair their inspection activities.

No provision was made in the original Act to provide for duplicate certificates. This matter is taken care of by an amendment which is self-explanatory.

Should this Bill not be approved, it will be necessary for the Department of Mines to ask for an additional sum of $13,000 to carry out the minimum requirements of the Act."

Now, Mr. President, if this matter is pressed for an amendment I should like the Secretary of Mines to be permitted to appear before the committee before this amendment is acted upon. Perhaps some change can be made but I do not think we ought to act hastily on these amendments without getting his further views.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Will the Senator from Somerset agree that up until the present time the certification of these miners has not cost the Commonwealth one cent?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I would not say that; any service that is rendered has cost the people of the Commonwealth money, whether you get from one pocket or another, the people have to pay it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, is it not a fact that 108,459 miners paid, according to the statement the Senator from Somerset read, one dollar to be certified; is that right?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I believe that is right.

Mr. HALUSKA. And is it correct that the Senator from Somerset also stated that 12,255 miners paid two dollars per man to be certified; is that right?

Mr. EALY. Whatever the figures are, Mr. President, I am assuming that the Senator is correct.

Mr. HALUSKA. Is it not a fact that the total sum collected from the miners has been $133,559 to date?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the miners might have paid the amount to the examining board, or to the Commonwealth, but they did not pay it out of their own pockets, they paid it out of wages that were paid them, and from the sums they got while on relief and from other sources —it came out of the pockets of the people.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I certainly must take issue with the Senator from Somerset when he states that the miners do not pay this out of their own pockets. How else could they pay? These men are coal miners, working in the bowels of the earth, and pay their own dollars; and no relief organization or any other person has gone on record to state that they have paid any amount of the moneys paid. Does the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, know of anybody paying for any miner to be certified?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I think I have answered that. I do not want to prolong this discussion; but what I suggest is that this matter could be held over for further consultation to ascertain the view of the Department which knows how much money it is going to take, and how much the Commonwealth will be asked to contribute in the future. If there are only a very few miners to be certified the Boards will be continuing to function at an expense which will come out of an appropriation.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, as I explained a few moments ago, in order to further clarify my position, the present Secretary of Mines estimates that in the future there will be about, in the neighborhood of, three thousand miners to be certified in the next year.

In talking over the matter with other persons, I have been informed that, according to the death rate of coal miners, within the next twenty years the average number of miners to be certified will be six thousand; and they shall pay at the rate of one dollar per man.

Now under my amendment, the Secretary of Mines can make the Boards fit this pattern. If he sees we are taking in five or six thousand dollars a year and the board is not expending more than two or three thousand dollars, at all times the Boards will take care themselves.

At his discretion he can have one, two or three Boards or more; he can place on the Boards one or two men. At no time must he spend more money than we are taking in; so I cannot see where the Commonwealth will spend any money to maintain this system.

MOTION FOR BILL TO LAY ON TABLE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, in order that the request of the Senator from Somerset may be honored, I move that this bill and the amendment lay on the table until such time as the Secretary of Mines has been consulted.

Mr. OWLETT: Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair thinks, perhaps, it would be better if the Senator from Cambria would withdraw his amendments at this time.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I now withdraw my amendments offered in connection with Senate Bill 168, Printer's No. 41, and ask that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

The Chair hears none.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I call attention of the members of this Senate to the fact that most of these bills on the calendar do not have any effective dates. That might not be important in some bills, but it may be important in others.

In this particular bill it may be important that there be an effective date, and the reason I am calling attention to the members of the Senate now is that some of these bills are two hundred pages long and in order to correct them you would have to reprint the bill.

I think that should be noted when the bill is first printed, in order to prevent that waste.

And the question recurring,

The motion was agreed to.

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By nanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. EALY and Mr. WOODWARD,

That Rule 38 which requires nominations made by the Governor be referred to an appropriate committee be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session for the purpose of acting on Notaries Public from April 10, 11 and 12, 1939.

Which was agreed to.

MOTION TO RECONSIDER

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that we take from the table the motion to reconsider the confirmation of notaries public made by the Senator from Fayette County, Mr. Cavalcante.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, as I understand it, the motion now before the Senate is the motion of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that we reconsider the votes by which the nominations for notaries public were confirmed; am I correct in that understanding?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I understand it, I think the Senator made a motion to take it from the table.

The PRESIDENT. That is the understanding of the Chair: The statement made by the Senator from Philadelphia is correct.

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his question of Parliamentary Inquiry.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

Infinite, eternal and unchanging God, visit us this day and make us very conscious of Thy presence.

Give us a growing faith and an ever increasing confidence in Thy providence which guides and shapes the destinies of nations. Impress us with the Biblical injunction: "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain who build it."

Bless us with a loyal holding on life, and work through us for the glory of our Commonwealth and the good of our country.

Give us wise direction in all we do this day. In every situation enable us to acquit ourselves like men and prove ourselves worthy of the honorable place and dignified position, to which in Thy grace, we have been elevated.

Impress us with the gravity of our positions as Legislators and our responsibility to all the people of this Commonwealth. Cast upon our path of duty the shadows of Washington and Lincoln whose patriotism ever eclipsed their partisanship. May our devotion to public service be without fear or hesitation.

Make of us, O Father, the kind of men we want our sons to be: "Physically strong, mentally awake, morally straight."

Let thy truth flood our hearts and nourish there the roots of every good thing that our aims may be good and open, our vows sacred and wisely kept, and all our desires heaven bent.

We ask it for the sake of Him whose heart was broken for us. Amen.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 902, entitled:

An Act to amend and re-enact section 801 of the act of June twenty-fourth, one thousand nine hundred thirty-one, (Pamphlet Laws 1206) entitled, "An act concerning townships of the first class; amending, revising, consolidating and changing the law relating thereto," as amended, specifying and changing the conditions of the bond of the treasurer as treasurer and as tax collector for the township, county, school district, poor and institution district.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend Section 801, Page 2, Line 13, by inserting after the bracket and before the word "a" the following "on"

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there objection? The Chair hears none and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House?

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended lie over for printing.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 892, entitled:

An Act to amend section one hundred thirty-six as amended, and section one hundred thirty-seven, of the act, approved the second day of May, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1278), entitled "An act relating to counties of the second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth classes; and revising, amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto;" providing for the establishment of the office of controller in certain counties and for the abolition of the office of county auditor; and for the audit of accounts of the county and its officers for the preceding year in certain cases.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 885, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I just wish to make this comment on House Bill 885, and the following bill 886. I wish to call to the attention of the House that had they followed the advice of the minority leader, these moneys now to be transferred would have been transferred and would have been available, and we could have saved ourselves not only the time and the effort at this time, but the expense of passing piecemeal the legislation that we are now passing.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, only one word in response. At the time that we transferred the twenty-six million dollars from the Motor License Fund, we did not know whether there would be $3,885,000 available or not. At this time we do know exactly how much is available for transfer, and we need to appropriate all of this money for relief.

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 664, entitled:

An Act suspending the taking effect of certain laws with respect to transportation reimbursement to school districts of the Commonwealth for tuition transportation vocational education and employment of certain employes

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Snyder, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SNYDER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman from Tioga, Mr. Snyder, tell me how much the expense will be increased to local school districts under sub-section a of section 1 of this bill.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, that has reference to transportation. That will increase the amount $1,080,000 in the next biennium.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. President, can the gentleman tell me how much it would increase the expense of the local school districts under sub-section b.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, that amount would be increased about $4,524,000 in the next biennium.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how much the expense of the local school districts would be increased under sub-section c.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, with reference to special education, that would increase the amount two hundred fifty thousand dollars in the next biennium.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in that figure does the gentleman not have reference to sub-section e.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, it is with reference to vocational education, if that is what the gentleman is referring to.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, that's right.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, that would be three hundred thousand dollars.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, for the clarification of the record, under sub-section c, it would be how much?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, it would be two hundred fifty thousand dollars in the next biennium.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell me how much it would increase the expense of local school districts under sub-section d?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I cannot. That refers, I think, to second class districts. We now have that appropriation for fourth class districts. I think that applies to second and third class districts.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman any estimate at all on how much that would increase the expense to the local school districts?

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, I have not. I do know that where there is an assessed valuation of twenty-five thousand dollars or less, the appropriation would be eighty percent, and probably in the second and third class districts, it might be fifty or sixty percent reimbursement from the state. However, I do not know what it would cost local districts outside of the fact that it would probably cost forty or fifty percent of the total salary.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I call to the attention of the House the fact that in this bill we propose to return to the school districts the expense for transportation of the pupils to schools, as well as certain expenses that they incur in connection with certain types of vocational education. I feel, Mr. Speaker, that the Legislature would be treating unfairly the school districts in Pennsylvania were we to pass this legislation.

For a number of years it has been common not only to the Democratic administration, it has been common likewise to the Republican administration, we have encouraged the consolidation of schools in the various townships throughout the state. We have held out to them inducements to consolidate in the form of aid in transportation. As a matter of fact we have leaned backwards to have consolidated schools and to take care of the expense. What we do now under this bill is to suspend payments until 1941. In other words, we are saddling back on the local communities a bill of approximately six million or more dollars. I cannot see where we can justify our position in passing this legislation, since in the past we have fearlessly and, I believe, broadmindedly encouraged the school districts to consolidate their schools and transport their pupils.

In addition to that, we have been urging the schools to institute vocational courses and have contributed to the expense of that particular type of education. Now, after it has been instituted, after it has been done, we leave these districts high and dry, we say to them, "For the next two years, you are going to pay this out of your pocket."

I say, Mr. Speaker, that this House should be condemned by every school district in the state of Pennsylvania if we pass this type of legislation. I plead with the members of the House to defeat this bill.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this will not add this extra cost to the school districts. This will save approximately six million dollars to the state and some to the school districts.

Mr. Speaker, nobody knows better than I do the needs of the rural districts of Pennsylvania. As a school director for a long period, I am keenly aware of their problems. I realize the benefits that the immediate application of these laws would be to the rural schools, but since Pennsylvania is spending at the rate of one hundred million dollars a year on relief, there will be little or no additional money for our schools or for any other worthy purpose. Mr. Speaker, under the circumstances, because there is no money in sight I most regretfully vote to postpone the application of these laws, and I ask my colleagues to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill was passed in 1937 to go into effect this year. At that time there were no bills passed by the last administration to take care of this expense. Consequently, we are only doing what the Democrats did two years ago because we are in the same situation. We are indeed very sorry that we are not able to have the money to give to the schools of Pennsylvania, but we are not asking anything from them, we are just withholding until such a time as we have the funds and these expenses can be paid by the state.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry that I have to differ with the two gentlemen who just spoke, but for the information of the members of the House, if they will look at sub-section b, they will discover that this bill was originally passed in 1911 and was amended from time to time. Now, this is the particular bill in which you say you are saving four and one half million dollars. I agree that the state is keeping away from the districts four and one half million dollars, but in doing it, may I assure you that you are saddling it on the local school districts. It is four and one half million dollars that these school districts anticipated receiving from the state and they prepared their budgets accordingly, they expected they were going to receive it. Now, while you say you are saving, let me assure you that you are also passing it on to the real estate taxpayers back in your home districts.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is very nice to give gifts and then send the bill to somebody else, and that is exactly what the Earle administration did in the 1937 legislation, attempted to say to the school districts of Pennsylvania that they would pass a law giving the school districts increased amounts for certain services. It would be a fine thing if the money were available to do it, but because of all the extravagance of that administration, they were not able to find enough money to put the law into effect, so they said the next administration would put it into effect and would foot the bill. Today we are in exactly the same shape, relative to needing funds, as they were two years ago. The funds are not available now, we do not have them, therefore we are not able to make those payments at this time. We are hopeful that maybe at some future time we will be able to make payment. That certainly would be a fine thing if we could, but note this and note it well, we are not taking away from the school districts one cent, we are not taking away from the school districts any money which they previously had and to which they were previously entitled. We are only postponing a little longer, payment which we are hopeful can be made to them at some future date, and which, I am sure we all hope at some future date, will be made available to them. Let me point out one other thing, that although it is true that some local districts relied upon this act and may have gone to a certain amount of expense, which will mean some degree of hardship in a few districts, nevertheless many other districts will be saved taxes on their own real estate as the result of the postponement of these laws, because these laws make certain requirements of districts for certain expenses, which in part would have to be paid out of their own income, realized from taxation on their own real estate.

Although we think the purpose of these bills is absolutely right, and at some future date we will be able to raise sufficient moneys to give these gifts to the local school districts, at the present time, due to present economic conditions, if we all look at it fairly and squarely, we will realize that the money is not available and we cannot do it now. We are simply postponing in the same manner, and continuing like appropriations in the same manner, as they did prior to this time.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appeal to the good common sense of the members of the House and to their knowledge of the English language. I have never understood the word "suspend" necessarily to mean "postpone" and if you read the bills you will find that you are doing more than just withholding the money for the time being. You are taking away from these districts moneys that you told them you were going to give them, and if later on you can convince the people back home that you haven't taken anything away from them, you are better magicians than I have given you credit for being.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we don't have the money, how can we withhold when we do not have it? If the Earle Administration had passed the bills and had left us the money then we would be able to do the thing that we ought to do. Consequently I say that when we do not have the funds we are not able to do this thing.

The gentleman from Monroe refers to 1911. Transportation is not mentioned in the 1911 bill and so I ask you to vote for this bill.

Mr. JOHN N. HOFFMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it seems to me we have a simple problem with which we are asked to deal, and that problem comprises the proposition of promise and performance.

I have no criticism for the promise that was made by the Democratic party in the Democratic Legislature of 1937, when they held out the hope to the school districts that in 1939 and 1941 they would be able to give additional compensation for the districts. We are faced with the problem that is not of our own making. The result of that problem is that it places us in the position where we are unable to perform.

I regret that situation as much as anyone. Nobody is more liberal in thought or ideals for help for the school districts than your humble servant, but when you can't perform a promise, then you must place yourself in the position of doing the next best thing possible. In the absence of inability to find the money wherewith to carry out the promise, the only thing that we can do is to perform by suspension and extension.

That is the only purpose of the act, and I don't think we are doing anything unfair. We are only keeping within the bounds of reason, when by inability to perform a promise, we exercise the best judgment under the conditions and suspend the fulfillment of that promise until money is available by which it can be fulfilled.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I believe that I have here in an editorial the reply to the remarks of the majority leader, of Mr. Stewart and of the gentleman who just preceded me. It appeared in the Evening "News" of Harrisburg on Wednesday, April 12. Since it touches so very closely the troubles of the Republicans, may I read it?

> "Republican legislative leaders are not going to get any sympathy or perhaps co-operation either from the rank and file of their own party or any other source if they persist in using the "cry baby" method in trying to explain the State Government's critical financial situation.
> "From the time the party came into power, its spokesmen have been whining about the deficit inherited from the Earle administration. If the situation must be weighed on partisan scales, one may well ask about the deficit the Earle administration inherited from its predecessors.
> "Republican legislative leaders are in a hole not because of the deficit but because of the bumper crop of campaign pledges and "wise-cracks" which now confront Governor James and the party leaders.
> "The public mind still vividly recalls the assurances last Autumn that if only the Republican ticket was elected, taxes would be abolished and reduced, industry would swarm back into Pennsylvania, jobs would be so plentiful that one could pick and choose and, in substance, there would be "a chicken in every pot and two cars in the garage."
> "There was never any warrant for such claims. Many a voter today looks a bit sheepish over accepting such promises, which never would have been made, had time and effort been taken to get the facts. But notwithstanding the pledges were made and now they are coming back for fulfilment.
> "But in any event, inherited deficit or not, the Republican party is in complete control of the State Government. Save in appointments requiring senatorial confirmation, the party can do as it pleases in public administration. There is nothing it cannot do, save the constitutional prohibitions.
> "The party asked for authority to run the government. The people granted it. The party can appropriate or not as it chooses. If there is too much money spent for highways, the amount can be reduced. If there are waste and extravagance in conduct of public health work, that can be eliminated. If the cost of public school education is too high, the Republicans can reduce it. If more than is necessary is being spent on relief, the Republican leaders can cut the unit allowances.
> "No matter what the preceding administration or administrations have done, the party in power can change it. It can reduce taxes if it chooses by the simple and only process of reducing expenditures. Nobody else can do it. That power alone is vested in the party which now controls the government.
> "Of course the real explanation is that the Republicans after extravagant campaign statements are now finding that the job of running a government in times like these is a difficult one. It is not quite so easy as it appeared to be before the job was tackled, but the party will not make much progress or inspire much confidence in its ability to do it, if at regular intervals, it pauses to blame what soon will be suspected as its own incompetency on the record made by the party it succeeded. That chapter has been written. The Republican leaders must now write their own chapter."

May I say, Mr. Speaker, that that exactly portrays the debate that occurred on the opposite side of the House. They are trying to "pass the buck" and say, "Oh, it is not our fault", and at the same time they do not want to say to the districts back home, "We are responsible for this reduction."

I might say, Mr. Speaker, there is one newspaper that has very frankly said, "You are not the magicians you think you are". Let me predict that throughout Pennsylvania, not only the newspapers but the people will be telling them the same thing.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Monroe from what paper he was quoting.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, The Harrisburg Evening News.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, who is the president of the corporation that prints The Evening News.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I am very frank to say that I do not know.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, may I inform the gentleman that he is Mr. Vance C. McCormick.

I would like to know if the gentleman from Monroe knows of what political party Mr. Vance C. McCormick was National Chairman.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, at one time he was Chairman of the Democratic party, but he was independent in thought. I think perhaps he may be registered as a Republican now.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I will admit that sometimes he is independent in thought, but he is a Democrat and at one time was National Chairman of the Democratic party.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would just like to call the attention of the gentleman from Monroe, who was one of the more independent minds in this body, for which I highly respect him, that the public is very fortunate in that at the end of the last administration they had a pot, let alone a chicken to put into it.

Mr. Speaker, the current difficulty with which we are faced is very largely because of the fact that the last administration insisted on jamming through this Legislature, with unreasonable haste and with lack of thought and consideration, tax bills which were in some cases meretorious, and in many other cases ill-considered, illegal, and unconstitutional. The difficulty with which we are now confronted, that may cause us to spend the summer here, was caused by the fact that because of an unconstitutional tax bill we collected a lot of money we will now have to refund.

It seems to me that if some of the brilliant suggestions that have been made concerning the problems that confront the James administration, had been offered in this House at the time that the same problems confronted the Earle administration, we might have avoided many of the difficulties with which we are now faced.

I want to say further to the members of the House and to the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Speaker, that while I was not one of those who was a supporter of Governor James in the primaries, that my observation of the gentleman since he has been Governor of Pennsylvania and during the fall campaign has been such that I do not believe he is going to run away from the problems which are presented now, but that there will be some solution, and that Governor James will adhere to the very best plan. I hope that some of those who are now his brilliant critics will be his firm supporters when the time comes after all effort has been made.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry to learn that the Independent from McKean has apparently joined the whining group. However, Mr. Speaker, we have been waiting now some three or four months to see some fulfillment of the promises, and all that we see from the other side of the House, and all that emanates from the Governor's office is the assurance that he is a great leader, and that if we only give him time he will solve our problems, but that, Mr. Speaker, is nothing more than an elusive promise.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Messrs. Achterman, Schrope and Furman asked for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. DIX filed the following reasons for his vote:

I am voting "no" and wish to file the following reasons:

1. The Act suspending the payment of certain transportation costs seriously effect financially several school districts in the county of Wayne, which will place an additional burden upon the taxpayers.

2. It would appear to me and my constituents unfair to first pass a law that has already increased the costs materially and then not provide the funds for that increase.

3. It will cause in my county great distress in certain districts, and lead to those districts applying for state aid financially.

4. In certain districts also the additional cost of tuition will tend to increase several taxes which are already burdensome.

ANNOUNCEMENT BY SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair desires to announce to the chairmen and vice-chairmen of all committees that he wishes to meet them, immediately after adjournment, in the House Caucus Room.

Mr. KANE asked and obtained unanimous consent address the House.

Mr. Speaker, this statement is issued on behalf of t joint session of the House and Senate Mines and Mini Committees which was held in the Senate Caucus Roo at eleven o'clock this morning.

The Mines and Mining Committee of the Senate and of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania in joint session do hereby resolve:

1. To declare to the Assembly our united determination to carefully consider and fully support a reasonable program of legislation aimed to cure the troubles of the coal mining industry of this Commonwealth.

2. That we believe this problem has been under consideration long enough and that some legislation should now be enacted and tried out while the Governor is a man familiar and sympathetic with the industry.

3. That we urge all Members of the House and Senate of Pennsylvania and all Pennsylvanians who are Members of the United States Congress to unite in a determined effort to put the full power of our great Commonwealth behind a determined drive to secure justice and restored prosperity for Pennsylvania's coal industry, and to that end we urge that all party differences be laid aside and our ten million people unite in demanding an end to discrimination by the Interstate Commerce Commission against Pennsylvania coal.

ADDRESS BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, in the Legislative Journal of April 4th, the gentleman who just spoke, the gentleman from McKean, Mr. Kane, indicated that one of the members of the Public Utility Commission was adverse to the intervention of the Attorney General in the proceeding before the Interstate Commerce Commission. He indicated at that time that his information was purely heresay, and I am only referring to that situation because the gentleman, being Chairman of the Committee on Mines and Mining, just read to the House a non-partisan resolution that the Committee adopted.

My remarks are being made at the present time to straighten out an ambiguity contained in the gentleman's statement on April 4th. As I said, he indicated that a member of the Public Utility Commission, and he went so far as to name him, the honorable Thomas Buchanan of Beaver County, objected to the intervention of the Attorney General in an Interstate Commerce Commission proceeding. I wish to correct that. My information is not heresay, it is not rumor, but is based upon the statement of Mr. Buchanan as to the exact facts of the situation. He at no time, nor did any member of the Public Utility Commission, object to the intervention of the Attorney General in any proceeding. In fact, the law is quite to the contrary and gives the Attorney General the right to enter into any appeal by any group or board. In fact, the Attorney General is the one in whose name all appeals must be made.

I further understand that this particular situation, the problem before the Interstate Commerce Commission, has been before counsel for the Public Utility Commission, one of whom was appointed by Governor Earle, and one subsequently appointed by Governor James, and their opinion in the matter has been given to the Utility Commissioners as well as to the Attorney General as to the effectiveness of the appeal. I understand further that the efforts of the entire Public Utility Commission had been and will be placed at the disposal of the Attorney General's Office in making any appeal, he might see fit to make, under any circumstances.

I say this because the records clearly indicate a difference of opinion on that particular point, and I wish here to publicly make the statement that the situation that the gentleman from McKean indicated was only rumor or heresay was not correct rumor or hearsay.

ADDRESS BY MR. KANE

Mr. KANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to make a statement.

Mr. Speaker, the remarks of the gentleman from York, I feel require an answer, and I ask the indulgence of the House to make one.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am sorry that the gentleman from York seems to feel that there was ambiguity in my remarks on April 4th and there will be none in these.

I did not mention by name in my statement of April 4th Mr. Thomas Buchanan until the gentleman from York interrogated me and insisted upon knowing the purpose for which I was calling the committee meeting, which, if I may say, was none of his business.

Secondly, the remark that I made on April 4th was that I had heard this thing as hearsay and that I had asked the Attorney General if it were true that this gentleman was challenging his right to intervene and whether I was misinformed, which I don't think I was, and the Attorney General stated to me that he had come over there and questioned the right of the Attorney General to intervene in that proceeding.

If there is any correction to be made in the matter, it is not to be made by me, as I informed the House in response to the interrogation of the gentleman from York, if you will recall, exactly what transpired. I did not wish to name the gentleman particularly, but the gentleman from York insisted upon interrogation that I give the source of the information, and therefore, I gave it to him,—that I heard it on the street, I asked the Attorney General, and the Attorney General confirmed the statement.

I am very glad the gentleman from York brought out the attitude of the Commission as a whole as being what I represented it to be on April 4th, namely, that the Commission as a whole is opposed to an increase in anthracite freight rates at this time.

I am more than glad to learn that the whole Commission is now of one opinion and I submit to the House that perhaps my remarks on April 4th had something to do with the fact that the whole Commission is now behind the movement.

ADDRESS BY MR. HERBERT B. COHEN

Mr. HERBERT B. COHEN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would ask the gentleman from McKean to re-read the statement which he made. If he reads that statement carefully he will see that he did not indicate that the Attorney General was the source of those remarks. At the time that he made the statement, he stated that he made the statement, he stated that he had received that information from a high government official. He did not identify the Attorney General.

I am very much appreciative of the fact that the gentleman from McKean has indicated now that those remarks were made by the Attorney General, but to be rather blunt, I believe that the gentleman from McKean is mistaken as to the remarks, or his interpretation of the remarks of the Attorney General. I would request, in an effort to straighten out the record and to make proper presentation, that the gentleman confer with the Attorney General, show him the remarks that were spread upon the record and ask the Attorney General whether he desires to affirm or contradict those remarks. If the Attorney General desires to affirm them or to contradict them, I feel that in the cause of honest representation of all government affairs the gentleman from McKean should spread that affirmance or contradiction upon the record. I am quite willing to abide by the presentation that the Attorney General has to make on this particular subject. I would ask the gentleman to follow that particular course of action.

I further wish to read the following from the record of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission:

"I, Joseph P. Sheridan, Secretary of Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, do hereby certify, That the attached is a full, true and correct copy of an excerpt from the minutes of an executive meeting of the Commission held in Harrisburg, November 16, 1938, as same remains of record and on file in this office.

"In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to be affixed, this Third day of April, 1939."

"Commissioner Buchanan reported that the Interstate Commerce Commission had overruled the action of the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission refusing to allow certain increases in rates proposed by railroad companies operating in Pennsylvania for the intrastate transportation of anthracite coal.

"On the motion of Commissioner Buchanan, seconded by Commissioner Livingston and unanimously carried, the Law Bureau was directed to take an appeal from the decision of the Interstate Commerce Commission in which it allowed the increased rates to become effective despite the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission's refusal to permit them."

The effect of that clearly indicates that the minutes of the Public Utility Commission show that on motion of Thomas Buchanan, the appeal was authorized by the Commission unanimously.

I would request that the gentleman from McKean search not only the records but search the memory of the Attorney General, and if his statement was in error he should correct it.

ADDRESS BY MR. KANE

Mr. KANE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is with a great deal of regret that I drag out the time of adjournment of the House.

First of all, let me call to the attention of the gentleman from York, that the remarks referred to were not made on April first, but on March 29, 1939, on Page 1056 of the Legislative Journal, at least those remarks are the ones by which this particular matter was covered.

Mr. Speaker, I believe that the record speaks for itself. On Page 1056 of the Legislative Journal, on the right hand side of the page, if the gentleman of the House will refer to that Journal, they will find that it was with reluctance that I made any statement naming any person in connection with this matter, and I requested that the whole matter be considered in committee. It was upon the interrogation of the gentleman from York, who first asked the Chair for the limited right of interrogation, but he pursued the matter on cross examination and insisted I give the particular gentleman's name for the record. I think you will find there I said that the Attorney General made no statement on the subject, but upon asking him about it, he indicated that such was the case. I would have preferred that the whole matter be considered in Committee and I invited the gentleman from York, I believe, to attend the meeting if he cared to do so, which he did not do.

I might add, Mr. Speaker, that I will be only too glad, if I find in this case that the Attorney General did not consider that this question was raised by the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Buchanan, to so state to the House. However, I think that that should be answered by the persons involved and not debated here.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. SHEARER from the Committee on Education reported as amended, House Bill No. 487, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one thousand two hundred and sixteen, as added to the act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, (Pamphlet Laws 309), entitled "An act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, together with the provisions by which it shall be administered, and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same, and the method of collecting such revenue; and repealing all laws, general, special, or local, or any parts thereof, that are or may be inconsistent therewith," changing qualifications for sabbatical leaves of absence for certain employes of school districts.

STATEMENT BY MR. FREED

Mr. FREED asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I would like to call your attention to a notice that some of your people back home got last week, which reads as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania
Department of Public Assistance
Surplus Commodity Distribution Div.

We regret that because of a temporary shortage of Federal Surplus Food Commodities, there will be no distribution after April 8th until further notice.

Food will be distributed again as soon as available at which time you will receive notice to call for it. Please do not call until you receive such a notice.

J. FRED KURTZ,
Division Chief of Commodity Distribution.

The reason that I would like to bring this to the attention of you men and women of the House is that I believe we have a problem that should be watched very carefully. On last June 28th and 29th in our particular community, we had a similar notice. At a later date, in a paper dated July 1st, it was stated that there were food commodities being shipped into the Commonwealth and at the same time we took the surplus food that were on hand and took them to our public incinerator and burned them up. The rest of the foods, cabbages and different kinds of food that we thought were going to spoil were gotten rid of on the Fourth of July by feeding them to the hogs. At the same time, if you will take your papers you will see that a city so remote as the city of Cleveland had a soup line and many of those people were going hungry and starving.

Now, in our own communities we know that our people need food sorely; we know at the present time with the lay-offs by PWA and other projects that people are sup-osed to be living on thin air, and still when they tried to et food they claimed there was a shortage.

In our local districts, as in other communities, we have ur local supervisor of foods, who made the statement in nswer to a statement that I made at that time, as follows:

"George Jennings, manager of the warehouse located in the former Hahn Motor Co. plant in this city, which supplies surplus commodities to Lehigh, Northampton, Carbon, Monroe and Pike counties, said today that there are quantities of various products in the warehouse, but that it would be a waste of the taxpayers' money to distribute it in less than truckload quantities, which is the reason the goods are held to await supplementary shipments.

"The shortage, said Mr. Jennings, is only temporary, and will be resumed at once when new shipments are received."

I merely wish to call your attention to this so that when ou go back home I believe you will find in each of your ommunities that the people will be very glad to have you heck your local warehouses, and I think that you will nd they carry inventories of foodstuffs.

I checked our inventory on Monday at eleven o'clock, nd I found there was in the warehouse the following odstuffs:

2400 24½ lb. bags of flour
379 boxes 25 lb. each of raisins
414 bags 3 lbs. each of raisins
540 100 lb. bags of beans
715 3 lb bags of raisins
80 Bbls. 200 lbs. each dry milk
189 1 lb. bags of dry milk
1120 12¼ lb. bags of flour
1255 cases 14¾ oz. each of evaporated milk
Quite a quantity of 100 pound bags of corn meal.

I merely stress to you men and women that we have this very very important situation, and suggest that you check it and try to stop it. I believe there is one thing that we can do and that is to go in there and see that those particular people get whatever foodstuffs are available. As stated back in July, I do not think we should take these foodstuffs and feed them to the hogs, or take them to public incinerators and burn them, when our people are in need. I ask each and everyone of you when you get back home to check this situation.

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered he following prayer:

O God of Infinite Wisdom, understanding and Peace, may e be convinced that Thou dost govern in the affairs of en and that often Thou dost suffer the wickedness of en to praise Thee.

Tonight the entire world notes the gesture of peace our resident made to the two dictators of Europe and which ill likely remain only a gesture to them; yet we are ankful that this our great nation is committed to peace nd desires that peace be maintained abroad; and we pray at she may stand so committed in the future save in a me of aggression against her.

Help us to keep faith with out forefathers who de- ed "the blessings of liberty to themselves and their pos- ity," that this shall never cease to be.

God grant that our sacrifices for this perpetuity may be it as sacrificial as theirs in the original building should ls become necessary.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE

Mr. CAVALCANTE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. SIPE, on account of illness.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I have a few remarks to make, and they may perhaps be divided into three parts: a eulogy of the proposed City Charter, a personal appeal to my colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, to be reasonable and patient, and, finally, a eulogy of my City of Philadelphia. If you do not like this speech, you may blame a member on the Republican side, a man who is like Hodspur in the tale, who comes from the west, and whose name is Johnny Walker, and who is going strong always.

Senator Walker said to me, more than once, "Doc," he said, "How can you sit supine—or 'prone' whatever it was—and listen to the fair name of your city defamed? You never say a word." Do you suppose if I heard the fair name of my borough, Oakmont, defamed, I would not rise in opposition? Do you suppose if my colleague, Senator Geltz, heard the name of his township, Ingomar, defamed he would not rise? Do you suppose if the Senator from Blair County, Mr. Mallery, heard a word murmured against the railroad shops of Altoona he would not rise? If anything derogatory was said in this chamber against Butler County, would not Senator Sipe rise—and remain standing?

Now, in order to get the picture of Philadelphia in the correct focus, I have to go back to the days of William Penn. You may remember that William Penn sailed up the Deleware River one beautiful morning in October 1682 on the good ship Vulcan. He sat on the quarter deck with his Surveyor-General, Thomas Holmes, surveying the landscape and wondering just where he would build his model city of Philadelphia. It was high tide and so he did not see Delaware at all. He did not want to stop in what is now Delaware County, but he made straight for Philadelphia and landed there. He then instructed his Surveyor-General, Thomas Holmes, to be the first city planner and zoner and lay out the city; and, as a focal point, there would be a center square named for himself, Penn Square, and for side lines to the square there would be two board streets, the first being named Broad street and other named High street, later changed to Market street, and where these crossed was the center square, the Penn Square.

William Penn did not anticipate that in the future the people of Philadelphia would erect an enormous city hall to obliterate Penn Square, the only purpose, perhaps, being to prevent the people over at Broad Street Station from seeing the department store of John Wanamaker.

Now, William Penn was a very able man. You may not remember, but I am going to tell you that he was what is called in diplomatic circles persona grata to four different rulers in Great Britain. He began with Oliver Cromwell; he then came down to Charles the Second—James the Second was very intimate with Charles the Second—and to William and Mary. He was a very good diplomat, a very good founder of his providence.

He, however, never anticipated half the troubles we have had in modern days—it never occurred to William Penn that we would have to dig subways that, perhaps, did not lead anywhere; that we would build an airport named for S. Davis Wilson; that we would have—I will look at my notes, excuse me—what he did not anticipate in all his visions, what he did not anticipate, was the kind of politician that Philadelphia would produce in the future.

William Penn had in his pocket a charter which he called the Holy Experiment. He did not know for a moment that his experiment would be twisted by the modern politicians into an experiment "wholly theirs."

I make my first point, therefore, that the proposed City Charter is a modern Holy Experiment. After William Penn had comfortably settled himself—the Society of Friends always enjoyed good creature comforts; we know that—after he got settled he took up the question of the Indians. As you know, he met these Indians on the Delaware River at Shackamaxon; and there, under an enormous elm tree, was made a treaty—the only treaty that was never sworn to and the only treaty that was never broken. Ever since the pages of history have been dwelling upon his treaty with the Indians.

Now, we probably feel that the day of the Indians is past, but, owing to this City Charter—proposed City Charter—proposed by the leading citizens of Philadelphia, there has developed an opposition to the City charter, and even now, when you are in Senator Stevenson's committee room and look out the window, you may see fifty-one ward leaders from Philadelphia in fearful warpaint, led by two of the sachems from the neighboring tribe of Montgomery and if you put your ear close to the ground you will hear horrid war whoops against the City Charter. This is the new type of Indian that we are fighting.

But William Penn, you remember, won his charter and we expect to win our charter. Now, that brings me to the eulogy, and I have two duties to perform: one is to have a heart to heart talk in the open with my co-sponsor, colleague and coadjutor, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. I would like to request him, in all good faith, that he exercise patience and refrain from making a motion to discharge the committee. If he would kindly look over the committee carefully he would see it is the kind of committee ought never to be discharged. The Chairman, Senator Stevenson—I would not for the world discharge him from anything; and the Committee members themselves are made up of highminded, intelligent men sympathetic with the charter, whose minds are perfectly open on the question, and whose minds are open and not vacant.

When it comes to the eulogy of Philadelphia I will try to present briefly the balance sheet of assets and liabilities. The liabilities, I might say at once, are comprised in the political system which has prevailed. The assets are many, and, of course, in this short treatise I have no time to name them all; but, in a word, Philadelphia is a very desirable place to live. I can, perhaps, I express it the attitude of Philadelphians—in this way: as I went back to 1682 in the earlier part of this speech, I will now go back to 1800 and recall the fact that there was in Austria and Vienna at that time a man named Prince Matonack. He had more power than Mr. Roosevelt, which is saying a great deal. There was a celebrated musician in Vienna at that time, a man named Beethoven. Prince Matonack encouraged Beethoven to compose his symphonies, and he said, in brief, that as long as the people of Vienna were more interested in Beethoven's symphonies than in his politics, he had a clean sheet and was all right.

That is what we have in Philadelphia—we have the three amenities of life: we have cultural advantages, we have a climate which is even better than Altoona's—in my own backyard the 40th degree of latitude goes through—you can almost see it; and there are things that will grow in Philadelphia that will not grow in the South and not in the North, it is a happy medium.

You all know, of course, the assets of Philadelphia, such as Philadelphia Pepper Pot, Philadelphia Scrapple, Philadelphia Terrapin, Philadelphia Capon, Philadelphia Ice Cream. Those are mere material objects. When it comes to the spiritual side we have Connie Mack, we have Leopold Stokowski, we almost had Greta Garbo—and we expect to have Charles J. Margiotti.

Now, I do not want to keep this Senate, but I have heard so often slurs on Philadelphia, that Philadelphia is slow. I cannot tell you of the early libraries, medical schools, law schools we have there, but I do say we have the biggest park in the United States. Now, there is nothing slow about Fairmount Park, because I read in the morning's Inquirer that there are 10,000 people, Philadelphians, that sleep in this park. I do not mean in the day time, only at night. Also that during the past year there were 1829 motor vehicle accidents in this park. There have been, also, 17 suicides. Now, of course, that is a violent argument, but where you have 17 suicides in one park you can see the city is not slow, at any rate.

Then, I see in the same newspaper "Events of the Day" I have counted them, and there are 18 events of the day and this is washday, Monday. They are as follows:

EVENTS OF THE DAY

Exchange Club, luncheon, Adelphia Hotel, 12:15 p. m.
Philadelphia Playground and Recreation Association luncheon, Ritz-Carlton, 12:30 p. m.
Philadelphia Forum Board, luncheon, Bellevue-Stratford, 12:30 p. m.

Northern Medical Association, meeting, Majestic, 9 p. m.
Academy of Medicine and Allied Sciences, meeting, Citizens' Republican Club, 15th and Lombard sts., 9:30 p. m.

Now, those are eighteen events on Monday. What it will be on Friday I cannot predict.

In conclusion I also say we have a very fine award in Philadelphia, named the "Bok Award," amounting to 10,000; and I want to appeal to the Senate to vote "Aye" n this new Charter Bill. I am confident if the Senators ill all vote "Aye" on this bill the next Bok Award of 10,000 will be evenly divided between Senator Shapiro nd myself. It is very bad form to put the $10,000 in our pocket and therefore I want to hold out the hope to ie members of the Senate that if we win this $10,000 ere will be a series of social events in Harrisburg that ill make the past look pale. Members of both branches the Legislature will be given a series of parties whose ily limit will be $10,000; and therefore I ask you all vote "Aye" on this charter.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of rsonal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. hapiro, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in my remarks I shall very much briefer than the Senator from Philadelphia. he Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, forgets at one of the things we grow in Philadelphia better an any place else is our bonded indebtedness, it is one the largest you can find anywhere; we have no trouble owing that.

I want to state in connection with the charter that the proposed new charter for Philadelphia has been bottled up in the State Senate Committee on Municipal Government since January. For the committee to sentence the measure to two or more weeks on the shelf, without action one way or the other, is utterly without excuse.

The committee members have surely had plenty of time in the last three months to study the bill, to insert any amendments they believed desirable and to report it to the floor of the Senate for debate and action.

Keeping it out of circulation for two or more weeks is a summary political maneuver, as transparent as the given excuse that the committee wants to link consideration of the Philadelphia measure with a somewhat similar proposal affecting Pittsburgh. There is no need for such a tieup; if there were, it could be made just as easily now as in two weeks' time.

The charter bill concerns Philadelphia government solely, and Philadelphians have the right to vote upon its provisions. For legislators from outside this city to bottle it up for months and perhaps even to kill the measure without permitting popular referendum upon it is offensive to the whole principle of home rule.

The charter contains two highly controversial provisions, those for City Manager and for the election of Council by proportional representation. It also contains many features that are entirely non-controversial and wholly desirable. These reforms should not be lost to Philadelphia through the arbitrary tactics either of politicians opposed to City Management and P. R. or of enthusiasts committed to City Management and P. R. The charter proposal should neither be strangled to death in the Legislature nor brought before the voters in an all-or-nothing take-it-or-leave-it form.

To permit a charter referendum in Philadelphia the bill before the Senate Committee on Municipal Government must first be authorized by the Legislature. The committee should report the measure without further delay. Unless its members take the lid off the pickling vat Monday evening and place the bill on the floor of the Senate, the committee should be discharged from further consideration of the charter and the measure placed finally upon the way to passage.

That is not my statement, my words, those are from an editorial appearing on Friday, April 14, 1939 in a Republican newspaper in Philadelphia, the Philadelphia Inquirer. If I made those statements, I would be considered partisan.

I want to say now that I have no desire either to discharge the committee nor to embarrass its members. I am sincerely interested in this measure. I think it is one of the finest experiments that Philadelphia has had in years. I think it is more than an experiment, I think it a well-thought out program for city government.

I doubt very much whether it would appeal to all Philadelphians, but I am quite convinced that nothing in any form, in the way of a charter, could be worse than what the City of Philadelphia is laboring under today.

I don't know how many of you have noticed that our budget, which under the law must be made up not later than December 15th—this is April the 17th—and the budget has not yet been made. The Supreme Court has been asked to do something which, in my opinion, is in absolute contravention of the law, which is to change the date making the budget upon four or five different occasions.

Philadelphia policemen and firemen have been threatened weekly now since December 15 with the loss of their pay, or the withholding of their pay. Obligations of the city remain unpaid. The city is paying cash from hand to mouth and has no credit. No one can say, in view of these facts, that the government of the City of Philadelphia is something to be proud of.

I am frank to say that I would like to point out and say nice things about the City of Philadelphia, but they are so much overshadowed by this governmental system that I think it is hard to think of anything else except the conditions that exist in Philadelphia today and an effort to correct them. I said I am sincerely interested in having the charter brought out, and therefore I am not anxious to go through the motions of discharging the committee. I know at this time if I made a motion to discharge the committee it would merely be a gesture and might embarrass some of my colleagues for whom I have a great deal of respect. Frankly, Mr. President, the Senator from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, has my respect in the way he is handling this matter, this whole problem, and I do not believe the authority to report this bill out is his, but he is not the whole committee; I do not know what his own personal opinions are but from the way he has listened and looked into this matter and given it consideration, I am convinced he will give the bill fair treatment.

I spoke to the Senator from Clinton, Mr. Stevenson, before the meeting tonight, before my colleague from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, made his statement, and the Senator from Clinton gave me every assurance that an effort is going to be made tomorrow to have another meeting and come to some conclusion on this bill.

In view of that fact it would certainly be very unfair on my part and certainly an idle gesture and most probably encumber and complicate the matter more if I suggested such a motion now, to have this committee discharged, and I say to my colleagues—and also to Dr. Woodward—I was prepared to make such a motion—but I do not propose to make a motion now—simply because I said so does not mean I cannot change my mind—but in principle this bill should come out; in principle any motion to discharge the committee would be only a gesture if there is the slightest opportunity of the committee acting, favorably or unfavorably—so long as they are going to act. When I left the committee meeting last week I understood it was the deliberate intent to kill this bill, but now I have the assurance of the Senator from Clinton, Chairman Stevenson, that there will be an effort made to reach a solution of this problem, and therefore I will not make a motion now.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, this is a very important bill, affecting the bituminous mining industry in our state.

I have a number of telegrams here from my county and other counties asking for a public hearing on this bill. I trust my colleagues on the right will be kind enough to refer this bill back to committee for the purpose of holding a public hearing at a date to suit their convenience.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I would like to make a few remarks on this motion and this bill. I would like to appeal to my colleagues who come from the anthracite region to bear in mind that the coal miners of the anthracite region have had a miners' certificate bill for many years; and the provisions of that bill are on the statute books for anyone to examine.

I appeal to my colleagues on the other side from the anthracite regions to give the bituminous miners of Western Pennsylvania and Central Pennsylvania the same degree of protection and the same kind of miners' certificate law that they have in their own district for the protection of the anthracite miner.

On the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

MOTION TO RECOMMIT

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill 267, House Bill 449, be recommitted to the Committee on Public Utilities.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to the passage of this motion and I ask that it be defeated.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga tell his colleagues just what kind of meat he feeds on that all he needs to do is to get up and turn to his colleagues and say, "I ask my colleagues to vote this bill down," and like sheep, they follow.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Fayette, I am glad to report that the Republican members of the Senate caucused on this matter; and when I made this statement it was carrying out the directions of the caucus.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga advise how the Republican members of the caucus proposed to get around the provisions of the Constitution which require that executive appointments be confirmed by two-thirds of the members of the Senate?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, we have gone along so nicely here this evening that I hestitate to answer in full the question of the Senator from Fayette. I think the quickest answer would be to refer him to the minutes of the discussion in the House on this bill, when this bill passed the House on March 21st, where he will find a very able discussion by one of the authors of this bill as to its constitutionality.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I moved to refer this bill back to the Committee on Public Utilities because I do not believe that the Republicans are going to make an effort tomorrow, when this bill comes up on third reading, to pass the bill.

I therefore should like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga and have him answer me whether I am correct as to my understanding that when this bill comes up on final passage it will be disposed of and voted on?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, I presume that that will be decided upon tomorrow by the Senate. I have had a request from one of the Democratic Senators that the matter be placed on the postponed calendar until Monday, and I told him I would take it up with my colleagues and see if they were willing to do that.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I can say, of course, to the Senator from Tioga, that I am sure that request did not come from any of the Democratic members of the caucus; but I still would like to have an answer to my question, whether it is the intention of the floor leader of the Republican party to ask that this bill be acted upon finally tomorrow?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to the Senator's inquiry, I would advise him it will be acted on tomorrow unless somebody requests, with some material reason, that it be put over. I have had a reasonable request from one of the colleagues of the Senator from Philadelphia that the matter be placed on the postponed calendar until Monday, and I told him I thought my colleagues probably would not object, if there was a reasonable ground.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Now, Mr. President, I want to state of record that I do not believe that the Republican side of this house is going to make an effort to pass this bill tomorrow or Monday, and that was the reason I made the motion that this bill be recommitted. The vote on the two motions made here tonight concerning this bill is the basis for my statement.

This bill has been on the calendar for some time, and if we are going to have fair play I suggest that this bill be recommitted. That was the purpose of my motion. I am making this motion so that the Senator from Tioga may know finally that we are not at sea about what is going on.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I want to say, in a very brief answer to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, as one of the Republican sheep of the Senate, that in the final judgment day—and I appeal to Dr. Ruth to corroborate me—that the sheep stand a much better chance than the goats.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I saw the mouth of the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, moving, but I have not heard a word he said as yet.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I simply want to remind the Senator from Fayette that we glory in the epithet "dyed-in-the-wool-Republican."

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. SHAPIRO.

PRAYER

The Reverend Paul J. Henry, pastor Trinity Lutheran Church, Ephrata, offered the following prayer:

Let us pray. Eternal God, our Father, Searcher of men's hearts, help us to try to draw near to Thee in sincerity and truth.

Thou who hast ordained the state for the punishment of evil-doers and for the protection of them that do well, hear our petitions in behalf of all men, especially in behalf of these who have been called as stewards and administrators in our grand Commonwealth.

Strenghten and increase our admiration for honest dealing and clean thinking; suffer not our hatred of hypocrisy or pretense ever to diminish; make us to choose the harder right instead of the easier wrong, and never be content with the half-truth, when the whole can be won.

Endow us with the courage that is born of loyalty to all that is noble and worthy, that scorns to compromise with vice and injustice, and knows no fear when truth and right are in jeopardy. In our work and in our play, help us to keep ourselves physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight, that we may the better maintain the standards of our great Christian brotherhood.

Hear us in the name of our great friend, the Master of men, Jesus, the Christ. Amen.

SURVEY OF TRUCK TRAFFIC BY PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR POLICE

The SPEAKER laid before the House a communication from C. M. Wilhelm, Acting Commissioner, Pennsylvania Motor Police, submitting a survey made pursuant to Resolution No. 21, of the Special Session of 1938, which was read by the Clerk.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA
PENNSYLVANIA MOTOR POLICE

April 12, 1939

Honorable Ellwood J. Turner
Speaker, House of Representatives
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Sir:

I have the honor to submit the following brief summary supplementing the report of a traffic survey conducted by the Pennsylvania Motor Police Force to determine whether or not the adoption and enforcement of regulations to divert or prohibit heavy truck traffic upon designated highways on Sundays and Holidays would under existing conditions further substantially reduce motor vehicle accidents in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

This survey of traffic density and motor vehicle accident frequency experience on the highways of this Commonwealth was made by the Pennsylvania Motor Police pursuant to House of Representatives Resolution No. 21, Extraordinary Sessions of 1938.

The study made of accident frequency and truck traffic density on Sundays and Holidays, as related to other forms of vehicular traffic and highways capacity, brought together the research facilities of the Pennsylvania Motor Police, Department of Highways and the Department of Revenue.

The record of our motor vehicle accident experience indicates clearly that the frequency in which accidents involving trucks occur on Sundays and Holidays is not of sufficient intensity to warrant the enactment of laws prohibiting the movement of such vehicles over the public highways on these days. Accidents involving trucks are, we believe, usually of a more serious nature. There is no indication, however, of a heavy or alarming concentration of motor vehicle accidents involving trucks on any highway or at any particular location in the Commonwealth. This is particulary true of the Sunday accident experience where we found accidents involving trucks to be comparatively few. Of the Holiday accident frequency we have recorded, for the year 1938, that the greatest number of accidents involving trucks occurred on "Lincoln's Birthday." The official records of the Department of Highways indicate a negligible increase in traffic density on that day. Thus we find that the fact of increase or decrease in traffic density ordinarily expected on holidays does not always result in an accident frequency.

The result of surveys made to determine the effect and relationship of truck traffic from the viewpoint of density or heavy concentration in any particular area would seem to indicate that enforcement of some regulative measures would be conducive to the ultimate safety and convenience of the motoring public on highways where it has been found, by estimation of pleasure car and truck traffic density on Sundays and holidays, that traffic is sufficiently dense or the highway topography is of such a nature as to warrant such action. We believe such conditions to exist on the following highways:

Highway Route No. 1—Oxford Valley to Morrisville, Pennsylvania.

Highway Route No. 11—Hallstead to Scranton, Pennsylvania.

Highway Route No. 11—Amity Hall to Shamokin, Pennsylvania.

Highway Route Route No. 11—Scranton to West Nanticoke, Pennsylvania.

Highway Route No. 13—Bristol to Eddington, Pennslyvania.

Highway Route No. 13—Chester to Delaware-Pennsylvania State Line.

Highway Route No. 15—At a point between Milton and Muncy Stations No. 49 to Pennsylvania-New York State Line.

Highway Route No. 20—Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line to Pennsylvania-New York State Line.

Highway Route No. 22—Pennsylvania-New Jersey State Line to Pennsylvania-Ohio State Line.

Highway Route No. 122—Shamokin to Reading, Pennsylvania.

Highway Route No. 307—Scranton to Highway Route No. 611 near Daleville.

Highway Route No. 611—East Stroudsburg to Scranton, Pennsylvania.

The facts are that the heaviest concentration of traffic occurs on Sundays during the summer months of June, July, August and September, between the hours of 10:00 o'clock A. M. and 8:00 o'clock P. M. The heaviest concentration of traffic on holidays occurs on Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day. The remaining holidays have only a slight increase in traffic density. The heaviest in this group is Armistice Day and a below normal traffic flow on Christmas and New Year's Day.

In conclusion we wish to point out that the transportation of essential commodities and probable effect on traffic flow as related to capacity of highways not subjected to prohibitory regulations of this nature are important factors in the problem presented.

Yours truly,
C. M. WILHELM,
Acting Commissioner.

The Report was referred to the Committee on Motor Vehicles.

NAYS—2

Moser, F. S., Stank,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 822, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand twelve of the act approved the twenty-fourth day of June one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 1206) entitled "An act concerning townships of the first class amending revising consolidating and changing the law relating thereto" by permitting public roads to be less than thirty-three feet in width.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill to explain it, please.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, the purpose of the bill is to permit township commissioners to build roads less than thirty-three feet in width.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill if it is not a fact that at the present time the roads are already too narrow in the townships.

The SPEAKER. Does the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick?

Mr. MORAN. I do, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETHERICK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Bretherick, if it is not a fact that at the present time the roads are already too narrow in the townships.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, as far as the bill is concerned I think that is a matter entirely for the township commissioners. If they see fit, within their discretion, to build a road less than thirty-three feet in width, that is for them to determine. I think they ought to be given that discretionary right. There are cases where a road should be probably less than thirty-three feet in width.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor of this bill what is the required width of a road to allow two automobiles to pass with safety.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I think the Automobile Code requires that when cars are parked on both sides of the road there must be at least fifteen feet between those parked cars and I would say that sixteen feet is probably a reasonable width.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, probably thirty-three feet is all right, but I do not like to see these roads made too narrow. As it is now a lot of the roads look like cow paths to me. Some of these commissioners in the different townships would reduce the width of the roads to less than they are now. I don't think we ought to give them too much jurisdiction on reducing the width of the road.

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I think we have a right to assume that the township commissioners are going to build roads for the best interests of their constituents. It is only giving them a discretionary right to build a road less than thirty-three feet in width and I think they ought to have that right.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I know the road Mr. Bretherick has in mind. After all, Delaware county contributes plenty of money into the highway fund and I ask every member of the House to vote for this bill, because it is the neck of a bottle, especially for Philadelphians going to Washington at this time of the year to see the cherry blossoms.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Bretherick, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BRETHERICK. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BOHN. Mr. Speaker, as I understand this bill, it gives the Board of Commissioners in first class townships the right to declare a street or road less than thirty-three feet wide an accepted road. We have a situation up in my township where coal companies, as I understand the present law, if a road isn't thirty-three feet wide, cannot be compelled to maintain or repair that road. Now, as I understand the bill, it will correct this, is that right?

Mr. BRETHERICK. Mr. Speaker, I think so.

Mr. BOHN. Then I would ask the members of the House to favor this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

An Act defining the civil service status of certain persons employed by fire departments in cities of the second class.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the sponsor of this bill to explain it.

Mr. TRONZO. Mr. Speaker, for the benefit of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, back in 1935, due to an emergency in the city of Pittsburgh, firemen were employed provisionally. They served anywhere from a period of ninety days to almost seventeen months. Due to the fact that these firemen had not taken a civil service examination, they were forced to leave the employment of the department. Later on a number of these firemen or ex-firemen took the civil service examination and today twenty-seven of these men are in active service. All that they request is that the provisional time be added to their regular service time, and they are naturally justly entitled to that but the only way they can get that time is through an act of the Legislature. That is the reason this bill was introduced.

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. ATKINS.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 221, as follows:

An Act declaring prosecutions against defendants finally ended and terminated where the Grand Jury has returned bills of indictment ignoramus unless a re-submission is authorized by the court for certain reasons and providing the procedure and for appeals in such cases.

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 When the Grand Jury of any county of this Commonwealth has considered evidence in support of a bill of indictment for any one or more offenses alleged to have been committed against the laws of this Commonwealth by a defendant and has made to the court a return of ignoramus the case against the defendant charged with such offense or offenses shall be deemed finally ended and terminated unless the District Attorney of the county shall within thirty (30) days from the date such bill was ignored petition the court in which the prosecution is pending for authority to re-submit the bill of indictment to the same or a subsequent Grand Jury

Section 2 No such petition to re-submit a bill of indictment theretofore ignored shall be allowed by the court unless the District Attorney shall allege in his petition and shall prove by competent testimony that the bill of indictment was returned ignoramus by the Grand Jury by reason of oversight or fraud or mistake or that he has obtained additional evidence since the indictment was so returned which in his opinion would justify its resubmission to a grand jury

Section 3 Due notice of the filing of any such petition for authority to re-submit any such bill of indictment shall be given to the defendant charged with such offense or offenses in such manner as the court may determine

To any such petition the person charged with the offense or offenses may file an answer at any time before the day of hearing thereon fixed by the court

Section 4 After consideration of the petition and answer and hearing the testimony of the District Attorney and the defendant the court shall make such order allowing or dismissing the petition of the District Attorney as to it appears just and proper

Section 5 From any decision of the court allowing the petition of the District Attorney the defendant may appeal to the Supreme or Superior Court as in other cases

Section 6 This act shall apply to all pending prosecutions where a bill of indictment has been returned ignoramus but in such cases the petition to re-submit the bill of indictment may be presented at any time within thirty days from the effective date of this act and not thereafter

Section 7 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment.

On the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Cambria will state his parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, has this bill been on the postponed calendar for more than five days?

The SPEAKER. The Chair would advise the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Rose, that this bill has been on the calendar more than five days, today being the sixth day.

Mr. ROSE. Mr. Speaker, I yield to the gentleman from Armstrong, Mr. Atkins.

Mr. ATKINS. Mr. Speaker, I had an extension of five days granted on bill, if you will look at the record. I merely called it up because so many people have their speeches prepared. I wanted a little oratory tonight and I thought I might defend it.

The SPEAKER. The bill is not properly on the calendar.

RESOLUTION NO. 28

Mr. DALRYMPLE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time Resolution No. 28, Printer's No. 226.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1939.

Whereas, the President of the United States has publicly indicated a desire to have the Senate of the United States ratify a pending Treaty between the United States and the Dominion of Canada whereby the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Deep Waterways would be constructed; and

Whereas, the ratification of such a Treaty would seriously and dangerously affect the economic, industrial, agricultural, commercial and shipping interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by reason of a disruption in the manufacturing, mining and agricultural production of the Commonwealth, the transportation facilities of common carriers which traverse this Commonwealth and the port facilities of Erie and Philadelphia; and

Whereas, such Treaty if ratified would furthermore materially reduce the exportation of the combined manufacturing, mining and agricultural products of this Commonwealth and would encourage the importation of products manufactured in European countries under living conditions far below the standard maintained in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and below the wage standard paid by the industrial, mining and agricultural transportation and shipping interests of this Commonwealth and would result in heavy loss of employment and revenue and would prove to be a contributing factor to increased taxation; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly of Pennsylvania goes on record as opposed to ratification of the Treaty by the Senate of the United States and the opening of the Great Lakes—St. Lawrence Deep Waterways and requests the United States Senators to use their influence and vote against the ratification of the Treaty and the furtherance of this project; and be it further

Resolved, that the Senior United States Senator from Pennsylvania so record in the Congressional Record this body's opposition to ratification; and be it further

Resolved, that the Chief Clerk of this House immediately transmit a copy of this Resolution to each of the United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the St. Lawrence Waterway project has been a dream of American statesmanship for seventy-five years and a policy of the Republican party since the presidency of Warren Harding. The St. Lawrence Waterway project was actively discussed in the days of McKinley, tentatively proposed in the days of Theodore Roosevelt, and the beginning of the administration of Warren Harding was the answer of the Republican party to the problems of the great Nothwest and the Middle West. The St. Lawrence Waterway project was especially dear to the heart of Herbert Hoover, who found in the fulfillment of that project the manner and method and means of meeting the problems of the Mississippi valley.

Beginning with the days of Warren Harding and with the plans formed by Engineer Hoover there began a monumental contest between the leaders of the Republican party interested in the rehabilitation of agriculture and manufacture in the Northwest and the Middle West, and the power interests. At the present time the power interests have been able to stymie the St. Lawrence Waterway project in the halls of Congress, because this St. Lawrence Waterway project is not only a thoroughfare to the sea for the lake ports but when completed will develop an immense amount of power.

Now, I submit to the Republican members of this House that with the scanty knowledge, the small attention that they have given to this monumental question, that they are hardly in a position to advise the leadership of their own party, which has studied this question so soundly for more than a quarter of a century.

Mr. STOCKHAM. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support this resolution. This is a very momentous subject. It has been defeated by the United States Senate, and it carries in its provisions certain facts which I think are well worth knowing.

Canada has not been very friendly to the treaty itself. So far as getting the products of the great Northwest to the Atlantic Coast is concerned the New York Barge Canal, all within the bounds of the United States, on traffic which has to be moved through the Great Lakes, it will provide relief for the Northwest. Nine-tenths of this waterway is in a foreign country. Portions of the year the Atlantic coast harbor is ice-bound. Canadian labor and materials will be used almost exclusively in the construction of the waterway and payment for this waterway shall be made entirely by American money.

On the strength of those conditions the Senate of the United States rejected this compact several years ago. It seems rather inconsistent that our money should be spent for Canadian labor and materials on a waterway that runs through a foreign country almost exclusively, and following a course which the Canadians themselves do not believe practicable.

I ask the members of the House to support this resolution.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to support this resolution, because of the fact that I am very strongly opposed at this time to the St. Lawrence waterway. As the Speaker well knows we have already encountered situations in regard to New York State's water plans, Delaware River plans, and other plans, which were obsolete before they were commenced and that is exactly the situation or predicament, if you want to call it such, as to the St. Lawrence waterway. It has this logical effect, that every port on the Great Lakes' chain which could be reached by canals or rivers of equal depth would become a foreign port of entry, thereby greatly complicating the trouble with which the United States is now confronted.

It would have as a further effect, as the gentleman from Bucks has very capably pointed out, the setting up of a very extensive power business up there completely with American money, using Canadian labor and materials, which Canada does not need nor want and which American engineers do not find to be highly practical.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as far as the country is concerned, the building of the Canadian St. Lawrence waterway would only have one practical effect and that is, it would cause ruination to the ports of Erie, Cleveland, Buffalo, New York and Philadelphia, and build up the Canadian ports of Quebec, Montreal, Winnipeg and Port Arthur, thus enabling foreign steamers which run cheaper than American steamers from Canadian ports and American ports as well, to ship the products from the whole Great Lakes origin to Europe, thereby hastening the ultimate bankruptcy of American railroads which seems so well underway.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I might say that those of you who are interested in reemployment in this country at this time, should think twice before any movement or gesture of yours could be construed as an effort to put into foreign steamships the products which are now hauled by American railroad labor and keeping employees in the dockyards and ships in the ports of this state and our neighboring state of New York. It is quite important that this St. Lawrence waterway project, if it should ever come through, should be carefully planned so that it may have some utility, but it certainly cannot be undertaken at a terrific public expense at such time as American labor is so badly in need of jobs as at the present time.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, it is true that on a number of occasions the United States Senate has rejected the treaty, but if the gentleman will consult the record they will find that the treaty has invariably been rejected by the preponderance of Democratic votes.

I am somewhat familiar with this proposition but I do not intend to take up the time of the House to point out the mistakes the gentlemen have made in presenting the statements they have made. It happens that a number of years ago, during the presidency of Warren Harding, and later under Coolidge, I was a member of a publicity organization retained for the purpose of helping defeat the treaty. So I know how the treaty was defeated. I know to what extent the gentlemen who have spoken in favor of this resolution are in error, both as to their statements of policy and their statements of statistics.

I am not greatly concerned in this matter. If this House wishes to align itself with the Democratic party's position on the waterway proposition, a position that I personally am opposed to except at one period when as a hired man I was on the other side. Not being a hired man now I can express my convictions on the floor. But if the majority side wants to come across and accept the Democratic position on this waterway proposition it is quite all right with me.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the remarks of the gentleman from Cambria remind me of a story I once heard about a little girl whose father was always bragging about being a self-made man. So one day she said, "Daddy, are you really a self-made man?" He said, "Yes." She said, "Daddy, don't you think that God could have made a better job?"

I am wondering, Mr. Speaker, if in the days when the gentleman from Cambria was writing publicity as a paid agent, he did not write better publicity than he has given us now, because as a free lancer I do not think he is as familiar with facts as he used to be in the days when he was paid for writing publicity.

I want to say I am not only familiar with this treaty but I am also familiar with the St. Lawrence River. I go up there. It is not a bad place to fish, but as a route over which to ship American goods it does not compare with the Pennsylvania Railroad.

I want to say further, while I regret to agree with the gentleman's previous activities in defeating the treaty in behalf of the Democratic members of the Senate, I must say that the Democrats were precisely right at that time, as they have been right on many other occasions.

I want to call to the attention of the members of the House that I was late tonight by reason of the fact that I heard a very splendid speech over the radio by the President of the United States with regard to the crime situation.

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I am opposed to this resolution for the reason that I don't know anything about this treaty, and I believe that applies to at least a majority of the members of the House. We do not know what we are voting on.

I think we are making a mistake in trying to tell Congress what to do about our national problems and neglecting our own state problems. If we wish to show the people of Pennsylvania some sign of statesmanship, I think we should devote our time and energy to solving our own problems and letting Congress solve national problems. I ask the members of the House to vote "no" on this resolution.

Mr. HOYT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I do know just one thing about this treaty, and that is that President Roosevelt went up there and made a speech about a year ago, in which he offered to bear the full cost of this canal, and I am against it.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

The Speaker declares the noes appeared to have it.

Whereupon, a division was called for one hundred and six members having voted in the affirmative and twelve in the negative, and the question was determined in the affirmative and the resolution was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

ADDRESS BY MR. SHEARER

Mr. SHEARER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker, on February 28th I introduced into the House of Representatives Bill No. 311 the intent of which is to abolish tolls on toll bridges immediately on acquisition by the State. On the same date I introduced Bill No. 310 which provides for the to-be-issued toll bridge bonds to be paid in convenient installments from the Motor License Fund.

The Constitution of Pennsylvania has been amended by popular vote so that the State can issue up to ten million dollars worth of bonds for the specific purpose of freeing toll bridges. Six intrastate toll bridges come under this plan. The Market Street Bridge at Harrisburg was appraised by the Department of Highways at $1,501,000.

Clarks Ferry was appraised $475,000 over the Susquehanna.

Sunbury was appraised at $221,600 over the Susquehanna.

West Hickory was appraised at $25,000 over the Allegheny.

Walnut Street, Harrisburg, over the Susquehanna, under consideration.

Point Marion was appraised at $221,500 over the Monongahela.

Naturally the counties nearest the bridges are most affected by tolls and yet motorists from other parts of the State who travel any distance are obliged to pay some tolls. It costs a car owner who has to cross these toll bridge highways from Cumberland to Dauphin County thirty-six dollars a year minimum to get to daily work across the river or three times the cost of his license. Some truck owners pay between three and four hundred dollars a year for use of a mile of bridge highway.

There are almost ten thousand smaller bridges between municipalities on highway land routes in Pennsylvania on which no tolls are paid. In 1937 the earnings on the Market Street Bridge, Harrisburg, alone were reported at over four hundred thousand dollars.

Thirty thousand persons have signed petitions asking relief from tolls. The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association, The Harrisburg Motor Club affiliated with the A.A.A. and many other organizations are backing up these bills because of the economic loss to motorists and because they consider toll bridges as outmoded as toll gates.

By an expenditure of an average cost of about one hundred and ten thousand dollars a year from the Highway Fund (provided by motorists) there can be a saving to motorists of about seven hundred thousand dollars a year or nearly three millions of dollars during the present administration and a similar amount during future administrations.

We have been looking for economies during the present administration. This economy is not a party measure. Senator Kunkel (Democrat) of Dauphin County introduced my identical bills into the Senate last week.

Both Democrats and Republicans can win the approval of their constituents by getting behind these bills in committee and get them out on the floor of the House. Many bills have come out of committee that did not have the backing that Bills Nos. 310 and 311 have.

These toll bridges should not be considered a local matter. They should be the concern of the whole State just as distressed school districts, relief and flood control projects concern the whole State.

Motorists paid about eight hundred thousand dollars last year to use a few miles of bridge highways in Pennsylvania. Tolls on bridge highways on three routes are in effect taxes although paid to a private corporation. The passage of my bills would take a toll tax load off of hundreds of thousands of motorists in Pennsylvania by using a small percentage of the funds which the motorist supplies.

Completion of the Tunnel Highway from Pittsburgh to Carlisle next year will increase the flow of traffic over the bridges at Harrisburg which will interest more car and truck owners in free bridges.

I respectfully request that Bills Nos. 310 and 311 which have been in the Committee on Highways since February 28th be promptly acted upon.

Since administrative costs of essential functions of State government together with legitimate demands for relief have narrowed the opportunities for less taxes, the enactment of this type of legislation at the small expense involved would make our constituents feel that our legislative efforts have not been in vain.

ADDRESS BY MR. HOLLAND

Mr. HOLLAND asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the House.

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, three issues have been raised during the last week to which I believe this House should give much thought and consideration, as all three affect taxation in Pennsylvania.

These issues are as follows:

First: The declaration of the unconstitutionality of the five mill Franchise Tax on out-of-state corporations operating in Pennsylvania;

Second: The $3,500,000.00 owed to teachers in salaries;

Third: The petition of Indiana County, the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce and the Tri-State Authority to the Federal Government for reimbursement of taxes to local taxing units lost as a result of land acquisitions for flood control reservoirs.

The first issue not only concerns revenue to the state but should concern revenue to local municipalities. The paying of the five mill franchise tax on out-of-state corporations operating in Pennsylvania was fought by the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation. Now let us trace where the profits of a public utility of Pennsylvania go. The Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation is a subsidiary of the great J. P. Morgan interests of Wall Street. The Manufacturers Light, Heat and Power Company doing business in Western and Central Pennsylvania is a subsidiary of the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation, in other words, three bags are used to carry Pennsylvania money out of the State. The Columbia Gas and Electric Company operates in Pennsylvania through the Manufacturers Light, Heat and Power Company without paying to the local communities any real estate tax on its property, and is also exempt from any special franchise taxes for the use of our streets. Every subsidiary of the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation pays these taxes in every state in the United States where they operate—but under a Court decision rendered one hundred and fourteen years ago it still enjoys exemption on paying taxes on its real estate in Pennsylvania. Although the Columbia Gas and Electric Company who has saved millions of dollars from the non-payment of real estate taxes in Pennsylvania, is well acquainted with the fact that these taxes are paid by them in forty-seven states—it was this foreign corporation doing business in Pennsylvania who refused to pay their fair share of the cost of government in Pennsylvania.

I do not intend to make this a lengthy speech, as I would like to have the attention of every member of this House to this statement. For, if the Columbia Gas and Electric Company paid taxes on the real estate of its subsidiary and taxes for the use of the streets in the forty-seven states, it certainly could pay these taxes in Pennsylvania.

The second issue is the $3,600,000 back salaries that are owed to teachers. I will have to couple up this issue with the other two issues, especially since the Commissioners of Indiana County complain that dams and reservoirs, constructed by the Federal Government, should be taxed for local purposes. For in Indiana County there are millions of dollars worth of utility property which receives all the benefits derived from local governments but do not pay their share of the cost of that local government.

I am surprised that the Commissioners of Indiana County and the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce have not raised their voices before now in protest of the reservoirs, valued at millions and millions of dollars, owned by public utilities in Pennsylvania and which are exempt from taxation.

This House would not have to be worrying about raising money to help the distressed school districts if the utilities were paying their local taxes. According to the survey made, the schools of Pennsylvania would receive in School Taxes around $3,000,000.00—but again I want to point out to you that these $3,000,000 should be $9,000,000—as there is no authentic report with the exception of the one received from Allegheny County that gives the exact real estate holdings of the utilities.

To you from the rural districts, especially the 3rd and 4th Class School Districts, you would receive around $3,000,000 if you wiped out this Court decision made one hundred and fourteen years ago and passed legislation as introduced by me, which is now in the Utility Committee, granting your local municipality the power to tax this exempt property.

If ever three issues were raised that should convince every member of this House that utility property should be taxed, these three issues should do this very thing. The Columbia Gas and Electric Company refuses to cooperate with the State of Pennsylvania, but the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation does business in the state of Pennsylvania and places the burden for the cost of local government on the coal mines in Pennsylvania. These coal mine owners are not exempt from real estate taxes, although their industry employs thousands and thousands of Pennsylvania workers. Why even our schools have to pay the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation for the service that Columbia may sell them. And I think that the argument put forth by the Commissioners of Indiana County and the Chamber of Commerce of Pittsburgh should be applied to every utility company in the state, for if large areas of lands which the Federal Government is using for the storage of water to protect life and property in Pennsylvania should be taxed locally, then surely the dams of the water companies, the buildings of the telephone companies, of the gas companies, of the light companies, of the telegraph and railroad companies should be taxed—because they were not built for the protection of the people of Pennsylvania, but were built for profit—yes, and profit goes to great holding companies like the Columbia Gas and Electric Corporation controlled by the J. P. Morgan interests whose main offices are not even in our own State.

I appeal to the members of this House, if they are sincere in helping Pennsylvania industries—if they are sincere in protecting Pennsylvania industries, that we should pass House Bill No. 78 which is held in the Public Utility Committee and save our school system by demanding that utility property pay real estate taxes the same as every farmer—the same as every coal mine owner—the same as our industrial factories—and the same as every little home owner who today is not only carrying his burden of real estate taxes but is carrying the burden of the utilities of Pennsylvania as well.

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 18, 1939.

The Senate met at 2:00 o'clock, p. m.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Samuel S. Lewis) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. BURLEIGH A. PETERS, offered the following prayer:

Our Heavenly Father, howsoever grave may be the international situation or perplexing our internal problems, today the minds of millions of our citizens turn to the opening of the great national game of baseball clothed in its centennial garb. Surely we must learn to play a little while we work that the state of dullness may not o'ertake us nor rob us of efficient workmanship.

We would learn from this great game some of the lessons of the greater game of life. It is a terrible thing for us "to strike out" when so many fellow players are depending upon our ability "to hit safely." It is noble in us "to sacrifice" for the advancement of others for by so doing we will share in the final score of life when the "game's ended." We must play hard, fairly and honestly thereby we become "players" approved of God. If we make an "error" in the commission of a task we lessen the faith and confidence of others in our ability, yet, thank God, that confidence may be restored by the successful handling of similar or more difficult "chances" thereafter.

And, of course, Our Father, we all desire to reach "home base" safely, honestly and victoriously. It may be through the "sacrifice" play of others. It may be by our own hard work and continual practice or it may be our own ability "to hit for the circuit", but whatever it may be we pray that our game of life may be played fairly, honestly and in good sportmanship and that we reach "home" at last to receive the crown of righteousness, not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens. We pray in the name of the Perfect Player of all Life. Jesus Christ. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. OWLETT and Mr. GELDER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

THE PRESIDENT. The Senator from Philadelphia will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, at last night's session I suggested that the motion, which I had stated I would make to discharge the Committee on Municipal Government from further consideration of Bills No. 1, 2, and 3, would be deferred until after today's meeting of that Committee.

We had a public hearing of that Committee today; and we had some short discussion afterwards. I want to say very frankly to my colleagues in the Senate that I do not believe that the Committee will be able to get that bill out. I do not believe the Chairman will be able to get that bill out, no matter how much he may want to have it out.

I believe the organization on the other side has made up its mind to kill these bills. I hope I am wrong.

I have a co-sponsor to these bills, and, while I am very much worked-up about the situation, I feel I am under some obligations to him, and before I make my motion to discharge this Committee, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, my colleague and good friend, Dr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, with great pleasure.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in view of the statements I have just made and my assurance that I think the efforts that are being made in hearings before the Committee are to find reasons why the bills should be killed and not why it should be brought out; is the Senator from Philadelphia still requesting that we wait until next Tuesday, and does he still feel we still have a chance to get that Bok Award by the passage of this bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, forgetting for a time the Bok Award, I believe that for the time we should exercise patience, because I think that the Gods are on our side and public sentiment in Philadelphia is increasing every day in our favor.

I believe that even the Republican organization will see the light: but I think they are not prepared to do it today or this week, and I am perfectly willing to wait until Tuesday. They have pledged their honor that on Tuesday it will be settled.

Therefore, I hope my co-sponsor will not make a motion to discharge the Committee because, after all it will all come out in the wash, I think.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the responsibility for this bill rests not only with me but with my co-sponsor; and in view of that request I cannot make a motion. I therefore suggest to my co-sponsor, and I hope he will agree with me, that after Tuesday of next week I will be relieved of any such responsibility.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, following the example set by the senior Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, last night, I wish to state that this morning in nearly every newspaper of any circulation in this Commonwealth we found an article which substantially reads as follows:

"Governor James today challenged the Democratic minority in the State Senate to confirm his nominations for County Relief Boards and see if they are political."

Now, Mr. President, I think that it is not bad taste to call the attention of the Governor at this time, and the members of this Senate, to the fact that on February 6, 1939, we heard the same argument on the confirmation of the Secretary of Revenue.

On that date, because of that argument and because of the insistence of the majority members on the other side of this Senate that if we did not confirm the Secretary of Revenue that the financial administration of this State would be stymied or interferred with, this Senate by constitutional vote did confirm the Secretary of Revenue.

Up until today the people of this Commonwealth, who have the right to the services of a Secretary of Revenue, do not know whether they have a Secretary of Revenue or not. This week, or last week, in papers of general circulation in this State. I also found a very—could I say, beautiful picture—in which appeared some eminent citizens of this Commonwealth and also members of this Senate. Over the top of this picture in the newspaper, we found these words.

"Leaders discuss legislative situation."

Then, immediately under the picture we find these words.

"At a dinner given by Senator Franklin S. Edmonds (inset) legislative and Capitol leaders went over the general situation. The others are, left to right: Senator Charles H. Ealy, Walter J. Kress, Deputy Secretary of Revenue; Senator Fred T. Gelder, President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and William J. Hamilton, Jr., Philadelphia, Secretary of Revenue."

Now, Mr. President, in all fairness to the members of this Senate, and to the people of this Commonwealth who live outside of Philadelphia, we are entitled to know who is the Secretary of Revenue and whether or not he has complied with the Constitutional provision which requires him to take an oath before he assumes the duties of his office.

At this time I call upon my colleagues, Senator Ealy, from Somerset, and the gentleman from Susquehanna, Senator Gelder, and the gentleman from Montgomery, Senator Edmonds, to apprise their colleagues in this Senate whether Mr. Hamilton is the Secretary of Revenue and whether or not he has subscribed to the Constitutional oath prescribed by the Constitution.

HOUSE MESSAGES

GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO GO ON RECORD AS OPPOSED TO RATIFICATION OF A TREATY BETWEEN UNITED STATES AND CANADA WHEREBY THE GREAT LAKES-ST. LAWRENCE DEEP WATERWAYS WOULD BE CONSTRUCTED.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented an extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations.

In the House of Representatives, March 8, 1939.

Whereas, the President of the United States has publicly indicated a desire to have the Senate of the United States ratify a pending Treaty between the United States and the Dominion of Canada whereby the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Deep Waterways would be constructed; and

Whereas, the ratification of such a Treaty would seriously and dangerously affect the economic, industrial, agricultural, commercial and shipping interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania by reason of a disruption in the manufacturing mining and agricultural production of the Commonwealth, the transportation facilities of common carriers which traverse this Commonwealth and the port facilities of Erie and Philadelphia; and

Whereas, such Treaty if ratified would furthermore materially reduce the exportation of the combined manufacturing, mining and agricultural products of this Commonwealth and would encourage the importation of products manufactured in European countries under living conditions far below the standard maintained in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and below the wage standard paid by the industrial, mining and agricultural transportation and shipping interests of this Commonwealth and would result in heavy loss of employment and revenue and would prove to be a contributing factor to increased taxation; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur) That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania goes on record as opposed to ratification of the Treaty by the Senate of the United States and the opening of the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Deep Waterways and requests the United States Senators to use their influence and vote against the ratification of the Treaty and the furtherance of this project; and be it further

Resolved, That the Senior United States Senator from Pennsylvania so record in the Congressional Record this body's opposition to ratification; and be it further

Resolved, that the Chief Clerk of this House immediately transmit a copy of this Resolution to each of the United States Senators from Pennsylvania.

In the Senate, March 28, 1939.

Whereas, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are keenly aware of the sad plight of thousands of families residing in the anthracite coal region of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, it is their belief that the State and Federal Government should rehabilitate and revitalize the anthracite coal industry which has helped make this Commonwealth great, and thereby relieve the distress of many anthracite miners and their families; and

Whereas, the Members of the General Assembly are appreciative of the fact that rehabilitation of the anthracite coal industry will not only provide sustenance for many destitute families, but will generally revive all of industrial and agricultural Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation, if necessary, to recreate gainful employment in the anthracite coal fields; and be it further

Resolved, That the General Assembly of Pennsylvania review the study of the anthracite coal problem and if in their opinion legislation is necessary for the rehabilitation of the industry, give due and proper consideration to same at the present session of the Legislature.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have listened patiently to the reports of committees at this time and I have not heard the Committee on Welfare report out Senate Bill No. 47.

I would like at this time, briefly, to give my colleagues some knowledge concerning this bill, if they will bear with me.

On the sixth day of February I introduced Senate Bill No. 47, which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary General. They referred the bill back to the Senate and we re-referred it to the Committee on Welfare.

I have been informed that the Committee on Welfare met and discussed this bill, and I have not heard the bill being reported. This bill, Mr. President, is one of the most important bills touching the pulse of the people at this time.

This bill relates to aged persons of our State applying for assistance. The present law states that any person at the age of seventy that is found to be indigent can receive assistance, providing, of course, that he or she will first assign his personal property to the Government for repayment of any money that he or she may receive.

Senate Bill No. 47 takes out that clause of providing a bond for repaying money to this Government. The time has come when I believe we should forget about politics. If my name on that bill is keeping it from coming out, I ask to remove my name. This is not a personal issue; this is not a partisian measure; it is a piece of humane legislation.

What does it mean? It means that today, under our present law, the pioneers of this State, the persons that have settled here, that were born here, that were naturalized here, the same people that helped to build up our communities, our schools, our churches, persons who are taking an active part in civic affairs, are today, through no fault of their own, found to be indigent. They only have a few years to live. They must be seventy years of age. They must be found indigent. They are in the sunset of life; probably they have two, three or four years to live; and we say to them, "Mr. Citizen, because you have been aggressive, because you have helped to build our county, because you have helped to build our community, and because you have built yourself a little home, you must sign this bond and give us that home."

At the same time we are telling the drone, the man that never cared, the man that possibly never did anything for anyone, not even for himself—we say, "Walk up, Mr. Citizens, we will give you a check and ask nothing back in return."

Certainly, I think such an act should be eliminated and I present Senate Bill No. 47 trusting and hoping that my colleagues to the right, and my own colleagues here, would surely be humane enough to study such a measure and give the people of Pennsylvania, both Democrats and Republicans, a new lease on life. Let them live, let them have that property, and let them hand it down to their young ones that they leave behind.

I am sorry to say, Mr. President, that up until this present time, and at this late time of the Session, the Committee on Welfare has failed to report out such an important measure.

Therefore, Mr. President, I offer the following motion.

I MOVE THAT THE COMMITTEE ON WELFARE BE DISCHARGED FROM FURTHER CONSIDERATION ON SENATE BILL NO. 47

Mr. President, I ask for the discharge of this Committee so that a humane committee may act on this bill.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the Senator from Cambria.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. Presidlent, I should like to ask the Senator from Cambria if I understood him correctly when he said that this bill applied to old age pensioners, solely.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, people receiving old age assistance, yes.

Mr. OWLETT. I should like to ask the Senator whether he has examined the Act to find out whether this amendment will be permitted under the Federal law.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I see no reason why it should not be permitted.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, my understanding is that the Federal Grant which gives Pennsylvania a portion of the money paid out for old-age assistance requires the State, in administering the Act, to give assistance only to aged persons who are in need of such assistance; and has certain provisions with reference to the reimbursement of the State for the money paid out to those people.

It seems to me that for this Senate to even consider discharging the Committee on a bill which might lose to the Commonwealth millions of dollars, if enacted, until we know certainly, at least, that it would not interfere with the Federal grant which pays part of the old-age assistance, would be the height of folly.

Now, I understand, Mr. President, that this Committee on Welfare is giving very earnest and careful consideration to all these problems; and certainly at this stage of procedure on this Legislation the Committee should not be discharged from further consideration of this matter.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in order to further enlighten my colleague from Tioga, I wish to state that in the 1935 Session of the State Legislature, and in the 1937 Session, we passed an amendment to the Constitution and, if you recall, in the fall of 1936—in effect, in 1935—I helped to carry through that amendment—in 1937, rather, and in the fall of 1937 the amendment was placed on the ballot.

You recall very clearly that we had five amendments on our bill and this was Amendment No. 3, and the people of the State of Pennsylvania voted, by referendum, to legalize the payment of old-age assistance. Therefore, the Federal Government cannot in any way stop the payment of this assistance by removing this part of the Act.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, what the Senator from Cambria has said with reference to the fact that the people of Pennsylvania amended the Constitution to permit old-age assistance, is, of course, correct. I was in the legislature and helped to pass the first Old-Age Assistance Act that we adopted after that amendment.

When the Senator states the Federal Government cannot lay a condition on this State at this stage, he certainly is under a misapprehension as to its provisions; if the State wanted to pay all the money itself he is, undoubtedly, correct. We can make any conditions we wish with reference to old-age assistance; but when the Federal Government says that if the State does this and so, we will give you so much money, and that is what we have done, and it is certainly obvious that we cannot pay old-age assistance without complying with provisions of the Federal Government.

I introduced, just a short time ago, a bill prepared by the Order of Eagles, which has probably made a greater study of this problem than any group in the State; and if the Senator will examine this Act he will find, in order to comply with the provisions of the Federal Government, they had to insert a provision that the Board may require people receiving old-age assistance to turn over their property to the State to be administered in their behalf, so that the State and Federal government will receive a return of this money.

Now, the object of the Senator's motion, I think many of us sympathize with. We all agree with much that the Senator has said; but we must look at this thing in a different manner.

I repeat that the Senator from Cambria at this time should not move to discharge the Committee in a matter as important as this.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I understood the Senator from Tioga to say the Federal law sets forth that the Federal Government "may" ask for the re-reinstatement of the property or "shall."

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the exact wording of the Federal Act I am not familiar with; but, I do know that the Act, the Federal Act, requires a showing of need in order to obtain assistance and provides for refund and provides that there must be a means for the refund of the money if the recipient of that old-age assistance has any property.

I, therefore repeat, unless this has been thoroughly studied, to be sure it complies with the Federal Act this State certainly cannot afford to pass this bill.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, it is true, as the Senator from Tioga stated, that there first must be a need; secondly, the present Act says they must be found indigent, and the word "indigent" means there must be a need. But I have checked the Federal Act and I find no provision whatsoever where it states that they must be more than indigent.

There is no such part in the Federal Act, Mr. President; and if there is I should like to have someone point it out to me, stating that the property of an indigent must first be assigned to the Government for repayment of any moneys received.

It is true, as the Senator from Tioga has stated, there must be a need, but the word "indigent" takes care of that; and I am trying to put this person, that has acquired a little property, on the same basis as the person who has nothing. Certainly they are entitled to it.

I say, this is not a partisan measure. I would like this Committee to reconsider this matter. I will withdraw my motion to discharge the Committee if the Committee will bring the bill out on the floor and keep it on the calendar until such time as we can prove to ourselves whether or not the Federal Act in any way is inconsistent with the laws of our State.

If the Chairman of the Committee on Welfare will agree to bring this bill out, I shall be glad to withdraw my motion and await further action. I wish to be fair in this matter.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President,

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I yield to the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, in 1935 or 1937, I believe it was, the Senator from Cambria introduced this same bill, or a similar bill, and the members of this Senate will recall that I supported that measure. I did so because I felt that those people who are inclined to be thrifty, who are willing to deny themselves of certain luxuries anyone would naturally want to enjoy, but would prefer to provide a home, that those people should be preferred when we came to dispense relief.

We all know that you cannot eat a home; but when this bill was referred to the Judiciary General Committee, and it was pointed out by a member of that committee that the share that the Federal Government contributes towards relief would not be given them—if the people who had property were not required first to make use of that property to keep themselves—then it was the consensus of that committee on Judiciary General that before reporting out the bill, the basis of which would be declared unconstitutional, it was decided in that committee that further study should be given to the bill.

I want to state that I am still in accord with the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska; that I would like to see something done for those people, so that they would not have to sacrifice their homes; and if anything can be worked out I will certainly support that measure; but I would not be in favor of discharging the committee in view of the serious question as to the constitutionality of the act.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, no doubt my colleagues recall that during the 1937 session I sponsored the same measure, and, if I recall correctly, the Republicans and Democrats voted for that measure. I recall very clearly when the vote was being taken, when back of the rail my friend DeSchweinitz, at that time head of the Department of Public Assistance, walked up and down and said, "Well, we will kill this bill in the House."

I blamed the Democratic party then for killing that bill, and today I will accuse the Republican party the same way.

I am more-or-less independent. This is not a partisan measure and I say that this bill haunted the Democratic party up until this present time and I say to you gentlemen now it will haunt you for a great many years.

Now, Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Blair, Mr. Mallery.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Blair permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, can the Senator from Blair point out specifically any part of the Act of the Federal Government wherein it is stated that properties must first be assigned to the government, the Federal Government, for repayment of any moneys received for assistance? Does the Senator from Blair know of any part of the act stating that?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I as going to suggest that we should determine from someone in authority in the Federal Government whether or not the State of Pennsylvania would forfeit the money to which, under the present set-up, the Commonwealth is entitled. It seems to me that that question could be determined, possibly, by inquiring of proper authority in Washington and end this question.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in reply to the remarks of the Senator from Blair, I have conferred with a number of persons and I have been told by all of them that no part of the Act states they must comply with that request. Can the Senator from Blair show me where I am wrong?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, may I inquire from whom the Senator from Cambria obtained that information?

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I have obtained that information from a number of my friends who have studied the Act. I should like to ask the Senator from Blair, or anyone else on that side of the house or on this side of the house, whether they have any knowledge of any part of the Act, and where I can find it, stating that I am wrong. If I am wrong, I will gladly yield.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, it seems to me inquiry might be made of the Attorney General of the United States, or someone in authority, interpreting that law, as to whether or not, if we pass this bill, we might forfeit the State's right.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, is it not a fact that the Senator from Blair is just assuming that that part is stated in the Act and that he has no knowledge of that; is that correct?

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, it was defeated in 1937 for that reason, as I understand it.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I am asking the Senator from Blair whether he is just assuming that that part is in the act or whether or not he really knows. I would suggest that he answer yes or no.

Mr. MALLERY. Mr. President, I do not know. That is the reason why I should like to have further information.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask the entire membership of the Senate—I am honest and sincere about this—whether anyone in this body has any knowledge, including yourself—has any knowledge of any part of the Act stating that I am wrong in my understanding. Does anyone in the Senate have any knowledge of the Federal Act? If not, Mr. President, certainly there must be some other reason for trying to delay this bill.

I would like to ask the Chairman of the Committee on Welfare whether or not he would be willing to reconsider his actions on this bill again.

The PRESIDENT. The Chairman of that Committee is not in his seat at the present time.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, might I explain, in the absence of my colleague, the chairman? I asked the Chairman if he would call up Secretary Russell, on the telephone, and ask Secretary Russell whether he was acting under authority of an Act of Assembly or by rule and regulation of his Department. By the way, there is the Senator from Northumberland now.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Deitrick.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Northumberland whether or not he asked Secretary Russell whether this measure could have the clause removed that we have spoken of this afternoon? Did he ask him whether or not the property of indigent persons could legally be exempted and payment still continued for aged persons.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I did.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, what did he say?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, he said he did not think there was anything in the law to keep them from doing that.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I thought I was right for once. There is nothing in the law that pertains to that act. Now, Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Northumberland.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, since the Senator from Northumberland is apparently convinced now that the Act in no way could be unconstitutional, if I withdrew my motion to discharge this committee, would the Chairman of the Committee once again be willing to reconsider this measure in committee?

Mr. DEITRICK. Personally, Mr. President, I would be glad to, yes.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, in view of the attitude of the Senator from Northumberland, I desire at this time to withdraw my motion to discharge this committee.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I have seconded that motion, and I am not so sure that I am in full accord with the Senator from Cambria. I want to be broad-minded enough to feel that the gentleman from Northumberland, Dr. Deitrick, fully appreciates that he cannot speak for the whole committee.

In addition to being the seconder of the motion, I also, by accident or otherwise, happen to be a member of that committee and engaged in a discussion and consideration of this bill in committee. I think that I appreciate fully the mental temperament of the members of that committee on this most important measure.

We had a hard time here to have anything to say on this motion and on the bill. I am amazed that as many intelligent members of this Senate—I say that I am amazed in view of the number of intelligent attorneys that are sitting here in this room, that we must go to a man like Mr. Russell to ask him what the law might be.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, there is now nothing before the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules there is a motion before the Senate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the matter before the Senate is the withdrawal of a motion, and the Senator from Fayette is not discussing that motion.

The PRESIDENT. The seconder did not join in the request to withdraw.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I am amazed at the gentleman from Tioga, as brilliant a lawyer as he is, that he should stand on the floor of this Senate and try to confuse our minds on what might be the Federal provisions of this most vital question.

I say plainly, and looking squarely in the face of the gentleman from Tioga, that he knows the answer to the question; that he has been a member of this Senate and in committees now for more than four years—several sessions—and that same problem has come up and he knows the answer.

He knows that the only thing the Federal side of this problem requires is that the applicant for old age assistance shall be needy and indigent and if he is a proper case—if the applicant is indigent—if there is need, he is entitled to that relief; and this bill that we are trying to bring to the floor of this Senate, by discharging this committee deals with a very humane, a very honest problem, and that problem is this: after this mighty State of Pennsylvania, with its army of social welfare workers, trained in the art of social welfare, have gone to the home of an aged man or woman and gone into the private life and pedigree of that old man or woman and it is determined that they are indigent and entitled to receive old age assistance—whether this mighty Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will turn around then and be an Indian giver and take it back from them.

I say, if we need any regulation, if we need any legislation here on this problem, it is an Act of Assembly making it unlawful for these flat-wheels of public assistance, these professional social welfare workers, from giving relief or old age assistance to people who are not entitled to it; but if they are entitled to it and we give it to them, then we should not take it back from them. I am amazed at the subtle arguments, by the camouflage of the other side. They do not want to come to grips with this problem on the floor of this Senate; they do not want the people to get the state of their minds; they do not want to come out and show the people where they stand on this question.

You are trying to evade the question and I say, Mr. President, that I am very reluctant to withdraw my second to that motion, because I think that the people of this Commonwealth are entitled to know where the members from the other side stand on this problem, and I am just as positive and sure as I stand before them, that the Committee on Welfare—the majority members on that committee—are opposed to the principle of that bill; and I say and I accuse the gentleman from Tioga, from the floor of this Senate, that he, himself, is opposed to the principle of that bill. If he is not opposed to it, let him then vote for the discharge of this committee.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, as a layman, I should like to rise to uphold a rule of law. I am in favor of a "rule of law"—I am not in favor of a "rule of lawyers."

And now, it seems to me that the Senator from Fayette has missed the point, the big point involved, which in my mind is a question of administrative law—what is called the new despotism, or, in one word, "bureaucracy."

The Chairman of the Committee telephoned Secretary Russell and asked him to consider the question, as to whether his ruling was the result of an act of Assembly, or whether it was an administrative order of his Department. The answer was that this was an administrative order from Secretary Russell's department.

That is the point, to my mind. I do not care whether it is bad or good, I am against administrative orders, any order from a bureaucrat, or from a bureaucracy. If the members of the Senate would read the book called "The New Despotism" they will agree with me—it is a book wriiten by Dean Landis of the Harvard Law School, and Dean Landis has brought out about a hundred of these bureaus in Washington and they are fast becoming a law to themselves.

I consider this question a sample of that evil and, therefore, I will vote against an administrative order of Secretary Russell or any other member of the administration. If it is a violation or not, according to an act of Assembly, I think it is high time the members of the General Assembly should assert their rights. I don't care whether it is wrong or right.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, will the Senator from Philadelphia tell us how we can vote for or against that proposition, if the bill is not brought to the floor of the Senate?

Mr. WOODWARD. Well, Mr. President, in the Committee meeting today there were a number of the members of the Committee who were impressed with the same idea; that it is not right for any member of any bureau to issue an order which is not in accord with the Act of the General Assembly.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I should like to enlighten the Senator from Philadelphia on this bill, that we have two problems before us that are almost identical. One of them is the requirement by the Department of Public Welfare requiring relief recipients to sign a bond; and the other is the problem involved in the bill that the Committee now holds, which Committee we are trying to discharge from further consideration.

This bill is not the same question that the Senator from Philadelphia has in mind. This is not an administrative order; but we are trying to change an act of Assembly which gives the Department or the State the power to take the property of indigent people, after they are dead—after they are gone; and that is the problem that is involved here.

I agree fully with the gentleman from Philadelphia that he himself has publicly said—or at least I heard him state in committee—that he is opposed to the order made by Mr. Russell requiring this five thousand-dollar judgment note from the recipient. But I want to summarize again—and I am emphasizing it, so that the gentleman from Philadelphia may understand, that the question we are arguing about in this motion is an Act of Assembly and not an administrative order.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I want to say that I am not afraid to state my position on this bill. This bill is not for the relief of old people who have a home or a certain amount of property. The bill as amended would tend to give the property of these people, which should be spent for their support, to their children—in many cases worthless sons and daughters who ought to support their parents, but are not willing to do so.

I would like to ask a little latitude to express my view on this whole subject a little more clearly.

If this country were able to wipe out the past six years of misgovernment in State and Nation and to start over again at the time we abandoned the basic rules of thrift and self-reliance and financial stability for foolish experimentation and the more abundant life, how much better we would be both in government stability and in individual moral fiber.

While we may cast much blame on the leaders who permitted and who still continue to permit a vast orgy of wasteful spending which must inevitably lead to financial chaos, yet the rank and file of the people cannot excuse themselves from the responsibility for our dire plight. Government subsidies in so many forms are demanded; government regulation and inspection seem to be insisted upon. The government is being called upon to remedy not only all kinds of wrongs but also all kinds of inconveniences.

We have wasted untold sums of money in buildings that are unnecessary and too costly; in the administration of relief and the various forms of work relief; in subsidies which have given false temporary aid but which have weakened the vitality of the industry or business. We have encouraged idleness and are destroying self-reliance and initiative.

The Federal government unfortunately has the power to borrow unlimited sums of money for its extravagances. It has encroached upon the taxing power of the states and to prevent criticism it has made grants to the states of Federal funds. Pennsylvania has felt forced to accede to the demands of the Federal government for otherwise moneys which should remain with us are taken away.

And what the Federal government does is of vital interest to us for the collapse of its credit results in financial chaos everywhere. If it is supposed that the Congress or the Legislature can pass a few laws which will solve our problems we are doomed to disappointment. We must suffer the penalty for our excesses and we should soon begin to realize that fact. To temporize is merely to put off the day of reckoning.

It is sad indeed that the lessons of history and the warnings of the prophets alike go unheeded.

I hold in my hand a little booklet by Hon. Andrew D. White, one time President of Cornell University, and also formerly Ambassador to Germany. It is called "Fiat Money Inflation in France"—during the French Revolution. I wish that all members of Congress and the people's representatives in government everywhere in the United States might read it.

From the foreword to the book by John Mackay of Toronto, Canada, I quote, "There are limitations to the powers of governments and of peoples that inhere in the constitution of things, and that neither despotisms nor democracies can overcome.

"Legislatures are as powerless to abrogate moral and economic laws as they are to abrogate physical laws. They cannot convert wrong into right nor divorce effect from cause, either by parliamentary majorities, or by untiy of supporting public opinion. The penalties of such legislative folly will always be exacted by inexorable time. While these propositions may be regarded as mere commonplaces, and while they are acknowledged in a general way, they are in effect denied by many of the legislative experiments and the tendencies of public opinion of the present day. The story, therefore, of the colossal folly of France in the closing part of the eighteenth century and its terrible fruits, is full of instruction for all men who think upon the problems of our own time."

I mention this tragic story of French finances which failed to make any impression on the rulers of post-war Germany and which our own government does not heed, for we in Pennsylvania have been shutting our eyes to the painful truth that spending beyond our income means bankruptcy.

In our homes, in our schools, arithmetic seems to be regarded as an almost unnecessary branch of study. To the contrary I quote, as once before, from the old philosopher "arithmetic is the first of the sciences and the mother of safety."

The answer to our problem is not easy. We can put all business in the hands of the State, give up our independence in thought and action, and become more regimented animals to work for a living as in the totalitarian states—and that living will be much inferior to that to which we have been accustomed; or we can cut out many governmental functions which are not absolutely necessary, and we can put out relief assistance on a basis of actual need and under a simplified system where the overhead will be at a minimum. The labor groups will have to adopt a more helpful policy toward business; some social welfare workers will have to find ways to make money instead of spending it; private charity will have to be encouraged instead of being discouraged by harsh legislation, and more consideration will have to be given in the laws to property rights and business enterprises.

The Governor is calling upon each Secretary to simplify the work of his department as much as possible and to coordinate with other departments to prevent duplications. I think with more study we can repeal some laws which impose duties not essential. We can get along with less government. Some bills have been introduced for that purpose in this session.

As to relief, my position has always been that the present system must be changed before we can lessen the tremendous burden which it imposes, and restore confidence in the people. Plutarch, the Greek historian said, about 1800 years ago, "The man who first ruined the Roman people was he who first gave them treats and gratuities."

John Smith, who founded the first English colony in America, knew the truth of that statement. He established the rule that he who would not work should not eat. The man who is unwilling to do an honest day's work for his support is doing an injustice to all those who are forced to work to keep him in idleness.

It seems to me that it is time for those in authority to express in no uncertain terms that our joy ride in extravagant relief expenditures is over, and that the position of the man on relief shall not be better than he who works for a living.

The imposition of the so-called Social Security tax for Unemployment Compensation has crippled many smaller businesses, and driven some to bankruptcy. The method of payment of the compensation under the present law is in many cases unjust and should be changed in many particulars if we can do so.

We hear frequently the expression "human rights against property rights." This is very inaccurate. Of course the right of life and liberty and health is higher than the right of property. But the right to own and possess goods is a "human" right, one of the dearest and noblest. It is set forth in the first section of the first article of our State Constitution, and when we fail to protect and defend that right we are taking a big step back toward the jungle.

I am mentioning these things because it seems to me that before we can do much good by passing laws the people of our Commonwealth must get the right attitude toward government. We must return to the old spirit of enterprise, of self-reliance. We must give encouragement to those who have initiative and business skill. We must learn the truth so well expressed by President Grover Cleveland—"The people should support the government, not the government the people."

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I am very much interested in this filing of a bond, but I must admit I am very much confused as to the exact status of the bill as it is now.

I listened to the Senator from Somerset delivering one of those typical Hamilton Fish resistance speeches and I almost closed my eyes and thought I was listening to Herbert Hoover in 1929 or in 1930. I dismiss some of his remarks, very briefly, by saying we do not parallel our present political situation in this country with anything in the foreign countries, so we might very much profit by not paralleling our financial status with anything that is foreign or that savors of foreign extraction today.

What I should like to know, to become practical, if the Chairman of the Welfare Committee will permit himself to be interrogated, I would like him to find out the present situation on this bill.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Northumberland permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. MUNDY: Mr. President, I understand that bill is now in the Committee on Welfare—the bill under discussion.

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, it is.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, has that bill been definitely acted upon?

Mr. DEITRICK. Mr. President, action has been postponed by the Committee.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, as the Chairman of that Committee, the Senator from Northumberland has the right, a proper right, to assure us that that bill will be reconsidered.

Mr. DEITRICK. It will be, Mr. President, yes.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I understand that the Senator from Northumberland has given the Senate that assurance.

Mr. DIETRICK. Mr. President, I have.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, in view of the fact that we all have confidence in the statement of the Senator from Northumberland, I think the situation, as it presents itself, is to wait until this Committee reconsiders this bill and reports out its action before we go into any serious discussions of a definite reason or a definite thing.

Several members here have risen on the floor and said they have ideas different from some of those of the speakers I heard; and it is only fair to give them a chance to reconsider the bill before we further discuss it.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, with all due respect to the enthusiasm and the position of the Senator from Cambria, I think his position, in a great measure, is correct; but I want to point out that this bill requires more consideration. There is a confusion of ideas. The law, as it exists today, provides that the property of persons who receive relief is liable for the money.

The Department in Harrisburg, the Department of Public Assistance, without any law, has added a rule which provides, in addition to that Act, that section—it requires that those people—their property, is liable for relief. Having property, they must file a bond, give security; and that bond contains, I assume, a confession of judgment; and, therefore, can be entered of record and be proceeded upon.

Now, when this bill was first passed on, when the Department of Public Assistance met, under Dr. de Schweinitz—it has already been pointed out here on the floor—the question was whether it would be given the right to sue; and it was answered that there could not be a waiver of that right; but there is no necessity for suit, under the Act, in order to get a Federal Government grant.

There is no question in my mind that we cannot pass any legislation now providing for that Department of Public Assistance shall not make a rule. We are passing an Act, or amending this by saying, no bond shall be required, but that it shall be proceeded with as in any other claim. That, we can do so. So, I take it that what happened between Dr. Deitrick and Dr. Russell is that Dr. Deitrick inquired whether or not there was a rule with regard to a bond, or whether it was law, and Mr. Russell said it was a rule of the Department.

Now, this bill provides a new change in the law; namely, that a certain portion of that real and personal property should be exempt from any claim during the lifetime of the person who is receiving the money. When the person who is receiving money under this bill dies, his property will be subject to suit for the relief; but that, as long as he lives, his home will not be subject to suit—and certain personal property, which I think is the furnishings of the home, and three hundred dollars in cash are exempt.

I do not think that this bill is so bad, and I do not think the situation should be closed. We have exemption laws even for debtors, people who owe money. Their property is exempt up to three hundred dollars.

The person who lives in a home is entitled, under this act, even though he owns a house, to receive relief. Threfore, he is entitled to that. There is no reason why it cannot be exempted during his lifetime from any action.

I do not think the Federal Government will interfere with this because there is nothing in the Federal Law which says that you must enter judgment. They merely provide that a law furnishing relief shall provide that the person's property shall be liable. They do not say the extent to which it may be liable.

I think there is a great deal of merit in this bill, and the motion to discharge the committee, however, may have the effect of our not getting any action on the bill at all. I should like to urge my friends, the Senator from Fayette, and my friend from Cambria, that they agree to the withdrawal of this motion and let the matter be considered by the committee further.

This is a very important proposition—if there should be anything in this bill which prevents the Federal Government from giving us the money, there are too many millions of dollars involved in this thing to pass it this way.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, with the permission of the Senator from Northumberland, Mr. Deitrick, I would like to elaborate a little upon the conversation held between him and Mr. Russell, as I happened to be the second party in the telephone booth and heard every word of it. With his permission. I would like to add a little to what he said.

As I understand it, the Senator from Northumberland asked Secretary Russell these questions, that were asked on the floor of this Senate: whether or not a Federal regulation determined the amount that was set up, as allowed to those persons who receive public assistance, or rather, old age assistance; and whether or not, if we remove this proposition of the collecting from the deceased's estate, the Federal government would cease and not give us anymore funds for old age assistance.

As I understand it, Mr. Russell said that the Federal Government had kept a close tabulation in all cases and that the amount recovered was so small that they had practically given up the idea; and that no interference would come from the Federal Government on the particular ruling or upon this law, if passed.

The second question is relative to the bond, which was taken up later. I would like to interrogate the Senator from Tioga, if he will condescend.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I shall be very glad to be interrogated.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga tell me, and the members of the Senate, what the limit is that has been set up in the bill introduced by him today.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, this Act provides that:

"Section 15. On the death of a person receiving assistance under this act or of the survivor of a married couple, both of whom were so assisted, the total amount paid as assistance, together with simple interest at three per centum annually, shall be allowed and deducted from the estate by the court having jurisdiction to settle the estate, and paid into the treasury of the Commonwealth."

The next section, Section 16, provides:

"If the commission deems it necessary to protect the interest of the Commonwealth, it may require, as a condition to the grant of assistance, a certificate that all, or any part, of the property of an applicant for assistance be transferred to the commission. Such property shall be managed by the commission, which shall pay the net income to the person or persons entitled thereto. The commission shall have power to sell, lease, or transfer such property or defend and prosecute all suits concerning it, and to pay all just claims against it, and to do all other things necessary for the protection, preservation, and management of the property."

Now, Mr. President, there is another interesting clause that will add or throw some light on this subject:

"So long as required as a condition of Federal participation, one-half of the net amount collected or recovered by way of restitution from any aged person, or from his estate, by or for the commission, shall be promptly paid to the United States, and the remainder thereof shall be paid into the State Treasury, and shall be credited to the current appropriation to the commission, as provided by law."

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does the Senator from Tioga say that this organization is known as the "Eagles"?

Mr. OWLETT. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. Old age pension plan, Mr. President?

Mr. OWLETT. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. DENT. From my recollection, Mr. President, in their plan, they set up a maximum of three thousand dollars that a person was allowed to retain in an estate.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, in answer to the interrogation of the Senator from Westmoreland, I understand he is correct. They provide that a person may receive old age assistance even though they have three thousand dollars; but at the same time they provide that that person shall pay it back and the commission may go to the extent of requiring the turning over of the property to that commission wholly to assure that the money will be paid back at the death of the pensioner, with the thought that as long as the aged person lives they should be allowed the use of it.

When they die there is no reason why the property should be turned over to a child who ought to be supporting that parent and the parent not be on the relief roll. I think that is a proper attitude.

Now, let me say further, Mr. President, that no matter what device is finally determined upon to protect the Commonwealth, I think we all agree, I take it, at least most of the Senate would agree, that there ought to be some provision, some plan, devised, where, if a bond is not the right procedure, something else be devised so that when an aged person is gone, and they have had their assistance, their property should be used to reimburse the State for that assistance so rendered; and not turn it over to the heirs who ought to have been supporting that person.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I thank the Senator for his explanation. I want to say, Mr. President, along this line, that no consideration has been given to the fact up until now, anyway, that many in the working class families—many of the children contribute to the buying of the home. Some children have gone to work at the age of twelve or thirteen, and have helped their fathers buy the home; and in some cases they actually bought the home in the name of their father and their mother. No provision is made whatsoever to allow this property to return to the rightful heirs.

Now, we talk about protection. I would suggest that the Senators read Section 13 of the Act of 1937, in which it clearly takes care of any case in which a person, that has more than they should have receives old age assistance, or any other assistance. That section clearly sets up machinery whereby the State can recover any amount that it spends; and I cannot understand why all the fuss over this piece of legislation, when the Republican members who were here in 1937 understood, I believe—with the debate on the floor of the Senate—that the Constitutional amendment was passed with this idea in mind, that we would come back later and pass legislation that would relieve old age pensioners of Pennsylvania from the necessity of signing over their home and their homestead.

I remember the statement being made clearly on the floor, both of the House and of the Senate—I served in both sessions—there was a purpose behind the Constitutional amendment. The Constitutional amendment was presented to the people, they voted in favor of it, and we came back and argued the same question that we defeated before, because we said it was unconstitutional. We passed a law, an amendment to the Constitution, to make it possible to pass this very same piece of legislation that we have before us today.

Now, if we do not want to pass it, let's say so. Do not let us hide behind some subterfuge. No person in this Senate wants the relief chiseler, whether he be an old age pensioner, whether he be a mother's assistance recipient, whatever he may be—we do not want any chiselers receiving any of the State's money; but we do want those persons, who have tried to work and save and build a home, to retain in the twilight years of their lives—as the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, so ably put it, the self-respect that they should be able to maintain in their communities.

I happen to know the answer in committee this morning; I am a co-sponsor of this act. I would say that if it were not for this debate this afternoon that this bill was going to the pickling barrel for good.

I hope that this argument this afternoon will have the affect of having it reconsidered and of bringing the bill out on the floor. If you do not vote for it, vote against it; but at least bring it out here so the Senators who want to vote for it, who are committed to this type legislation, will be in a position to vote for it.

I think my good friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, gave me some good advice this morning something about what Shakespeare said about "much ado about nothing."

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I do not think we, on this side, who heard the statements of the Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, should let them go by, at least, without a challenge.

I well remember when this Government, local, State and National, was in the hands of the Republican party when we had those "good old days" that the Senator from Somerset is yearning for now. I am sure there is not a person on this floor but would be happy if we could do away with W. P. A., relief, old age assistance. We all hope that some day those things will not be necessary, and I regret that they ever were necessary.

So, things today are not so good, but I say things could be a great deal worse. Under the very theory of government that the Senator from Somerset so eloquently advocates, no matter what the cause, I saw this country go to the dogs. We had all the rules that he is asking for today. We had the "good old days"; we had no relief; we had no W. P. A.; but something happened in this country.

Those of you who lived from 1929, and even earlier, on, saw what happened to this country—I know that none of you would ask us to go back and go through those harrowing days.

I saw people I had not seen for a month or two and did not know them. You have seen people come to your homes, and into your office, that you had not seen for a few months, and you did not know them. Their homes had been swept away; their life savings had been swept away; banks were closing; ten thousand in a few years; and the rest of them were ready to close up like paper shells.

Now, if this theory of government is perfect today, why did it not work then?

I don't know what the cause was; whether if was machinery, whether it was the war that took twenty to twenty-two billions of dollars out of the pockets of the American people; or whether it was that orgy of stock selling in the United States. They sold stock to every stenographer and every clerk; and they grabbed at that time about eighteen billion dollars of the peoples' money —forty billion was spent in a few years.

What for? For destruction and for fake stocks. I saw the income of the United States go from sixty or seventy billion dollars down to forty billion dollars. With this New Deal, that we hear so much about, I saw that yearly income of the American people go up to over sixty billion dollars since 1922, every year. And so, if we increase the income of the American people from forty billion dollars a year to sixty or seventy billion a year, and if it does cost us a few billion dollars to keep up relief, to keep up W. P. A., or P. W. A., I can see some grand results from the works of P. W. A. and W. P. A.; and I can see, and have seen, many a soul saved, many a family kept together by W. P. A. alone.

We could go back to the old way; but, for me, I prefer a government that is concerned deeply about human beings. I do not want to go back and go through what I did before. I appreciate and am proud of our party that has been concerned about the poorest soul in the narrowest alley; and I want to say to you, Mr. President, that in these trying times throughout the world, give me a people that have faith in its government, faith in its sincerity, faith in its concern about human beings, whether they are on relief, whether on W. P. A., or even for business.

Let me say to you I do not know what business would do in this country today if we did not have W. P. A. and P. W. A. and relief. What would your store keepers do? Why, they would fold up, like they did fold up from 1929 to 1932.

Mr. President, in these troublesome times throughout this world, I say to you that you can rely on this country to stand by its government, because it has had a government in the most trying and distressing times that has been concerned about the aged, the unemployed, the sick, the unfortunate, the unlucky. I thank you.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I am very much surprised to hear our good friend and colleague from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, revert to a campaign speech, which was successful in 1932, but which the people have now tired of.

He and his colleagues apparently, at every opportunity, wish to attempt to blame the situation which came on here in the 30's on the Republican administration, and the form of government which we had.

We know now that that is not true. We know that this country was drawn into a situation which was world-wide. We know there was a world-wide depression in which people in every country were suffering as they suffered in this country.

We were fooled a while following 1932. We thought that maybe they had something; but we have been sadly awakened. We know they have nothing that was worthwhile. We know, if we consider figures given to us by Senator Reed—one of their own colleagues—that, while other countries in the world were making great progress, this country stood still.

The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, speaks of the increase in the national income from forty to sixty billion. That is true, partially, because a lot of money was distributed around very loosely; and while that was going on, and while this country was going deeper in the hole, and in the red, to a greater extent than it had ever been before, still employment in this country was not increasing. In fact, we fell so far behind that, according to the figures given by the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed—his own figures which he gave us a couple of weeks ago—while there are 14,000,000 unemployed employables in the world, over 10,000,000 of those are in this country.

And now, is that not a record of which to be proud? Is that not something which is so worthwhile that we should continuously bring it back again to brag about when there are so many things on the other side? I think we have wasted several hours this afternoon over what amounts to practically nothing.

Of course, I understand our colleagues on the other side of this chamber are the self-annointed saviors of the poor and distressed; "self-annointed," I say, because the citizens of the Commonwealth are not convinced of that, as demonstrated by the last election. But notwithstanding that fact, our colleagues on the other side of this chamber still apparently cannot see the light; and so when they have an opportunity they get up on the floor of this Senate and broadcast as best they can, trying to make and to prove to the suffering people of this Commonwealth that they, and they alone, have their interests at heart, they are then assuming, once again I say, an attitude entirely of fakers, demogogues and hypocrites.

I happened to be on the Committee which considered this bill and I voted against it; and the reason I voted against it was because I did not understand it. The sponsor of the bill was present in the Committee and when the objections which were raised as the creation of estates for irresponsible and unworthy children of these indigent people, who thought so little of their parents that they were not willing to sacrifice a little bit and try to take care of them during their lifetime, but who, nevertheless, wanted to be the recipients and benefactors when those old people died, by receiving the property which was in the name of the indigent—when that question was raised the sponsor of this bill, who is so outraged by the action of the Committee, who so loved the people of the Commonwealth that he, and he alone, is concerned with their welfare, he did not answer the question. Whether it was because he did not know that clause was in it, whether because the person who gave him the idea and gave him the bill to present, or who drew the bill up for him, I don't know—but for some reason or other the sponsor himself did not answer that question.

It was not until after the committee meeting was over, when I had a chance to read and study this bill and discuss it with the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, that I then found that this exemption applied only during the lifetime of the indigent. That is the principal objection here.

This motion to discharge this Committee is ill-timed, and I think it is ill-advised on the part of the Senator who makes it. If he is so much concerned with the welfare of those individuals, of whom he speaks, why then has he not prepared himself; why has he not familiarized himself with the bill so that he can advise the committee members when such questions arise?

I think I can assure him that there are just as many on this side of the Senate Chamber who are sincerely interested in the unfortunates in this state as there are on the other side of the Chamber, or even those who are not sincerely interested in these people.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the fledging from Allegheny has waxed very eloquently; but it is so much like him to vote "no" before he reads any bill. He is so much like the sheep that I made reference to last night, that, to obey, they need but the dominating voice of the gentleman from Tioga, and the fledgling from Allegheny follows very docilely.

Now, if I am well informed, the gentleman from Allegheny has never had any wrinkles around his abdomen because, as I understand, ever since he was a young lad he has had his proboscis in the public trough. But there are hundreds of thousands of young men who did not have the opportunity that he had. There are hundreds and thousands of them whose proboscises have never been in the public trough, but who have tried by honest labor, in the coal mines, in the shops, on the farms, to earn a decent living by the sweat of their brow. It is of those young men and women that we are now talking about.

It is for them that we are pleading, and not pleading for these hundred or so political hacks who have lived on the public payroll all their lives.

Mr. President, in order to bring this matter to a conclusion, if it is satisfactory to the members of this Senate, and the gentleman from Cambria, I will agree that this motion lay on the table, and permit this Committee on Welfare to reconsider their actions on that bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I object to laying the motion on the table. I move the previous question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to suggest to the gentleman from Tioga that no matter what his personal feeling may be about what has been done or said, that we are still dealing with a problem that is very important to all the people involved; and, if there is a chance of this matter being adjusted now in Committee, that there should be no action on this motion if it is to be withdrawn.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator did not withdraw the motion, and, therefore, I have moved the previous question, namely, that the motion to discharge this Committee be now considered by this Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the motion of the Senator from Cambria, Mr. Haluska, seconded by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, to discharge the Committee on Welfare, Public Assistance and Pensions, from further consideration of Senate Bill No. 47.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of Parliamentary inquiry.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland will state his question of Parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, does a vote on this question carry the main question; are we now voting to dismiss or not dismiss the committee?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair so understands.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

Cavalcante,	Frey,	Kunkel,	Rice,
Coleman,	Haluska,	Lanius,	Ruth,
Dando,	Jacobs,	McCreesh,	Shapiro,
Dent,	Jaspan,	McGinnis,	Stiefel,
DiSilvestro,	Kilgallen,	Reed,

NAYS—27

Bartlett,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Gilson,	Mundy,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Walker,
Ealy,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	James,	Scarlett,	Woodward,
Farrell,	Letzler,	Snowden,

So the question was determined in the negative.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll will be verified and reads as follows: The Senators voting "aye" are Messrs. Cavalcante, Coleman, Dando, Dent, DiSilvestro, Frey, Haluska, Jacobs, Jaspan, Kilgallen, Kunkel, Lanius, McCreesh, McGinnis, Reed, Rice, Ruth, Shapiro, and Stiefel.

Mr. GILSON. Mr. President, in order that there may not be any misunderstanding, I take this opportunity, after the roll has been verified, to explain that my vote in the negative is based purely on the proposition that the mover of this motion was willing to withdraw his motion upon the assurance of the chairman of the committee that the measure would be considered.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I wish to explain my vote. I listened to the chairman of this committee frankly offer to give fair reconsideration to this bill, and, therefore, I voted against discharging this committee, because I had confidence in the chairman.

The Clerk will proceed to call the negative votes.

The Senators having voted "no" were Messrs. Bartlett,

Chapman, Crowe, Deitrick, Ealy, Edmonds, Farrell, Gelder, Geltz, Gilson, Heyburn, Homsher, James, Letzler, Mallery, Miller, Mundy, Owlett, Pierson, Scarlett, Snowden, Stevenson, Tallman, Thomas, Walker, Wolfenden and Woodward.

The roll stands as verified (yeas 19—nays 27).

So the motion is lost.

MOTION TO EXPUNGE FROM THE RECORD THE REMARKS OF THE SENATOR FROM FAYETTE

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that the last remarks of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, be expunged from the record.

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I submit that I have been called a faker, a demogogue and everything else.

The PRESIDENT. It has been moved by the Senator from Tioga, and seconded by the Senator from Luzerne, Mr. Miller, that the remarks of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, be expunged from the record.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order that we may vote intelligently on this question, I ask that the remarks of my colleague from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, be read to the members of this Senate. I ask that those remarks be read.

The PRESIDENT. There is now a motion pending.

Mr. DENT. That is right, Mr. President. It has been moved and seconded that the remarks of the Senator from Fayette be expunged from the record; and I ask that the remarks which provoked the remarks of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, be read to this Senate, in order that we may see whether or not they were justified. Particularly, Mr. President, that portion of them which referred to "fakers," "demogogues," and anything of that sort, and "insincerity."

The PRESIDENT. The Senators can discuss that, and make any motion they want, after this motion is put.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, in order to vote intelligently on this particular motion we must know what provoked the remarks, whether or not they are out of order. The only reason to remove them from the record, I would assume, is that they are out of order, and not a proper answer. But when an answer has been provoked by remarks made by a preceding speaker, we are entitled to know what provoked the remarks.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, in order that we may vote intelligently, will the mover of this motion state what the remarks are that he desires expunged from the record.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga state the remarks that the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, made that are objectionable, and which he desires to have expunged from the record.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the remarks, the subject of my motion, are the remarks the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, who has been very careless in what he said this session, and which were derogatory to the personal character of the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz; and they were contained in the last statement that the Senator from Fayette made.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I regret to say that the Senator from Tioga has not answered the question yet: what were the remarks made by the Senator from Fayette? so that we may intelligently vote on this motion.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Tioga permit himself to be interrogated by the Senator from Washington?

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Tioga knows the information I desire.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I did not hear the question of the Senator from Washington; I am sorry.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Washington please repeat the question?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, will the Senator from Tioga inform the Senate what remarks the Senator from Fayette made that the Senator from Tioga desires expunged from the record? This is for the purpose of giving the Senators the information that is necessary in order to vote intelligently on this motion.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I would not presume to repeat the remarks the Senator from Fayette made. This Senate heard them, every member of the Senate heard them.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I am sincere in my request; I do not know what the words were; and I still insist, in order that I may vote intelligently, that those remarks be quoted verbatim.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am quite sure that upon the request of any Senator, in voting on this subject, the remarks may be read. Of course, that is somewhat in the discretion of the Chair; but I think it is essential, in voting on a subject, that we know what we are voting on.

I know exactly what the remarks are, but I want to take occasion to say now that I have listened to a great many speeches on the other side of the house which, in my opinion, have gone far beyond what is reasonable, right and fair in the discussion.

I have sat here and had my sincerity and my intergrity challenged by the same gentleman who evoked the remarks from the Senator from Fayette. I listened to that gentleman call me a hypocrite, I listened to him call me a demogogue, I listened to him call me a faker; and I say now what I said the first time he challenged my integrity—at that time he singled me out, but today he grouped me—I say I will not lose my respect for him; I simply blame it on his youth and inexperience in Senatorial tradition; but I do not think there is any justification in the other side of the house making a motion to expunge the remarks of the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante—because, while I am of a calmer temperament than he, whatever remarks he made were evoked by the gentleman from Allegheny, and the remarks that he made were simply that the gentleman from Allegheny has not been accustomed to being hungry, because he has his proboscis in the public payroll. And now, while he may have used the word "proboscis" to designate a particular part of the anatomy of the gentleman from Allegheny, I do not think that those remarks are at all to compare with the remarks made by the gentleman from Allegheny; and I am perfectly willing, if the motion is to expunge, to vote to expunge both the remarks of the Senator from Allegheny and of the Senator from Fayette from the record, because I do not believe the gentleman from Allegheny should have made the remarks he did; but to vote that the remarks of my colleague from Fayette be expunged I certainly will not.

MOTION TO LAY ON THE TABLE

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I move that the motion be laid upon the table.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Westmoreland will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President and members of the Senate, the mere fact that we have laid that motion on the table does not remove the onus of the motion itself. The motion was made by the Senator from Tioga, in utter disregard of the remarks made by the preceding gentleman, to expunge the remarks of the Senator from Fayette. I am frank to say that if I had received recognition by the Chair prior to the gentleman from Fayette that my remarks would have been a little worse than those of the gentleman from Fayette.

I am not accustomed to be called insincere. Whatever else I might have in this world I do hope that I have sincerity. I listened to the gentleman from Allegheny accuse a colleague of mine, and co-sponsor of this Act, of having an Act handed him by somebody, accuse him of not knowing what was in it, and accuse him of being insincere and a faker.

We listened and took it. We were able to take it. But just as soon as a few remarks hit the thin skin of the Republican floor leader, why, they seem to prick him deeply, and he called for the expunging from the record of those remarks which named a simple truth, in that the man who called others fakers had himself never been hungry or knew the problem of the poor or needy. So I say, if you wish to be treated courteously, treat us, too, as you wish us to treat you.

I remember that there was an election last year and the people of Pennsylvania did refute, as the gentleman from Allegheny has said, our program and our legislation; but I ask him to remember that the Senator from Fayette was elected at that election and that his constituents did not refute his policy and his principles; and I ask him to remember that all of us who sit over here were elected by our constituents and he cannot say we have been refuted or that our principles have been refuted until we face again those voters; and so I say to the gentleman from Allegheny, "Be a little more careful in your remarks" and you will not need to have the protection of the "big bad wolf" from Tioga.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, I tried to get the floor before my colleague from Tioga in order to answer my colleague from Allegheny County. I wish to inform him that no one drew the bill for me; and secondly, I knew and know the contents of the bill; and, third, that I have no knowledge of anyone asking a question which I did not answer; and, fourth and last, if not least, I am not a faker, and some day these churlish words might be carried too far.

I am sincere in my work and I challenge any man to call me a faker outside of these Halls, I do not care who it is.

BILL INTRODUCED

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I offer this bill to carry into effect an article of the Constitution giving to all cities the right to frame their own charters—under legislative limitations, but without asking the consent of the Legislature.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia Mr. Woodward, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WOODWARD. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, hear the title of the bill and the purpose of it—which was just introduced?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, for home rule.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I am for home rule

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Woodward, hear the title of the bill?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, all I heard was "home rule."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, did not the Senator from Philadelphia, hear that this is a proposed Act to give to all cities the right to frame their own charters?

Mr. WOODWARD. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia still believe that the Committee on Municipal Government is going to report out Senate Bills Nos. 1, 2 and 3?

Mr. WOODWARD. I think there is no connection between these two.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the gentleman does think that?

Mr. WOODWARD. I think so, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the gentleman should be happy, because nothing can disturb his mind

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, the Senator from Montgomery, Mr. Edmonds, introduced this bill and I believe always in his sincerity and singleness of purpose and therefore I do not believe there is anything in the woodpile.

Mr. EDMONDS. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to introduce a bill at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. EDMONDS read in place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 595, entitled:

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE

Mr. MILLER. Mr. President I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that further consideration of Senate Bill No. 267, (House No. 449), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend clause (a) of section one and section four of the act approved the thirty-first day of March, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-seven (P. L. 160) entitled "An act creating a commission to be known as the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission; defining in part the powers and duties of such commission; abolishing The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, terminating the terms of the members thereof, and transferring to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission the records, employes, property, and equipment of The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; authorizing the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to appear in and complete all pending proceedings, legal or otherwise, instituted before, by or against The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing that all certificates of public convenience, contracts, orders, and rules and regulations of the latter commission shall remain effective until repealed, changed or modified by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, and transferring and appropriating to the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission any unexpended balance of any existing appropriation to The Public Service Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania," by changing method of appointing and removing members of the Commission and making political activity a grounds for their removal.

to be postponed for the present.

Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, yesterday I inquired of the gentleman from Tioga whether he intended to have this bill acted upon finally today. He suggested that he did, but there was some gentleman on this side who requested that the matter be postponed until Monday.

I inquired and I discovered that one of my colleagues had discussed such a postponement with the Senator from Tioga; that after discussing the matter with the Senator from Tioga the Senator on this side withdrew any request he may have been understood to have made for the postponement of this bill.

This bill has been on the Calendar for some time, and we were told yesterday that this was a bill that ought to be passed—I have no illusions about what is going on concerning this bill—that this bill ought to be disposed of.

This bill changes the Constitutional requirement that the appointments made by the Governor shall be confirmed by a two-thirds majority.

I think the members of this Senate should guard very zealously their rights in this respect. It is our constitutional right and it is a pity that that right only extends to a few officials, because if it extended to other officials we might not have the spectacle today of an appointment coming from the Governor's office of a man in Delaware County who was convicted in the United States District Court of operating a bawdy house and being a collector from bawdy houses—his name was John Bauer and he was appointed as a Registrar of Vital Statistics, and I am quite sure that if the members of this Senate had the right to give the Governor advice and consent upon that appointment we would neither have advised nor consented to it--but of course, this bill, which hsa been hanging on the Calendar for some time proposes to take away from us any prerogative of questioning appointments of this kind.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Tioga, Mr. Owlett, will state his point of order.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is not discussing the motion; the motion is to place the bill on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I am talking on the motion, and I say that this bill should not be placed on the postponed Calendar. it should be brought on the floor and voted down, because we should maintain and continue our control over the departments.

In view of what I have just said I think we ought to continue, extend, our rights further, and I say I do not believe the Governor knew the name of this man, but that he was, I am quite sure, appointed there in Delaware County. I believe that politics are being restored there in the same way that they were before, and caused such a blot upon the State of Pennsylvania, and I am asking my colleagues to vote against this motion.

I remember saying yesterday that this bill would not be disposed of, but that this bill is going to hang around here until my friends can get 27 votes, and then they will bring it out on the floor and have it passed, and until then it will be on the postponed Calendar, and that is not my way of handling legislation.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. OWLETT and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—25

Bartlett,	Gelder,	Mallery,	Stevenson,
Chapman,	Geltz,	Miller,	Tallman,
Crowe,	Heyburn,	Owlett,	Thomas,
Deitrick,	Homsher,	Pierson,	Walker,
Ealy,	James,	Scarlett,	Wolfenden,
Edmonds,	Letzler,	Snowden,	Woodward.
Farrell,

Coleman,	Gilson,	Lanius,	Rice,
Dando,	Haluska,	McCreesh,	Ruth,
Dent,	Jacobs,	McGinnis,	Shapiro
DiSilvestro,	Jaspan,	Mundy,	Stiefel,
Eroe,	Kilgallen,

So the question was determined in the affirmative.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I desire to be recorded as voting "no."

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate may we have the motion, that was just adopted, read?

The PRESIDENT. If there is no objection, the stenographer will read the motion.

(The Stenographer read as follows: "Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 449, (Senate Bill 267), be placed on the postponed calendar.

"Mr. GELDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.")

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I understood the motior was until Monday.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair did not so understand.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 299, (House Bill No. 364) entitled:

An Act making business records competent legal evidence under certain conditions and making uniform the law with reference thereto.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Section 4 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time,

On the question.

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, we are now discussing Senate Bill No. 214, and I would like to ask the Senator from Allegheny to tell us the purpose of this bill; why we need to regulate, and upon what authority we can regulate, the size of a man's sign on a gasoline station, provided it shall not be larger than a certain size?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, there is an Act now, as I understand it, which compels the approval of a license on each pump—which shows there can be regulation.

The reason for this bill is to attempt to eliminate the so-called price wars between gasoline stations, for the purpose of trying to preserve for those who have legitimate service stations, gasoline stations, the investment which they have in their business.

Under the present set-up we have, all over the Commonwealth, these price wars, which generally are instituted by someone who puts in a little one-pump proposition for a temporary reason, and then he reduces the price and the first thing you know you have a general war throughout that particular district, with the result that many of those who have been established are now reaching the point where they are about to lose their places of business. This bill is for the specific purpose of trying to lend them some assistance.

Mr SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I understand it, this bill prvoides that the sign must be placed on the pump and no where else and the size must be confined to eight by ten inches and the letters on that sign, giving the price, must not be larger than two inches in size.

Mr. GELTZ. That is right, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, how does the gentleman from Allegheny think this will prevent price cutting?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, price wars cannot very well succeed without signs placed out on poles before you reach the service station—something to attract the motorist as he comes along, and without those signs there is nothing to attract the motorist.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the gentleman from Allegheny think he has the right to provide by law, that I, owning a gasoline station, cannot put a sign 300 yards away, that I am selling gasoline 300 yards from here at a price of fifteen or twenty cents a gallon, or what ever I want to say on that sign?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, that is what we are attempting to accomplish.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, that is what the Senator from Allegheny is attempting to accomplish by this bill?

Mr. GELTZ. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, may I interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz?

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. JAMES. Mr. President, does the Senator from Allegheny regard the bill as being constitutional?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I understand the question was, whether or not I regard the bill as being constitutional. I believe it can be brought in under the police power of the State. I understand the State Motor Police are in favor of something of this kind, to eliminate these big signs, too, because they are an obstruction to traffic; because, they say, they cause accidents in traffic.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to know under what police power, and by what stretch of the imagination—I use that intentionally—can we say that keeping a sign on a gasoline pump down to 10 inches will create safety on the highways, or putting a sign on a billboard which is off the highway tends to create safety.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, it lessens the distraction of the driver and tends to increase the safety of the highway.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I think the thing we ought to do is to amend the Act in a certain way, and that is, to eliminate all billboards, because I know one billboard that always distracts me when I go down the road. It has a beautiful girl on it, and the sign says "Chesterfields—they satisfy," and I can never get my mind off that sign, and I think this bill ought to be amended to include that.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I should like to know from my colleague—and I wish him to know that I am not an attorney—whether he thinks that it is fair for this body to tell the vendors of gasoline size of the signs they put up. This is just a question coming from a layman and a "faker" from the Senate of Pennsylvania.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, what was the question?

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. I should like to know from my colleague—

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I wish the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. DiSilvestro, would not put so many trimmings on the question.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I will leave the trimmings to my colleague from Allegheny. My colleague from Allegheny was asked the following question: "Whether he thinks it is right for us to tell the vendors of gasoline the size of the signs they should have in front of their establishments."

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I think it is right.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Or, Mr. President, he thinks it is constitutional.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I think it is right and I think it is fair. These service station and gasoline station operators are for the most part individuals who have made investments and are taxpayers—from whom we receive our taxes to carry out these many new forms of improvement.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I may not be here tomorrow, so I would like to inject my two cents into the discussion for what it is worth. I want to say that this sounds like a piece of New Deal Legislation to protect the man who has an investment. The Republicans are trying to pass legislation to tell a man how to run his business. I am glad to see that the Senator from Allegheny subscribes to the policies of the New Deal.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcrbied for a third reading.

Mr. WOLFENDEN. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, what is the purpose of the amendment?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. The purpose of the amendment is to limit the extent of individual insurance from $5,000 to $1,000. This is a new field and we thought we should progress slowly in it. Another amendment offered here is simply to correct the spellnig.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should further like to interrogate the Senator from Indiana.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Indiana permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, some question has arisen in my mind, and in the minds of some of my colleagues, that this bill will allow companies in Pennsylvania to insure, under group insurance, outside of Pennsylvania by insuring its outside affiliates. Has that been considered in the preparation of this bill? In other words, a company has two places of business, one in Pennsylvania and one in New Jersey: Now, by combining both it may meet the requirements as to the minimum number of employees that come into the group field. Has the effect of the use of the company outside the jurisdiction of Pennsylvania been considered in determining whether business will be taken outside of Pennsylvania, to outside companies?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I might say at this time that States now have such laws, and we are only placing ourselves on a parity with the outside states.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, the Senator from Indiana has considered that question?

Mr. WOLFENDEN. Mr. President, I have.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill as amended having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered. To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 518, as follows:

An Act to further amend section one and a part of section two of the act approved the thirteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and eighty-three (Pamphlet Laws 119) entitled "An act for the promotion of medical science by the distribution and use of unclaimed human bodies for scientific purposes through a board created for that purpose and to prevent unauthorized uses and traffic in human bodies" changing the membership of the board and the functions of the Secretary of Health with reference thereto requiring audits by the Auditor General and reports of the activities of the board and increasing the maximum amount that may be expended for burial of unclaimed bodies unfit for anatomical purposes

Section 2 This act shall become effective immediately upon final enactment

And said bill having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Chapman.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Warren permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, it states here "to amend (this bill) by changing the membership of this board." What is meant by changing it?

Mr. CHAPMAN. That is right, Mr. President. Previously we had associate professors of surgery and medicine in the dental schools; now we have added professors and the Secretary of the State Department of Health.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I understand they have been included.

Mr. CHAPMAN. Yes, Mr. President.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 527, (House Bill No. 885), entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Motor License Fund to the General Fund and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the second time.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to interrogate the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee, Mr. Ealy.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Somerset permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, in connection with House Bill No. 885, (Senate Bill No. 527), as I read this bill this is a transfer from the Motor License Fund of $3,885,000; that is correct, is it not?

Mr. EALY. That is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Previously, Mr. President, I think in Senate Bill No. 1, we passed a transfer from the Motor License Fund of $26,000,000 and $4,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax; that is correct too, is it not?

Mr. EALY. I believe that is correct, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. And, Mr. President, $1,000,000 from the State Insurance Fund and $3,000,000 from the Liquor Fund; that is correct, is it not?

Mr .EALY. Mr. President, that is approximately correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Well, Mr. President, is it not exactly correct? Was not $34,000,000 originally transferred—$26,000,000 from the Motor License Fund and $4,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax, $3,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund, and $1,000,000 from the State Insurance Fund, or a total of $34,000,000? This bill, together with the next bill, proposes to transfer $5,385,000—$3,885,000 from the Motor License Fund, and $1,500,000 from the State Firemens' Insurance Fund; is that not right?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, that is right.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, as I understand it, it is proposed also to take advantage of the $2,900,000 lapsed from the Flood Control and from the Department of Forests and Waters; that is correct, is it not?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the bill which transfers the Fire Insurance Tax Fund is House Bill No. 186. That has already passed second reading.

Mr. SHAPIRO. That is right, Mr. President; that is correct. Does that mean that there is a total additional transfer going to be made of $8,200,000, approximately?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Philadelphia was in the meeting of the Appropriations Committee yesterday while the matter was discussed, and I think his figures are approximately correct.

Mr. SHAPIRO. The figures are approximately correct, Mr. President. I am asking these questions for a purpose, so as to bring to the attention of my colleagues the fact that this is an additional transfer of funds, which, together with the contemplated $800,000 cash balance in the treasury, will mean an additional transfer of $9,000,000 for relief purposes. That is correct, is it not?

Mr. EALY. House Bill No. 886, the next bill, proposes to make a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance of $9,000,000.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, for how long a period is that money intended to last—expected to last?

Mr. EALY. Well, Mr. President, I am hoping it will last to June 1st.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, does the Senator from Somerset have any information with respect to about how long the $34,000,000 already transferred is expected to last?

Mr. EALY. Sometime next week, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Sometime next week, Mr. President. Which means that we will have the full month of May and a portion of April for which this $9,000,000 is expected to cover.

Mr. EALY. That is correct, Mr. President, unless it requires another appropriation.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, also I should like to ask the Senator from Somerset whether it has been considered what effect these various transfers will have on the construction work of the Highway Department. This now means a total transfer of over $27,800,000 from the Motor License Fund, with $4,000,000 from the Liquid Fuel Tax Fund.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, as far as I understand, it is proposed to do as the last Administration did—to borrow some money to repay the Highway Fund, so that the work may be conducted as usual.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I assume that that proposal is intended to be carried out by the issuance of tax anticipation notes against intended or expecting revenue; that is correct, is it not?

Mr. EALY. Yes, Mr. President.

Mr. SHAPIRO. And therefore, Mr. President, if the revenue of this Commonwealth will be reduced by the $37,500,000 that is facing us now on the question of the foreign corporation tax, and the $6,500,000 which is facing us in the decrease in the estimated revenue on net corporate income tax, that will mean over $44,000,000 less in the anticipated revenues in a budget of $372,000,000 facing us; that is also correct, is it not?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I do not wish to agree with the exact figures of the Senator from Philadelphai; but it is apparent that this State is in a very much worse condition than Governor James anticipated when he took office.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like to say I have no intention of embarrassing the Chairman of the Committee on Appropriations, because, as he said, most of these figures I refer to were discussed last night; but I am asking these questions deliberately for two reasons:

First, I want to call to the attention of the members of this Senate, particularly to my own colleagues, that, when they are dealing with laws relating to relief, they should have in mind the serious—in fact, the critical, condition of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; and that nothing should be done in the Legislature dealing with the Department of Public Assistance which will affect that critical situation.

Secondly, I think that, instead of spending the time we have been spending here on some of the bills, or most of the bills, on the Calendar, what we should be doing is to consider some ways and means of correcting this situation.

There is going to be a dual effect, as a result of these transfers: First, if the net income of this State, the anticipated revenue, is decreased by over $40,000,000, the income will be around $328,000,000. Therefore, if $372,000,000 is necessary to carry us through a two-year period and pay a deficit of $42,000,000, at least, that is now required for relief; we will not be able to borrow any $372,000,000; and we will not be able to repay the Motor Fund the $40,000,000 we are taking from it;—rather, $26,000,000 and $4,000,000 and $9,000,000, which is $39,000,000. And, if we have more unemployment, then we will have more relief needs, and, therefore, we will not be able to do any road construction work. We will have more unemployment, and, if we have more unemployment, we will have increased public assistance and increased relief. If we have increased relief we will need more money and taxes; and I urge my colleagues on the other side to consider that phase of the picture, and to consider some method of meeting that situation before we begin to have the cumulative effects from the actions we are taking here today.

Mr. President, I do not know, for the present, if there is anything that can be done except to make this transfer; but I do know we should begin, and should have begun long ago, to make preparations to meet this situation.

Everyone of these bills, these transfer bills, provide not that the money shall be repaid before the end of this biennium but that the money shall be repaid not later than September of this year, which means that during June, July and August, there will be no work on the highways unless something is done to provide for the return of these funds to the different places from which they were transferred.

It seems to me that it is high time that the seriousness of this situation be understood by everybody.

I do not say I have the solution now, I do not say I can furnish the cure; but I do say something more than we have been doing should be done.

This matter should have been anticipated; it should have been known, because revenues fluctuate; and there should not have been such a close budget.

I suggest this, though—that the other side begin to consider, and the Administration begin to consider, that instead of having a budget which they now have, that they revise the budget and make a one-year budget out of it instead of a two-year budget, because that is the only way in which this situation can be met for the present. Then your revenues will not have to be $372,000,000, and then you will not have to defer this matter until September. As soon as you make your budget for one year you will be able to borrow enough money from the tax anticipation notes for one year, because you are sure of the certification for one year and after that is done you can sit down calmly, judiciously and wisely and like statesmen consider a program to do two things: one, give industry some relief by changing the taxes which are imposed—and it certainly should be possible, and two, find a method of eliminating the personal property tax, the gross income tax and other taxes which are oppressive on business; and when you would do that you may give relief to industry and increase employment; and I am saying to the members of this Senate—it is quarter after five now, and somebody may be complaining about going home—but unless something is done you will not have any time to worry about going home, or, perhaps, any home to go to.

This is a critical situation in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and I hope more people will realize it than seem to on the floor of this Senate.

Mr. MUNDY. Mr. President, I find that, talking to people in industry, and people generally, that they have arrived at the point where they have been more or less disillusioned. They have come to realize that a deficiency does exist in the revenue for government functions.

Now, I believe—and there is no political implication in this at all—it would be far better for us to meet this situation frankly, decide that taxes must be levied, and decide upon what we shall levy those taxes.

For this reason we must set at ease the minds of the people generally, and, particularly, the minds of the men who are conducting and handling industry in the State of Pennsylvania. We plead here, and our plea is that we want time to put the functioning of the government in order; and, I say, to logically follow that plea we should give industry, and the people generally, time to put their house in order, by telling them what they may expect, so they may meet those expectations.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on second reading?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to.

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The Rule requiring bills to be considered in Committee of the Whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 528, (House Bill No. 886), entitled:

An Act making a deficiency appropriation to the Department of Public Assistance for the purpose of carrying out the Public Assistance Law for the two fiscal years ending May thirty-first one thousand nine hundred thirty-nine

And said bill having been read at length the second time and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

TUESDAY, April 18, 1939.

The House met at 1 p. m.

The SPEAKER (Ellwood J. Turner) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas George Baxter, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, bestow Thy favor upon these Representatives, who have gathered in this Assembly to give direction to the course of civil affairs in this Commonwealth. Broad and deep, stupendous and perplexing are the civic problems they must face and conquer. Grant them visions to see the problems as they are, and mental acumen to solve them for the welfare of all our people.

Give wisdom to the President of these United States as he chooses the words to express the will of our nation for the peace of the world.

Sustain the Governor of our State in his effort to give us an economic administration based upon Justice and Equity for all.

O Spirit of Love and Life and Power, protect our loved ones from whom we are separated. Bless them in their loneliness; care for them in sickness.

Make all of us thankful for the joys of life and the hope that never dies out in the human breast.

In the name of Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace, we ask it. Amen.
